B. V. Moore, chief of the Federal Reserve Bank of this district made a good impression on the audience at the creamery dinner Monday. A banker talking to farmers on a farming subject and evidently sincere, it was a treat to hear him discuss present economic conditions in the Northwest. He that he said anything startling in this connection either, but he said has been said before. Now was the kindly optimistic of the future of the Northwest. He didn't forget to say that the prospects of prosperity rolling over us but rather looked for a steady gradual improvement of conditions. Editor Eyre attempted to say a few words about his talk but it was encouraging. There wasn't any criticism in it, but what he said and he wasn't fooling when he said it, was that he had put the best of the year's efforts into the address and he hoped that he could get a big hand from people and said his wife and son were among those present.

The balance of the evening was spent in getting out of the crowds as much as possible, eating lunch and sociability.

One of these "educational" farm films was presented at the banquet in the Auditorium Monday. We left before the end of the majority that held more interest for us, but after the first reel was run, so it may be that our impression of the film is all wrong, but from what little we saw of the picture we are convinced that if it must be run another time it will be into the furnace. The pictures we saw were entirely too much in the days when all of us were on friendly terms with every one and down body who had a name could borrow indefinitely without question. If there is with the present system of buying. Had there been injected into it a few dollars per week, as many cents one might have gotten a few laughs out of it as a burlesque on past errors, but without the plea and apology that it was an investment. We recommend that it be retired down at once and the celluloid converted into something useful like dollars or fine combs.

DISTRIBUTION OF SEED FOR 1928 IS ANNOUNCED

The Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, has sent out a bulletin announcing that there are about 1,500 bushels of pure seed oats available for 1928. According to E. R. Clark, pure seed specialist at the school, there is included in this seed such varieties as Velvet barley, Cheney wheat, and Kitchener flax. A list of pure seed growers who have seed to offer together with the varieties and amounts will also be issued by Mr. Clark. Every farmer interested in experimental station distributed seed to farmers who wish to have these varieties. These growers will in turn become cooperators with the Experiment Station in increasing the varieties in their home localities and because of the additional amounts of this valuable seed. Students of the Northwest School Farmers week-end at Red River Valley Winter Short Course 6-10 both E. R. Clark and R. S. Dunham will be in attendance at the crops exhibits to give information to farmers concerning the varieties that are suitable to that part of the state. Some of the sessions of the week, especially those of Tuesday will deal with recommended varieties and their sources.

Sensational New Performance
Amazing New Low Prices!

Longer, lower, more rugged and powered by an improved valve-in-head engine—the Bigger and Better Chevrolet offers a type of overall performance so thrilling that it has created wildfire enthusiasm throughout America.

And coupled with this amazing performance is a type of riding comfort almost unbelievable in a low-priced car. A wheelbase of 107 inches—four inches longer than before—has made possible a new method of weight distribution that results in new balance and roadability. Four semi-elliptic shock absorber springs—that set parallel to the frame and are 84% as long as the wheelbase—smooth out the roughest stretches of highway. And a new ball bearing worm and gear steering mechanism, which even includes ball bearing thrusts at the front axles, provides delightful steering ease.

Never before has any new car won buyers by the thousands so rapidly. Here, as all over the country, the new Chevrolet is breaking all records for the number of cars in owners' hands following public presentation—because the new Chevrolet comes to the public a proved car, built in factories unsurpassed for efficient, precision quality manufacture.

NINE TEACHERS REPORT 24 MORE IN SCHOOL DAILY

Teachers in this additional school districts have reported to County Superintendent George M. Gunderson the names of 24 more pupils who had perfect attendance records during the first three months of school this year, making a total of 175 who have had one or more scholars with such records. The total number of Pennington county young-sters attending school every day for the three months therefore is 178. During the entire year last year there were only 89 pupils that attended every day during the entire respective school year, some of the schools having sessions for seven months, some for eight months, and a few for nine months.

Names of Pupils

Verno Hyland was the only pupil in district No. 5, taught by Frances Hinelh; in district No. 26 there were four, Anna, Thelma and Arnold Stark and William Grundskog, this school being taught by Gladys Ekefaer; two scholars in the school in district No. 30 were at school every day, namely, Ruth Cressman and Cyrilla Beller, their teacher being Agnes Newton. Martha Hammer, according to her teacher, Josephine Lindell, was the only one with the perfect record in district No. 41.

Dessie Ireland reported that four of her scholars in district No. 37 received perfect credits for attendance, they being Gertie and Thelma Langlie and Kenneth and Ida Ireland; in district No. 55 Marvin Nobben and Lawrence Lee was the only one who, having perfect records, their teacher being Erma Lee.

So rapidly has demand mounted for the perfected Whippet, that four great plants—at Toledo, Elmira, Pontiac and Toronto—are taxed to capacity, and enlargement and expansion, to permit even greater production, are already under way. People continue to express amazement that cars of such remarkable quality and mechanical perfection can be offered at such low prices.

Here is true beauty—in color, lines, proportions and interiors. And here, too, are features which distinguish the finest American cars—low-swung full vision bodies, BIG 4-wheel brakes, gasoline tank at rear, full force-feed lubrication, silent timing chain, oversize balloon tires and snubbers and long semi-elliptic springs.

See this car—ride in it, and compare it with any other light car—for looks, for performance, for quality, for all-around desirability—in short, for value.

More than 22,270,000 motor vehicles registered in the United States during 1927. This is according to the preliminary figures issued by the company's statisticians, who have compiled their reports from January 1 totals compiled by the registrars of motor vehicles.

Motor vehicle production for 1927 is estimated at 3,530,000 indicating a heavy replacement business. This figure added to the registration figures for 1926 gives a total of 22,862,643.

Hirver 1927 registration means only 21,979,202 motor vehicles in use, the difference would indicate the number of motor cars scraped or discarded. Replacement during the year were 5.4 per cent of the total registration.

Minnesota ranks fourteenth in the nation, registering 627,254 cars in 1927, with an increase of 4.2 per cent.

KITTSON COUNTY BOYS WIN HONORS AT KANSAS CITY

Two Kittson county potato club members won further honors on potatoes for that county at the Central States Horticultural association show which was held in Kansas City late in November last year. In the early Ohio class Lloyd Flint and Reynold Johnson of Kennedy won first and second places respectively.

This is the first time that Kittson county club members have exhibited at Kansas City. These winnings were not in the club division alone, but in open competition with exhibitors from all parts of the central states.

TURKEY EXHIBITION WAS FEATURE OF SHORT COURSE

Pennington will be interested in knowing that an exhibition of turkeys raised under the so-called Minnesota turkey improvement plan was held on Friday, Jan. 20, at University Farm, according to Dr. W. A. Billings, who made several trips to Thief River Falls in connection with the turkey method advocated by him.

It has been learned for years, according to Dr. Billings, that turkeys could be kept free from disease if kept in open pens, but that they could not be fattened in such pens. It was necessary to put them into fattening pens, and this is where the trouble came in. Dr. Billings, at the University farm, the college of agriculture, he said, has received those methods which have been successful in its methods.

Several hundred turkeys, raised by farmers, in nearly every state, have tried the plan and those who have followed instructions carefully have met with complete success, Dr. Billings said.

WE BELIEVE

Without law there can be no Liberty!

Although the debaters did not win in their clash with Warren Friday, their opposition was fully as strong as that of their opponents. Much of the argumentive strength rested on ais charts, used to represent cost, showing the United States and the Great-Lakes region. The charts were effectively drawn and painted by Ethel Myrin and Robert Biederman, and we take the opportunity to thank them for their cooperation in this work.

Before you read any further we're going to confess that you've read this in practically the same words once before. However, it expresses just what we want, so Editor Dahlow made an exception, we reprint it from a former issue.

For photos come and photos go, but snap-shots live on forever. It's about too true that a woman upon buying a new magazine, scurries to the back of it in a mad hunt for fashions. And it is also known that we humans jump at conclusions in reference to annuals. In other words, we turn to the snap-shot section—and then before examining the other departments.

Last year a fine group of snaps of the students was assembled for the annual. What a panorama—a cross-section of the "young-love" page, the alumni, the teachers, and so on! How stimulating it was to look over those happy, care-free pictures.

Comes a pause in the prologue—the climax is reached! We seniors send out our heralds to announce that the call for informal photography is at hand. We urge you to bring them, whether they be snap-shots of yourself, your friends, or former graduates. Cooperate with us, please, for you all should have something to do with the annual. Fresh interests, new, of course, beat the venture.

LITERATURE

"Where there's English, there is poetry and literature." Juniors and Seniors for the next semester will be finally cornered boldly with the dreaded Literature books. If she denotes anything, the literary battle will be a strenuous one.

Most students dislike poetry for the principle reason that they haven't become sufficiently familiar with it. Admitting that it contains stories and descriptive parts, they complain that nevertheless it is difficult to understand. English teachers, time and again, tell us that the more poetry you read the better liking you'll acquire of it.

We, of the Junior and Senior classes are convinced that we shall learn the subject because the new edition and of intense literary value to the individual. Since previous classes have conquered, we, too, will come out on top. Judging from the opening title that realistic poetry shall read nothing else", all of us will already a lasting taste for poetical material after this semester's exam.

IN DAYS GONE BY

February 4, 1926—

The Junior class scored another success when they presented their play "The Rich Mr. Hoggenheimer" in the auditorium last Friday evening.

The last basket ball team was defeated by the U. of M. Freshman team by a 32-4 victory Saturday night.

Miss Slocum explained the need of Boys' and Girls' Club work in her address before the assembly, Friday afternoon.

WHO AM I?

Last year I did not want to embarrass my best girl to make her propose to me, so I asked her to be my wife and she said, "I would rather be excused." And I, the so idiot, excused her. But I got even with the girl—I married her mother. Then my father married the girl. Now I don't know what I am.

When I married the girl's mother, the girl became my daughter, and when my father married my daughter she was my mother. If my father is also son and my daughter is my mother, who in thunder am I? My mother's mother, who is my wife, must be my grandmother, and I, being my grandmother's husband, am my own grandfather.

WHIPPETS DEFEAT ARGYLE BASKETEERS BY UNUSUAL SCORE

The Argyle high school quint again went down in defeat before the smooth playing Lincoln High Whippets at the count of 30 and 7, when they clashed on the local auditorium floor Tuesday, January 31.

The easy shooting of the Lincoln High squad was too much for the inexperienced Argyle team. The visitors were unable to penetrate the local defense to get in for close shooting. Then long underhand drives at the hoop from the middle, of the floor were unsuccessful.

Ericson, one of the regulars on the local team was out of the line-up due to a weak knee, his position being filled by Dostal.

First Quarter

Roundy Ericson started the scoring for Thief River when he dropped in a free throw. Alip Dahlow made a set shot side shot soon after ... and the Dahlow brother next good with pets another point from the free throw line.

In the middle of the first quarter Roundy Ericson started a furious pace. Vipond caught a spott pass under the basket and pushed the ball through for Bemidji. Gen then made one of two free throws, and a minute or two later Ericson duplicated the feat. Both teams were fight at hard to possession of the ball, Illinois broke and sank a neat goal from under the basket for Bemidji. The quarter then ended with themen leading 5 to 7.

Second Quarter

John Arnold went in for Roundy Ericson at the start of the second quarter. The latter is a clever floor player, receiving a pass one thirty-ten in front of the basket, put in the first free throw for the Argyle team by making a clear cut shot.

Bemidji forged ahead when Kelly sank a shot from the side. Three more points were added before the Argyle defense could close shop by Bethel and a free throw by Sexton the latter scoring for Bemidji 14; and Thief River close behind with 9.

Third Quarter

The teams came back on the floor and resumed the game. Then Bemidji changed their technique by dropping in the free throws. A foul was called on Bemidji and Richard Ericson made good on the shot. Another foul was called on Bemidji and Dahlow dropped in the counter-toss. Bethel dribbled in under the basket for a shot but Roy Gen partly offset the score by making another free throw for the Whippets. Sexton Sorenson entered the game by making one more point from the free-throw line.

Bemidji then started a chance to tie the game before the quarter ended, called time out. Shortly after the whistle announced the period terminated with Bemidji still trailing 16 to 17.

Last Quarter

Beginning the final period Bas. Gen made the first score of the free throws. Captain Roundy Ericson then gave Bemidji a chance for victory—starting play by scoring take in quick succession from the field, both times Bemidji's fellow. Roundy's first shot put Thief River in the lead.

With victory in sight, not only four minutes to go, the Whippets again took time out to talk things over. Both teams were tiring from the fast pace. Vipond fooled Rip Dahlow but missed on the one free throw. The crowd was in a fever of excitement, as it seemed Bemidji must be beaten, when Loyd was fouled by Sexton. Loyd missed the shot, the score remaining Bemidji 21, Thief River 18.

With only two minutes of play remaining Don Gould Kelley who took his time, making the shot good.

A technical foul was called on Gen and Vipond made a free throw putting his mates into a tie with Thief River at 22 all. Seconds after Bemidji had tied the Whippets, Referee La Voy called a foul on Vipond, of Bemidji. Boomer Dahlow walked to the free throw line, played the ball against the back board, and watched it drop back thru the basket to win the game for Thief River at 23 and 22.

The skill with which the Whippets dropped the ball in from the free-throw line was the big factor in winning the game.

The ability and the steady climb to victory put up by the Whippets in the Crookston game was somewhat similar to the climb in scoring that the Whippets made at Bemidji.

FINAL FREE THROW BREAKS TIE GAME

Players Hit Basket Twice in Last Two Minutes Breaking Even Match

Coach Hoe's red clad prodigees won a furious basketball contest from Bemidji on the Bemidji high school floor by the close count of 19 and 18.

Bemidji led 14 to 9 at the close of the first half, but it was tied up during the fourth quarter by the Whippets when Kelly Larson tossed in baskets in rapid succession. Thief River had a point lead with less than a minute to go when a free throw by Bemidji knotted the count again. Then with 15 seconds left, a Bemidji foul permitted Boomer Dahlow a free trial, which he made good.

First Quarter

When the game opened Ray Vipond scored a neat goal from underneath the basket for Bemidji. Boomer Dahlow, honest to gosh, of Bemidji, retaliated for Thief River when he made two points from the block line. Bemidji quint again took the lead when Ireland, their captain, scored from the field. Boomer Dahlow stepped up to give the Whippets another point from the free throw line.

In the middle of the first quarter Roundy Ericson started a furious pace. Vipond caught a spott pass under the basket and pushed the ball through for Bemidji. Gen then made one of two free throws, and a minute or two later Ericson duplicated the feat. (a deep sigh was emitted from the gentleman's breast.) "Merrill Gildea Burlingame."

Why did you go to the University of Iowa?

Calmly and confidently came the reply "It is the best U in the country—well the now began to hesitate in the middle work, let's say."

Why did you come to Thief River Falls?

"Mmmm—I don't know. Let's see. Why (Mr. Burlingame now took his handsome young man from his pocket for inspiration. After fingering it for a short while, he was duly inspired, and) 'The lure of the far north, I guess,' answered the party.

Where did you acquire your title of superintendent?

(An explosion of laughter followed, which, when finally subsided, was followed by his reply) "From Mr. Boehm."

How do you rank Thief River Falls' style in comparison with Iowa girls? "Very high."

What is your opinion of jazz?

"Jazz is the world's newest," repeated the interviewed, after which he gave a short laugh, cleared his throat, and said, "Well—I don't know." (silence) "If say jazz has no a real place in music. As both good and bad music has its place at certain times."

What is your favorite pastime?

Mr. Burlingame broke out with a hearty laugh, similar to his previous one. The chimes gave a till ringing on the air, when in came Mr. Matthews. The interview was at an end, however, coming through the ceiling at the moment. (Quite a phenomenal room, Mr. Matthews.)

It was now necessary for the gentleman to request a repetition of the questions, following which he answered: "Well, now let's see—I like them all very much. It is hard to state a preference."

Most of the subjects in the high school curriculum "are they which most essential?

What war did General Science fight?

Mr. Burlingame repeated the question slowly, shook his head, and asked for the next question, but finally answered: "That's a hard one. He has had a hand in every war and I—still I know.

Which are worse, blondes or brunettes?

"Brunettes, because they tend to keep things in the dark."

Affirmatives Will Oppose Roseau There Next Week

The next inter-scholastic debate is to be held at Roseau on Friday, February 10. This was decided between the debate coach of Roseau and J. W. Sipher, local debate coach, on Sunday.

Once more the affirmative side in the All-American vs. the Lawrence Waterway question will be upheld by Thief River Falls, the proposition from school being Gladys Weeks, Ben Batten and Chester Myrum. These students have been preparing on the question since the holidays. They have participated in two forensic battles and won both. Lincoln negative team, the other with the Halldack troup, in which contest they defeated. Many are now on the All-American subject, however, have been working on the negative line, and the local team is planning on argumentive opposition to Roseau.

A critique between the affirmative and negative teams will be held at high school next Monday and Tuesday to acquaint the delegates for their Friday encounter.

STUDENT OPINION

"Sleep Big Thrill"

And, as I sit poised in the air, I know in a second I'll go with a dart—

Then I'll speed on and on, perspective!

But there! I am gone; it's too late to turn back;

I feel topsy-turvy, yet no members I lack!

I've experienced my first "heap-big-thrill"!

You have perhaps read of young Indian braves in warfare, how in scaling the enemy gives "heap-big-thrill." But it takes less than a war or bloody battle to give to one a tingling, unexplainable feeling. What could be more absolutely accurate than gliding swiftly through empty space void of all but the elements of air? In other words—tobogganing.

With as many piled on as is convenient, and the more the merrier, the toboggan started down the slide. As the thin sheet of wood on which the boys and girls sit glides over the curve of the shoot, one feels as though he were about to tumble over the steep precipice. Standing erect the toboggan and holding the rope for support is more daring but also more fun.

STATE HIGHS SHOW PATTERN U. S. CAIN

High school enrollment in Minnesota has increased more rapidly than in any other section of the United States, J. M. McConnell, state commissioner of education, declared Thursday night in a radio address broadcast from WCCO. Mr. McConnell discussed the state school system and praised the Minnesota school laws and freedom from outgrown constitutional provisions which might hamper the legislature in passing measurers from time to time with changed conditions.

WARREN DEBATERS WON VERBAL BATTLE

Negative Team Upholding St. Lawrence Project, Suffers 2 to 1 Defeat

The local debate team suffered its second defeat of the season by a 2-1 decision at Warren last Friday night in a closely fought contest.

The question debated was "Resolved: that the United States construct an all-American canal across New York state rather than co-operate with Canada in constructing the St. Lawrence waterway. The Warrenites upheld the affirmative while Thief River upheld the negative.

The local debaters, Lenore Lieberman, Harriet Poller, and Harold Wilt have been coached by Julian W. Opheim and displayed remarkable mastery of the subject in constructive speeches. Lois Edgar, Dorice Swenson, and Jane Moore were creditably upheld the affirmative for Warren.

The local debaters contended, first, that the St. Lawrence route was the shortest route of the two projects; second, that the advantages were for the United States and that it was all-American in territory as far west as the western end of Lake Erie; and, third, that there is started a furious pace. greater commercial advantages for the United States.

The affirmative team contended, first, that the St. Lawrence project would be served by the all-American canal; and third, that the all-American canal was a feasible project. Statistics which the affirmative team presented was the largest of commerce from the United States to South America, Asia, and the West Coast of Australia, instead of to Europe, as is unbroken by the negative team and served as the basis of the argument of the debate.

The judges were Prof. Norstrom, Crookston; Prof. E. W. Avery of the N. W. School of Agriculture at Crookston; and Attorney R. B. Van Dusen, Stephen.

WARREN-THIEF RIVER CLASH AT BASKETBALL TOMORROW

One of the season's best basketball games will take place tomorrow, Feb. 3, when the Warren quint clash with the Warren aplnt. There has always been a keen rivalry between the two towns for athletic honors and the game tomorrow is the fall of year.

Warren rightfully feels rather confident of the ability after defeat of the Whippets and should be able to clear the Warrenites a real battle, according to all indications. Thief River's basketeers will be in shape after Friday's game. The locals may be considerably handicapped by a small floor. However, after practicing Stephen on a still smaller floor, the Whippets

1927 BANNER YEAR FOR LAND O' LAKES MANAGER STATED

Fifteen Percent Rise Over 1926 Shown by Co-Operatives of Big Organization

With $6,461,000, or 15 per cent increase in business for 1927 over the preceding year, the Land O' Lakes Creameries, Inc. announced Saturday its most prosperous year. The announcement was made by A. J. McClure, manager.

For the year 1927 the total business done was $46,315,000.

Since organization of the co-operative enterprise in 1921, with but 399 creamery members, the group has displayed a steady growth until now the creamery membership totals 125, which manufacturers nearly 70 per cent of the first grade butter made in Minnesota.

54,419,319 Pounds of Butter

During the past year 54,412,179 pounds of butter were made and distributed. The trade name Land O' Lakes was used on 25,076,604 pounds of this and distributed in one pound prints through the regular retail channels.

In addition to the butter sales, 1,625,000 pounds of cheese and 2,825,000 pounds of powdered buttermilk were disposed of.

"The Land O' Lakes Creameries, Inc., is a service and sales organization for 425 co-operative creameries. Most of the member creameries are in Minnesota and Wisconsin, but the Dakotas and Michigan are represented. Practically every co-operative creamery in the northwestern part of Minnesota, including the creameries of Pennington county, are members of this organization.

ANNUAL SEED MEDAW AT KARLSTAD THIS WEEK

Karlstad staged its second annual seed show Friday, Jan. 27, offering prizes on small grains, corn, grass seed and potatoes. The best samples shown will be used in a county exhibit at the Winter Shows at Crookston early in February.

A special program had been arranged for the exhibition, including community singing, short talks by representatives of the University School of Agriculture at Crookston and other places, concluding with the presentation of the prizes. The program entitled, The Romance of Sleeping Valley.

The committee in charge of the show was composed of J. Turnbull, John Lie, C. A. Johnson and J. Hamberg.

Let Us All Study Closely the History Of Our Town

What do you see as you walk down the streets of this town? Buildings of brick and stone? Automobiles and hurrying people? Or are you one of the fortunate few blessed with what old Machiavelli, the Italian philosopher, called the "gift of penetration."

If you are you will see the background of human life around which this town was built. You will see the faces and forms of hardy pioneers whose lives of toil and privation made possible these comfortable streets and homes.

The J. C. Penney Company believes firmly in the future of this town. That is why we chose to live here. Our personal success is bound up with the success of the community. Our home, our interests, our aspirations lie among you.

But we also wish to stop for a moment to recall its glorious past. This will be a more interesting and beautiful land for all of us when a historical background lends color to everyday scenes. Our children will then inherit, not alone a prosperous country, but one with a past and a personality.

WARNING AGAINST HITCHING. BEGGING RIDES, IS SOUNDED

At this time of the year, with streets icy and slippery, The Times wishes to call attention to the paragraph in the state traffic law which prohibits hitching toboggans or hand sleds to motor vehicles. The same section prohibits riding in or jumping into any vehicle without the owner's consent.

These practices are dangerous at all times, but especially dangerous when roadways are icy or rutted, so that it is difficult to control vehicles.

Standing in streets or highways begging for rides, another habit that is dangerous at all times, is doubly dangerous now. A sudden stop when riding forth the advantages to be derived from greater co-operation in pulling over our county fair, our speaker will show the Red River Valley Shows and similar northwestern Minnesota events.

Speaking of the above mentioned show at Devils Lake, Gustafson says that the show is a big event in that section of the country. The first 100 carloads of feeder cattle sold at auction for $1,200,000; 70 Hereford bulls brought $137,500; 30 Shorthorn cattle sold for $1,100; while single feeder steers were readily disposed of at prices ranging from $2,000 to $7,000—the total sales of the exposition topping into several millions of dollars. All prices were said to be above the seasonal peak quotations.

Tractors Replace Horses

But if horses—there were literally thousands of them—are losing favor with the western farmer, the tractor is not the only reason. The motor car is another. Everywhere in the west, as in the east, the automobile has become a necessity. Even the farmers are using it. Take Minnesota. Best

Since leaving Thief River Falls the Gustafsons have travelled close to two thousand miles, but while the sights have been interesting yet no place has looked as good to them as does their home state, Minnesota. The writer

SPECIAL MUSIC FOR E. & V. WINTER SHOWS

Special music has been arranged for each day of the Northwest School Farmers' Week and Red River Valley Winter Shows program, February 6 to 10, 1928. Four Valley bands will play including the Belmont, Red Lake Falls, and Crookston Juvenile and Municipal bands, all under the direction of H. L. Smith, Crookston. Mrs. Loetitia Holliday Swain, Minneapolis, Mrs. C. Merrian Stephens, Crookston, state chairman of music for the Federated clubs of Minnesota, and Mrs. F. E. Buckingham, Crookston, will lead the community singing.

Choruses, quartettes, and solo numbers have been arranged for the afternoon and evening meetings. Northwestern Minnesota singers with T. W. Thorson, Fertile, director, will appear, thrill and inspire all who listen at the closing session of the week's program Friday evening, February 10.

Crookston is composed of unit choruses located at Crookston, Erskine, Fertile, Fisher-Hygland, Fosston, Halstad, Mentor, Mentor, Northwest School and Winger, whose combined strength is approximately one hundred fifty voices. For daily program write Northwest School, Crookston.

MANY KEEPING OLD BUS FOR SPARE CAR

The introduction of new models of automobiles at reduced prices, and many of them at reduced prices, has caused a heavy depreciation in the second hand market. Many are buying new cars, are keeping their old cars for a "spare", are selling them instead of accepting a small allowance on a trade-in.

A highway department bulletin, however, calls attention to the fact, that probably the best buy of the year is made on or before Feb. 15, unless the car has actually been discarded. The Secretary of State must have a report on every car that was licensed last year, or the law compels a formal court proceedings, through the sheriffs, to collect the tax or find out what happened to the car.

RED LAKE FALLS MAN IS HONORED BY PUBLISHERS

At the annual meeting of the directors of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association held in Crookston last week George Christie, one of the publishers of the Red Lake Falls Gazette, was elected president of the association.

Paul Bunyan of the Alexandria News, retiring vice president, was elected president of the Duluth Herald, succeeding Ed Hatch, who has served as secretary for 20 years. Charles M. Dutcher, publisher of the Lake County Chronicle at Two Harbors, was made president of the Arrowhead of the Detroit Lakes Record was elected as secretary.

Duluth was selected for the summer outing and the convention city for the winter meeting will be selected by the executive board.

EGG PRICES TAKE DROP DURING WARM WEATHER

The price of eggs "hit the toboggan" three weeks ago, according to produce men of the city, the warm weather starting the bens to laying. The heavy receipts together with large amounts of eggs in storage, caused a surplus in the hands of retail dealers, who supply the produce men, was in turn began to cut prices.

According to the Petersen Biddick Co. the market was little more firm this week, milk being warmer weather, but they were only paying 26 cents a dozen.

CONTRACT 1928 ACREAGE FOR BEET SUGAR FACTORY

The work of contracting for the 1928 acreage of sugar beets in the territory supplying the East Grand Forks factory is well underway, according to J. B. Bingham, manager in that city. There have not been as many acres signed up so far as there had been a year ago at this time, he states.

OVER MILLION CHEVROLETS WERE PRODUCED LAST YEAR

Added impetus was given the swift pace set for 1928 by the Chevrolet Motor company with the announcement by W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager, that the four millionth Chevrolet unit rolled off the three millionth car had been turned out at the same factory.

End Came Calmly Several D. After Patient Was Operated on for Appendicitis

STARTED RAILROAD WORK IN WISCONSIN IN 1887.

Many Distinguished Railway Officials Attend Obsequies Here on Wednesday

W. A. Barnard, superintendent of the Winnipeg division of the Soo Lines, with offices here for the past fifteen years, failed to rally from the attack of appendicitis suffered while making an inspection trip over the Wheat Line on Thursday, Jan. 26, altho he was taken immediately to Minot where an operation was performed by Dr. Theodore Brattrud of Warren and physicians at the Trinity hospital at that place early the following morning.

Early last Sunday, Feb. 5, friends and relatives were advised that death had occurred at 8:15, following a gradual decline in strength, despite several blood transfusions, which apparently renewed his vigor temporarily only.

With him at the end were Mrs. Barnard and one of their daughters, a Great Northern machinist at Spokane, Wash., and Mrs. Sadie, sister of Barnard's other son, Fred A., general manager of the Edison Light & Power Co. of Moorhead, California, received a few hours after death occurred.

The remains were brought here Sunday night and lay in state until 11 A. M. Wednesday forenoon till 1 P. M., being laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery here, following funeral services in the city auditorium at two o'clock Wednesday under the Masonic auspices. Rev. J. B. Smith of Bethel church officiated, he being followed by the ritualistic ceremonies of the Masonic lodge, with George E. Horn acting as master of ceremonies, assisted by officers and members of Northern Star lodge here, to which the Elks lodge here also attended in a body, music being furnished by a special Eastern Star-Masonic octette, with Mrs. Dolores Halvorson Pope, accompanying. Among the many floral offerings were grouped at the front of the stage, the various fraternal orders and Masonic bodies contributing.

In addition to the immediate relatives he leaves to mourn his loss a brother, Halsdag, Meinkson, Minn., Northwest School and Winger, whose combined strength is approximately one hundred fifty voices. For daily program write Northwest School, Crookston.

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE OF CITY WED LAST WEEK

A marriage of interest to the city's younger set took place at the Zion Lutheran parsonage Monday, Jan. 30, when Miss Inga Gelasch became the bride of Ralph W. Shetler, Rev. L. L. Tangsveth read the service in the presence of Mrs. R. B. Shetler, mother of the groom, and Garfield Goliath of Tacoma, Wash., brother of the bride. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was enjoyed at the home of the groom's parents, at 317 Riverside avenue.

Both the bride and groom are known in this community, and enjoy the well wishes of their many friends. The bride is a daughter of Alex Gelasch of Strathcona, and has been in this city the past four years, employed the greater share of the time at the Quality bakery. The groom attended the local schools, and for the past four years has been employed at the Clay Cigar store. They will make their home in this city.

A parcel shower was given at the home of Mrs. R. B. Shetler last evening in compliment to the bride, a number of her friends participating. Those taking part included Misses Alice Mulry, Bertha Onlahl, Viola Baker, Sarah Sarason, Loretta Mulry, and Mesdames A. C. Mathews, Anna Peterson, Horace Prugh, H. Fernstad, J. Elmer, F. Pugh and R. B. Shetler. Whist was played at three tables, Mrs. Fisher winning high and Mrs. Matheson scoring low.

Joint Hostesses

LOCAL GIRL MARRIED MINNEAPOLIS MAN SAT.

The marriage of Miss Esther Grenoun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Grenoun, 710 LaBree avenue south, and Paul B. Evans of Minneapolis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Evans of Tacoma, Wash., was quietly solemnized Saturday, Feb. 4, at Minneapolis, Rev. A. J. Stub officiating. Miss Grenoun was gowned in orchid chiffon, and her flowers were a shower bouquet of brides roses and lillies of the valley. Miss Suzanne Stivers, the maid of honor, wore a peach colored gown, and carried an arm bouquet of roses and orchid sweetpeas. Kenneth O'Brien acted as best man.

Following the ceremony, a dinner was enjoyed at the Curtis Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Evans will be at home after February 29, at 2312 Harriet avenue south, Minneapolis.

Returns From Baytar Trip

Mrs. Luella Plaisted, proprietor of the Plaisted Millinery, returned Sunday from a trip to Chicago and Milwaukee, completing her spring purchasing for the shop. Mrs. Plaisted has been away since before Thanksgiving, having remained for some time in the Twin Cities.

Breckenridge Team Will Be Seen In Action Here

The crack independent basketball team from Breckenridge will be seen here in a battle royal with the local American Legion team Tuesday night of next week, according to James Caldis, manager of the local quint. Breckenridge has a team to reckon with, and have three college men on their team, it being recognized as one of the fastest teams in the state. The games at Hagley and Rendall were cancelled last week just before the boys were ready to leave, but negotiations are underway to pull off these games later in the season.

Auxiliary Will Present Melodrama at Auditorium Friday Night Next Week

"Under Cover," a four-act melodrama, will be staged at the city auditorium Friday night, Feb. 17, by local talent, under the auspices of the American Legion auxiliary. The play is exciting from start to finish, with a mystery plot, and the lines are valuable ones. Seven scenes are laid in New York City, the plot centering around the United States customs officials. Richard Jones, a customs officer of high rank, in order to "get the goods" on Daniel Taylor, another customs officer who is strongly suspected of taking bribes, assumes the name of Stephen Denby and the role of a crook who has smuggled into this country a valuable string of pearls. A jolly home party, at which a romantic love affair between Denby and Ethel Cartwright, from whom he is forced to conceal his real identity until the last act, reveals much of the real entertainment of the play. It is a thoroughly modern and up-to-date play, and will be enjoyed by young and old.

The cast of characters, of whom several are familiar in previous home talent plays, is as follows:

James Duncan, assistant to Daniel Taylor ..... Ernest Jarnason
Harry Gibbs, customs inspector ..... Neil Evason
Peter, a door keeper at the customs house ..... Harry Hesgaard
Daniel Taylor, deputy in the customs service ..... Norris Holtknecht
Sarah Peabody ..... Esther Gjertson
Ethel Cartwright ..... Gust Peterson
Mrs. Harold Provencher
Amy Cartwright ..... Winnifred Wengaler
Michael Harrington, Millard Myrin
Lampert, butler in the Taylor home ..... Scott Laird
Rose Rutledge ..... Durah Kelly
Monty Vaughn ..... Fred Johnson
Stephen Denby ..... Bernard Sundahl
Alice Harrington ..... Ingra Hesgaard

Bernt Wold, Resident Here Forty-One Years, Is Dead

Bernt Wold, who has made his home in this vicinity for the past 41 years, passed away at 5:30 a. m. Saturday morning at the home, 406 Riverside avenue Thursday, Feb. 2, at seven o'clock in the morning. His death was caused by a cancer, from which he had been suffering for a number of months, the last three months of which he has been confined to bed. Funeral services were held from the Zion Lutheran church Feb. 6, Rev. L. L. Tungseth officiating. Church Scheol.

Mr. Wold was born in Little Hammar, Norway, and was 66 years old at the time of his death. Left to mourn his passing are his wife, Mrs. Marie Wold; two daughters, Mrs. J. A. Rosell of Northwood, N. Dak., and Mrs. Nielal Davidson of Hamilton, N. Dak.; and three sons, Carl of Buxton, N. Dak., Sigvard and Berger, both of this city.

DEATH CAME QUICKLY TO YOUNG MAN AFTER STROKE

Keith Francis Stubbs, aged 19 years, formerly of this city, died Feb. 3 at his home in Bucharan, N. Dak., his death resulting from a stroke of the brain. Funeral services were held in the congregational church of Buchanan Saturday afternoon, Rev. Olson of Jamestown, N. Dak., officiating.

Keith Francis Stubbs was born in Marion, N. Dak., July 25, 1908. He moved with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Stubbs, to Anoka in 1912, coming to Thief River Falls in the spring of 1917, and settling on a farm seven miles east of the city. The family resided there until 1926, when they moved to North Dakota, near Buchanan, where they have remained since. Keith was a member of the Presbyterian church of this city. Left to mourn his loss are his parents, a brother, Howard, two sisters, Bernice a student of the Thief River Falls high school and Lois, and hosts of relatives and friends.

Keith and his parents had been visiting at a neighbor's home, and on returning, their car was stuck in a snow bank. In attempting to push the car out of the snow, Keith exerted himself to such an extent that a blood vessel burst in his head, death resulting him within fifteen minutes.

U. C. T. Dance

The U. C. T. Dancing party which was to be held Saturday evening of this week, will be staged in the Masonic hall instead of the Evelyn as previously announced.

BOWLING SCHEDULE HALF COMPLETED ON SATURDAY

The concluding game in the first half of the bowling schedule for this winter was rolled last Saturday night, and the first game of the second half was rolled last night.

The Reliable Motor Co. team scored one winner by rolling one point last Wednesday night, when they served Coast to 2251 rolled in Swift's Hams. The Thief River Falls Grocery team scored 2240 on Friday night to 2222 rolled by the Penney Clerks. On Saturday Jure's outfit easily defeated the Elen Merchants, the totals being 2331 to 2160.

The Reliable Motor Co. team now has only team with a 1000 per cent standing at the close of last week, while the Gamble Robinson team was still in the cellar.

CITY COUNCIL WILL MEET TUESDAY NIGHT, FEB. 14

The city council is scheduled to meet next Tuesday, February 14, after having failed to convene on which time it is expected there will be considerable business to be disposed of. Bids are to be opened for the deposit of city funds for the coming year.

BAND COMMITTEE MAY SPONSOR CITY ORCHESTRA

A meeting of the band committee has been called for this evening to determine the advisability of forming a city orchestra under the leadership of I. P. Tuleen. The loss of several members of the band has necessitated changes being made before each and with sufficient rehearsal members available this step may be found as solving the problem presenting itself to the band committee.

Official Paper of the City of Thief River Falls and Pennington County.

"The way for a young man to rise is to improve himself every way he can, never suspecting that anybody wishes to hinder him. Allow me to assure you that suspicion and jealousy never did help any man in any situation. There may sometimes be ungenerous attempts to keep a young man down; and they will succeed, too, if he allows his mind to be diverted from its true channel, to brood over the attempted injury. Cast about, and see if this feeling has not injured every person you have ever known to fall into it."—Abraham Lincoln.

THE EIGHTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

The Boy Scouts of America was organized eighteen years ago this week, and its birthday is being fittingly celebrated in Thief River Falls with a big "Jamboree" staged by the local troop at the Auditorium tonight. Year by year this organization has progressed and at the present time has 800,000 members. This movement has left its impress upon 3,500,000 American boys since 1910. The fact that the Boy Scouts of America is only a part of a movement growing in all parts of the world, more than fifty nations having Boy Scout organizations which are affiliated through an international brotherhood with the Boy Scouts of America, indicates that this movement is a great potential force for world peace. The value of this organization as a community asset, however, is found largely in its ability to direct the "gang spirit" into worthwhile activities. Under the proper supervision its influence along this line will increase as its membership increases. There is only one troop in this city at the present time, and this troop is filled to capacity with many names on the waiting list. Another troop will be started here as soon as a responsible organization will volunteer to sponsor the project. While the responsibility is great, the service which would be rendered the community would be quite important.

FORMERLY OF THIEF RIVER FALLS

The appointment of Aaron Youngquist to the office of Attorney General has met with enthusiastic approval throout the state, and particularly in this section of the state which, for several years, was Mr. Youngquist's home. The world loves a winner providing the winner is deserving, and in this case there is no question but that the reward is merited.

Mr. Youngquist was born in Sweden forty-two years ago, and at the age of four, was brought to this country by his parents, who settled in St. Paul. When he was ten years old his parents moved to a farm in Carver county where he received the balance of his elementary education. In 1902, at the age of seventeen, he returned to St. Paul, obtaining work as a stenographer and secretary. Four years later he entered the St. Paul College of Law, a night school, where, in three years, he completed the equivalent of four years of high school work and also received his degree in law, graduating with honors in 1909 at the age of twenty-four. Following his graduation he came to Thief River Falls, practicing here about six months, then moving to Crookston where he practiced until 1918, serving as County Attorney of Polk county from 1911 to 1918. At the expiration of his term of office he entered the army and was discharged at the close of the war with the rank of captain. Following the war he entered the attorney general's office as an assistant, moving gradually forward in this department to his present position.

As a lawyer Mr. Youngquist is rated highly by other lawyers, and those who know him personally speak well of him for his agreeable personality and fine character and respect him for the success he has achieved in spite of discouraging circumstances. It is in such careers that other young men find inspiration to struggle forward through adversity, overcoming the obstacles which poverty places in their paths and antidistancing many of those who entered the race with the advantages of wealth and influence. Although the connection is slight and unimportant, citizens of Thief River Falls are proud of the fact that Mr. Youngquist's career as a lawyer was started in this city.

GETTING OUT OF THE MUD

"Must Minnesota lag behind to wallow in the mud for many years, while her sister commonwealths furnish their ever-increasing traffic with speedy, safe and economical highways?" asks the Minneapolis Journal in an editorial favoring bonds and paving. This appeal sounds very much like our baby at home wearing for a ten foot toboggan because the boy across the street has a nine foot toboggan, which is twelve inches longer than the eight-footer we received a month ago. Four weeks ago the eight-footer was a wonderful thing but now, with a nine-footer in the neighborhood, it is woefully inadequate.

So it is with the Minneapolis Journal and our road-program.—If we remember correctly, the Journal was beside itself with joy five years ago because Minnesota was being pulled out of the mud, and cried out to the world that this state was the land of bountiful scenery and good roads. But today, alas, according to the Journal we are still wallowing in the mud. One of two things must have happened. Either our road conditions have gone backwards very rapidly in the last few years in spite of the many millions we have spent on them, or the mighty mind which determines the editorial policies of the Journal has slipped considerably. It is our opinion that our roads are just as good as they ever were.

The question before the state is not whether or not Minnesota shall get out of the mud. With the exception of a few spots in the northern end of the state, Minnesota left the mud behind several years ago as far as the trunk highway system is concerned. To ask "Must Minnesota lag behind to wallow in the mud for many years?" is so obviously a misstatement of the question that it discredits the entire argument which accompanies it.

The question before the people of this state today is whether or not we shall continue the pay as we go plan of our present highway construction program or adopt the installment system of buying. Those in favor of paving now and paying later argue that this method will not only give us surfaced roads at once but will actually save us money over a period of years in road construction costs. According to the Journal there are 6,000 miles of road yet to be paved and at a cost of $25,000 a mile this program would mean a bond issue of $150,000,000. The success of this method are not talking in terms of 150 millions of dollars of course. They mention 20 millions, but twenty millions would pave only 800 miles, leaving more than 5,000 miles of Journal mud for us to wallow through.

Under our present "pay as you go" plan we are putting in the neighborhood of seventeen millions of dollars into the trunk highway system each year which is more than double the amount we planned to put into it when the system was adopted only a few years ago. As nearly as we can figure out the public as a whole is well satisfied with the progress that has been made by Mr. Babcock and his department. And the motoring public, we believe, is willing that the present program be continued, and would raise no serious objection to a one cent increase in the gas tax. We do believe, however, that the public as a whole is opposed to a bond issue for a paving program under the present circumstances.

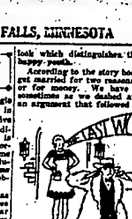
If it were possible to complete our road construction program in one year by borrowing and building, there might be some justification for taking such a step on the theory that those who come after should properly share in the cost of these improvements which they enjoy. Common sense tells us, however, that our road building program will never and can never be completed. Each succeeding generation will have a heavy load to carry merely caring for its peculiar problems. If we build as much as we are able to and pay the bills as we go along, we will do all that we should do and will be playing square both with ourselves and with those who come after.

Abe Lincoln's birthday makes its annual appearance this week to remind us that poverty is not necessarily an obstacle to great accomplishment. In fact, so many of the world's greatest men have risen from humble circumstances that it sometimes seems the proverbial silver spoon is a prerequisite to greatness. Shakespeare expressed the idea when he said:

Sweet are the uses of adversity,
Which, like the toad, ugly and venomous,
Wears yet a precious jewel in his head.

From the first day of February to the first day of summer is a long cold winter.

FROM THE CELLAR WINDOW



The fact that there isn't a single "scandalous" case on the calendar in District Court this week, but five couples asking to be divorced, indicates that Pennington county is rapidly getting back to pre-war normal. You can spend a lot of time arguing about prohibition and evolution and all issues but when you come right down to it the only real problem of life is matrimony.

Clerk of Court Adolf Ekland has announced that he will furnish a free marriage license to the first leap year couple that comes along and helps Tarzan Osborne be well performed. The ceremony free and Bert Wangenstein offers to give the wedding ring for nothing. Now we don't like to throw cold water on any of these leap year schemes but with five divorces on the calendar it would appear that the crafty thing to do right now would be to try to induce some of the folks that are already married to stick it out a little longer, although of course it's necessary too to either fresh or refill the old flame in the lina. If matrimony keeps progressing at the present rate it might be that by another five years the merchants will be offering premiums to any couples that stay married through three sessions of court.

The funny thing about matrimony, if there is anything funny about it, is the fact that all newlyweds really think they should be exceptions. They all figure they made a pretty good sale. But look them over two years later and the chances are them will have regained their normal vision and will have begun to understand why their friends urged them not to hurry. It is a very short period of matrimony that young couples begin to take on that worried look which distinguishes them from happy people.

According to the story books people get married for two reasons, for love and for money. We have wondered sometimes as we dashed away from an argument that followed us out to the porch, if we would have been happier had we married for money, but when we reflect on how difficult it is to get along with them when you love them, we know that such sums of money as are available in the pars of the world are not sufficient to make marriage for money worth while. The two essential qualities for a happy wedded life are a sense of humor and the ability to take a lot of punishment.

We had thought some of joining with the others and offering an inducement for the first leap year wedding, but on second thought we have decided to reward a more deserving cause and therefore take pleasure in announcing that we will give a one-year subscription to the Times to the first couple that chases its mind about getting a divorce.

W. C. T. U. ESSAY CONTEST FOR MARSHALL SCHOOLS

Children of the rural schools of Marshall county will again be given the opportunity to enter the National Essay Contest for 1928. The contest is open to all students of the seventh and eighth grades of rural districts in Marshall county.

The subject given by the state director, Mrs. Stella Doran Cussons of Stewartville, is: Answer the following questions, giving the reason for your answer: Would the drink habit help me to become a good patriot any trade, profession or occupation that you think you might like to enter when thru school).

All essays must be sent to County Superintendent Nels Engen, Warren, of whom full particulars may be obtained.

They Challenge Comparison with the Proudest

Dodge Brothers magnificent Seniors have already achieved a unique and enviable distinction.

By delivering a quality of power unknown to their price class, they are no longer thought of in their price class, but challenge constant comparisons with the proudest names in motordom.

Records of Senior brilliance are daily pouring in from all parts of America, and invariably the trend of owner enthusiasm runs the same—

"No car at any price can surpass Senior performance" . . . "I have owned several cars that cost more, but have never so thoroughly enjoyed driving" . . . "I should like to broadcast my impression of your new Senior. It is splendid"

Once take the Senior wheel and you will understand why business men, professional men, are writing letters of this character to Dodge Brothers.

WE BELIEVE

"There are two kinds of people in this world—those who are always getting ready to do something, and those who go ahead, and Do It."

THE ALARM

In the morning when our hands stretch out in the darkness to silence the alarm, why is it that we cannot find the "rap" right away? Because we grope around blindly in the darkness; our senses are yet dulled from sleep. Then a light comes upon us. We hunt with hands guided by brain power. How easy it is then to hit the right spot, to silence the alarm.

Set to daily principles: aim correctly, guided by good sense. Set your mark and strike for it and then you will be accomplished will then be done. No not aimlessly wander, hunting for luck, as the tired one just roused from sleep may but there you will go out knowingly for what is the right.

PASSING THE BUCK

Judge Oscar Hallam says teaching morals and ethics in the public schools is one means by which potential criminals of tomorrow may be stopped in the making, and in which Carter Mason, of the Fertile Journal, comes back with some truths. He says in part:

"There you go again, passing the buck to the schools. Teach them self-reliance, and honesty, and industry, and respect in the home, and the schools can be counted on for their share. We are ever ready to reform except at home."

In Days Gone By

February 11, 1926—

The first defeat of the local basketball team was handed them by the Warren High School quint by a 12-14 score.

The Freshman girls' basket-ball team defeated the Sophomore girls Friday, by a 9 to 8 score in one of the most closely contested preliminary games of the season.

Major John J. Hill, special lecturer from the University Extension division, delivered an interesting travel talk on Africa as a special assembly last Friday morning.

Among the ancient Greeks small pieces of bread were used instead of the present-day napkin; the diners then threw the bread on the floor for the dogs to eat.

DELIBERATE AND WELL EXECUTED ATTACK WIN OUT

Coach Ophelm and His Teams Judge Contests on Points, Rebuttal

The Warren basketeers fell before the Whippert delibrate and well executed attack on the Warren handwoods last Friday night by a score of 16-13.

Over in the Marshall county metropolis they are still talking about it, and probably will be dazed for some time to come.

First Quarter

Although Thief River Falls was first to score the margin contributed by Capt Ericson's free throw was soon wiped out and Thief River Falls was trailing five points at the quarter, nothing too fine.

Warren had been coached to play defense, and playing against a team of speed and strike every man is liable to be accomplished will then be done. He not aimlessly wander, hunting for luck, as the tired one just roused from sleep may but there you will go out knowingly for what is the right.

Second Quarter

The Whipete, which now fully understood Thief River's method of delayed attack, were not a bit undaunted by the thirty-three point margin presented, for instead of resorting to long shots they carefully executed a game game of weaving and passing.

Capt Ericson, who specializes in long shots, came out of his slump and has always been a general nuisance to the teams of the district, was having the time of his life on the small floor. Every time he received the basket using his arms as flails breaking up the Warren offense, but at the same time playing heady and Arnold took his place in the second quarter.

Every shot was followed and the ball was dropped or tapped through the basket with more skill than

Thief River Falls team has displayed for many a month. At the close of the half Thief River Falls was behind one basket 12-16.

Third Quarter

The second half opened with Warren trying desperately to build that two point lead by tieing up their offense. Reuben Anderson was back in the lineups and was watching every opening to break through. This clever deception and cuts of the fleets, Severson at last put the ball through to Ericson, under the basket where he knotted the count at 12, and Anderson dropped in a pretty one shot in put the locals in the lead 14-12, which they held through the third period.

Last Quarter

Evidently Coach Lawrence had failed to inform his men that basketball was a game of only two fouls, for Warren refused to wait for them to commit the fouls on defense. Severson and Ely Dahlow dropped the crowd for six minutes of the final quarter by playing foot, catch, and until I over in the middle of the floor, ever so often stopping and reluctantly offering the leather bound wind ball to their opponents.

But Warren refused to move, they would been sent in to guard the goal and they sure did, and though they knew their defense basics as they had forgotten all about offense. They scored three points in the last three minutes, which was from received a free throw in the fourth quarter and the game ended 16-13.

Other 100 local fans made the trip from Thief River Falls. A return game will be played in the local north to-turn this month.

Month's Work of Group Photography Near Close

By tomorrow afternoon practically all the group pictures to be used in the coming annual will have been taken by Salveson's Studio.

The work began almost a month ago and has been continuing at a rate of one group a days it embraces a large list of activities. These have been photographed: Basketball and four interclass teams, Boys' Glee club, Physics staff, Progress staff, Debate, N. I. F. A. delegates, Junior class, Freshman class, Sophomore class, Junior, Sophomores and Freshmen classes.

Those remaining for the next few days are Orchestra, Band, Girls' glee club, Girls' basketball, Girls' volleyball.

Teachers and school board members cooperated in visiting the photo shop for new pictures. Rather than use old prints of the type on, entirely new poses of the faculty as they appear now will be secured for the Progress.

This material, being prepared for the engraver, will be rushed, keeping the supply flowing evenly on to the printers.

Commercial Department Work Teaches a Combination of Speed and Accuracy

The Junior English III students are being prepared for debate work this week. Three various classes have been divided into groups of two, two negative and two affirmative teams. Questions for debate were given each debate squad, Friday, and since that time have been studying the fundamental principles of debate, by the aid of reference books and class discussion.

The following debates have been discussed, the judges and the winners given: Boys' Glee Boys, judged by Gladys Weeks, with the affirmative team winning; Girls' Glee Girls, judged by Largy Omo, judged by Harriet Pulk; affirmative; Capital Punishment, Capital Punishment, affirmative; Manual Training for Girls, John Barnes, negative; Glee Clubs for Men and Women, Harold Wil, affirmative winning; Immigration debate on this topic Harriet Fuller gave the decision to the negative; Buying on the installment Plan, John Barnes, affirmative. The Installment Plan of Buying, Lenore Lieberman, affirmative; Capital Punishment, Chester Myrom, negative. Gladys Weeks, debate negatives as winners on the subject Immigration. Five Textbooks in High School, Harold Wil judging, resulted in victory for the affirmative.

Coach Ophelm judged the following subjects: Cabinet Form of Government, with the affirmative as winners. In the question of the Electoral College, same side was victorious while on the questions of Cancellation of Allied War Debts, Restriction Immigration Mr. Ophelm pronounced the negative team victorious.

As the paper goes to press the following debates are to be judged: Resolved: That Secondary Schools Should Be Taken Over by the Federal Government; Capital Punishment, by Harriet Fuller; Buying on the Installment Plan, by Lenore Lieberman, and Six Year Terms for Presidency, by Harold Wil.

Last Forensic Battle To Be With Roseau Tonight

This evening the Lincoln affirmative debate team will clash with the negatives of Roseau in what probably will be the last debate contest for Thief River Falls in the previous two years we have successfully defeated Roseau; the battle tonight will determine the stability of such a record.

Defending the New York canal proposal in the question "Resolved, that the United States should construct an All-American shipway connecting the Great Lakes with the Atlantic ocean," in preference with Canada in the St. Lawrence project, the two debaters, Gladys Weeks, Alan Barnes, and Lenore Myrom, will offer good opposition to the Roseau team.

At present, Hallock has five points toward the sub-district contest, and Warren three as a result of our 2-1 defeat there a fortnight ago. Thief River Falls and Roseau each have but two votes, thus making them illegible.

The debaters are: R. S. Wavamann of Roosevelt; Superintendent J. A. McArthur, Hazel; and Superintendent P. W. Chase of Norland, Minnesota.

Coach J. W. Ogheim and his troupe left by car at noon this afternoon.

NORTHROP NOTES

Standardized tests will be given next week in arithmetic and reading in the grades from the second through the sixth. It is expected that better records will be made than in similar tests which were given in the fall.

Frances Starbuck who is out for best thirty, leads the fifth grade in Studebaker, while Robert Peterson, of the sixth B, is completing No. 37.

Alice Ann Severson of the third A is already on Studebaker test No. 10, although the class did not start them until last week.

Many pupils are improving their work, especially in Arithmetic Studebaker tests, because of encouragement at home.

Enoch Ottum of the third A division has been transferred to the Texas.

Cedric Schelberg of the first A has been absent for a week and a half, having had an operation for appendicitis.

Let's Get Better Acquainted Thru Faculty Questionaire

– INTERVIEW NO. 13

The music room door opened; families figure on that at her desk; the interview begins, with the customary: What is your name?

'Maude Louise Johnson.'

Which of your glee clubs do you think better, your boys' or girls'?

"The girls, because they work hardest; the boys could be just as good, but they don't work as hard as the girls."

Do you believe dancing to be harmful for young people?

"No, it makes them very graceful."

What do you think of the said variety, flekiness, and frivolousness of the younger generation?

"Oh, my," (astounded) "What awful questions you give me. That is too deep a subject for me to discuss."

Do you believe it is all right for women to smoke?

(Decisively) "That is up to one's self."

What is your candid opinion of jazz?

"Does it all right in its place."

Do you believe one should marry for money or love?

(Loudly) "Both."

What improvement do you think our school needs most?

"For some of the students to spend more time on their studies."

What is your chief objection to Thief River Falls?

Oh land, nothing—no yes, wait a minute, I have an objection. I hate to see that the railway fare is too much to the Twin Cities, and I can't go as often as I would like to."

What would you suggest in order to further interest in the high school activities?

"I don't know. To play out for more affairs, I guess."

Don't you think it would be better for girls to attend glee club rather than vocational period, in which some are called on Monday?

Yes, because we only have glee club once a week, and that is not often study enough as they wouldn't have to go to equalization."

Which of your many virtuous male singers do you think will develop a "Caruso the Second" voice?

"Oh my! I guess we'll just down either Karl Bieseker or Bud Kinghorn."

Do you believe that the girls represented in the state music contest this year?

(Decisively) "We hope so."

Why does Earl Bratlier show such a profound interest in your activities?

"Too deep for me."

Why do you own a car when it won't run in winter?

"Why, when should I drive in the winter?"

But you ever consider buying an other make of car than Essex?

"Absolutely not! Not for me."

Do you think this region is right fully termed the 'cold northwest'?"

"Somethings, but it does have its charm."

What would you advise a person to do in order to become well acquainted with the students at Winnipeg?

The loudest exhibition of all burst from our music instructor followed by Miss Theisen.

"I'm ready to mingle with our friends from the north."

BEGINNERS WIN TYPING AWARDS

Thief River Wins Over Latter's Home Floor Friday

The typewriting students are again gaining public attention by the results of their tireless efforts. During the January speed tests the number of the beginners who do not know the rules of typewriting, speed is not the only aim of the contestants; there must be no gross errors, regularity, accuracy. Accuracy is of the greatest importance both in the classroom and the business world. For each error in a speed test, 10 words are deducted from the total number of words written in a limited number of minutes. Accurate typewriting must be given. If a student wrote 405 words with no errors in 15 minutes his net rate would be 40 words per minute. But had he made 5 errors, his net rate would have been reduced to 35 words per minute.

Following are the typewriters certificates of merit: Beginning: Katherine Bakke, Marguerite Bauer, Mary Vanderpoel, Josephine Nahlen, Florence Ostrom, and Lillette Quist. Manvill Gunderson, Josephine Nahlen and Edith Stenson earned their certificates on the Underwood machines, writing at a rate of 30 or above.

TOWNSHIP OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED FOR 2 YEARS HEREAFTER

Treasurers, Will Be Named at Elections Held in Odd Numbered Years; Clerks, Even

Township clerks will be elected for a two year term instead of one year at the annual township elections which are scheduled to be held Tuesday, March 13. This has been called to the attention of County Auditor T. F. Anderson, and he in turn will notify the various town clerks, town boards and voters generally.

Provisions of Statute.

The new law under which the town clerks are elected for two years is chapter 231 of the session laws of 1927 and this law made the new provision operative for the March township election of 1928. One year later, or in March, 1929, township treasurers will also be elected for a two year term.

This new law will make it necessary for township boards in preparing ballots for use at the annual election to state that town clerks are to be elected for a two-year term. It will undoubtedly make a difference in the selection of candidates for the office of township clerk in many instances.

Duties of Town Officers

The statutes provide that the town and village clerks shall post notices of the annual township meeting at least before the second Tuesday in March which posting such notices must be done on March 7.

On March 6 the town boards are required to meet and audit the accounts of the board, and make and post their reports.

The town treasurer on March 8 shall file a statement of receipts and disbursements with the town clerk.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS FOR MONTH OF JANUARY

Only eight pieces of property in Pennington county changed hands during the month of January by means of warranty deeds, according to Register of Deeds Fred P. Lorentson. Ski Jumper from Kratka Attended National Meet Last Week at Red Wing

The Sunday Pioneer Press of St. Paul carried a two column illustration of two of those who attended the National Ski meet at Red Wing last week, one of whom was formerly a prominent figure in these great outdoor events, not only in this country but also those of the Scandinavian countries, he being a resident of Kratka, this county. In a talk today to a representative of The Times Jorgen Hemmesvedt related many of his past experiences.

The illustration in the Pioneer Press was captioned "The Oldest and Youngest Ski Jumpers." Beneath the cut appeared the following:

"Torgus Hemmesvedt, the older of the two men pictured here, belonged to the first ski club in America. The club mentioned was formed at Oslo about 50 years ago, and the latter is the brother of Mikkel, who was the pioneer of Norway.

"When they came to Red Wing in 1885-87 they were the star skiers of America. The older were not as well built in those days as they are now, and Torgus' record long at Red Wing was only 105 feet, compared to 160 feet made in the old country.

"Mr. Hemmesvedt is 60 years of age, while Stanley Bennick, of Virginia, the other ski jumper in the picture, is only nine years old. He was the youngest of all the jumpers at the ski meet this year, and at present could not compete in the senior class. He leaped 115 feet.

REGULAR SCHOOL BOARD MEETING SET FOR MONDAY

LEGION TO HEAR REPORTS REGARDING AUTO SHOW

Members of the American Legion will meet tomorrow, Friday, evening to listen to reports of various committees regarding the forthcoming auto show that the Legion is sponsoring, after which lunch will be served.

ROAD SOUTH OF PLUMMER IS GIVEN COAT OF GRAVEL

Close to one and a half miles of road running south from Plummer to...sand-Brooks was last week graveled by men from that village, assisted by a large number of farmers, the work being done as a community enterprise, thereby avoiding the necessity of voting on either the village or the township. The part of the highway thereof that point is of a sandy nature and does not require gravelling at this time.

LAST MONTH WAS RECORD BREAKER SAYS LIBRARIAN

Only Three Times in 16 Years Has Demand Approached That Of January This Year

The month of January broke all records at the Carnegie library in this city, according to Mrs. Hazel Hartwell, librarian. Hitherto type of books passed the 2,500 mark, while was an average of over 100 a day for each of the 25 days that books could be withdrawn. The estimated reading from attendance for the month was placed at 3,230, which makes an average of close to 108 per day for each of the 30 days that the library was open.

During the 15 years since the present library was built in the 3,000 mark for borrowing books was exceeded only three times, said Mrs. Hazlerton. Those did not approach the present record. The total number of books borrowed in Grand Forks for January was only a little over 5,000 copies, which makes the local showing all the more exceptional.

Non-fiction Demand Growing

Demand for non fiction is increasing, the juvenile copies being taken out to the number of 762, while adult borrowings totalled 1,339, making a total of 2,201 as compared to 1,201 volumes of non-fiction called for, of which 761 were borrowed by juvenile readers and 227 by adults. Last month 1,516 juvenile books were called for as compared to 1,966 adult volumes. Juvenile books were also withdrawn during January. Seven pictures and 3 juvenile patrons were added to the list of book borrowers during the past month.

A TRIBUTE

In the death of Bernt Wold, a so-called landmark is removed from our midst. He was one of the early settlers in town of Rockwood, coming into our neighborhood about 1886.

Having been one of my closest neighbors for a long series of years, and an intimate friend, I learned to know him. I would like to pay a little tribute to my departed friend and neighbor. Bernt was a good neighbor, a neighbor, whom anybody would be proud to have for a friend, always ready and willing with what means at hand to take part and give his share to any community undertakings. He was an industrious sort of a fellow, always working at one job or another until health failed. When there was not a job at hand, he worked himself fairly good wages, he worked at something else for less money.

On himself personally he spent almost nothing but the support of a large family was his first consideration.

When a person has lived a life, whose memories are cherished by relatives and friends alike, no matter how humble his position in society may have been, whether those pleasant recollections radiate from a larger or smaller circle, he has lived a life worth living.

Blessed be his memory.

BAD FIRE AT INTERNATIONAL

International Falls experienced quite a disastrous fire last week when several business firms were burned out, among them the Gill Brothers Clothing Co. It will be remembered that the Gill Brothers at one time conducted a clothing store here, purchasing the former stock of Rorstad Brothers, which was located in the old First National Bank building.

When Women Went Back to the Kitchen

The kitchen, for many years, was the battleground of feminism. The Mid Victorian woman's famous trinity of "church, children and kitchen" gradually gave way before the battlecry of "Come Out of the Kitchen," and women did come out in ever increasing numbers until the World War and the scarcity of maids sent most of them scurrying back in again.

After all, women concluded, the kitchen was the workshop of the home, but if they could not change conditions, at least they could change the kitchen, which was responsible for the modern slogan, "Color in your kitchen."

Today it is surprising to note the charming decorative effects that can be achieved by adapting the old fashioned ginghams and percales of our childhood, into crisp, ruffly drapes or breakfast dollies. If your kitchen seems drab and cheerless, take a stroll thru our Cotton Goods Department. At a trifling cost you can transform it into one of the most charming rooms in your house.

ROSEWOOD

Farmers Institute Held

About fifty persons attended the agricultural meeting at the Rosewood hall last Tuesday evening. County agent Robert Douglas spoke for a while on cultivated apples and on county agent work. This was Mr. Douglas' first visit to this community and he left some time in becoming acquainted with the club officers and members. Mr. Dewsnet agricultural extension agent of the Soo Line at Thief River Falls was also present and spoke for about one hour on the seed of more sheep and graded cattle in Northwestern Minnesota. He gave considerable data on sheep raising and also mentioned work done by the Agricultural Credit corporation in extending time loans for the purchase of sheep and cattle. Both gentlemen did their best in aiding their topics and the meeting was interesting. Free lunch was served by the Rosewood Farmers club.

The Young People' society will meet at the Swedish Mission church next Saturday evening, when Rev. F. Lindelein of Warren and Rev. Werner Dretts will be the speakers. A 10 cent lunch will be served. Services will be held on Sunday, Feb. 12, at 10:30 A. M. and at 8:00 P. M. with Rev. Lindelein in charge. Services will be held the annual business meeting of the church.

The Woodmen danced at the hall in town last Saturday evening, about 100 persons attending.

Mrs. Albert Lappegard returned on Monday evening from the Warren hospital, and is improving nicely.

A baby daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Nels Johnson at Anita last week.

Evelyn Samuelson returned Saturday evening from Thief River Falls where she had spent the day attending a confirmation class. She was accompanied home by her father Olaf Samuelson, who is in the employ of the Soo Line at that place.

Miss Isabel Sagmoen and Joseph Soderberg of Thief River Falls spent several days here this week visiting at the B. P. Sagmoen home and with other relatives. Miss Sagmoen will leave on Saturday evening for Minneapolis where she will take a three weeks' course in permanent hair waving, and will later return to Thief River Falls where she is pursuing that trade in connection with Mrs. Rudolph Sagmoen.

Miss Helen Jacobsen, teacher at Rosebank, left Friday evening for a week-end stay with her sister, Mildred Jacobsen, at Thief River Falls.

Otto Lappegaard left Friday for Thief River Falls to spend the week-end with relatives.

WHO ASKED CONGRESSMAN FOR SEVERAL BULLETINS?

Congressman C. G. Selvig has received under a Thief River Falls postmark an envelope containing a numerical list of Farmers' Bulletins of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, on which several various numbers have been marked.

Inasmuch as no name was signed to the list, nor was there any return address on the envelope containing the list, Mr. Selvig is at a loss as whom to send the various bulletins.

It is quite possible that a subscriber of the Times may have sent the list to Washington and asked the congressman will appreciate it if the sender will advise him of the fact.

Shredded Wheat served in any form creates the "inside" warmth and energy that is the best kind of winter protection. Its proteins, carbohydrates and vitamines take care of that. But serve it hot these cold mornings and see how the family takes to it. Dip the biscuits in hot water, drain, and cover with hot milk and a little cream. Then sprinkle with sugar or salt. Lagging appetites will awaken—fussy eaters will be delighted. Serve Shredded Wheat tomorrow and see how pleasant and simple your breakfast can be.

ST. HILAIRE

ST. HILAIRE BREAKS LONG LOSING STREAK

In a hotly fought contest Wednesday evening, the local basketball quint broke their losing streak by defeating the snappy Goodridge five in the first game of the season by a score of 14-12.

The first half was a ragged affair, Langlas, guard for Goodridge, dropped through a free throw making the score 2-1. A minute after tip off, a foul was called on Holmes, and Gundersen, right forward for Goodridge, made it good. The score was a tie, Jones got the ball from the tip off, dribbling down, put it through the basket again making the score 4-2. Vaughn got the ball from the center but fumbled it. Gligstad picked it up and shot a long pass to Hallaren who connected for the third basket, making the score 6-2 in the local's favor.

Then Gundersen, right forward for Goodridge, would shoot and dropped through two field goals in rapid succession tying the score.

Two fouls gave the locals an 8 to 6 lead a few seconds later which ended the first half.

Second Half

The second half opened with Gligstad getting a pass from Jones and dropping it through for a neat field goal. All new members are urged to be present, as something special is planned.

A good lunch will be served and a happy program is being arranged by the Women's club for all members and by a social time. Program starts at 8 o'clock sharp. Everybody welcome.

Official Paper of the City of Thief River Falls and Pennington County.

"In contemplating the causes which may disturb our Union, it occurs as matter of serious concern that any ground should have been furnished for characterising parties by geographical discriminations, Northern and Southern, Atlantic and Western; whence designing men may endeavor to excite a belief that there is a real difference of local interests and views. One of the expedients of party to acquire influence within particular districts, is to misrepresent the opinions and aims of other districts. You cannot shield yourself too much against jealousies and heart burnings which spring from these misrepresentations; they tend to render alien to each other those who ought to be bound together by fraternal affection."—George Washington in his Farewell Address.

PLUCKY LINDY

When we received the reports a few months ago, that Lindbergh had arrived safely in Paris, we, with the rest of the world, breathed a sigh of relief and shouted "Lucky Lindy." When we received the reports this week that Lindbergh had arrived safely in St. Louis, completing successfully a nine thousand mile tour of Central America, we, with the rest of the world, breathed a sign of relief and shouted "Plucky Lindy." We, with the rest of the world, are now convinced that "Plucky" has been a greater factor in the success of this young American than "Luck."

There is reason to believe that this latest trip of Lindbergh's, while not as spectacular as the flight to Paris, has been a far greater achievement. Perhaps it isn't any more remarkable that an aviator can find a certain landing field than that a navigator can bring his ship to a certain port, but there certainly is a difference with which Lindbergh travelled over both land and water wilderness as suggested that today is not far removed when transportation by airplane will be equally safe with transportation by steamship.

In discussing Lindbergh's achievement the Herald-Review of Grand Rapids says:

"It is a splendid thing to have a national hero of the type of Charles A. Lindbergh. Sometimes those who do brave and unusual deeds have characteristics for which apology is necessary. They possess human weaknesses which are passed over in consideration of deeds of valor. For Colonel Lindbergh there is no apology. From the standpoint of habits and character he is the 'Spirit of America.'"

LEST WE FORGET

The completion of Lindbergh's nine thousand mile flight brings to mind again the fact that one-half of the "We" combination was one of those mechanical devices known as airplane. And while this plane itself has come in for a generous portion of the publicity, very little public recognition has been given the man who built the motor. Just to even things up a little let's throw a cheer for Charles Lanier Lawrence, the inventor of the radial air-cooled engine that carried Lindy from New York to Paris and now has returned him safely to St. Louis from a tour of Central America.

It was this type of motor which carried Byrd over the North Pole and to France, landed Clarence Chamberlain safely in Germany and enabled Maitland and Hegenberger to fly to Honolulu. Inventing a motor isn't a particularly hair-raising feat but the man who designed the motor that pulled Lindy to fame and fortune is deserving of honorable mention occasionally.

FREE USE OF THE AUDITORIUM

One of the city's valuable assets is the Auditorium. The fact that night after night this large hall is used for one purpose or another indicates that it is a "community house" in the true sense of the word. Conventions, church programs, basket ball games, stock shows, banquets, entertainments, dances and socials—night after night and day after day the Auditorium performs some service to the community. The building is a valuable asset to the city as a social center.

Financially, however, the Auditorium is a liability. It hasn't paid its way in dollars and cents, for the simple reason that too often the council has said yes to requests for free use of it, and, although busy most of the time, the hall has had very little income. There is no question but that these organizations which have been given the use of the hall without any charge are worthy, and in most of these cases the council has helped a worthy cause by making these concessions. There is no question either, but that the council has often been too generous with this favor and the net result has been that the Auditorium, which is itself one of our most worthy causes, has suffered. It is gratifying, therefore, to note that the present council is a little less liberal in this respect.

The Auditorium is a public building and should be administered to the best interests of the public as a whole. The only matter to be decided in this matter is in which way will the interests of the public be best served. It would seem that in the case of conventions and public gatherings of the kind in which there is general interest and at which no admission charge is made, the Auditorium should be available at no charge. On occasions when programs are presented for the purpose of making money, the use to which the proceeds of the program are to be used should determine to some extent the amount of the rental. If the proceeds are to be used for some civic or public cause the rental should be merely enough to cover the expenses of operation such as light, heat, janitor service and other items incidental to operation. If the proceeds are to benefit a private individual or a certain group of individuals then the rental charge should be the same as would be made were the Auditorium operated for profit.

OUR IMMIGRATION PROBLEM

One of the questions that is receiving serious consideration by Congress and the country as a whole is the present immigration law. It seems that the present law has produced some rather unexpected results. Instead of increasing the proportionate immigration from so-called desirable nations it seems to have greatly reduced the immigration of those races which have contributed greatly to the development of the country. An added provision, which is to become operative July 1st of this year, will further diminish the supply from those countries which have sent Minnesota many of her citizens.

That the immigration law does not appear to have worked out as hoped is the contention of the New York World. It points out that next year, if there is no change in the law, more than half the immigrants to be admitted into this country will come from Great Britain and the north of Ireland. Austria, Russia and Italy will also have increased quotas, while those from Germany, the Scandinavian countries, the Irish Free State, France, Belgium and Switzerland will be sharply reduced.

In numbers to be admitted it works out in a surprising way. Under the national origins provision the total annual quota for all countries will be reduced from 164,667 to 150,000 beginning July 1, 1928. Proportions are changed from the present standard. For instance: Great Britain and northern Ireland gain 39,030 over their present quota and will have 78,039 of the total 150,000. Austria and Hungary show a gain from 1,258 to 2,453. Italy a gain from 42,057 to 4,789. Netherlands loses nearly 2,000. Germany reduced from 51,227 to 28,428; Irish Free State from 28,567 to 13,862; Sweden, cut from 9,561 to 3,937; Norway from 6,453 to 2,267; Denmark from 2,789 to 1,044.

According to the Montevideo News arguments against this "National Origin" provision of the law have recently been advanced with an appeal to the racial groups involved. "It is easy to understand why such an argument should be made" says the News, "but the right solution does not lie in this restricted appeal. If the national origin provision should be repealed, and it should be, it is because it is hard to interpret and administer, and because it does not serve the best interests of the country at large."

The News is right. Too much of the argument on the immigration laws is in the form of appeals to prejudice. Individual characteristics are more important than national or race characteristics, and our selections of immigrants should be individual rather than collective. Our present laws deserve immediate attention.

Forty-three Barnum farmers received nearly ten thousand dollars for their December egg crop, according to the February 1 Farmstead, Stock and Home, or an average of more than two hundred dollars each from this department alone. The biggest amount paid any one patron for eggs alone that month by the Barnum Creamery was $650.36. We figure we're pretty smart up here when it comes to poultry but evidently there's still room for growth.—And, by the way, Barnum is just a little community in the cut-over section of Northern Minnesota.

MAYFIELD FARMER DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Funeral services were held at the St. Hilaire Seventh Lutheran church Tuesday afternoon, Rev. A. P. Nelson officiating, for John O. Carlson, Mayfield township resident, who died of cancer at his home Wednesday morning of last week following a prolonged illness. Interment was made in the east side cemetery at St. Hilaire.

Mr. Carlson was born in Norway in 1870, coming to this country when a young man. He and his family were residents of St. Hilaire during the past few years, however, moving to the farm in Mayfield township last spring.

Mayfield to engage in farming, and since coming here resided there. His wife and six children are left to mourn his passing, the latter including Fred, who lives in California, Rev. Benedict Carl, Richard and Margaret, at home, Mrs. Arthur Charles, of Wyandette, and a sister at Canton, N. Dak., also survive.

THIEF RIVER MAN WAS ELECTED AS DIRECTOR

The Red River Valley Development Association, successor of the Winter Crops Show, held its annual meeting, Thursday, Feb. 9, and elected the following officers for the coming year:

President, V. M. Higginbotham, Red Lake Falls; vice presidents, A. J. Robinson, Mahnomen and C. M. Stranahan, Crookston; secretary, W. H. Lowe, Crookston.

Directors: R. B. Turnbull, Warren; C. C. Williams, Detroit Lakes; Wm. Dahlquist, Thief River Falls; J. B. Pierce, East Grand Forks; E. J. Iverson, Breckenridge; Ed. Hagen, Ada; Underwood; L. Jensen, Clearwater; Leslie Weimer, Moorhead; C. Selvig, Crookston; F. A. Gruwell, Fergus Falls; E. R. Bathke, Warren; E. Hunt, Red Lake Falls; Lou Bentley, Detroit Lakes; A. E. Pfiffner, Argyle.

Crookston is without a chief of police, the city council having twice refused the recommendation of Dr. O. Locken, mayor of that city, for the appointment of Anton Nelson to that position. The mayor insists that his choice must be recognized if conditions are to be improved.

AUCTION SALE

I will hold an auction sale of my dairy herd, farm machinery, etc., Wednesday, March 14. Watch for this sale. C. W. Correll, 2 miles east and 1½ miles south of Steiner, Chas. Correll. 3-4p

NO PRACTICE TONIGHT OF ORCHESTRA MEMBERS

There will be no orchestra practice this evening on account of the match this morning of L. F. Tolen's father-in-law in the Swedish hospital at Minneapolis. However, the regular practice for next week will be held as usual.

Funeral services will be held Sunday for Mr. Tolen in Minneapolis and on Monday at Princeton, Ill., where interment will be made, both of which will be attended by his son, who leaves this evening for the Twin Cities.

SELVIG RE-ELECTED HEAD OF R. R. V. LIVESTOCK ASSN.

Congressman C. G. Selvig was last Friday re-elected president of the Red River Valley Livestock association, which he helped promote several years ago. Paul Enerlstad of this city was elected as a member of the board of directors. H. C. Woolson of this city is one of the members of the advisory board, representing Pennington county.

MIDDLE RIVER MAN GIVEN STIFF SENTENCE BY JUDGE

Artie Filpula of Middle River was sentenced by Judge Andrew Grindeland at Warren a week ago to spend eighteen months in jail at Stillwater, following his arrest on a charge of giving a minor a drink of intoxicating liquor. The accused pleaded guilty to the charge. The parents of the 15 year old boy swore out the papers for the arrest.

JOHN RIEDL, FARMER AT STEINER AT YEARS, DIES

Funeral services were held at St. Hermanis Catholic church Tuesday morning, Rev. A. L. Muth officiating, for John Riedl who died at his home Saturday, Feb. 11, interment was made in St. Bernard cemetery.

John Riedl was 76 years, 6 months and 10 days of age at the time of his death. He was born in Austria, coming to this country in 1881 and settling in Marshall county. He was married at Red Lake Falls in 1886 to Helena Becker, and for the past 42 years has operated a farm near Steiner. He is survived by one son, August; three daughters, Helena, Matilda Catherine Parent, and Francis Doucette; as well as three step sons, John, George, and Nick Becker.

EGGS AGAIN DECLINE IN PRICES LOCALLY

The warm weather of the past three weeks again sent the price of eggs down, produce men in this city all paying 26 cents a dozen a week ago, but dropping to 23 cents a dozen last Saturday. Retail prices ranged from 28 cents to 32 cents, depending on the size and conditions of the hen fruit.

Our Luger walnut dining room suites are made to please. They are so pretty that you don't eat much for looking at them if you're dining; and your eat more because the table looks so nice if you're trying to gain. Have you looked them over recently?

Ever notice? When a man washes the age of about thirty-five he begins to wear rubbers.

For good solid comfort there is nothing like an over-stuffed living room suite. And people just as easy on the pocket book as they are on the eyes.

History says that the plow is the most important implement of civilization. Next to that comes the can opener.

It isn't any trick at all to keep a Sanborn Rug clean. With a scrubbing. Any good soap or cleanser is sufficient. Apply with mop: And the colorings never fade.

Things Worth Knowing

Men living in certain portions of Russia find it difficult to remove their shoes without first unlacing them.

Scientists have never yet discovered a woman who can learn with her mouth closed.

Eskimos never use salad forks.

And by far the most important is the fact that now is an unusually good time to buy a Maytag.

The beauty of any room depends enormously upon the floor. The floor is the background for rugs, furniture and decorations. A waxed floor is the prettiest and most practical. Apply Johnson's floor wax this week. It costs very little and the results are simply wonderful.

What helps the appearance of a home like one of our mirrors? We have them here in all sizes.

TRIBUTE TO W. A. BARNARD

Gone, is the old lion of the golf course,
Gone, where we all go when Death's trumpet sounds.
Never more shall we hear his cry of "fore"!
Never more shall we hear his cry of "fore"!
We all shall miss our stalwart, kingly form.
We, tribute to his memory bring.
For the lessons he has ever taught us,
Of patience, fairness, squareness, and justice.
So may we hope to make our lives some day
Like his, an example of fair play.

SPATTER INK

Ink is just a liquid of various colors. Yet what plots, what letters, what pathetic joyful stories and notes come into existence when it is used. Its function is varied. Its results gladden some, distract others, and worry still another group. Thus can such seemingly small, unnecessary objects perform great functions in life, just as many seemingly useless people cause occasions to assume different mantles.

IN DAYS GONE BY

February 14, 1923

The Rowan quint handed the locals their second defeat in the conference contest by a 2-8 score, Friday.

The first and second piece basketball trophies arrived at Lincoln High School. It is rumored that the first will stay.

An assembly held Thursday in commemoration of Abraham Lincoln was featured by an address on the great pioneer's life and character by Rev. E. A. Tallakson.

SOPHOMORES SERVE

The snappy Sophomores showed their mettle in the spirit last Saturday, February 11, when they served a luncheon in the Legion rooms, to raise their money for the interclass basketball enterprise. The Sophomores served in great splendor, the room being decorated in pink and green, the class colors, and each table having a lighted pink or green candle.

Not only the commissioners, but also the appetizing bowls served at 25 cents a cover to the Legion rooms between the hours of twelve and six.

WHIPPETS OUTPLAY BEMIDJI SATURDAY IN REVIEW GAME

Seventh Consecutive Win for Coach Ed Sloe's Cagers Clouded Many Game's Close

Getting away to a lead at the start of the second quarter the Whippets again upset the Bemidji fifth aggregation by the count of 21 and 17 on the local auditorium floor, last Saturday, February 11.

This is the seventh consecutive win of the Whippets and is the second defeat they have handed Bemidji this season, the first upset taking place at Bemidji at the score of 19 and 16.

First Quarter

Although Thief River was first to score when Gen dropped the ball in from under the basket, Bemidji took the lead but the count was knotted, 2 all, at the end of the first quarter when Rip Dahlow completed one of two free throws.

Second Quarter

At the opening of the second quarter the local quint took the lead when Gen sank a shot from the side.

Vyzard added a point for Bemidji with a free throw and Dahlow followed shortly with a shot from the side.

Bemidji worked the ball down under her basket where it was tapped in by Vipond after some frantic jumping.

Boomer Dahlow made a nice try from the side and was following it up when Captain Rosario Esposito beat him to it and tossed the ball in from under the basket.

Boomer was injured but resumed play after a short rest.

Third Quarter

Arnold who substituted for Ericson at the end of the last quarter was still in the line-up when play was resumed. Arnold made try after try at the hoop but they all missed by a margin. After two tries had been made at the net, Gen followed one up and made it in the ball.

Both teams played fast ball and Bemidji came near to, at times, but always missed her shots. With the score at 25 and 19 the visitors scored a field goal in the last minute of play, Brown when Vipond was fouled twice and Bethel once. Out of the five tries only two were made good. The quarter ended the count 25 and 22, Thief River leading.

Last Quarter

Bemidji came back in the fourth quarter determined to overcome the Whippets lead. Bethel, the lanky center, raised shot after shot at the hoop only to miss and have them taken by the backboard by the Whippets. The Bemidji quint evidently taking heed from Warren's defeat, began to rush the locals in an attempt to get the ball.

The biggest sensation of the evening took place when Boomer Dahlow dribbled the length of the floor thru the Bemidji defense to hook in a shot for two points.

Dahlow again came through for two points when he tapped the ball in from under the basket after some wild jumping for its possession.

Some Excellent Playing

The Whippets showed superior ability in the playing five both in their shooting and handling of the ball. The locals were at all time in shooting but endeavored to work through their opponent's defense for their shots. Bemidji team work at times, but rushed each other keeping the ball in play throughout the game. The fact that Bemidji was held from scoring during the entire fourth quarter makes the Thief River defense speak for itself.

LINCOLN HONORED BY SUPT. BYE MONDAY

Little Things in Life Make For A Man's Character Is Illustrated

Honoring the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, a special assembly was called Monday morning at which Superintendent Morris Bye spoke.

Miss Maude Johnson, music supervisor, first presented fifteen of the pupils in the first and second grades of Washington school in two songs. The little folks greatly delighted the audience with their numbers, "Lincoln's Penny" and "Dear Old Starry Flag of Mine."

Supt. Bye stated at the beginning of his address that he was going to design the big things in Lincoln's life, since such facts are already well known, and dwell upon the lesser things, he followed, saying that little things are really the most important in the character of men.

Lincoln's early life was recounted in detail, from his early boyhood in the wilds of Kentucky, through his schooling and years of laboring at any and all jobs. According to records, Lincoln was never a clothes model, but his keen wit and ability won him from the days of manual laborers to president of the United States.

Regarding the hardships of guiding the nation through the trying Civil War period, Mr. Bye observed that "only his never-failing sense of humor made Lincoln able to cope with the problems.

A final picture of Lincoln as shown in an incident of a stranger visiting the president's home, was drawn. This stranger, as disclosed a month later by the great emancipator to his wife, was none other than Jefferson Davis.

Mr. Bye's speech was carefully planned, concise and absorbing, showing a fund of information. The students' only regret was that time prevented more of the human anecdotes in the life of this great man being told.

Debate and Basketball Bring Pep-Fest Friday

Friday a pep fest concerning debates and athletic games, past and future, was conducted by Mr. Hand. Unusually good spirit and enthusiasm was shown by the students, who yelled like they never have previously.

At the beginning of the assembly Chet Myrom and Gladys Weeks were called upon to tell about the debate with Ada, which short, snappy remarks, Julius Opheim, coach, gave his opinion of the debate—including the excellent spirit of the Rosewu team.

Mr. Bye gave an impromptu speech about the Warren game which was then enjoyed by the assembly. "I suffered as much as I enjoyed," said Mr. Bye, "but I had sufficiently recovered my equilibrium to haul in Mr. Hand's car the last nine miles." This was received with a roar of laughter at Mr. Hand's expense.

Merle Lindbergh, captain of the Sophomore basketball team, and Roy Lorson, were called upon to a say a few words concerning the Goodridge game. These speakers of the lower class were greeted with a wild uproar by the upper classmen.

After Cliff and Paul had conducted individual yelling, Mr. Hand dismissed the basketball squad, the affirmative and negative debate teams, and the Sophomore team, amid applause.

MASQUERADE SATURDAY

The Senior and Junior classes will hold a masquerade dance at the Elks Hall, Saturday, Feb. 18, 1928.

This is one of the social school special events of the year and it is expected that it will be the best. A cordial invitation has been extended to both classes and the faculty members.

The snappy four piece orchestra, Saturday Night Hawks, has been secured to furnish the music for the occasion.

A number of prizes have been offered for the funniest, somnabbest, and most original costume present, it would be worth while to try for these prizes.

Let's Get Better Acquainted Thief Faculty Questionaire

Interview No. 14

A comely lady, sitting at her private desk in her private office, responds to the one question:

What is your full name?

"Blanche Godward Kerstad."

Why did you go to the University of Minnesota?

With a smile came the answer; "Because my older brother went there, and he thought that was the only place in the world to graduate from, and I didn't want him to beat me; also because at that time smaller colleges weren't well enough known through-out the state and was better for a teacher to have that diploma."

As unfastened as ever, the Dean of Girls held her first assumed position, that of her chin resting on her closed hand, while the next question was asked:

Why did you major in mathematics?

"Cause I always liked to figure and you don't have to remember so much. You can always reason it out for yourself."

What would you be if you started over again?

"I'd be a teacher—same position."

What improvement do you think our school needs?

"More room—that more than anything I know of."

Do you favor spike heels?

"No, they remind me of suits. I don't think they're good for people's health. They injure the body out of good line."

What is your highest ambition?

"I think—Ahhh—I'd like to get an M. A. degree some day also to do something that's really worth while for the school girls."

What is your favorite musical instrument?

"Goodness—I believe I like the piano."

Why?

"Oh, it lends itself to all the different parts more than other instruments. I like the harmony of it. Other instruments are over, the tone with the slightest pressure will be declared the champion.

A procedure somewhat different from that of previous years will be followed in the present tournament, in that, instead of playing all the games in one week, each team will be played twice a week, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, with one game each and one girls' game on each day.

Last year the boys' championship was won by the Junior class while this year's Senior class, will make a determined effort to capture the trophy for the second time. The other three classes are offering plenty of competition, however, and promise to give the Seniors plenty of opposition before the tournament is over.

The girls of the class of '27 were victorious last year with the present Sophomore girls as "runners up." The Sophomore girls have a strong team and will exert every bit of energy, in their possession, to win another for their class. As the other classes are not going to stand idly by and see the trophy captured by the Sophs, the tournament promises to be full of thrills for the spectators from all classes.

These games will be staged in the afternoon immediately after dismissal and a sum of 5 cents will be charged for admission to defray expenses of buying trophies for the winning girls' and boys' team.

The schedule is as follows:

Grade School Tournament Tied Between Two Teams

By defeating the eighth grade last Friday, February 10, by a score of 6 to 5, the seventh grade climbed to the top in the Junior high school tournament with a percentage of 500 in 1000, having won two games. On the same night the Washington basketeers defeated the Knox team 6-5, putting them top place in the grade school tournament. They, too, have a standing of 1000 with two straight victories. The eighth and Northrup have a percentage of 500 in their respective classes while the St. Bernard and Knox schools occupy the cellar in their leagues with two defeats each.

As each team has still two games left to play, there is time for the positions to be considerably altered before the tournament is over.

Whippets Meet Crookston Quint On Foreign Floor

Dozens of Lincoln high school students and local fans will find it worth their while to make a pilgrimage over to our neighboring city of Crookston Friday, February 17, when Coach Ed Sloe's pupils will meet their formidable opponent in the form of the Crookston high quint. The Whippets defeated the northerners here a few weeks ago by a narrow margin after a closely fought battle, but Crookston is determined to make the Thief River boys return home with a defeat. The Whippets have suffered only two defeats this far and are going to give Crookston a real fight.

The pleasant weather of the past few days should serve as an incentive for the local fans to "motor down" and lend the team their moral support.

Volleyball Team Chosen; Tournament Starts Tues.

The following girls were chosen by Miss Gerber to represent the Girls' Varsity team in volleyball: Chris Larson, Senior; Ethel Patten, Pauline Rogers, Ellen Grinde, Juniors; Harriet Helgeland, Sophomore. Those named second were: Marguerite Johnson and Florence Kindle, Seniors; Lorraine Zellmer, Juniors; and Evelyn Bradley, Freshman. The Seniors won the volleyball championship, the Juniors ranked second, the Sophomores third, and the Freshmen last. The Seniors won every game they played in the tournament. Although the Freshmen won every game they played, they are determined to redeem themselves by going in strong for basketball.

The girls' interclass basketball started on Tuesday, February 14. The first game was played by the Sophomores and Seniors girls on Tuesday, and the Freshmen and Junior girls will play on Thursday. The tournament will run for about six weeks, two or three games being played each week.

Last year strong competition was shown in the interclass girls' basketball. The Freshmen, with Rosie Dahlen as their captain, played some very fine games, almost winning the championship title. The others trumpeted over them by winning the last game.

This year the tournament promises to be as good as it was last year, if not better. The girls have been practicing, being coached by Miss Gerber. The captains of the four classes are: Elsie Heufelt, Senior; Laura Bowers, Junior; Harriet Helgulst, Sophomore; and Alice Larson, Freshman.

SENIORS RUNNERS UP FOR INTERCLASS B. B.

Intramural Tournament Was Opened Tuesday For Next Seven Weeks

With the Sophomores meeting the Seniors in the opening game, the annual intramural tournament to determine the basketball champions of the schools opened Tuesday, February 14, and will run for seven weeks through March 27, when the tournament comes to a close and the trophies will be awarded to the winning classes. Every class will play every girls' class twice both in boys' and girls' basketball. When the tournament is over, the team with the highest percentage will be declared the champion.

A procedure somewhat different from that of previous years will be followed in the present tournament, in that, instead of playing all the games in one week, each team will be played twice a week, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, with one game each and one girls' game on each day.

LINCOLN DEBATERS WERE VICTORIOUS AT BOREAU MEETING

Two to One Decision Over Affirmative Team—Excel in Rebuttal

Thief River Falls won a 2-1 victory over Roseau in a debate held last Thursday evening to make the third victory over Roseau in three years. Thief River Falls has four judges' votes toward the sub district.

The affirmative team Gladys Weeks, John Barnes, and Chester Myrom, contended that the United States should Construct an All-American Great Lakes-Atlantic Waterway Rather Than Cooperate With Canada in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence project. The route which the affirmative proposes is one that would start at Oswego on Lake Ontario, go through Lake Oneida down the Mohawk River to Albany and then to the Hudson River. They contended that this route would be developed for three reasons: first it is the more feasible of the two plans, second, including the easternmost route is available, and the All-American route offers military advantages and thirdly it offers commercial advantages. Ronald Myer, John Haras, and Raymond Norman, of Roseau upheld the negative, maintaining that the St. Lawrence ship canal should be constructed because it is more economical to the farmers because of its nearness to European markets and because of its greater feasibility.

The affirmative team was given the credit of the able coach, Julius W. Opheim, who formed the debaters the best of the season. It was forty with forty fighting spirit on both sides, especially in rebuttal. In this part of the debate the affirmative hammered home its main points, that the United States would have to pay 16-17ths of the cost of the canal and the St. Lawrence Canadian ports are benefitted by that route; and the trend of trade is toward South American not Europe.

The thief knowledge of every phase of the question by the powers of the affirmative team favored them for every important negative point, practically all of which they refuted.

The affirmative debaters and, Leonore Lieberman, who represented the negative team, were royally entertained by the Roseau school authorities and debaters. The matter of courtesy of these people was shown, not only in the entertainment, but even more so during the course of the debate.

The judges were: Sup't. J. C. McArthur of Baudette; R. K. Waasman of Roseau, and Supt. P. W. Chase of Warroad.

The conclusion the Thief River Falls upholds means.

Junior Placed With Rare Hundred Class Rings

Delivery of the 1928 graduating class rings was made Monday, the ring which arrived last week. The rings are the purchased of Hirsch's Jewelry Store, Minneapolis, and is a three-piece contract with the school, a standard ring having been chosen by the three lower classmen.

The rings are of a masculine character—either blunt but very becoming. The back is of yellow gold with a black enamel octagon-shaped shield on a white gold back-ground. In the center of the shield is the Symbol "t. r. f." in raised gold letters. Surrounding the gold shield is "Thief River Falls, Minn.," one side and on each of four sides respectively. "1929," also in gold letters, is carved on gray triangles on the shank.

So far, forty-three rings have been sold. Two orders have been filled, and a third order will be sent to the ring company as soon as the remaining class-members have received ring-fit and paid down on their rings.

Band Work Swings Along Thru Various Engagements

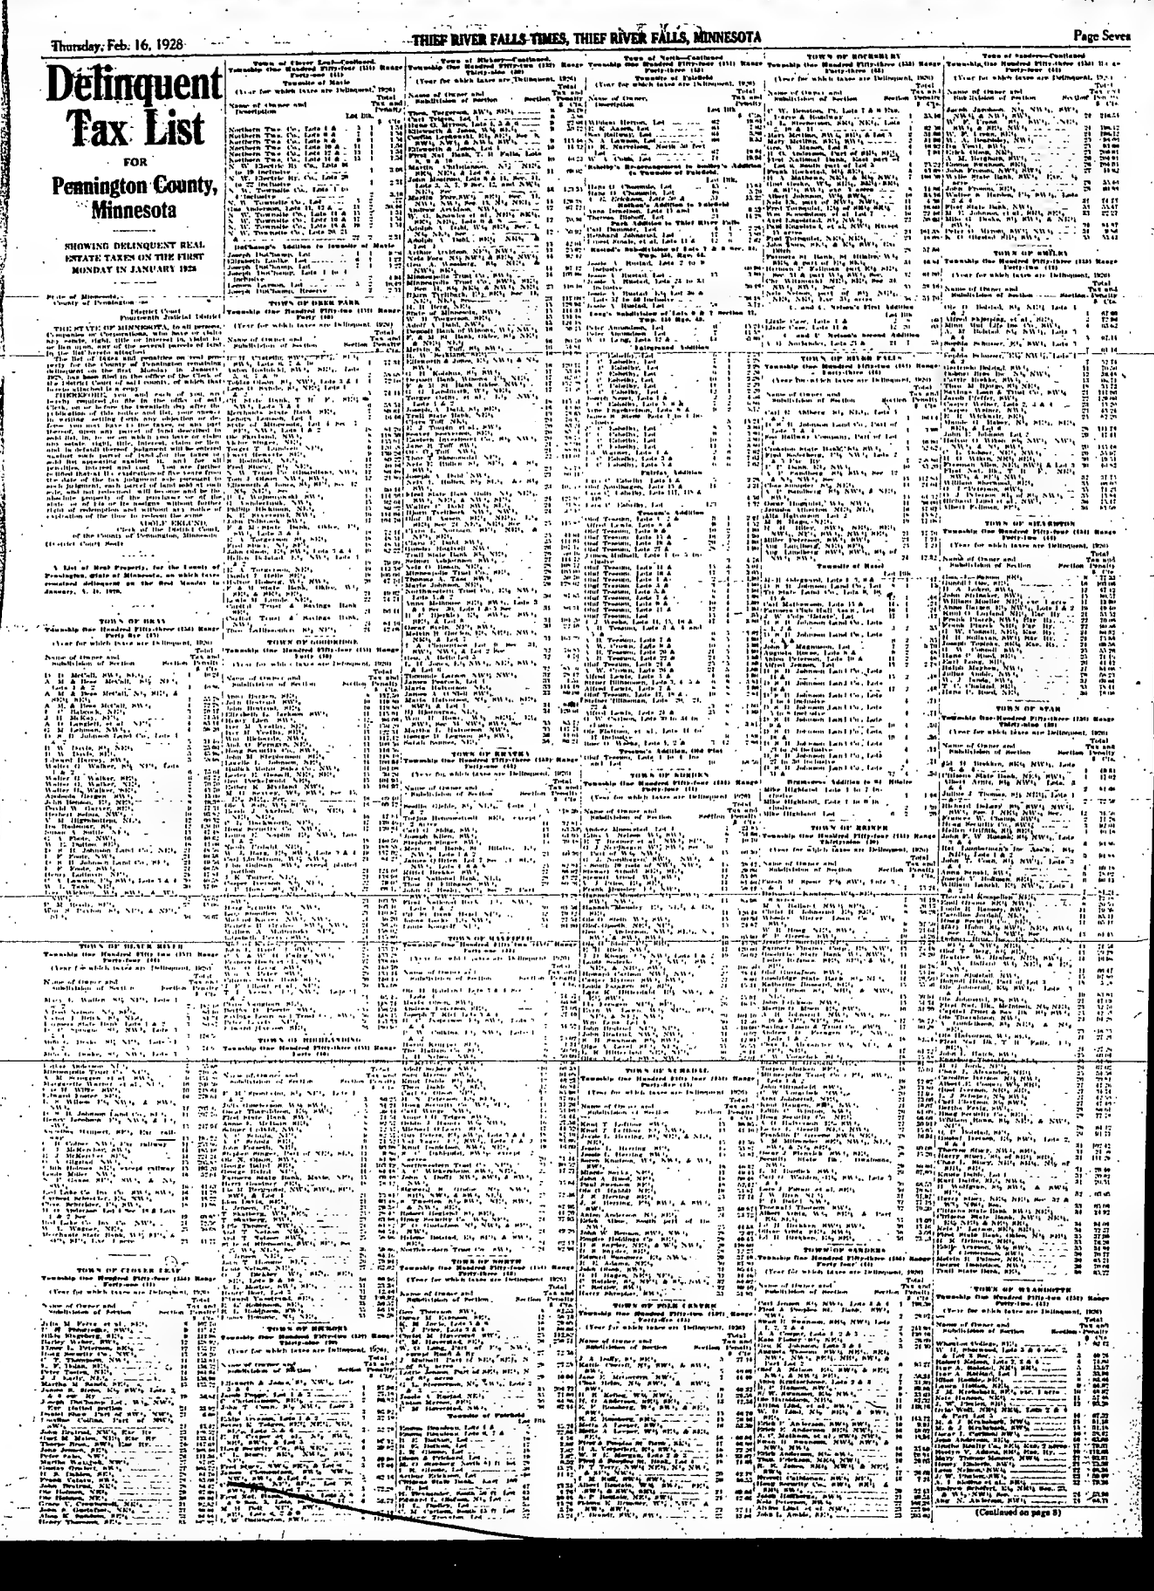
If present arrangements can be completed, the boys' junior band will play at the Lions' club luncheon to be held at the city auditorium March 1 and 2, 1928. The local boys' band has played for the past basketball games and on each they help to put pep into the audience, as well as give a good impression to the visiting teams.

The increasing membership secured by the band is also progressing the band is making. The band played several numbers during the dinner given by the ment-banquet staged by the Thief River Cooperative Creamery association. Bandmaster Talsma announces that the entire band will play at the meetings tomorrow at a joint meeting of the Goodridge-Thief River Falls Commercial club.

The band holds its regular practises on the auditorium every Tuesday evening.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The members of the Home Economics club, under the supervision of Miss Mamie Gilman, are busily planning on buying Home Economics pins for members only. This proposition was put up for a vote at the last meeting, but as yet no final decision has been reached.



At present some of the club members are learning trips and dosing.

CHILD WELFARE WORK IN COUNTY IS SUMMARIZED

Total of 45 Cases Come to Attention of Local Board According to Statement

TOTAL COST OF PAST YEAR LESS THAN $100

Considerable Good Has Also Been Accomplished Thruout State in Past Ten Years

The Pennington County Child Welfare Board met in regular session last week and considered various cases coming within its jurisdiction. The board members are County Commissioner J. R. Hoy, County Superintendent of Schools George M. Gunderson, Peter C. Wold, Mrs. J. E. Richards and Mrs. L. G. Larson.

Mrs. Larson has just summarized the work of the board for the past year which shows the supervision of three illegitimate cases, two adoptions, one children committed to Oakhome and feebleminded cases, four orphans and 28 confirmed cases. In addition there were examinations in three states were given assistance. The local body also carried into contact thru its work with the Family Welfare association and the United Charities of the Twin Cities in locating families or individuals.

Has Little Expense

The local cost to the taxpayers of the county was less than $100 for the year just closed, during which time over 250 letters reports were sent by the secretary, Mrs. Larson, who has served in that capacity for several years past.

County child welfare boards are appointed by the Board of Control in each county of the State where the Board of County Commissioners request such an appointment. Under the law, the child welfare board is composed of a member of the County Board of Commissioners selected by the Board, the County Superintendent of Schools and three persons appointed by the State Board of Control, two of whom must be women.

Board Authorized in 1917

The 1917 Legislature passed thirty-five laws that, with previous legislation, are known as the Children's Code. By this Code responsibility was placed upon the State Board of Control to promote the enforcement of all laws for the protection of defective, illegitimate dependent, neglected children, to co-operate in this and with juvenile courts and all reputable child helping and child caring agencies of a public or private character, and to take the initiative in all matters involving the interests of such children where adequate provision therefore has not been made. Further, it is the duty of the Board to safeguard the interests of the illegitimate child and take steps to establish his paternity and secure for him the care, support and education that he would be entitled to if born of lawful marriage. The Board is empowered to license and supervise maternity hospitals, children's institutions, children's boarding homes and to act as the guardian of children committed to it by the courts. It is required to investigate all homes where children are placed for permanent care or adoption.

Much Welfare Work Done

In the ten years since January 1, 1919, there has come to the attention of the Board 12,959 cases of illegitimacy, children, 3,264 placements, 3,402 petitions for adoptions, 3,770 relinquishments, 3,041 visits, 1,000 cases of guardianship, 3,031 committments of feeble minded persons and epileptics. At the present time the Children's Bureau is working on 3,000 active cases. Annually it has licensed approximately 200 maternity hospitals, 26 children's institutions, 35 child placing agencies and since 1921, annually, it has passed upon the licenses of approximately 1,000 boarding homes.

This work is carried on for the Board of Control by its Children's Bureau. However, in order to secure local co-operation and support, the law provided, as hereinbefore stated, the appointment of county boards in every county in the state. There are now eighty-one of these boards in the State. The Board in Pennington county was organized in 1920. During the ten years there have been in effect, the county child welfare board has had the control of their value and usefulness in the field of child welfare. While the state can set up standards, supervise and assist in the enforcement of law in the county, yet the actual solution of problems in the county must, in the last analysis, be solved by the community thru its county child welfare board in co-operation with the county attorney, the probate judge, county commissioners and other public officials.

LOCAL AUTO CLUB DULY RECOGNIZED BY STATE A. A. A.

Three Cent Tax, Bond Issue, Parking Lights, Etc., Favored in Resolutions

Thief River Falls and Pennington county were duly recognized at the recent annual meeting of the Minnesota State Automobile association held in the Radisson hotel, Minneapolis, to which Julien Provencher was sent as the delegate of the Pennington County Auto club, by having been named by the president of the state body as a member of the resolutions committee, and also elected as a member of the directorate.

Among results adopted by the association were those favoring the construction of permanent roads as rapidly as possible; more severe punishment for driving while intoxicated; additional display at night on all parked cars if warning lights; for county registration, for the endorsement of Mr Ritter's three cent gas tax, and $20,000,000 bond issue.

Permanent Roads Advocated

In calling to Mr Provencher, president of the Thief River Falls-Northwestern Automobile association of Duluth, president of the state body, said that it desired the people of the state should unite themselves in a realization that money is being thrown away when we compel our highway department to pend upon a budget of $12,000 a mile on more than a thousand miles of highway, which should be of a type since been paved. Mr Swanstrom pointed out that interest and upkeep on a hard surfaced road would be less than $1,000 a mile, a difference of $1,200 a mile which is actually being wasted year after year more than a thousand miles in our highway system.

There are more than 2,500 miles, Mr. Swanstrom pointed out, in the highway system which should be paved if we are to be guided by the federal bureau of roads, which maintains that it is wasteful and extravagant to attempt to maintain any gravel surfaced road which carries a load of more than 500 vehicles daily.

MOTHER of 8 CHILDREN DIED SUDDENLY TUESDAY

Friends of Mrs. Gordon Olson were shocked to learn of her unexpected death which occurred early Tuesday morning at the Physicians hospital. She had been ill just a short time, undergoing an operation at the hospital from which she seemed to be recovering rapidly. That shortly after midnight Monday her condition changed for the worst, death ensuing later in the morning.

Funeral services will be held from the Trinity Lutheran church, where the rites will be conducted by Rev. S. L. Tallakson at 2 o'clock, Rev. S. L. Tallakson officiating. Interment will be sent to Hartland, Minnesota for burial.

Mrs. Helena Louise Olson was born March 26, 1890, in Freeborn county, Minnesota, and was married to Gordon Olson in 1908, coming to Pennington county in 1917. She is survived by her husband, seven sons, Gordon Jr., Donald, Kenneth, Norman and Clayton Hunter, and Lester, Lily; her father, Louis Molden, brother of New Richland, Minnesota; Mrs. Amelia Weckworth of New Richland; Mrs. Emma Drake of Freeborn, Minnesota; Mrs. Lenora Wiseman of Cambridge; and two brothers, Herman Middlebrauer of Fairbanks and Emil Muldenhauer of New Richland.

BRAY TOWNSHIP FARMER TAKEN TO FERGUS FALLS

John Stoen of Bray township was taken to Fergus Falls Wednesday afternoon after a hearing before Judge Lee Tuesday. He was brought to the city by his brother, Theodore, who has been living in North Dakota for some time, but who visited John the first part of the week at the Hanson home where he has been living. At this third time he has been sent to the state institution for insane, slight attacks having been attributed to an attack of fever several years ago.

C. ELLINGSON SHAKES 617 AT BILLIARDS WITHOUT STOP

Oscar Ellingson made a phenomenal run in billiards Saturday night at the Oscar Olson hall operated by Harry Frye on Main avenue south, total of 617 billiards having been rolled up before the star pin-missed his shot. He was matched against Walt Jung when the game started but shortly after the run was started the low man put away his cue and watched the match proceed. A large number of interested spectators gathered while it was on and greatly enjoyed the spectacle.

3 COUNTY COMMISSIONERS AND AUDITOR TO ST. PAUL

County Auditor T. F. Anderson and County Commissioner Isaac E. Wilson left Tuesday night for St. Paul to attend the annual meeting of the county commissioners from all over Minnesota, starting today, and continuing for three days. Commissioner Andrew Ness and County Auditor Thompson left earlier in the week to attend the meetings.

The entire group while in St. Paul will also call on the State Highway department in reference to the proposed road to The Narrows.

SEVERAL NEW BOOKS PLACED ON SHELVES OF LOCAL LIBRARY

Several Western Stories Will Be Found Among Replacements This Month

Some exceptionally good books in non-fiction have recently been received at the Carnegie library in this city, according to Mrs. Hazel Holgrim, librarian, mention of which follows.

Of the Heritage of Women, by Alice Amos Winter, the Booklist writes: "Written with clear-headed, tolerant wisdom, this book about women is a worthy addition to the literature of feminism, a history at once colorful and thrilling. Mrs. Winter traces the progress of women from the earliest times to the present, and makes a plea for unlimited opportunity for women in every branch of work."

Beard & Beard, the Rise of American Civilization, in two volumes. The first volume deals with the period prior to the Civil war and the second with the rise of industrialism. The history is temperate, unprejudiced and fundamentally sound."

Chilburton — Glorious Adventure. The book fails fair to be as popular as the Royal Road to Romance. A Lutheran clergyman, whose name Ellyson is described in the same fascinating manner and with the telling of his trip around the world.

Twenty-three new books have been placed here made ready for the shelves. Many of these are westerns and would be found in the following new books of fiction are being circulated:

Cooper, My lady of the Indian Purdah
Williams — Splendor
Ellis — The land pirate
Stagnetton — Nocturne
Sinclair — Gallions reach
Irving — Sorrell and son
Smith — Colfax low-jinks
Buchan — Witch wood
Anonymous — Miss Tiverton goes out

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN OF FARM BUREAU PROGRESSING

Reports from the various township solicitors for memberships in the Pennington County farm bureau have been coming in rather slowly this past week, but close to 200 members have now been signed up, according to County Agent Robert M. Douglas. It is hoped to have the campaign closed up before the spring farm work gets under way.

ROTARIANS TO WINNIPEG FOR BIG CANADIAN MEET

Mayor W. W. Pritchard, Leroy Johnston, Julien Provencher and P. Lewis McCullough will leave early Saturday morning to attend a big Rotarian meeting to be held in Winnipeg on Saturday night, Feb. 18, the party expecting to make the return trip on Sunday.

Lincoln and His Lessons ——in Living

A long while ago—when copper toed boots and petticoats and crinolines were in style—a gawky country boy grew to manhood in a log cabin in Indiana. All around him were other boys who grumbled over the "lack of opportunity now-and-then-and-while they were talking about it Lincoln obtained an education, managed a nation during war days and still found time to be wonderfully human withal.

Probably when Our Founder started his first store in Wyoming, there were plenty of men to show him how impossible it was to succeed. Human nature hasn't changed very much since the '60's, nor since the beginning of time for that matter. The world still keeps its greatest rewards for those who travel the dusty road of individual effort, whether their work be managing a nation or a retail store.

This week let us honor not Lincoln alone, but the great lessons in living he has left behind.

MINNESOTA NOW HAS 31,255 MILES OF SURFACED ROADS

This State Near Top in Graveling of Secondary Roads, Figures Show

Minnesota now has 31,255 miles of surfaced highways, state and local, according to figures recently compiled by the Minnesota Highway department. Until recently Minnesota has been ranked fifth among the states in the total number of miles of improved roads in reports made by the U. S. bureau, but unless Wisconsin and other York have graveled as many miles as Minnesota has during the past year, there are now only two states, Indiana and Ohio, which have a definite lead over Minnesota.

Commissioner R. H. Rice, in observations, however, that the above figures include all roads, state and local, and that when trunk highways alone are considered, Minnesota has great many states that are ahead of Minnesota, at least in paving. The trunk highway system, which made the state aid and all local road funds available exclusively for use on secondary roads, has brought about a great improvement in the secondary roads in Minnesota in the last six years, he points out.

Compilation of the reports made by the county engineers on the condition of state aid roads, has been completed by the Highway department. The table show that 74 counties and counties besides Pennington made substantial improvements in the state aid road system during 1927, the number of each type of state aid roads now being as follows:

	Dec. 31 1927	Dec. 31 1926
Pavement	1,450	1,450
Macadam	72	72
Graveled	9,903	8,854
Bituminous surfaced	4,356	4,356
Graded, unsurfaced	1,779	1,529
Completed	2,807	4,077
Total-Miles	19,160	14,423

A recent report made by Mr. Hancock stated that in the trunk highway system there were 234 miles graded, 204 miles oiled or tarred, 4,-[illegible] miles graveled, 1,[illegible] miles sand-clay surfaced, making a total of 8,842 miles surfaced. Much of the gravel mileage, however, is of such a character not adequate to the heavy traffic which is being carried on the highway.

The latest available reports on county roads show 975 miles sand-clay surfaced, 2,848 miles graveled and 82 miles paved. The mileage according to the last reports, had a total of 2,825 miles sand-clay surfaced and 5,420 miles graveled.

Taking the four classes of roads together, this makes a total of 1,-[illegible] miles paved, 204 miles of oil, tar and bituminous, 24,108 miles sand-clay surfaced, a total of 31,855 miles.

SENATE HAS AUTHORIZED BRIDGE AT GRAND FORKS

Senator Frank Wellington Mondy stated that the senate has approved the house bill for the construction of a bridge over the Red River of the North between Grand Forks and East Grand Forks.

Three other bridges in the northwest were also authorized, namely: Morrison County, Minnesota; Mississippi river at Little Falls, Minn. Minnesota, Mississippi river, at Monticello.

Duluth, Minn., across the Duluth ship canal.

STATE ELKS APPROVE WILLMAR FOR SESSION

Willmar, Minn., was approved for the annual state convention of the Elks' lodge June 28 and 29 at the state meeting of delegates in the Minneapolis lodge Sunday.

Past officers, arrived for the state convention, are: John A. Meurer, Minneapolis, sergeant at arms; R. F. Peterson, Minneapolis, later guard; Lorne A. Johnston, Thief River Falls, police guard, and Thomas A. Prinsen, St. Paul, chaplain.

All lodges of the state are to be asked to have a class of candidates for the fraternal initiation in Minneapolis in March, Exalted Ruler W. F. Malley of Boston, grand exalted ruler, will have charge of the ceremony.

32 Thief River People at Long Beach Picnic

Reminiscing on days gone by and enjoying the California sunshine, thousands of Minnesotans gathered for their annual picnic Saturday, Jan. 21, 1928, at Long Beach, Cal.

The crowd at the Minnesota reunion was estimated at 15,000. Pennington county had the largest delegation present, the second largest being that from St. Louis County third.

Mayor Oscar Hauge welcomed the visitors in the name of the city, saying he could not live in California "I would be in Minnesota."

Among the notables present was Governor Frank A. Day of Fairmont, Minn.

Thief River Falls-ites were in attendance, among them being Mr. and Mrs. E. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Gustafson, Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sather and son Irving, Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Ramstad, Mrs. Ida Reynolds and daughter, Marion, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hall, of Long Beach, the latter of whom is a member of the Thief River Falls band; Mr. and Mrs. Gilmes and daughter Hellen, Long Beach; Mrs. Ida Dobner, Long Beach; John Linde and son Robert, Long Beach; Mrs. Ida Dobner, Long Beach; John Linde and son Robert, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Gustafson and little daughter, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Spooner, Long Beach; Frank Sherman, Mrs. Nason, Culbert City; Mrs. M. Shafer and daughter, Mrs. Ann Nemer, Mrs. Emil Sedlacek, Long Beach.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF ST. HILAIRE DIES MONDAY

Mrs. J. E. Hillaire, 77 years, a resident of St. Hilaire, died at her home Monday, Feb. 6, at 7:15 A. M. following a long illness.

Mrs. Dahl was born in Gudbo, Telemarken, Norway, coming to this country when but a child. At the age of 29 years she was married to Dahl at St. James, making her home for awhile at Fisherton, S. Dak., before moving to St. Hilaire, where she has been extremely active in the affairs of the Lutheran church of which she was a member, and enjoyed the distinction of being the one to entertain the first Lutheran Ladies' aid meeting in St. Hilaire.

Left to mourn her departure are her husband, and three children: Mrs. Ida Dairy, Grandforks; Commissioner of Helena, Montana, and Mrs. Jens, who is teaching at Lockhart; and Edith, at St. Hilaire. One brother also survives, George C. Holden of Thompson, N. Dak., who, with his wife, were present at the death, as were the immediate family, with the exception of Edwin, who arrived later in the day.

Funeral services were held in the Lutheran church at St. Hilaire last Wednesday, Rev. D. G. Jacobson officiating.

DELINQUENT TAX SALE RULING BY G. A. YOUNGQUIST

State Will Become Owner in 5 Years Under New Delinquency Law Is Ruling

Absolute title to lands it bids in for delinquent taxes is required by law by the state at tax sales, G. A. Youngquist, attorney general ruled in an opinion sent to county auditor T. F. Anderson last week, a copy also having been sent to County Attorney C. O. Berve.

Under the new law lands that are sold for delinquent taxes will become the absolute property of the purchaser five years after the date of the sale, after five years in the same way as a private purchaser.

State Gets Absolute Title

Under the new law lands that are sold for delinquent taxes will become the absolute property of the purchaser five years after the date of the purchaser deed not give to the owner or any one interested, notice of the expiration of the time limit within which the owner may redeem the land.

Under the old statute title could not be acquired by the purchaser and he had notified interested persons of the time when title would be fixed time their rights would be lost, the new interpretation is that at any time in the five year period any person interested in the land may apply to the state and have the time therein set aside or reduced. Under the old law such relief could be had only before the tax judgement sale by the state was confirmed by the court. The time for such relief now is extended.

Big Tax Sale in 1933

Land to which the state acquires title is listed for the benefit of counties, cities, towns, villages and school districts that are interested in the taxes standing against the land. The state board of appraisal and apportionment, after it has appraised and then sold either for cash or on time. The first of such sales will not take place until 1933, for the state will not acquire any tax title before then.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Paulsen-Weber

A wedding of interest to local people was solemnized at Crookston Monday morning, when Miss Elodie Paulsen of this city became the bride of Isadore Weber of Crookston, Rev. Father Ivens of Crookston performed the ceremony in the presence of immediate friends and relatives of the couple.

The bride was attired in a powder blue dress of Canton crepe with hat to match, and carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses and freesia. Her only ornament was a necklace of pearls, a gift from the groom. The bridesmaids, Miss Anita Jarvis and Miss Cecelia Hogan, both of Crookston, were gowned in rose colored georgette, carrying matching bouquets of roses and freesia. The afternoon was attended by Severnus Regan of Crookston.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast at the Palace Hotel was enjoyed by the bridal party and immediate relatives. The couple came Monday to this city, enjoying a wedding dinner at the home of O. W. Nelson and Mrs. Hans Nelson, uncle and grandmother of the bride. They left Monday night for Winnipeg on a brief honeymoon, after which they will be at home at 825 N. Main street, Crookston.

Zavaral—Huderle

Miss Mae Zavaral, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Zavaral of this city, and Edward W. Huderle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Huderle of East Grand Forks, were united in marriage Saturday, Feb. 18, in St. Bernards chapel, Rev. A. I. Marth reading the service. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kolesky of Angus, sister and brother-in-law of the bride, attended the couple. The bride was attired in sandal Chantilly georgette, and carried a bouquet of Sylphia roses and lillies of the valley. She is a graduate of the Lincoln high school, attended the University of Minnesota, and is at present teaching school at Thorhult. The couple will be at home in this city after May 1.

MELFORD SORENSON WEDS GRAND FORKS GIRL SUNDAY

The marriage of Miss Daisy Taylor and Melford Sorenson took place at St. Hilaire Sunday, Feb. 19, Rev. E. L. Jacobsen reading the service in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Hjelrod of St. Hilaire.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Taylor of Grand Forks, but for the past three years has been employed in this city, the past year at which she has worked at Jung's Quality Bakery.

The groom is especially well known to local people, having been employed practically ever since his graduation from the local high school in 1917 as assistant at the Stebbins Drug store. They will be at home in the Dobner Meehan Block.

LUCILE HERMANSON GIVES PLEASING PIANO RECITAL

Miss Lucile Hermanson, pupil of Mrs. Dale Halverson Pope, gave a splendid piano recital Tuesday evening, Feb. 14, in the auditorium of the Lincoln high school. The program opened with the Prelude and Fugue no. 14, from Bach's Well Tempered Clavichord, which was played accurately, with fine tone and in a style befitting the classic music of Bach. Next came the Moment Musical op. 94 of Schubert in an attractive arrangement by Godowsky. One of Miss Hermanson's finest achievements of the recital, however, was the Rhapsodie Etude by Rubinstein played with a brilliant technic, unusual for so young a pianist.

The next group opened with Debussy's Reflections in the Water, followed by an interesting and lively number, Uncle Remus, by the young composer, Beryl Rubinstein. The beautiful composition, Lotus Land, by Cyril Scott, was exquisitely done, and was followed by the Rhapsodie no. 2 by Dohnanyi, rarely heard.

The last group consisted of the Barcarolle by Lladow, the Etude in A flat by Chopin, and LaCampanella by Paganini Liszt. In closing was given an interesting performance of the second movement of Saint Saens Concerto in G Minor with Mrs. Pope playing the orchestral parts at the second piano. Every number was thoroughly enjoyed and the young pianist received much commendation from the enthusiastic audience.

B Sharp Club Meets

The B Sharp club held its regular meeting at the Clarence Erickson home Monday evening at 8 o'clock. After a short meeting a program was presented those taking part including Lucille Hayson, Marguerite Johnson, Ruth Schelper, Violet Rudegeard, Rosine Dahlen, Dellys Erickson, and Helen Granum, with numbers from the outstanding operas of the composers under discussion, being played by Mrs. Erickson and Katherine Patton. Following the regular program, the club "tuned in" on the concert of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra. The next club meeting will be March 12.

Mrs. Lund Hostess

Mrs. H. J. Lund was hostess at a Washington's Birthday party at her home Tuesday evening given in compliment to Misses Minnie Krueger, Ragna Stenerson, and Ruth Mikkelson. Games appropriate to the occasion furnished the evening's entertainment, after which a dainty luncheon was served. The guests were Misses Krueger, Stenerson, Mikkelson, Lisa Herbert, Joyce Tiez, Nellie Johnston, Gladys Ryan, Bessie Sedlacek, Agnes Tandberg, Hilda Kaata, Hildegard Schert and Olga Blomquist.

Mrs. Harold Eide, chairman of the Vanishing Ice committee of the American Legion auxiliary, requests that all proceeds from the various vanishing luncheons be turned over to her no later than March 1.

"UNDER COVER" IS ABLY PRESENTED BY LOCAL CAST

Production Was Staged Under Auspices of American Legion Auxiliary on Friday

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary are congratulating themselves on the success of the production of "Under Cover" as presented at the auditorium last Friday afternoon and evening by a cast composed of local talent, all of whom assumed their respective parts in the melodrama in a manner that won for them applause on numerous occasions.

Mystery after mystery developed throughout the play and there is plenty of room for detective work on the part of various members of the cast as they try to ferret out the motives of the others connected with the smuggling of a $200,000 pearl necklace thru the U. S. customs office at New York City.

Norbert Holtknecht, as Daniel Taylor, the deputy in charge of the customs office, is endeavoring to get to the bottom of a supposed attempt to defraud Uncle Sam of duties on valuables, and in getting a confession from Amy Cartwright, portrayed by Winnifred Wangeler, forces her sister, Ethel Cartwright, to enter the employ of the customs department and assist in catching a supposed smuggler. Ethel, played by Ruth Larsen, arrives and publicity for the two women.

Mrs. Harold Provencher admirably carried the part of Ethel, even defying the efforts of Norbert Holtknecht, as Daniel Taylor, to trap him, and succeeding herself trying to trap Taylor, and soon surmised that Taylor and his associate, Ralph Munt, as Jack Kibel to catch him. Deeby in reality was Richard Jones, chief of the customs department, who was trying to learn who was accepting bribes to smugglers, and suspecting Taylor.

The eery manner in which smuggling and bribery was carried on was depicted in the first act when Sarah Peabody, a deaf and dumb smuggler, was trapped and finally permitted to escape without paying any duty, following her confession and agreement to testify against another passenger. Esther Gerlach, as Sarah Peabody, originally stood the threats of the customs officials until they were finally mentioned how her companion on board boat had positively stated she was smuggling, failure to pay duty to jail, whereupon Sarah Peabody, played by Several of the modern writers are trying to prove that George Washington was somewhat of a rascal but somehow we haven't been able to become very indignant over these accusations as yet. On the contrary it is our impression that a greater injustice has been done the character of our first president by those who insist on making too much of a goody-goody out of him. It is only in recent years that we have been able to overcome a boyhood prejudice against him aroused by that ridiculous "I cannot tell a lie" yarn. In our boyhood we hated him because of his virtue and it was only after we learned that he actually did enjoy a few human shortcomings that we really began to like him. It is our firm conviction now that he wasn't nearly as good as some people said he was and not nearly as bad as some of the modernistic claim. What he accomplished indicates that he possessed many splendid virtues.

DO BLUE SKY LAWS HELP?

It has been suggested that the public interest would be better served if all of the blue sky laws were repealed and stock promoters were given a free hand in unloading get-rich-quick certificates. This opinion is prompted of course, by a feeling that the present laws against frauds give the public an unwarranted sense of security. And it is undoubtedly true that the feeling is quite prevalent that any stocks or bonds which are offered for sale in broad daylight must be good or the sale would not be permitted by the state. We have observed on several occasions that the victims of frauds are more inclined to forget the villainy of those who robbed them, than they are to forgive the government for not protecting them from that villainy.

While blue sky laws and security commissions at best are unable to eliminate all frauds and while it must be admitted that those crooks who do evade the laws and elude the officials are probably able to collect a heavier toll on the strength of the public's belief that all propositions submitted to them must necessarily be honorable, to remove these doubtful barriers would, nevertheless, be a backward step. Letting the bars down altogether might induce the public to become more cautious, but it would also mean that fraud would be reinstated as a legitimate business and the shake-downs would be more bold and more frequent. The net result would probably be a lower but poorer public.

A fool-proof method of fraud-proofing fools perhaps will never be devised. Neither wisdom nor shrewdness can be legislated into people. There will always be gullible purchasers of gold bricks. There will always be individuals who suffer from an abundance of faith and a lack of discretion and who cannot be reminded by the mark of Ben Franklin to the effect that in the affairs of this world man succeed, not by faith, but rather by a lack of it.

ROAD FUND OVERDRAWN AGAIN

Pennington County will receive $19,570 from the state road and bridge fund for use on its state aid highways during the present year, according to a bulletin released yesterday afternoon by the state highway department. This amount is Pennington county's share of the fund which is raised through the special one mill tax levy, toward which this county contributes only $1,773. By this arrangement the county gains approximately $16,000, which is very fine. In order to secure its share of this state-aid-the-county-must-spend-between eight and nine thousand dollars of its own, however, and most of this total of nearly thirty thousand dollars must be spent for new construction, according to the law governing the distribution of this aid fund. Which isn't so fine under the present circumstances.

In view of the fact that the county's road and bridge fund was overdrawn by at least twenty thousand dollars at the close of the year, the problem confronting the commissioners this year will not be how many miles of road can be built but rather how much can this overdraft be reduced. When the $100,000 bond issue to cover the overdraft of this fund was authorized last summer it was hoped that this fund could be kept on a cash basis in the future. Although no new contracts were let last year, the allowance made for such unfinished work as had been let previously, was not sufficient, the result being this deficit. We are informed that all of these old contracts have now been completed, so the present overdraft reveals the true condition of the fund.

Under the circumstances it would seem that the first consideration of the commissioners should be to get this fund back on a cash basis as quickly as possible. This can be done either by raising the levy for next year or decreasing expenditures and this levy should not be increased. Which means that new construction will have to be reduced to a minimum, and this, in turn, means that some of the projects which, it has been hoped, might have been started this year, will probably have to be postponed another year. It will be a great deal easier for the commissioners to work out a practical program of debt reduction along with road construction if the public will consider the financial condition of the road and bridge fund when making requests for improvements.

MODERN MARKETING

Most of us can still remember the time when coffee, oat meal and a dozen other staple items of groceries sold by the pound and not by the package. Many varieties of food products which only a few years ago were sold almost entirely in bulk, are available now to the consuming public only in paper or tin containers. While this transformation has undoubtedly increased the cost of food to the ultimate consumer, there has been no complaint about the additional cost because of the greater assurance of uniform quality of merchandise which the packages offer.

Just how far this tendency in distribution will go is difficult to say. Farmers in this community already deliver several of their products to consumers in neat packages, for instance butter. Other products will gradually feel the influence of this tendency according to the Christian Science Monitor, which points out that potatoes are now being delivered in paper and wood cartons on some of the eastern markets. In discussing this question the Monitor says:

Clothes may not make the man, but judging by the way potato growers are now dressing up their products they are resolved to do much in the way of making a better and bigger place for the humble "spud" in the market of today.

The days when the corner grocer stuck an undersized potato on the nozzle of the kerosene can, to keep the contents from spilling, are long past, and it would seem also, that the time when potatoes are sold by the peck, of any size, shape, or equality, is rapidly drawing to a close.

Convinced that by causing a longer rely confidence upon the superiority of his product, but that result must be had to modern methods of attracting attention and securing customers, the grower of today has installed machines for grading the potatoes into three grades, not for size and shape as well. Clad in burlap in a rough, bulky sack the potatoes are now sent to the consuming market in clean pasteboard cartons, containing a peck, and wooden boxes holding a bushel. These new containers bear a notation to the effect that the contents are "Hand Selected, Box Protected, Machine Baked."

For the housewife, intent upon securing the best that market affords, and also for the grower, who has the ability to "put it over," by dressing up his "spuds" in fancy attire, and sending them forth in boxes that catch the eye, he causes a greater demand for his product, this method of packing should prove a boon.

SAYING IT AGAIN

That it is essential to happiness to pause frequently to consider our blessings, is maintained by Lud Roe in his Montevideo News. Pointing out that communities, like individuals, often suffer through lack of a proper perspective, he urges his community to take stock of its advantages in order that a sense of true values can be maintained. And much of his advice to his community can be applied to Thief River Falls. He says:

Human nature being what it is the church has found it helpful and necessary to hold services every Sunday. Merchant and manufacturer have learned it is essential to advertise every week. Inspiration for the soul and information for the mind are like food—they have to be replenished at frequent intervals.

A public policy in Montevideo may have proved its value more than once but it is necessary to keep on advocating the merits of that policy continually. Otherwise surface flaws are seen and rock bottom values are forgotten. Human nature being what it is there is need of frequent statement of the advantages a town has. The shortcomings, the mistakes, the defects are their own broadcasters. Strength is weak when it tries to hold public interest.

Because of this attitude of mind the city leaders of St. Paul have been pointing away this past month in an effort to convince the citizens of St. Paul that their home town is a much better town than they think it is. In the nature of their appeal and in the state of mind that makes it necessary St. Paul and Montevideo have much in common. They might admit for their dust the popular song of the season: "Together, We Two."

St. Paul feels better now that she has convinced herself by reliable and accurate figures that she isn't nearly as bad off as she thought she was. She has taken her spring tonic early.

Other towns are learning what Montevideo found out some nine months ago—that every generation gets its chance to pioneer. A chance to start anew, to build for posterity. Less now in order to have more later on. After such experiences the old-timers won't be able to high-hat us as soldiers any more. The pioneering of the present generation does not make the hard physical demands so evident in the earlier generation but it does call for a stiff backbone, the ability to grin, and appreciation of opportunity.

Arthur Seehusen says that if farmers attended the efficiency of a Ford car that of the potato raiser who gets 300 bushels per acre, there will be a million of farm relief. But Mr. Seehusen also says, that conditions mean that it takes a devastating flood to raise the price of cotton, or in early weeks, nature made the inefficiency of producers that those who escaped the calamity may get a fair price.

Furthermore, on set-light by the same writer about shipments of grain, labor saving machinery which will save large numbers of unemployed workers from hard work and usher in the day when human intelligence and reason shall have abolished poverty and worry. But Mr. Seehusen fails to tell us how the workers may enjoy the blessing of a mechanical age, or will he suggest the best method to relieve illness and soup kitchens? Still publishing any great prizes for such inconsistencies.

CHILD FALLS FROM SPEEDING AUTOMOBILE

Glenn, the three year old child of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Anderson, formerly of this city, but now of Newfolden, Minnesota, fell out of the rear door of the auto between Middle River and Stephen while the car was going at a rather fast rate recently. The door had become unfastened and the children were scuffling in the rear seat when suddenly the door opened and the little boy fell to the road. He quite badly bruised about his head and body.

A TRIBUTE

As a neighbor and admirer of Orrin Hannes I would like to pay a tribute to his memory. Orrin Hannes came to America from Norway some fifty years ago and settled in Twin Valley some forty-five years ago. He raised a family of seven sons and one daughter and because of his gentle daughter of a friend who had lost his wife. By great business ability, and honest, frugal industry he made a fairly good living. His success came in the home farm till of age, and then turned toward that success, as he gave each a start for himself. Provided for settlement he was able to substantially aid three to start farming. Another son bought land in Pennington county. By following this example set by their father they also have succeeded.

Two of his sons he helped to obtain a higher education, one being a teacher and the other a minister of the gospel, and both are doing a great work in their respective callings. He had a keen interest in the welfare of his family, the church and his neighbors. For this reason many friends and Words cannot express what it has meant to have him with us. Fond memories of his kindness, love and interest will ever be green. Great the loss that is ours just to be able to call him our friend. And in the words of the poet we may say that by imitating his honest, sterling virtues we can follow his noble example, and departing, leave behind us foot-prints in the sand of time. Footprints that will encourage discouraged, ship-wrecked farmer, on seeing, may take heart again.

An admirer of the honest old Viking,

P. H. Wright.

THIEF RIVER ROTARIANS ATTEND WINNIPEG MEET

Thief River Falls was one of 15 Rotarian cities in the United States out of 34 clubs represented at the meeting staged last Saturday by the Rotary clubs of Winnipeg, Canada, during the trip to the Canadian metropolis were Mayor W. Pritchard, Julien Provencher, I. R. Johnston, E. Lewis McCullough and Kern Olson.

POLK COUNTY VIOLATORS ARE GIVEN STIFF FINES

Polk County justice of the peace courts paid fines totaling nearly $4,000 and will serve sentences totaling over 1000 days in the county jail as a result of the recent crusade conducted by Crookston in the district courts, both courts. The majority of the liquor law offenders that were tried were from East Grand Forks.

A Local Corporation

A corporation is a convenient method of holding property, someone has said.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is thus "incorporated" to more than 55,000 people who have elected to invest their savings in a great enterprise.

Men and women from every walk of life are shareholders in this company. Their number is equal to the population of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, a goodly city. If they were grouped together in a city of shareholders, they would be the largest as well as any other city's—numbering people of all ages, occupations and incomes.

A great many of the 55,000 shareholders of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) would find it impossible to own any part of Standard Oil Company. They have only small amounts of money to invest, earned by hard work and saved by thrift and sacrifice.

Yet in cooperation with other stockholders of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) they are able to own a business that covers 10 states and serves 30 million people.

They are able to share in the earnings of the large scale production of a well-run, efficient business.

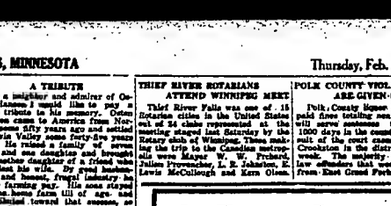
They are able to invest their money as securely and profitably as men of larger means.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is more than a method of holding property which 55,000 people now found convenient.

It is a method of pooling energy and interests, as well as money, to the advantage of all concerned.

29,575 men and women, 15,325 of whom are stockholders, give their time and effort, and wholehearted loyalty to the work of the corporation.

The combined energies accomplish an enormous task and earn for them the rewards they have a right to expect.



Opportunities are unlimited in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). Promotions are won by ability and effort. This democratic policy and the size of the organization give every individual a chance to invest his ability where it will accomplish most and obtain a proportionate reward.

The money of stockholders, the effort and ability of employees are combined in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to serve 30 million people in the Middle West.

The great group that owns it—the great group that operates it—knows the privilege of supplying the motorists of the Middle West with gasoline, products of unquestioned quality at prices which are reasonable and fair.

They discharge this obligation with precision, enthusiasm and integrity of purpose.

Words That Don't Mean Much

"I'm pleased to meet you."
"Step, Look, and Listen."
"I will pay you Saturday night."
"Till death do us part."

There is room for an ash tray, several newspapers, magazine or two, and some books on one of our rod tables. Think, men of Thief River Falls, what it would mean in comfort after a hard day's work at the office.

There's a man in this town who worries about the things his small son does.

NORMAN PENNINGTON WILL BUY MAYFIELD CREAMERY

County Agent Robert M. Douglas in the February issue of the Pennington County Farm Bulletin calls attention to the necessity of placing an early order for seed if needed by any members of the county. Orders are now on hand for over 5,000 pounds and when the 6,000 mark is reached a carload will be purchased, in conjunction with the Norman County Farm Bureau.

Only a good quality of seed will be accepted and Douglas states that without the county makes it impossible to place the order some time this week.

WE BELIEVE

A man should bear a little music, read a little poetry, and see a fine picture everyday of his life in order that worldly cares may not obliterate the sense of the beautiful which God has implanted in the human soul.

NORTHROP NOTES

The second and third grades made booklets of Lincoln, for which they wrote their own sketches. Beginning Monday they will make similar booklets in honor the memory of Washington.

The fifth grades are very much interested in their daily training exercises which they take twice a day. Seymour Ose is the class leader to give the commands and now that they have had practice for some time, they all are able to follow the instructions most accurately.

Mrs. A. J. Olson visited school on Thursday morning.

GROW CERTIFIED SEED POTATOES SAYS DOUGLAS

Several Carloads Could Have Been Sold Since First of Year County Agent States

The Pennington County Farm Bureau office during the last month, according to a statement of Robert S. Douglas, county agent, received many inquiries for certified seed potatoes, and could have dispo sed of several carloads if there had been any available.

If a number of farmers in Pennington county would band themselves together and each certify a small field of potatoes, Mr. Douglas thinks it would be possible each year to make them a profitable crop. The states most interested in the raising of a few acres each year should make a start with at least one acre this year, the seed from which would be sufficient to plant several acres a year from now. It is widely known that good way to raise certified seed potatoes is to plant one acre of the best stock you can get and certify a small field from that. Many farmers already specified intentions of adding just a strip and Mr. Douglas will be glad to hear from others planning on raising certified seed potatoes.

Seed Should Therefore

The growing of certified seed potatoes has been increasing steadily for several years past, and a good profit has been the result, says the research department of the national association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers after a survey of the methods used by 200 and 300 bushel potato growers. Certified seed is free from disease which might seriously lower the yield of the crop in the fall, and is of a much higher quality than the average seed used.

In Minnesota, for instance, a public-able increase in yield of a 12 per cent resulted from using certified seed, the use of Northern grown certified seed, over a period of 8 years, Irish Cobblers grown certified seed yielded 24.6 bushels to the acre more than potatoes from home grown seed, of the same variety. Members of the Pennsylvania 100-bushel potato club use certified seed almost entirely, the survey shows. The increase in yield much more than pays for the extra cost of the seed in all cases.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT BURNED IN ACID TEST

Elmer Evenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Evenson, suffered considerably a week ago when the acid in a test in chemistry, the acid boiled over and burned her hands, and eating away part of her clothes. Miss Evenson is recovering from the burns and will not suffer any facial scars it is believed, and will be ready to be effected as was at first feared.

MAYOR PRICHARD IS NAMED ON STATE GOOD ROADS BODY

Mayor W. W. Prichard of this city, Sam Hunt of Red Lake Falls and Mr. Adams of Fergus Falls were named ninth district representatives on the Minnesota Good Roads association, which met in St. Paul this week. Mayor Prichard is the only one named from Thief River Falls.

The three men will meet in a few days and appoint additional members from counties not now represented, in anticipation that a meeting be held in the state in behalf of the movement.

BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT GAINS IN POPULARITY

A third scout troop will shortly be formed in this city, being sponsored jointly by the Trinity Lutheran, Augustana Lutheran and Zion Lutheran churches, Earl Lundgren having tentatively agreed to act as scout-master of the new troop.

Scoutmaster Joe Lafloe is lining up several boys for the new troop being sponsored by the American Legion, and expects to be able to announce the leaders of the four patrols within a few days.

THREE SCOUTS TAKE HIKE TO ST. HILAIRE SATURDAY

Three boy scouts hiked to St. Hilaire and back again last Saturday when the mid-day storm was at almost the worst, this being the first test for promotion in class scout. Those making the hike were Donovan Mattson and Jay Cruse of the Beaver Island and Francis Stitt of the Owl patrol.

Quality is the Important Consideration

We celebrate this week the birthday of a great man. A man who had the vision to conceive a mighty plan and the courage to fight for its fulfillment.

There is little new that one can say about Washington—few tributes that have not already been paid to his memory. He died over a century and a quarter ago, yet the quality of his deeds and thoughts lives on—the quality of his life will remain, long after the details are forgotten.

Quality or the lack of it! It spells the whole difference between success or failure in life, whether your business is shoes or sermons.

For 26 years, the J. C. Penney Company has kept the quality of the goods we offered uppermost in our thoughts. We have worked steadily that you might be contented and pleased with their inherent worth. Quality, not low price, has been the solid rock on which we founded our business, for quality alone survives, whether in merchandise or men.

INTERNATIONAL HIGHWAY ROUTE NOW SURVEYED

Canadian Engineers Investigate Possible Routing to Winnipeg Thru Sprague

According to the Warroad Pioneer a crew of Canadian engineers last week completed the survey of the highway between Manitoba highway from Sprague to a point on the international boundary seven miles north of Warroad, from which point Roseau county will build a state aid road to Warroad, connecting with the trunk system.

It is also understood that a survey will also be run southward from Piney to the boundary where a northerly road from Pine could be built to Roseau county, thereby cutting off about 20 miles on the trip from here to Winnipeg as has been proposed. The fact that the survey has been made, says the Pioneer, does not indicate that the road will be built at once, the Canadian government usually runs some years ahead of their building program with the survey.

The purpose of the eastern route is to secure a direct route from Arrowhead section to Northeastern Minnesota's district to the Canadian metropolis of Winnipeg, going south to Warroad, and cutting away part of her present route. Miss Evenson is recovering from the burns and will not suffer any facial scars it is believed, and will be ready to be effected as was at first feared.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE FOR B. B. TOURNEY

names have been printed and a supply sent to the competing teams at their respective towns. Added interest in the tournament is also being created and it is expected that large delegations will come to Thief River Falls to attend the contests, which will be staged in the city auditorium, which is being fixed up for the occasion. Seven bleachers being installed as in former years.

Suitable Prizes For Teams

The basketball used in the tournament will become the property of the team winning the consolation game Friday night, while suitable trophies will be secured by Superintendent G. E. Hafford for the winners of the first and second places.

Supt. Merrit Ives was appointed to be in charge of all local arrangements for the tournament; an official time keeper and an official score keeper will be appointed some time previous to the contest. The athletic committee of the district did not feel that it would be wise to pick a district team after the tournament, inasmuch as it might have a tendency to place a premium on star playing on the part of the individual rather than on team play.

Games This Week a Factor

The final rankings of the various teams in the district will be determined on the basis of games played up to and including Feb. 25, Saturday night of this week. Thus the game scheduled for next Tuesday between Thief River Falls and Stephen will not enter into the arrangement of teams in the tournament, but it will have its part in the final percentage standing of the teams. This holds for any other teams that have games arranged for early next week.

Standings of Teams

The standing of the teams in the district as shown herewith readily indicates that Thief River will remain at the top, even the losing both of the two remaining scheduled games. Up to this time the local quint has not been defeated by any team in the district, while Roseau and Warroad each have a percentage of .667, Stephen is at the bottom of the first division, but Argyle is very close behind only five points behind, and to beat the second division. Baudette is the only other team having won any games during the season, Halma and Warroad as noted above, having lost every game played. The percentages announced today are as follows:

	Won	Lost	Pct
Thief River Falls	7	0	1000
Roseau	6	3	667
Warroad	6	3	667
Stephen	4	4	555
Argyle	4	5	500
Baudette	1	7	125
Halma	0	5	000
Warroad	0	6	000

ST. HILAIRE

ST. HILAIRE YOUNG LADY DIES AT FERGUS FALLS

Friends of this village and vicinity were deeply grieved to hear of the death of one of the best beloved young folks of this village, Alma Engh, which death occurred at the State Hospital at Fergus Falls last Thursday, Feb. 16.

Alma suffered a serious nervous breakdown two weeks ago and was taken to a hospital at Thief River Falls for treatment. Owing to the nature of the malady, it was thought advisable to obtain different treatment, so she was moved Monday evening to the observation ward of the state hospital at Fergus Falls. Since her affliction had come upon her so suddenly much hope was held for her recovery, but last Wednesday the family was notified that she was critically ill.

Alma, the daughter of Mrs. S. Engh, was born in Wyandotte Township, on Aug. 25, 1926. When she was fourteen years of age, the family moved to St. Hilaire, where Alma grew to womanhood. For the past six years she has held the position of assistant at the local post office. Through her cheerfulness and friendliness she won many friends who are deeply grieved at the passing of so young a person. Alma was active in the part in the local Norwegian Lutheran church, of which she was a member, and also in the organization of the social activities of this village.

To mourn her passing, she leaves her mother, Mrs. S. Engh, and four brothers, William and Edward of this village, Sigvard of Edinburn, N. Dak., and Sigurd of Minneapolis.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday morning at eleven o'clock by Rev. H. G. Jacobsen at the local Lutheran church. Rev. Jacobsen delivered a very comforting funeral sermon, paying high tribute to the many good qualities of the one who was taken from our midst. The blessed to all.

Mrs. E. O. Barkee Entertains

ISO-VIS S. RYICE MOTOR OIL

Our Customers Write the Best Ads for ISO=VIS!

Ever since it was put on the market last winter, letters have come pouring in by the thousands from enthusiastic customers praising Iso-Vis.

Because they relate how Iso-Vis has worked in their cars—because they give frank, unsolicited opinions, we believe they are the best "ads" that could be written about this extraordinary motor oil.

They tell in the everyday language of actual use what we mean by such terms as "constant viscosity". They are actual records of the unusual service Iso-Vis gives. We quote at random:

From a letter written by Mr. W. F. Renner, of Sikeston, Missouri—"I have used your Iso-Vis for several months. I ran the first five quarts twelve hundred miles, and the second five about 2,200 miles, without adding any in my Chevrolet. The pressure gauge never wandered, was always good."

"I am now driving twice as far as I did on other oils before draining the crankcase and when I do drain it I assure the body is still good," says Mr. W. A. Branscome of the Geo. H. Lee Co., 1115-1117 Harney St., Omaha, Nebraska.

From the proprietor of the Nelson Lake Service Station, Nelson Lake, Wis.—Mr. John Bonte—"I know I will not be able to get such oil as a customer as I did before, but more customers will make up for it."

From a letter written by Mr. Floyd Goodrich, Treasurer of the Waterloo Concrete Corporation, of Waterloo, Iowa—"As a result of our test on the two cars, we have unanimously adopted Iso-Vis for our entire fleet of cars and trucks. Our experience leads us to believe that it is the best oil which we have ever used for automobile and truck service."

"I can truthfully say that Iso-Vis is the cheapest and best lubrication money can buy," quoted from the letter of Mr. A. D. Thomas, of Edwardsville, Illinois.

There is another advantage in quoting letters. They say more than modesty would permit us to say about our own product! We suggest that you give Iso-Vis a trial and judge it by the only real standard—its performance in your car 30c per quart.

GROW CERTIFIED SEED POTATOES SAYS DOUGLAS

Several Carloads Could Have Been Sold Since First of Year County Agent States

The Pennington County Farm Bureau offer during its next month, according to a statement of Robert M. Douglas, county agent, several inquiries for certified seed potatoes, and could have filled out of several carloads if there had been any available.

If a number of farmers in Pennington county would band themselves together and each certify a small field of potatoes, Mr. Douglas thinks it would be possible each year to make them a profitable crop. He states that anyone interested in the growing of a few acres each year should make a start with at least one acre this year, the seed from which would be sufficient to plant several acres a year from now. It is the most economical way to raise certified seed potatoes, according to the county agent. Mr. Douglas also points out that if a number of farmers in Pennington county have already signified intentions of such a step and Mr. Douglas will be glad to hear from them at once, as arranging certified seed potatoes.

The growing of certified seed potatoes has been increasing at a rapid rate several years past, and a good profit has been the result, says the county agent, and if the national association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers after a study of the methods used by 700 and 800 basket potato growers, certified seed is free from disease which might set only the yield of the crop in the fall, and in of a much higher quality than the average seed used.

In one instance, a notice of considerable increase in yield of a 42 per cent resulted in calls requiring the use of Northern grown certified seed. Over a period of 8 years, Irish Cobbler grown from certified seed yielded 244 bushels to the acre more than potatoes grown seed from some of the same variety. Members of the Pennington 100-bushel potato club use certified seed almost entirely the survey show. The increase in yield much more than pays for the extra cost of the seed in all cases.

INTERNATIONAL HIGHWAY ROUTE NOW SURVEYED

Canadian Engineers Investigate Possible Routing to Winnipeg Thru Sprague

According to the Warroad Pioneer a crew of Canadian engineers last week completed the survey of the proposed new Manitoba highway from Sprague to a point on the international boundary seven miles north of Warroad, which point Roseau county will build a state aid road to Warroad, connecting with the trunk system.

It is also understood that a survey will also be run southward from Piney to the boundary where a northerly road from Fox could be built in Roseau county, thereby cutting off about 20 miles on the trip from here to Winnipeg as has been proposed. The fact that the survey has been made, says the Pioneer, does not indicate that the road will be built at once as the Canadian government is some years ahead of their building program with the survey.

The purpose of the eastern route is to give Canada direct from the Arrowhead section in Northeastern Minnesota, shortest to the Canadian metropolis, the range people going by way of No 11 thru International Falls and Baudette.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE FOR B. B. CONTEST

games have been printed and a supply sent to the managers of the teams in the respective towns. Added interest in the tournament will be the trophies and it is expected that large delegations will come to Thief River Falls to attend the contest, which will be staged in the city auditorium, which is being built up for the occasion, bleachers being installed as in former years.

Suitable Prizes For Teams

The basketball used in the tournament will become the property of the team winning the consolation game and the handsome trophies will be secured by Superintendent G. Hendricks for the winners of the first and second places.

Coach Steven Peterson has been appointed to have charge of all local arrangements for the tournament; an official time keeper and an official score keeper will be appointed some time previous to the contest. The athletic committee of the district did not feel that it would be wise to pick district team after the tournament, inasmuch as it might have a tendency to place a premium on star playing on the part of the individual rather than on the play.

Games This Week a Factor

The final rankings of the various teams in the district will be determined on the basis of games played in and including Feb. 25, Saturday night of this week. Thus the game scheduled for next Tuesday between Thief River Falls and Stephen will not enter into the arrangement of teams in the tournament, but it will have its part in the final percentage standing of the teams. This holds for any other teams that have games arranged for early next week.

Standings of Teams

The standing of the teams in the district as shown herewith readily indicates that Thief River will remain at the top, even the losing bath of the two remaining scheduled games. Up to this time the locals point has not been defeated by any team in the district, while Roseau and Warren each have a percentage of 600. Stephen is at the bottom of the first division, but Greenbush is very close, being only five points behind, and is heading the second division. Hendrum is the only other team having won any games during the season, Halfack and Warroad, as noted above, having lost every game played. The percentages announced today are as follows:

	Won	Lost	Pct
Thief River Falls	7	0	1000
Roseau	6	3	.667
Warren	4	2	.667
Stephen	4	3	.571
Argyle	4	4	.500
Hendrum	2	2	.500
Halfack	0	1	.000
Warroad	0	5	.000

AMERICAN LEGION TEAM SCHEDULES TWO GAMES

Manager James Cable today announced that a game has been scheduled for next Monday with the independent basketball team at Crookston, and a game at Clearbrook on next Wednesday with the Bagley team.

The local team recently won from the Hreckerridge team here by the score of 24 to 23, but went down to defeat later at the hands of the Bagley team at Clearbrook, when the score stood 35 to 16. The boys also lost Monday night of this week in Fertile at that place, the opponents rolling up a score of 26 to our 18.

Quality is the Important Consideration

We celebrate this week the birthday of a great man. A man who had the vision to conceive a mighty plan and the courage to fight for its fulfillment.

There is little new that one can say about Washington—few tributes that have not already been paid to his memory. He died over a century and a quarter ago, yet the quality of his deeds and thoughts lives on—the quality of his life will remain, long after the details are forgotten.

Quality or the lack of it! It spells the whole difference between success or failure in life, whether your business is shoes or sermons.

For 26 years, the J. C. Penney Company has kept the quality of the goods we offered uppermost in our thoughts. We have worked steadily that you might be contented and pleased with their inherent worth. Quality, not low price, has been the solid rock on which we founded our business, for quality alone survives, whether in merchandise or men.

ST. HILAIRE

ST. HILAIRE YOUNG LADY DIES AT FERGUS FALLS

Friends of this village and vicinity were deeply grieved by the news of the death of one of the best beloved young folks of this village, Alma Engh, whose death occurred at the State Hospital at Fergus Falls last Thursday, Feb. 16.

Alma suffered a serious nervous breakdown two weeks ago and was taken to a hospital at Thief River Falls for treatment. Owing to the nature of the malady, it was thought advisable to obtain different treatments, so she was moved Monday evening to the observation ward of the state hospital at Fergus Falls. Since her affliction had come upon her so suddenly much hope was held for her recovery, but last Wednesday the family was notified that she was critically ill.

Alma, the daughter of Mrs. S. Engh, was born in Waanadis Township on July 28, 1898, When she was fourteen years of age she family moved to this village where Alma grew to womanhood. For the past six years, she has held the position of assistant at the local post office. Through her affable manner and friendly ways she won many friends who sincerely grieved at the passing of so sweet a friend. Throughout her life she took part in the local Norwegian Lutheran church, which was her home, and also took part in many of the social activities of this village.

To mourn her loss, she leaves to her mother, Mrs. S. Engh, and four brothers, Ole, Edward, Alfred and Elmer, all of this village, Sigvard of Edinburg, N. Dak., and Harold of Minneapolis.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday morning at eleven o'clock by Rev. O. G. Jacobson at the Norwegian Lutheran church. Rev. Jacobson delivered a very comforting and impressive sermon, paying high tribute to the many good qualities of the girl who was taken from our midst. The church was filled to its capacity by friends who came to pay their last respects. Interment was made at the Swedish Lutheran cemetery east of this village.

Heart felt sympathy of this community is extended through this column to the bereaved family in the sad loss of sister and daughter.

W. C. T. U. MEETS

The local W. C. T. U. held its regular meeting last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. T. Skatrud. Following the business meeting the following program was given by the memorable Francis Willard: Song by members; Reading by Mrs. J. H. Foster; Scripture Reading by Mrs. A. Rondeau; Song by members; Reading by Effie Prederickson; Song by Florence Haslam, Bertha Thompson and Alice Fricker, leading by Mrs. A. Mortenson; Lesson, conducted by Alice Fricker.

Following the program and lesson a delicious lunch was served by Mesdames Skatrud and Jensen.

Celebrates 20th Birthday

A number of friends pleasantly surprised H. R. Allen at his home on Friday evening, the occasion being his fiftieth birthday anniversary. The hours were spent in playing 500, Mrs. Haslam leading by four points. Delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kotsedt, and Mrs. John Albin of Plummer were here Sunday to attend the funeral of the late Alma Engh.

SEED TREATMENT STOPS SMUTTY WHEAT LOSSES

Greater use of formaldehyde and copper carbonate in treating seed wheat, is urged by the United States Department of Agriculture and the experiment stations of Minnesota and adjacent states, is reflected in the reduction of the quantity of smutty wheat reaching Minneapolis in 1927 from northwest farms.

According to H. P. Woolcomb, chairman of the Northwest Grain Smut Prevention committee, only one car in 12 received in Minneapolis in 1927 was graded as smutty as compared to one car in every six so graded in 1925.

ISO-VIS MOTOR OIL

INDIANA

Our Customers Write the Best Ads for ISO=VIS!

Ever since it was put on the market last winter, letters have come pouring in by the thousands from enthusiastic customers praising Iso-Vis.

Because they relate how Iso-Vis has worked in their cars—because they give frank, unsolicited opinions, we believe they are the best "ads" that could be written about this extraordinary motor oil.

They tell in the everyday language of actual use what we mean by such terms as "constant viscosity". They are actual records of the unusual service Iso-Vis gives. We quote at random:

From a letter written by Mr. W. F. Keener, of Sakreton, Missouri—"I have used your Iso-Vis for several months. I ran the first five quarts twelve hundred miles, and the second five about 2,200 miles, without adding any! In my Chevrolet. The pressure gauge never wandered, was always good."

"I am now driving twice as far as I did on other oils before drainage the crankcase and when I do drain it I notice it is only "a little dirty". says Mr. W. A. Drumcondra of the Geo. H. Lee Co. 1115-1117 Harney St., Omaha, Nebraska.

From the proprietor of the Bolsom Lake Service Station, Bolsom Lake, Wis.—Mr. John Boers—"I know I will not be able to tell as much ad to a customer as I did before, but more customers will make up for it."

From a letter written by Mr. Floyd Goodrich, Treasurer of the Wisconsin Concrete Corporation, of Waterloo, Iowa—"As a result of our test on the two cars, we made six weeks later adopted Iso-Vis for our entire fleet of cars and trucks. Our experience leads us to believe that it is the best oil which we have ever used for automobile and truck service."

"I can truthfully say that Iso-Vis is the cheapest and best lubrication money can buy," quoted from the letter of Mr. A. D. Thomas, of Eldorado Illinois.

There is another advantage in quoting letters. They say more than modesty would permit us to say about our own product! We suggest that you give Iso-Vis a trial and judge it by the only real standard—its performance in your car! 30c per quart.

Farewell Party

At the Walter Evenson home Monday night Miss Irene Tvedersrug was most happily surprised by a group of her friends, the affair being in the nature of a farewell party prior to her departure for the West. Those joining in the event were Anna Johnson, Gladys Olson, Thea Erickson, Colette Kelley, Alice Soderberg, Gladys Evenson, Hella Sagmoen, Henry Hintze, Edrick and Joe Soderberg, Gotfred Larson, Melvin Hamre, Mr. and Mrs. R. Rasmussen, Mr. and Mrs. David Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. H. Gustafson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Evenson, and Mr. and Mrs. Christ Klerk.

Peterson—Sandberg

Miss Lulu Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Peterson, and Henry Sandberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Sandberg, of Itasca community, were married at the Swedish Lutheran church at St. Hilaire Tuesday, Feb. 21, Rev. A. F. Nelson officiating. A wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents last evening. They will make their home for the present on the Peterson farm southeast of Hazel.

For Mrs. Nelson

A gathering of more than fifty ladies participated in a surprise party on Mrs. J. E. Nelson at her home Saturday afternoon, presenting her with a gift and contributing to a bountiful supper which was enjoyed at the close of the afternoon. In behalf of those present, the gift was presented to Mrs. Nelson by Mrs. T. Reep.

Attend Crookston Party

Mrs. W. L. Carlisle and Mrs. W. H. Ridenour were among out-of-town guests at a delightful bridge dinner given at the Crookston hotel Wednesday evening of last week by Mrs. C. M. Larson, Mrs. C. D. Mitchell, and Mrs. E. W. Kaufe. Thirty-two guests were present.

Entertains at Cards

Miss Lilas Borchert, instructor in the Knox school, was hostess to a number of young ladies at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Borchert, 809 Horace avenue north, Friday night of last week. Bridge was played—at two tables, the prizes being awarded to Miss Irene Johnson and Miss Martha Boyer. Those present included Misses Lulu Cook, Mary Wheeler, Beatrice Burns, Ruth Nelson, Harriet Anderson, Irma Johnson, Martha Boyer and Mrs. A. E. Simons.

Old Time Dance

A strictly old time dance will be held in the I. O. O. F. hall March 8 tonight. Next week, Thursday, March 8, there will be a masquerade dance in the Pike hall. Everyone welcome. Ahlstrom and Olsen. p

Yorkshire Tea

Mrs. Carl Melby was hostess at a vanishing tea at her home Wednesday afternoon of last week, given for the benefit of the American Legion Auxiliary. Her guests included Misses Caroline Melby, Grace Craik, Hattie Goldsmith, Amelia Hablitzel, and Mrs. George Erickson, Mrs. Knute Melby, Mrs. Ed. Stoughton, and Mrs. F. G. Hall.

Celebrate Anniversary

A group of people surprised Mr. and Mrs. Julius Knutson at their home Thursday evening of last week, the occasion being their wedding anniversary. Whist was played at three tables, H. Bergstrom and Mrs. E. Hendon scoring high, and Mrs. E. W. Hendon second high low. Mr. and Mrs. Knutson were presented with a lovely gift from their friends. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. L. VaVas, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Butterfield, Mr. and Mrs. J. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. S. Brander, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bergstrom, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Haugen, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson, Mrs. Ed. Pozzatti, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Knutson.

Entertain at Supper

At their home at 311 Duluth Avenue south, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Baker entertained last Saturday evening at a supper party Mrs. Axel Anderson and daughter Minda, Joel Kinberg of Rosewood, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Engelstad and Mrs. F. Christenson. The evening was pleasantly spent at cards.

In celebration of her husband's birthday, Mrs. Baker was hostess to ten guests Tuesday evening, those present including Mr. and Mrs. John Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Axel Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Norquist, Mrs. Axel Anderson, Miss Minnie Axelson, Tony Casetta, Paul Bjoberg, Victor Axelson, and C. Engelstad.

Domestic Art Group

The Domestic Art Group of the Woman's Club will meet on Monday afternoon, March 5, at 2:30 in the Commercial club rooms. Pictures, Picture Framing and Hanging will be discussed. Mrs. F. L. Talton and Mrs. Scott Laird will be in charge of the program.

Sixteen ladies were guests at a one o'clock luncheon Friday afternoon, given by Mrs. Chris Storholm and Mrs. N. J. Silk at the home of the latter. A two course luncheon was served, following which cards were played at four tables.

Surprise Party

Approximately twenty friends of Mrs. David Christensen surprised her at her home Saturday night, the occasion being her birthday. The hours were spent at dancing and games, after which lunch, furnished by the guests, was served.

W. C. T. U. Meets

The W. C. T. U. will meet Tuesday afternoon, March 6, at the home of Mrs. T. C. Orme, 716 Horace avenue north.

Trending Meets

There will be a meeting of the Tronderlag Monday, March 5, at 8:00 p. m. in the home of Norway hall. A good program is on the menu and all members are urged to attend.

Be sure to attend

Be sure to attend the Men's supper to be served this evening from five to seven o'clock in the Methodist-Presbyterian church. The menu is an appetizing one—and it may be served (seconds) by the men without the knowledge of the women. Come early and avoid the rush.

STATE INTER-SUNDAY SCHOOL CONFERENCE

The first State-Wide Young People's Inter-Sunday School Conference is announced to be held at Mankato March 27, 28 and 29, from the office of the Minnesota Council of Religious Education, under whose auspices the event will be held.

This Conference is limited to young people of 15 to 24 years of age, and their leaders, says Mr. James C. Garrison, Superintendent of the State Council, and because of the program type, more others can be accepted.

A leadership of nationally known leaders of youth in this field, as well as many of those in Minnesota, will conduct the program.

JUVENILE RECITAL PROVED IMMENSE HIT

The two little gumdrops, Helen Grasman, aged nine, and Margaret Jacobson, aged six, who appeared in a piano recital at the high school auditorium Saturday evening, created a sensation by their admirable performance. Hailey Grasman opened with two flash numbers playing them in clean cut style. Margaret Jacobson's outstanding performance was in the second group in which she displayed a wealth of natural expression particularly in the Indian Dance. Her last group, C Major on Parade and The Doll and the Fairy, showed technique unbelievable in a child of six years. She played eleven numbers from memory. Helen Grasman's most finished performance was in the last group in which included Prelude op. 28 no. 7 by Chopin, Jobe by Dutti, and Minuet by Paderewski. She played numbers not usually in a little artist could play them, bringing a storm of encores at the close of the Minuet. She played fourteen numbers from memory. Her interpretation and technique are already of an unusual degree for one so young. The absence of nervousness on the part of the young pianists was especially gratifying to the audience. The little girls are pupils of Mrs. Thelma Holm Erickson who has been their only teacher.

Mary Margret Cosgrove and Margaret Ann Faller were delightful in their roles as assisting juvenile artists in reading and whistling.

LEGION AUXILIARY HERE MAY SPONSOR GIRL SCOUT TROOP

Several members of the local American Legion Auxiliary here are discussing the advisability of sponsoring the formation of a girl scout troop, now that the American Legion has offered to start a boy scout troop under the leadership of Joe Lee Hoe as scoutmaster.

The auxiliary at Excelsior did this same thing after the Legion had made a big success of its boy scout troop, according to advices received from state headquarters.

WILL CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Invitations have been sent out to fifty friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Eskeroo to attend the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding Friday evening. The affair will take place at the Scandinavian Evangelical Free church, commencing at five o'clock, shortly after which dinner will be served to the guests.

CITY PAPERS TO PUBLISH LOCAL WEATHER, ROAD DATA

Weather and road conditions in and near Thief River Falls beginning today will hereafter be carried by the Thief River Falls papers for the benefit of those having occasion to make use of such reports, more especially tourists and salesmen.

Efforts have been made for some time past to have these reports printed, and credit for getting this service is due in no small measure to Julius Provencher, who is president of the local auto club.

TELEPHONIC COMMUNICATION TO SWEDEN NOW POSSIBLE

Crossing over one ocean (the Atlantic) and under two seas (the North and Baltic), voice communication from all parts of the United States and Cuba to Stockholm, Sweden, was opened Monday, February 20, at 10 A. M. eastern standard time. The rate for Stockholm is $4.75 higher for three minutes and $2.25 higher for each succeeding minute than the present rates from this country to London. Thus a call from New York to Stockholm costs $27.75 for the first three minutes and $22.25 for each minute thereafter.

Sweden is the fourth continental nation to be added to the list of foreign nations now available to American business and residence telephones.

MACHINE INSTALLED IN SHOEMAKER STORE

Ed. Stokke, the shoemaker located on Second street across the street from the Ford garage in the rear of the auditorium, has just installed a machine whereby he is now able to sew on soles on men's, women's and children's shoes.

Card of Thanks

We the undersigned wish to thank the many friends and neighbors for their acts of kindness and words of sympathy during the illness and death of our mother and sister; also those who sent floral tributes, and especially the choir.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dahlin,
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Swortzel,
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Steiner,
Mr. and Mrs. Iverger C. Larson,
Mr. and Mrs. Otto Rapaun,
Fred Ranum. 5p

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to all those who extended their sympathy and help in our hour of bereavement. We are especially grateful to Rev. S. L. Tollaksen for his words of kindly solace, to Mrs. T. Reep and Mrs. O. F. Melby for the beautiful selections rendered, and to those who sent beautiful floral offerings. Your kindness will never be forgotten.

Gordon Olson, family, and relatives.

PERFORMANCE
as different as the car itself

Were greater beauty their only advantage, the new engineering principles of Dodge Brothers Victory Six would still be revolutionary.

Were greater safety The Victory's only advantage, it would still command the gratitude of a life-loving world.

Were greater economy its paramount feature, the fact would still remain that The Victory has made possible 21 miles per gallon at 25 miles per hour FOR A SIX.

But these are incidental to the basic Victory achievement. You must DRIVE the car to know about that!

You must take a corner faster than you ought, a cobble pavement faster than you thought, before The Victory secret begins to reveal itself.

And you must unleash the full, sustained speed of the car before the idea takes full hold!

Victory design it unlike that of any other vehicle in the world—and Victory performance is equally radical and remarkable.

To examine the one and experience the other will prove an event that we urge you not to postpone.

Official Paper of the City of Thief River Falls and Pennington County.

WELCOME ATHLETES

Thief River Falls is host this week to the high school basketball teams of the first district. These teams will engage in a tournament at the Auditorium this afternoon and tomorrow and by an elimination process will determine the district championship. While there is real rivalry among the teams for this honor and each team will strive to its utmost to defeat its adversaries, there is, nevertheless, a fine spirit of friendly good-fellowship underlining the meeting that will still unite victors and vanquished after the final whistle has been blown.

Thief River Falls enters the tournament with the odds in their favor and, judging from past performances, the local team should be able to come out on top. This is by no means certain, however. The tournament is not decided by past glories and all teams enter with an even chance as far as previous games are concerned. We welcome the teams which represent eight of our neighboring communities in this section of the state and express the hope that this visit to our city may be pleasant.

A REMARKABLE INCREASE

March came in like a lion this morning. The important thing about this fact is that March came in. One of these fine days the frost will be out of the ground and the seed will be in the ground and we'll start our usual speculation on the size and value of the crop. It's going to be a lot of fun wondering once more whether a certain rain is worth a million dollars or just nine hundred thousand. What we had in mind, however, when we mentioned that March is here was the fact that it is now time to decide how much to increase the alfalfa acreage this year. One of the most encouraging developments of this county since 1922 is the steady increase, year by year, in the acreage of this crop. The figures are really remarkable.

In 1920 the state census credited Pennington county with only 320 acres of alfalfa. By 1922 this acreage had increased to 1083, and by 1923 it grew to 1561. That fall a carload of seed was secured and the following year the acreage jumped to 3712. Another carload the following year brought the total up to 6287. In 1926 the total went to 7,500, and last season sent the total up to the 10,000 mark. This is fine as we haven't heard anyone "view with alarm" this gradual increase, we are about convinced that the verdict is unanimously in favor of its continued growth.

DISTRIBUTING THE GAS TAX

(At the general election next fall the voters will be called upon to decide whether or not a portion of the revenue derived from the gasoline tax shall be diverted from the trunk highway fund to the counties for local road building. The proposition will be submitted at the November election as Amendment No. 1. The question has already come in for a good deal of discussion but it is likely that the debate will increase in warmth as the day of judgment draws nearer and the issue becomes more clearly defined.

A resolution adopted by the recently formed Minnesota Good Roads Association in favor of a distribution of a portion of the gas tax revenues is interesting because it raises the important question of the proportions in which this money shall be distributed back to the counties. The resolution passed by this organization reads:

"We recommend further that an additional one-cent gas tax be provided for, which tax shall be used upon county and township roads, and be distributed to the county road and bridge fund of each county, as nearly as ascertainable in proportion to the amount of taxes collected in each county from the sale of gasoline therein."

This plan of distribution differs materially from that provided for in amendment No. 1, which would require that one-third of the revenue from this tax shall be placed in the state road and bridge fund, and a constitutional requirement for distribution of money from this fund is that no county shall receive less than one per cent, nor more than three per cent. Assuming that this distribution would be in the same proportion as the present collection and distribution of the one mill tax for roads, sixty counties of the state would receive more than they pay into the fund, twenty-four would receive the same amount as they pay in, while the three large counties of the state which would probably pay in more than one-third of the total tax, would receive less than one-twentieth in return.

In other words Amendment No. 1 is favorable to sixty counties and unfavorable to three, while to the other twenty-four it means swapping dollars to a certain extent. Amendment No. 1, then, represents the best interests of the rural sections of the state while the resolution passed by the Good Roads Association represents the best interests of the three heavily populated counties in that it gives them a dollar for each dollar taken from them.

While the rural sections of the state probably have enough votes in this instance to secure an advantage for themselves at the expense of the cities, it is our impression that this power should not be used. Forcing such legislation upon the cities against their wishes certainly would not be fair. It is our impression, however, that the rural sections should be careful lest they lose some of the advantages which they now have.

One of the things the larger cities are trying to do is secure legislation that will authorize the highway department to build and maintain trunk highways through the cities, which of course, would save them many hundreds of thousands of dollars. There are many good reasons why this should be done. There is one good reason, however, why it should not be done, and that is because the cities themselves, voluntarily and of their own accord, agreed to the present arrangement when the arrangements were being made. If the present arrangement is maintained the cities will have no cause to complain, while if Amendment No. 1, passes they will roar as only the cities can roar, and there will be some justice in their bellowing.

Considering the resolution of the Good Roads Association on its own merits and not in its relation to Amendment No. 1, it has in its favor all of the good points of the gas tax as a whole. The chief merit of the gas tax is that it is inexpensive to collect; it is the only means we have of placing a share of the road building burden on the tourists from other states; and places the heaviest tax on those who give the roads the hardest wear.

SELVIG HARPOONS THE REID BILL
(St. Paul Dispatch)

Opposing the Reid Flood Control bill, reported to the House by a vote of 11 to 6, Representative Selvig of Minnesota has issued a public statement which expresses the measure's most glaring faults.

Mr. Selvig points out that the Reid bill appropriation provides $50,000,000 more than the engineer's estimates by nearly $200,000,000; that the bill would relieve benefited areas of the one-fifth share of flood control costs recommended by the Administration measure and places the entire burden of expense upon the Federal government, also forcing the government to buy lands for floodways and diversion channels.

Rejecting the administration's flood control plan, the Reid bill presents no project to take its place. The measure merely appropriates half a billion dollars of public money to pay for whatever scheme a government commission it creates may formulate. It then removes the assurance of economical expenditure that local contribution to the costs would give. As if to emphasize its defects as a treasury raid, the bill provides that river bottom lands originally given to the states by the Federal government to pay for flood control should now be repurchased by the United States wherever they are needed for spillways and diversion channels.

Representative Selvig's proposal for Federal loans to local governments whenever contribution to flood control costs would cause distress or delay is sensible and fair. His point that the principle of local participation in expense must be maintained in the interests of economy is sound. His objection to buying back lands which were a Federal gift to the states is well taken. How the Reid bill fares in Congress after such analysis will be an interesting development in government management of the problem.

NORWAY'S EASY DIVORCE

(Los Angeles Times.

It would seem that Norway would be the divorce center of the world. Under the latest law a separation must be the simplest thing on the calendar. It is easier than changing one's shirt. The only quibble is that both parties must be agreeable to the parting. One cannot grab a divorce single handed. The other party must know about it. There is no putting it across in the dark. If the parties are willing, they appear before a king's commissioner, pay a quarter and declare their inability to get along together. The official bites the silver to see that it is good and tells them to come back in two weeks. If they come back a second time to give them. That is about all there is to it. No lawyers are necessary and there is virtually no expense. Of course, one must have a residence in Norway to have all this available.

Can Two Live as Cheaply as One?

The remark is often made that two can live as cheaply as one. Those who have tried it, however, know that it can't be done. The idea won't hold water when it comes to the actual test.

Patronizing a cream station when a good creamery is in operation in a community works out about the same way.

Your creamery can handle to advantage every ounce of cream produced in this community at very little extra manufacturing cost.

Why help pay rent on an extra building or two and pay extra salaries when every bit of machinery and equipment is at hand to handle the output of butterfat of the community.

TWO CANNOT LIVE AS CHEAPLY AS ONE. GIVE YOUR CREAMERY YOUR UNDIVIDED SUPPORT.

LUCKY STRIKE "IT'S TOASTED" CIGARETTES

Lucky Strikes are the Favorite Brand of Paul Whiteman—

"It was but recently, when I started to act as master of ceremonies with my band at the Paramount Theatre, that I realized how vital perfect voice condition was to a performer. I have always been a consistent smoker and fortunately, Lucky Strikes were my favorite brand. I like their toasted flavor and, best of all, I can smoke as often as I like, without fear of irritating my voice, which is becoming a great asset in my work."

MRS. H. C. JASPERSON OF MAYFIELD IS BURIED

Funeral services were held at the Lanset chapel yesterday afternoon, Rev. A. C. Bloom officiating, for Mrs. H. C. Jasperson who died at her home in Mayfield township Friday, Feb. 23, heart trouble causing her death. Interment was made at Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Lovet Jasperson was born in Skellaid, Denmark, Feb. 16, 1869, coming to this country when a child of four. In 1888 she was married at St. Paul to H. C. Jasperson, and has made her home in Mayfield township since 1901. She is survived by her husband, four sons, Herbert, of Beaman, Minn., William, George and Peter, at home, and three daughters, Mrs. John Larson of Plummer, Alice and Mabel of St. Paul. Five brothers and three sisters also survive, as well as thirteen grandchildren. One son died three years ago.

A TRIBUTE

As a friend and neighbor of Mrs. Gustav Olson, for many years and having her as patient for the last decade the family circle, we would like to pay a little tribute to her memory.

In the death of Lena Olson, the writer has lost a friend, a friend indeed to express. Since we came to this country in 1917, she has tried to be a friend to me, and she has succeeded to the extent that her friends number as many as her acquaintances.

In time of sickness and sorrow, she was ready and willing to extend a helping hand, either with her work or her money.

As a model farm wife, she could be excelled in any way. As a wife and mother, it would be a clever woman that could equal her and none surpass.

As a friend, we falter; in expressing her; no person will ever find her help will not be missed. Seed time and harvest weather or summer will only come to remind us of the friend in our midst, for she never failed us in any way, but it was possible for one woman to help another. Her life generously are a constant reminder of her, whose friendly good nature and goodness of heart remained her many years friend.

Her life was nothing as the span of years go by, but she accomplished much. Her home was a hospitable one and her friends loved to gather. She lived for her family and friends, and her life was filled with good deeds and useful striving for the betterment of those around her. She took a keen interest in the education of her children, and all community affairs and was a faithful and conscientious member of the Trinity Lutheran church of this city.

Death is the wages paid, and in this instance, extremely so, for little children are left without the protection and unselfish devotion, which only a mother can give.

She died, loved and respected by all. She has gone from us, but her memory still lives on.

Mrs. H. Hall,
Mrs. P. W. Ayers

BRIDGE CLUB ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Ed. Nelson entertained the Bridge club at her home on Monday evening, with Mrs. Ole Nelson and Mrs. Ole Olson as guests. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ole Nelson and Mrs. Ole Olson.

Marriage licenses were issued by Clerk of Court Ole Peterson to Ole Ness and Miss Ida Ness, both of Thief River Falls, and to Ole Ness and Miss Ida Ness, both of Thief River Falls, and to Ole Ness and Miss Ida Ness, both of Thief River Falls.

East Grand Forks Plant Made More Sugar During Past Year Than Chaska

Altho there will be very little sugar acreage in the immediate vicinity of Thief River Falls again this year, indications turnout the Red River Valley and Minnesota in general are that the acreage will be nearly doubled this year over that of 1927, according to L. E. Pflick of Chaska, manager of the American Beet Sugar Co.

The plant of the company at East Grand Forks last year, the second year of operation, far exceeded the output of the Chaska plant, which has been in operation for some time, says Mr. Pflick. The Chaska plant of the company purchased 55,000 tons of beets in 1927 from farmers from which 14,000,000 pounds of sugar were made. At the East Grand Forks plant, on the other hand, where moisture conditions were more ideal for beet culture, 82,000 tons of beets were purchased last year, from which 20,800,000 pounds of sugar were made.

Ferdinand H. Rose of Polk county, left last week for Washington in the interests of the sugar company to appear in behalf of the East Grand Forks plant, which has been using Mexican labor. A bill is pending in congress, sponsored by cane sugar interests, to prohibit Mexican labor.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. HEGGE KLEMMETSUN

Mrs. Helge Klemmetsun died Thursday, Feb. 28, at the age of 80 years, her infirmity hastened on by pneumonia, causing her death. Funeral services will be held from the Trinity Lutheran church Saturday, March 3, Rev. S. L. Tallakson officiating, after which the body will be laid to rest in Lillie Jessen's lot in the Union Lutheran church Monday of next week, and the body will be laid to rest in the cemetery at Dies, beside her husband, who died several years ago.

Mrs. Klemmetsun was born in Norway, Hallingdal, Norway, immigrating to America in 1874, to Spring Grove, Minnesota. In 1876 she was married to Helge Klemmetsun who had come originally from Nokeviadalen, Norway. They settled on a farm near Ulen, residing there until 1911, when they moved to this city, residing here since. Nine children were born to them, only three of whom are male, Christine, Hilda, and Olda.

FERGUS FALLS FIREMEN PREPARE FOR CONVENTION

At the meeting of the Fergus Falls fire department last week committees were named for the forthcoming district firemen's convention to be held in that city June 12 and 13. The Firemen's auxiliary are planning to give the women accompanying the men to the convention as good a time as the men will have.

SEVERAL CHANGES MADE IN SOO LINE OFFICES

Several changes in the personnel of the Soo Line have been announced, follows.

Frederick W. Curtis, an employee of the road for 35 years, superintendent of the Twin City terminal division, between Minneapolis and Duluth since 1908, has been promoted to the post of assistant general superintendent of the transportation with headquarters in Minneapolis.

Clinton H. Wilson, trainmaster of the Gladstone division in Upper Michigan, was appointed to succeed Mr. Curtis.

C. J. Simon, who has been superintendent of the Missouri river division at Bismarck since Jan. 1, 1927, has been made superintendent of the Duluth Superior division, with headquarters at Superior. C. M. Winter of Minneapolis, who has been assistant to the general manager, will succeed Mr. Simpson at Bismarck.

MANY PURE BRED TURKEYS UNDER JANDA'S SUPERVISION

Seventy-five pure bred turkey hens from North Dakota were last week placed on the Schermerhorn ranch that will be under the supervision of Mr and Mrs W. J. Janda, who have moved from their farm east of Thief River Falls to Mahnomen. Several other pure bred turkey hens, including those taken down by Mr. Janda, will be placed on the particular part of the Schermerhorn farm.

WARROAD SCHOOL BOARD BETHED $12,000 BOND

Warroad school officials are following the practice of issuing bonds in this section, and at their last meeting retired $12,000 of outstanding bonds—an entire issue. The bonds did not come due till next July but the directors saw an opportunity of saving about two hundred dollars, and with plenty of funds on hand decided the indebtedness. This makes a total of $19,000 paid off in four years, and the board hopes to be out of debt by Jan 1 next.

NO MORE PROTOL FOR PENNINGTON FARMERS

"You'll never miss the water till the well runs dry." Likewise—pyrotol, the cheap government explosive used in land clearing, is not missed until the supply has been exhausted. That point has been reached in Pennington County Agent Robert M. Douglas, who has just been advised by A. J. Schwantes, land clearing specialist of the university, in charge of pyrotol distribution, that it will useless for farmers to send in any orders for explosive, either in cases, canisters or by University Farm. The pyrotol already supplied was the last of the car left over war material available for farm use.

FROM THE CELLAR WINDOW

The fact that attendance records are being broken at basketball games this year indicates that Thief River Falls has a team of which Thief River Falls is very proud. Which is as it should be. The boys play a brand of ball that certainly is pleasing to behold. Local fans are speculating on how far this organization can travel in the race for the state champion ship, a local fan says he is sure of success. And there is no question but that the boys should make a respectable showing. This fact. About the only thing we can do to help out this team is to see that every game is played on the home floor, and to see that the local fans turn out in a body. Let's cause us to lose the district tournament should be held on our floor. Let's develop rock jaw and couldn't chew gum or all of the first and second string men should have both arms and one arm and one leg or something like that, but this isn't likely, and so with becoming modesty, we are considering ourselves the district title. The regional tournament will probably have to be played to determine the regional champions, we have some opposition here—and we vote ourselves the regional championship only on the condition that we get a fair share of the breaks. In bequeathing ourselves the state championship—but let us pause first our neighbors—control the preliminaries. The defense of the state and national events is some one's uncertain and one can never tell when misfortune may strike; the thing to do now is to keep the chin up and ashamed of it—tell them they're a handful of sore thumbs that they've always lucky up to the present writing but will have to need more considerably if they are lonely hope to get up in the world. struction. Sixty-three young men, all desirous to get ahead, registered for the course, which opened January 2nd and closed Feb. 15.

While there are no laboratories in this section, and at their last meeting retired $12,000 of outstanding bonds—an entire issue. The bonds did not come due till next July but the directors saw an opportunity of saving about two hundred dollars, and with plenty of funds on hand decided the indebtedness. This makes a total of $19,000 paid off in four years, and the board hopes to be out of debt by Jan 1 next.

And speaking of Basketball, Joe is a regular fool for and wide as the "big butter and egg man of the north"; is now able to see himself as others see him, and is a very funny man and having plenty of white whiskers which always add a note of dignity to any occasion, has been called upon several times to referee games here and elsewhere. It has been generally conceded that Joe is the best basketball referee in this part of the state. And then came the game between Crookston and Thief River Falls. Now, we might have been a big man in the world yet if it hadn't been for that game with Crookston, but in that game he was undone. And why? Because an astute newspaperman of Crookston discovered that Joe's refereeing was the principle reason for the Thief River victory. The comment, which was written before the second game with Crookston, was as follows:

"When Crookston and Thief River Falls high schools play here tomorrow night the locals will have a chance to play the Thief River game on proper terms. The last time the two teams met the needless refereeing of Holte, a Thief River Falls man, drew much comment from even the biased Thief River fans. Thief River has a real good team and should battle the locals on even terms, and the spirit of friendly rivalry, coupled with the fast, clever ball-handling of either Kahl, Mellum or Bjorklund, will make the game interesting to watch."

Now wouldn't that knock you for a loss of pork chops. There are a lot of things that might be said on the subject of course but another game has been played and the matter must be fairly well convinced by this time that Crookston's first defeat should be attributed more to the fast work of the Thief River team than to the work of the Thief River referee. The sentencing the article is probably one of those fans who say mean things to the umpire at baseball games. But be this as it may, the fact is that Joe is just as stalked as the most unlimited man in town and walks around as if he isn't quite sure whether he should look indignant or calamous.

The thrill that comes once in a lifetime was experienced by Ed Berg yesterday when he received the following message: "You have been recommended to us as a promising pitcher. If you desire to take up professional baseball, the St. Louis Browns will be pleased to hear from you relative your terms for the coming season."

Ber has been plug ug independent ball around the northwest for several summers and has received much favorable attention. The fact that his record has come under the observation of the major leaguers I doubt that he has no mean ability as a pitcher.

We are still in such moderate circumstances at our house that the purchase of a pair of shoes for one of the kids always prompts a debate, and the need of a new dress in the wife is a subject that is presented for discussion only under the most favorable circumstances. The campaign to get the family properly clothed for summer is now under way, and by the the status of last year's apparel, from rubbers to millinery, is being effectively argued. This is a definite indication that spring is very near.

Effinger Was High Man at Rifle Shoot Sunday

The Thief River Rifle club held its semi-monthly shoot Sunday afternoon at the I. O. O. F. Hall. Sixteen members shot, stage of the National Rifle association course. The five high scores were as follows:

	P	K	H
Earl J. Effinger	94	85	222
Roy Ericson	98	76	49 221
Orlando Bishop	87	76	44 207
Hjg. Salverson	93	75	46 214
Herb. Jung	91	71	41 203

These shoots are held twice a month under War Department regulations.

A friendly Handicap match was shot after the main match resulting in a tie between Earl Effinger and Hjg Salverson, the latter winning in the shoot off.

The local club is now arranging for postal shoots with the Halma Rifle club and the Ladysmith Rifle club at Ladysmith, Wisconsin.

A great deal of material, such as targets, target carriers, rifles, ammunition, spotters, etc., are now in transit and when these arrive the club will construct an outdoor range for the 200 yard rapid fire. The range is also then will vary from 200 to 1600 yards.

TWO ST. HILAIRE MEN AT UNIVERSITY FARM

George Wilson and Norman E. Olson of St. Hilaire, have returned after spending six weeks at University Farm, St. Paul, attending a course of training in the creamery and butter industry. Dairy division faculty men, assisted by trained specialists from the ranks of Minnesota's best buttermakers, were given the instruction. Sixty-three young men, all desirous to get ahead, registered for the course, which opened January 2nd and closed Feb. 15.

While there are no laboratories in this section, and at their last meeting retired $12,000 of outstanding bonds—an entire issue. The bonds did not come due till next July but the directors saw an opportunity of saving about two hundred dollars, and with plenty of funds on hand decided the indebtedness. This makes a total of $19,000 paid off in four years, and the board hopes to be out of debt by Jan 1 next.

The fundamentals of creamery operation were emphasized in the class rooms and laboratories. There is a course for beginners. Some of the subjects taught were milk and cream testing, butter making, creamery arithmetic and accounts, creamery mechanics, dairy bacteriology, and the feeding of dairy cattle. The purpose is to give young creamery operators a thorough understanding of the factors involved in the production of butter that will meet the demands of the most exacting markets.

SEVERAL FILINGS MADE FOR STATE POSITIONS

Geo. G. Magnuson of St. Cloud has filed for the Republican nomination for railroad and warehouse commissioner, E. G. Hinsbaugh of Minneapolis having previously filed for the same position, which is now filled by C. J. Lawler, another who is expected will again try for the place.

Judge Larson of Minneapolis on Saturday announced his candidacy for the nomination of attorney general on the Republican ticket. He will oppose Gen. A. Youngquist, recently appointed to the place to succeed A. F. Pratt, deceased.

What is believed to be the oldest clock in the world was wrought in A. D. 1420 by an unknown artisan at the court of Philip the Good, of Burgundy.

City Health Officer Says Scarlet Fever Cases Are Rapidly Disappearing

Inquiry of the various physicians today indicates that the Scarlet fever cases in the city are rapidly declining in numbers the past month, there having been no new cases reported for several days past.

In this connection Dr. H. W. Froehlich stated that there is an impression that such cases have to be reported to the doctors, or by them to the state. The law in this matter is quite plain, and Dr. Froehlich wishes it understood that anyone who fails to report cases of scarlet fever in their homes is subject to arrest and punishment. Three cases of chicken pox exist in the city at present.

FARMER LABOR CALL IS NOT YET ISSUED

No call has as yet been issued for the precinct or county meetings of the Farmer-Labor party, but Walter H. Quist today stated that one would be forthcoming late this week. March 13 has been tentatively set for the precinct meetings, the county convention date is undecided as the democrats have the county court house until the 10th and the republicans on March 17.

MIDDLE RIVER MAN BURNED AS GASOLINE TANK WIRE WITH GAS

Clarence Nordlum of Middle River narrowly escaped death one day last week in attempting to set a flame in his stove with the use of gasoline, which he managed to keep off, but not till he was quite badly burned about the face and hands. His clothing, which he managed to keep off, but not till he was quite badly burned about the face and hands.

NIGHT COUGHS QUICKLY RELIEVED

Stopped in 15 Minutes with Thazine

Most coughing is caused by an irritation of the throat and bronchial tubes which cough syrups and patent medicines do not touch. But a famous physician's prescription recently obtained by Thazine does direct to the cause, relieves the inflamed membranes and stops the cough almost instantly. It is a real healer of the work, and the remarkable thing about it is that it contains no opium, chloroform or other harmful drugs. Pleasant tasting. Safe for children. Once used the whole family will use it. At 35c, 65c and $1.00.—Sold by Sanberg's Drug Store, and all other good drug stores.

Ready for Spring

Our Spring stock of New McCormick Deering Farm Machinery and Tractors are now on hand. We are going to put on a free tractor school, a general farm machinery demonstration, Free hot lunch at noon. Our New 1928 Chryslers will also be on display, and all in all we aim to have a good time. Further announcements later.

The PERFECTED Whippet
the leader in Beauty and Quality

Gasoline tank is at the rear, away from the heat of the engine; costs more to build, but is safer

Coach $535 F.O.B. Factory

"A Quality Car at the low-est price in our history" — Jno. N. Willys, President, The Willys-Overland Company

Since the announcement of sensational price reductions the popularity of the perfected Whippet has grown by leaps and bounds. Today four great Willys-Overland plants are being taxed to capacity to meet the demand.

Present light car standards are a tribute to Whippet pioneering. Four-wheel brakes, lower center of gravity, greater economy, greater roominess, quieter engine operation, faster speed and pickup, greater beauty—these are a few of the many advantages in which the Whippet continues to lead today.

Among the many things you will like in the perfected Whippet are improved bodies in a wide range of beautiful colors and fitted with cadet-type visor, full crown fenders, full-pressure lubrication, silent timing chain, gasoline tank in rear, long semi-elliptic springs, oversize (4.75") balloon tires and snubbers, an adjustable steering post, automatic windshield wiper, rear view mirror and stop light.

RURAL TEACHERS OF COUNTY CO-OPERATE WITH FARM BUREAU

Much Interest Being Awakened Among Boys and Girls in Club Work Advantages

Boys' and Girls' club work in Pennington county is getting under way for the year of 1928, according to Robert H. Douglas, county agent, who states that the co-operation of the rural teachers is already proving of assistance, several names of prospective members having been furnished to the farm bureau office the past few days. Special meetings in the school rooms are being held, attended by Mr. Douglas, who has explained the various features in connection with the work.

There are baking, sewing and canning clubs for the girls; sheep, pig, beef cattle and dairy cattle for the boys, and also for the girls if they care to enter.

Baby Beef and Sheep Club.

The banks of the county have offered to co-operate and will sponsor ten baby beevers, if that many club members are secured. The gift is one of the finest projects of the year, it is believed.

"For older boys, from 10 to 16 years of age, and clubs will be organized, and arrangements are being completed this week for the financing of these projects, ten cows to each club member.

Bread Making Under Way

A bread making club was organized recently by Natalie Woodson, and several additional clubs will probably be under way during the month of March. Boys' potato clubs will also be started within the next few weeks.

As soon as sufficient interest has been aroused in the work among the girls Miss Ruth Brown of the University Farm will meet with the various units in the county, and complete the details of the program.

20 MOTORCYCLE POLICE PATROL CANADIAN BORDER

Manitoba has seen fit to add 20 motorcycle police to its mounted force to patrol the boundary between that province and Minnesota and North Dakota, co-operating with the United States border patrol to stop smuggling of liquor and aliens from one country to another.

Cigaret smuggling is going on at a tremendous rate from the United States into Canada, Canada's exorbitant tax on cigarets is very heavy, making the price in Canada for well known makes twice what it is in the states.

Allotment Announced of Dunn One Mill Tax Fund by Highway Department

The State Highway department has issued its annual allotment of funds to the various counties from the Dunn one mill tax fund when the counties comply with certain requirements of the state highway officials. This statement shows the following tax levies for the counties in this section, together with the tax levies for each, namely:

	Tax Levy	Allotment
Pennington	4.7773	19,570
Red Lake	2,331	19,570
Marshall	9,900	19,570
Norman	5,194	19,570
Kittson	8,358	19,570
Clearwater	2,844	19,570
Beltrami	8,874	19,570
Polk	21,159	21,159

Hennepin, Ramsey and St. Louis counties each received $46,000, while their lives are as follows: Hennepin, $235,439; Ramsey, $153,011; St. Louis, $155,900. The total allotted to the various counties is $1,957,000.

The highway department also allotted the sum of $5,000 to Pennington county to be transferred to Beltrami county to be used in the construction of the seven miles on the road to the Red Lake Narrows, the contract for which was announced in The Times of last week. Beltrami was also given $10,000 for this same road, and also $7,000 for state aid road No. 14, running southerly from the Gulden's toward Thorhult.

Beltrami and Lake of the Woods counties were granted $16,576 and $10,251 respectively from the reserve maintenance fund.

OTTER TAIL COUNTY FAIR WILL BE SUMMER EVENT

The Otter Tail County Fair association has decided to change the date of its annual fair from September to the first week in August, which has been the time the Pennington county fair has been held for years. However the Otter Tail fair will start July 30 and conclude Aug. 4. The directors believe that while the general agricultural exhibits will be reduced somewhat, the increase in attendance will more than offset the loss, while better amusements will also be obtainable.

N. W. PARENT EDUCATION AND CHILD HEALTH CONFERENCE

On March 27, 28 and 29 the second Northwest conference for Child Health and Parent Education will be held at the auditorium in Saint Paul. The conference is for child welfare. And child study means the better understanding of the child—physically, mentally, morally, socially. Every day we are thinking of the child as a whole, of all these phases of the child's development as parts of him, dependent upon and related to each other.

Suspenders Were Once Indecent

This week we wish to invite every Man and Boy in this County to drop in and look over our advance showing of Hats and Caps. It is their week, and we have taken pains to see that our stocks of belts, suspenders, garters and shirts are strictly up to date.

While feminine fashions have a bit the best of it today, we find, as we delve into history, that styles in men's wear have an interesting background of romance and tradition.

Consider the suspender in its drab usefulness, and then consider the immoral influences ascribed to it back in 1760 when a sober-faced delegation of Pennsylvania Quakers called on the Rev. Talbot to remonstrate with him for keeping his breeches in place with tape crossed over his shoulders, instead of by the drawstring prescribed by public decency and morals.

This of course is past history, and the problem of "we moderns" is not only to have a clear view of present styles, but to be able to peer just a bit into the future.

RULES GOVERNING THE QUEEN CONTEST

of the

Auto, Electrical and Style Show

At the Auditorium, March 22-23-24

This contest is open to any girl or woman who is properly nominated. Nominations shall be made on the regular blank forms provided for this purpose and must be signed by the person making the nomination.

Each candidate shall receive 1,000 votes upon being nominated.

Admission tickets to the Auto, Style and Electrical Show, selling for 25 cents, shall include a coupon which, when filled out with the name of one of the candidates properly nominated, and delivered to the contest manager, shall count as 100 votes for that candidate.

Nominations to this contest will not be accepted later than Saturday evening, March 17.

Advance sale of admission tickets will be made commencing Saturday, March 3, and all coupons from the advance sale of tickets should be returned to the contest-manager by Wednesday noon, March 21, when, if there are more than five candidates in the race, all but the five candidates who have the highest number of votes will automatically be dropped from the contest.

The progress of the voting will be made by the contest manager from time to time as he shall see fit. During the three days of the Auto, Style and Electrical Show the progress of the voting shall be made public at the Auditorium at regular intervals.

The contest shall be brought to a close at ten o'clock on the evening of the third day of the Show and all ballots, to be counted, must be cast by that hour. The contest manager will arrange for the completion of the counting immediately and as quickly as the results are known they will be announced and the proper awards made.

The contest committee reserves the right to make a final decision in any controversy which may arise, and may change any rule during the progress of the contest as they may deem necessary for the best interests of the contest, providing such action is in no way injurious to any of the candidates or detrimental in any way to the best interests of any one or several of the candidates.

Attractions of Red Lake and Northwestern Part of State Are Described

The Red Lakes are beginning to receive publicity as attractive places for summer tours of autoists, the Sunday Pioneer Press of St. Paul recently carrying quite a story about Minnesota's Summer Playgrounds, in which the following notice of the Red Lakes and North Western Minnesota appeared:

At Red Lake Indian reservation will be found some of the finest virgin timber left in Minnesota. Here will also be found a number of pagan Indians, elder members of the Chipewa tribe, who still follow the religion of their fathers. At the Red Lake and Cass lake are Indian burial grounds, which are usually of interest to the tourists.

Rich Agricultural Region

The northwestern part of the state, better known as the Red River valley, is a rich agricultural region. This territory, once famed throughout the world because of its wheat production, is now rapidly becoming a diversified farming section, and many of the finest herds of cattle in the state are to be found there. This section has its scenic attractions also and the "old Pembina trail," running west and north of Thief River Falls, over a travel route that has always been converted into a modern highway. This old trail, following the shore of Glacial Lake Agassiz, provides a splendid view of the country, especially to the west, where the plains that were once the bed of a great lake gradually toward North Dakota.

CHICAGO GUNMAN THWARTED IN ATTEMPTED HOLD-UP OF FORMER THIEF RIVER MAN

Milford Lallier, son of W. J. Lallier, who is at present located at Valparaiso, Ind., had a rather uncanny experience while recently in Chicago, according to a copy of the Valparaiso Messenger of Valparaiso, which says:

Saturday Milford Lallier, employed at the office of County Surveyor William Northland, visited the city. While walking down West Division street at night, a gunman accosted him, walked out of a dark stairway and pointed a gun at him, with the command to "get them up."

Lallier did "get them up," but in such a manner that the gun went flying out of the yegg's hand. With his weapon gone the fellow did not care to engross Mr. Lallier further. Without losing any time he shoved down the street to a nearby alley and was soon lost to view. Mr. Lallier picked up the gun and brought it back with him as a souvenir of the encounter.

ALEXANDRIA BUSINESS MEN BUY SUNESTONE FOR $2,500

Constant Larson, C. J. Gunderson, J. A. Wedum, J. A. Kutsch, Dr. A. D. Haskell, C. O. Franzen, J. O. Shulind, Earl Anderson, Phil Noonan, and T. A. Syrrud of Alexandria have each donated $250 toward a fund of $2,500 to be given Prof. Roland for the purchase of the Kensington runestone. Prof. Roland needed the money for further scientific research, and the money for the purchase was raised in a few hours. The stone will be kept in Alexandria until a memorial for it has been erected near Kensington.

Slot Machine Salesman Rather Than Proprietor Fined in Wadena County

Wadena county has adopted different methods to put a stop to the use of slot machines than those used in Pennington county, or in Polk county, the sheriff seizing the machines, as was done in the case of Aldrich, bringing them to Wadena, and on the appearance of the traveling representative of the company owning the same by arresting him.

The representative, R. L. Gehlman, was charged with operating the devices for the purpose of inducing persons to gamble thru that medium. The defendant was taken to Perham, where he pleaded guilty to the charge in district court there, receiving a fine of $200, and costs, or 90 days in jail, the fine being suspended while the salesman pays it at the county jail. Chevrolet sedan was left with the sheriff in lieu of the payment.

The latter then learned an order to the sheriff to take the money in the machines and then to destroy them.

In Polk county, it will be remembered, the sheriff and deputies seized the machines and arrested the proprietors of the many resorts where they were located, being fined, in addition to losing the machines. Here the proprietors were not arrested, but rid of the machines, the request of the police being quickly complied with.

NORTHERN STATE BANK OF GONVICK IS AUTHORIZED

A charter was granted recently for the Northern State Bank of Gonvick in Clearwater county by the State Commerce Commission.

It provides for a capital of $20,000 and surplus of $4,000.

C. M. Berg of McIntosh is president and George Stolz of the same city is cashier of the new bank.

An application to start an institution known as the Gonvick State bank with similar capital was withdrawn when the above charter was granted. Gonvick has been without a bank for several months following the closing of two banks there during the past few years.

"U" EXPELS 13 FOR REFUSING TO DRILL

Thirteen students at the University of Minnesota have been expelled from school during the winter quarter for failure to attend drill, it was announced today. Expulsions, however, are fewer than last year, according to Mary P. Skinner, assistant dean of student affairs.

The practice of dropping students from the rolls because of their disinclination for drill was started two years ago. Non-attendance in any other department is not punishable by expulsion.

ANGUS STEER GROOMED FOR PENNINGTON FAIR

Prize Animal Carefully Fed and Housed Daily Till It Was Finally Sold

The accompanying picture of Natalie Woodson and her prize winning Angus steer, that brought her over $250 at the Junior Livestock show at South St. Paul last fall, is reproduced thru the courtesy of the Farmstead, Stock and Home of Minneapolis. Natalie has for several years been one of the most active 4-H club workers in the county and the following letter to Frank B. Hubert, managing editor of the above mentioned publication, in reply to his request for a brief history of her club work, is full of interest:

In Club Work 9 Years

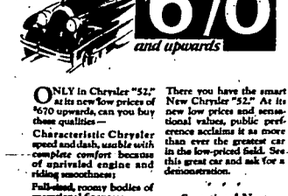
Editor Farmstead: Nine years ago, I joined the 4-H junior club of Pennington County. After trying the Guernsey cattle, poultry, sewing, judging projects each several times, I became aware of the fact that I had missed the main event of intensive importance in the form of the Junior Livestock Show held annually at South St. Paul. I was assured that I could enroll in the baby beef or pig club, and compete for a free trip to this wonderful exposition.

Two weeks ago the crew of men under Street Commissioner H. O. Hoff had sanded and sleed the nearly 40 miles of sidewalks in the city, only a few spots of which were left the end of a week ago Sunday. The next day the walks were bare, and the sun, which was left behind, and the crew at once started in to cover them with gravel and cinders. The storm of the past two days again did away with the safety provided, the gravel and cinders lying under the water which froze in a sheet over a rough and ready walk which was appreciated by pedestrians. Another day or two of warm weather will probably remove all snow and ice from the walks.

CHOCOLATE MANUFACTURER'S SON DIES AT STRATHCONA

Merne B. Hershey, 60 years, a bachelor who has resided near Strathcona for many years, was found dead in bed by his assistant on the farm one day last week, the coroner pronouncing death due to heart trouble.

The deceased came to this section of the state a long time ago, purchasing the farm which he improved, and which he made a success, according to his neighbors. Most of the time he had a housekeeper and a man assistant, and always had plenty of substantial feed for his cattle and horses.



A brother and two sisters survive at Mahum, Pa., whence he came to Minnesota and where he will be buried. He came from one of the oldest families in that portion of Lancaster settling in Pennsylvania on a land grant received from William Penn. He was also a cousin of the Hershey chocolate manufacturer, according to those who knew him intimately.

SNOW AND ICE ARE FAST DISAPPEARING THIS WEEK

The mild weather Sunday and Monday necessitated some quick action on the part of the city's street department to open up the catch basins in the business section, and the culverts in the residence section of the city. The business section was the worst care of Monday and on Tuesday the worst places in the outlying portions were cared for.

WE BELIEVE

"Any man or woman who is making the best of himself or herself is as noble as the noblest."

"YES" PEOPLE

You have them. Everyone has a "yes" person on his list of intimate acquaintances; but very few think of them as such. You know, a "yes" person is one who agrees with every thing you say, whether he believes that way or not—merely for the sake of peace or what? A person truly interested in the activities of the life around him enjoys and welcomes competition—competition not only in business and the like, but in thoughts and ideas as well. Therefore the striving, "variety is the spice of life," should be changed to "competition is the spice of life." "Yes" people are always passing up one of the most helpful things in life—an argument. It is easy to change from a "yes" to a "stand-up-for-your-own thoughts" person. Don't be afraid to say what you believe; and if you don't agree with the ideas of others, say no, that to be true. Nothing can breed a lie!

THE GREATEST ASSET

The greatest asset for any community is its public school system.

It is an accepted fact that regardless of wells, factories, mines, power plants, cotton fields or any other factor of prosperity.

Why is this true?

Several logical reasons might be named but the most important one is this. The public schools of the world are the places where world history is being shaped, because the boys and girls who are being educated there will in years to come become more important than kings or presidents, for they will make kings and choose presidents. That power will be theirs because since the World War, suffrage has become almost universal.

Coming closer home it is true that the boys and girls now in our schools, who will be the citizens of the future, will determine the character of our state, our cities, and our local communities.

Facing this fact it is important that we give our schools the most liberal support possible, that we back the faithful teachers in their work, and that we encourage and direct our children to make the most of the wonderful opportunities for education provided by the modern public school system.

Every community should co-operate in making its school not merely a potential asset but a realized, effective asset—Lavaca's Weekly.

Progress Exchange List Embraces Other Papers

In conjunction with the Progress work many papers from other schools find their way into Lincoln, some of which offer great aid in the school newspaper work.

The Northern Spotlight, from Bemidji, Minnesota; College of Pharmacy Arts, Minneapolis; The Mirror, Boise, Idaho, from the Augsburg Seminary, Minneapolis; the Milwaukee Journal, State Teachers' College, of Manitou Messenger, from St. Olaf College, Northfield; the Cathedrals, from the Cathedral of Christina College, Northfield; the Mirror, Weekly, Mankato, Minn. Paul's Weekly, from the Hamline Oracle, from Hamline University, St. Paul; the Gustavus Adolphus Weekly, from the Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter; the Orange and Black, from Grand Forks; Holt has entered the Tenth grade.

Hillites' Mentorian, from the Newell Central High School, Minneapolis; and Junior Hi-Life, Pulpwood Hi-Life, Long Beach, California.

Besides these exchanges there are also on the list a number of school papers within the state, some of these high in Minnesota and the neighboring states.

Washington Day Observed In Speech by Senator

Senator Lynn F. Naplin, the first woman senator of Minnesota, and successor to her husband, the late Senator Oscar A. Naplin, honored the high school assembly last Wednesday by recommending the birthday of George Washington.

Mrs. Naplin chose "Self-Control" as the phase of the great man's life which she based her address.

In outlining the life of George Washington, Mrs. Naplin brought many interesting facts hitherto unknown to the students, such as that the name, George Washington, takes up the most space in history.

She also brought out the fact that the name of this leader is understood by human beings; always being universal simply as "George Washington," with no titular word preceding it.

Self-control, one of the most important factors in making a successful career, was shown to have been predominant all through Washington's life, especially at Valley Forge, with all circumstances against him, did Washington pursue his self-control.

"No man ever bore his colors more bravely than he," said Mrs. Naplin, "George Washington lived one day at a time, living that day honestly, to the world."

THIEF RIVER IS ONLY TEAM THAT IS UNDEFEATED

Annual Tournament of First District Starts This Afternoon in Auditorium

With Thief River Falls boasting of the only thousand per cent team in the district the annual basketball tournament, to determine the champion of District No. 1 opens Thursday afternoon. The district committee has completed all final arrangements and everything is now in readiness to stage the greatest basketball festival ever witnessed in the northern part of Minnesota. The Auditorium has been equipped with regular bleachers to accomodate the huge crowds; the Boys' Band is all primed to enliven the fans with snappy music during the halves and intermission, the business manager of the Prowler reports that an added force of salesmen will be added to the regular force to aid in satisfying the fanish, swarming fans with cool, delicious Eskimo Pies, real, but not too real, the Thief River Falls Whippets are limbering themselves to get into action and capture the championship trophy.

Frank Cliff, director of athletics at Concordia College, has been engaged as referee with Ty Reed of the University of North Dakota as his assistant. Enthusiastic fans from nine towns in northern Minnesota can be arranging their teams to this city to witness this basketball classic.

At 2:30 p. m. this afternoon, Middle River as champion of the district high school tournament will play the lowest ranking district team, which happens to be Warren.

At 3:30 Roseau clashes with Hallock in the second game of the tournament.

Stephen meets Hallock at 4:30 to conclude the afternoon's program of games.

The evening at 7:30 Warren meets the winner of the first game, which in all probability will be Middle River.

Thief River's team first appears on the floor at 8:30, when they meet Argyle.

On Friday morning at 9 a. m. the winner of the second game meets the winner of game number three. Then according to the dope as worked out on a basis of relative standings of the teams, Roseau will play Stephen and be defeated.

At eleven o'clock the winner of game number four meets the winner of the fifth game. This game will be a good one if Thief River Falls does not run the probable contestants.

At 7:30 Friday evening there will be a consolation game between the loser of game six and the loser of game seven. It is expected that Roseau will meet Warren in this contest. Of course, anything may happen so it is hard to say who really is potential asset but a realized, effective asset—Lavaca's Weekly.

CHEMISTRY ACCIDENT

Eldine Johnson returned to school Monday morning after an absence of one week due to an accident in the chemistry laboratory. Eldine was hurt by the scattering of sulphuric acid. The acid was eye sore slightly injured, but she has recovered nicely.

WASHINGTON NOTES

On Friday the second A established a banner class record when every pupil made a perfect spelling test.

Those who made a perfect spelling test were:

The first and second grades were put together in a program for Washington's birthday Friday afternoon.

Mrs. C. H. Jung visited the fourth and fifth grades on Friday.

Carlton Peterson visited the fourth grade Friday afternoon.

Miss Ethel Swanson, Lucy Warner and Viola Lofteen.

The subjects for the debates were similar to those used in the English II classes. They were: Capital Punishment, Immigration, High School Dances, New Gymnasium, versus Paved Roads, and Whether the Student or the School Should Furnish Text Books.

Seventy Six Girls in Home Economics Class

The Home Economics department has an enrollment of seventy-six; the year began with sixty girls enrolled in the Home Economics I class and sixteen girls in the Home Economics II class.

The aim of this department is to make it just as practical as possible, to the first problem of the Home Economics II class was the construction of a woolen dress. The woolen dresses were followed by silk dresses. The remaining weeks of the first semester were spent on remodelling dresses, principles of design and color in dress, art, and textiles were studied.

Girls Taught Home Life.

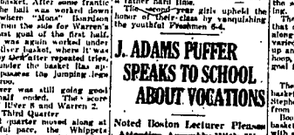
This semester, three pupils are studying meal planning and serving. Stress is placed on nutrition and selection of food. For practical experience, these girls are serving luncheons and dinners.

The second semester sewing class is studying clothing budgets. Also each girl is making a complete girls' outfit.

This year, the seventh and eighth grade course has been somewhat reorganized, in that, it is not merely a cooking class. The work is all varied the planning of meals is added to the girls as better helpers in the home. Their work is divided into the following unit: housekeeping, child care, general care, girl's problems and health care.

Near the close of the school year, an exhibition of the sewing articles will be given. The work of the sewing classes and the Home Economic's club will be represented.

U. Scholarships To Be Given As Prizes In Chemistry



Themes for the First Prize Essay contest were announced last month by the members of the chemistry classes. In this annual State wide test any student of chemistry in the United States, Philippine Islands, Porto Rico, Hawaii, and Alaska is eligible.

It will be remembered that Ward Mathewson received first prize on his theme, Relation of Chemistry to Health and Disease, two years ago. This was a great achievement for the theme, namely: The Relation of Chemistry to Health and Disease, Home, Industry, Agriculture, Conservation and Enrichment of Life, and Forestry.

The prize consists of a four year University Scholarship, each to provide tuition and $500 annually.

It is expected that several of the students will try and compete with those in the state.

It takes five hundred men five days to coal a liner the size of the Olympic.

LINCOLN LITES—THE TOURNAMENT

WARREN'S DEFEAT IS LINCOLN NOTCH IN TOURNAMENT GUN

Dablow Holds Bomrson to One Field Goal In Each Half of Game

The Whippets again proved superior to the Warren high quint when they defeated them at the count of 20 to 10 on the local auditorium floor last Friday night. The crowd was in a pitch of excitement, wondering how Warren would come through, but as a whole, the game ran along at an even pace. The bleachers erected for the district tournament accommodated the largest crowd of the season.

This is the eighth consecutive victory of the Lincoln high quint and their second win of the season over Warren.

First Quarter

Right from the tossup the locals showed their ability at keeping possession of the ball. The boys took turns at playing ball around, while their team mates worked through Warren's zone defense to get clear for a pass and try at the hoop. Hayden was finally successful and sank a clean shot from the side, making the score 2 and 0. Thief River leading at the end the first quarter.

Second Quarter

After the opening of the second quarter Hip Dablow, the cool-headed sophomore guard, took the ball on a bounce off the backboard and cinched two more points with a field goal. Warren made another prepared foul, even Bomrson, their crack basket shooter, was powerless to come clear for a shot.

Orv made a nice toss which spun out of the basket. After some frantic jumping, the ball was worked down the floor where "Mose" Bomrson shot it in from the side for Warren's first and last goal of the first half.

The ball was again worked under the Thief River basket, where it was hooked in by Goodkriter repeated tries in action under the basket has appeared to possess the jumping jinx of a kangaroo.

Thief River was still going good when the half ended. The score stood Thief River 8 and Warren 2.

Third Quarter

The third quarter moved along at an unusually pace, the Whippets adding only two more points on free throws, one by Roomer Dablow, and the other by Stan Severson. A foul on Bomrser gave Warren chance to score their first point on a goal.

John Arnold substituted for Bomrser and Hayden for Stricklahd.

Ras Orv worried the Warren quint so that they were hard put to keep possession of the ball what little time they had it. Orv made a few passes to them no time, rushing the ball and keeping it in play. The third quarter ended with Thief River well in the lead at 10 and 3.

Fourth Quarter

The fourth quarter found Warren on the offensive. Urged on by the shouts and cheers of the Warren fans they made hard drives down the floor but were always brought back, hopes up when he clicked to a side shot.

Hip Dablow came through with a field from the center that was fouled. The field goal was called off and he was given two free throws, both being successful.

Russ Thomas, Warren's center, was also given two free throws but both fell short.

Homer Dablow reentered the game for Arnold and immediately called time out.

The Warren fans were given something to yell about when the Whippets rang up another three more field goals. After a try by Sons, Orv got the ball under the basket and shoved it through for two points, Ericson added two more with a difficult shot from the side. Hip Dablow endeavored to check the pass but Homer Dablow tore loose, grabbed it, and completed a nursing-up hook.

Warren finally did get the ball under her basket and Boardson backed it through the hoop.

This was her last much for Hip, the youngest Dablow brother, who came riding down the side with the speed of a Whippet, received a pass from Orv and dribbled in to drop the ball thru, making the count 19-7, Thief River leading.

Warren countered with a field goal when Thomas dropped the ball in from near the black line.

Roomly Ericson, as usual, had charted the scoring and new put the finishing touches on with a free throw.

Playing kept its even pace as before, Warren making but one more field goal before the game ended. Warren's playing was much superior during the last few days of practice and drive they raised at the basket all fell short or bounced off the backboard.

The game ended with the Whippets leading all the count of 20 and 10.

Mr. Dw (calling Wabash 6032): "Hello, hello, is this the boxoffice?"

Voice at other end, "We-ell, yes. It's the undertaker!"

Sophomores Are Leading In Interclass Basketball

As a result of the inter-class games played last week, the Sophomore boys' team has the only 1000 per cent team of the tournament thus far in the boys' class, having won two games and lost none. In the girls' interclass basketball the Sophomores superior ability and hold a 1000 per cent record with two victories and no defeats. The Junior and Senior boys' teams are tied with .500 per cent standings while the Frosh have suffered two defeats with no victories. The Junior and Sophomore girls' teams are also tied with .500 per cent records. The Freshmen girls have a rank of .000.

Extra Period Played

The games on Tuesday, Feb. 21, were the snappiest of all games played thus far. The Junior boys were pitted against the Seniors in a contest full of interest and excitement. At the end of the first half the Juniors were ahead 11-5. During the second half the Seniors crept up and tied the score. During the last quarter the score was running very close with one team ahead for a minute then the other. When the whistle blew at the end of the fourth quarter, the score stood 17-17. An extra period was played to break the tie. During this period the Juniors caged two free throws, while the Seniors caged two, but in addition, scored a free throw, giving them the victory by one point, the final score being 21-22.

On the same day the Senior girls won by a 21-17 score from the Juniors. The game was a real battle from start to finish, the Juniors giving the older girls plenty of stiff opposition all the time.

The Sophomores boys won their second victory on Thursday of last week when they defeated the Frosh 9-4. The Sophomores displayed a strong attack which gave the younger boys a rather hard time.

The second year girls upheld the honor of their class by vanquishing the youthful Freshmen 6-4.

J. ADAMS PUFFER SPEAKS TO SCHOOL ABOUT VOCATIONS

Noted Boston Lecturer Pleases Attentive Assembly With His Straightforward Address

At the Monday assembly the student body was honored by J. Adams Puffer, author, lecturer, and director of the Boseen Boys' Bureau, of Boston, Massachusetts.

Mr. Puffer began by asking, "Are you in the right place?" This was followed by a short but interesting and effective discussion relating to the difficulty of finding the right place.

The poor boy, and don't let any man think that he does not exist, cannot do," said Mr. Puffer. Three points were stressed: "Work, be on your guard against getting started wrong, second, talk with counselors; third, put to use the experience in life."

Beneficial Reading Advised

Under the first point, he was advised that the student body read history in the form of biographies, especially the early lives of the following: Lincoln, Washington, Franklin, Roosevelt, Edison, Burbank, Billy Sunday, Garfield, and Helen Keller. Mr. Puffer advised the study of Franklin and Roosevelt as the most beneficial to high school students.

Interest and ability, promoted by experience, was brought out in the second place. According to him the student should develop the right attitude toward his work, and have a wide experience in earning, mechanics, salesmanship, office work, and professions.

Learn How to Converse

In the second words of Mr. Puffer, "learn the art of conversation. Be able to meet people and talk with them. Learn to converse, don't talk! Don't run around with the same person day after day. Cultivate many acquaintances. One of the biggest problems in the business world is the inability to get along with people."

Mr. Puffer's fourth was the straightforward, clearly defined, and with common-sense thread in short, it contained good food for thought.

Two Girls From Here on Honor Roll at Concordia

From The Concordian, an exchange paper, the information was gained that Goldie Gunderson of this city is keeping up her high scholastic record at Concordia college, Moorhead, which she is now attending. She has earned the distinction of being placed second in a group of ten honor students chosen from the Freshmen class. Goldie Gunderson is the woman's Prowler editor and a secretary of the Y. W. C. A. at the college.

Other names of interest on the Freshmen honor roll are Marie Sellwood and Lloyd Bloom of St. Hilaire, Mildred Simonson, valedictorian of the class of '27, numbering 90 students, was named as a junior honor student.

STEPHEN TEAM WAS EASY PREY BEFORE FAST LOCAL QUINT

Final Game of Season Played Tuesday Night Was Far From Spectacular

The Whippets chalked up another easy victory, when they met and defeated the Stephen high basketball team at the count of 28 and 13 on the local auditorium floor, Tuesday, February 28. This is the second victory the Whippets have won over Stephen, the first being played on the Stephen floor.

Using a criss-cross offense formation the Stephen quint endeavored to work the ball down the middle of the floor but were generally messed up when they struck the local defense.

Visitors Easily Bewitzed

The feinting and pivot tactics of the locals deceived the visitors and usually caught them flat-footed. Advantage was taken of this when Hip Dablow made a feint and passed to Snue, who dribbled in for a hook shot. Fast passing kept the ball in Thief River's possession most of the time, the basket tossing was shared by all the Whippets.

The Stephen boosters did most of their shooting from the middle of the floor but completed the greater part of their score from under the basket. Captain Hare, their left guard, completed two from under the basket in the first half.

Work Like Warren Game

Captain Ericson slipped in a nice side shot and Hip Dablow completed a nice running up hook. Postal substituting for Severson clicked in a neat shot from the foul line, making the score 12 to 3, Thief River leading.

The third quarter was similar to that of the Warren game, running plays at a rapid fire. Homer Dablow varied the playing a little by coming up and dropping the ball through the hoop, and Orv repeated with a field goal from the foul line.

Scores In Last Quarter

The Whippets began to find the basket more in the last quarter and Stephen made some good trys, mostly from the middle of the floor.

Roomer made a long try at the basket, followed it in, and made good with a short shot, and Arnold slipped through from the foul line without touching the rim.

Stephen completed their first shot from the middle floor in the last game when Pagnac, their right guard, dropped it through without touching the rim.

The ball was worked up and down the floor but Stephen was unable to score when they got near their own basket.

Arnold caught them off their feet for their last field goal from the floor about the middle and hocked it in from the foul line.

Stephen netted another shot from the middle of the floor just before the whistle blew, the score standing Thief River 28, Stephen 13.

Budget Contest in Typing Indicates Talent at Keys

The members of the typing class have completed their second budget. This is the result of the daily work of the students from the first part of December up to the present time.

In the last budget contest Marcella Peterson was awarded first place with a percentage of 98 accuracy; Agnes Peterson was second with 97%, and Josephine Nakonen third, with 96%. These percentages figure show that a long time has been spent in preparation. There were sixteen other students having an average of 90% or above. While these figures are not the highest, they are deserving of credit and attention.

All the typing students competed in the contest in check the points the budgets. Miss Krueger and Mr. Puffer, typing instructors, judged the cover design contest agreed for the best design.

First, Fred Frederickson; Second, Marville Gunderson; and third, Reuben Hanson. The design submitted by the first was very original.

The central figure the soldiers cleverly typed by the student

Failure to Hang Up May Block Your Telephone Door

When your telephone receiver is off the hook your "telephone door" is blocked and people All-telephone calls to you.

If the receiver remains off the hook for some time the operator will conclude that your line is out of order and will switch it from the regular switchboard to the testboard for inspection.

During this time you will be unable to receive or make calls, thus causing inconvenience to yourself and those who wish to call you.

You will help in our effort to provide you with the best possible service by always hanging up the receiver when through talking and making sure that it is all the way down.

Six Subjects Form Debate Material for Sophomores

As principles of debating are one at a time, or class, English II debates were held several weeks ago and were carried out in a very successful manner. Last week similar debates were given in English II classes. The same procedure that high school debaters use was followed.

Members of the Junior English classes were selected as the judges of these debates, Judging, like debating, helps the student pick up the most important facts of articles. The judging, according to Miss Stenerson, was very thorough and complete. Each judge criticized the material and delivery of the debaters, and gave the best points about each of the constructive speeches.

Those chosen as judges were: Elenora Bowers, Douglas Boeren, Harry Severson, Magna Haugen, Otto Stenberg, George Aanstad, Mildred Tvedaas, Clarence Sands, Bernice Loftness, William Froehlich, Elsie Hoefark, Theresa Amon, Selma Steen, Willie Erickson, Anne Knutson, Hilmer Ethel Swanson, Lucy Warner and Viola Lofteen.

The subjects for the debates were similar to those used in the English II classes. They were: Capital Punishment, Immigration, High School Dances, New Gymnasium, versus Paved Roads, and Whether the Student or the School Should Furnish Text Books.

Seventy Six Girls in Home Economics Class

The Home Economics department has an enrollment of seventy-six; the year began with sixty girls enrolled in the Home Economics I class and sixteen girls in the Home Economics II class.

The aim of this department is to make it just as practical as possible, to the first problem of the Home Economics II class was the construction of a woolen dress. The woolen dresses were followed by silk dresses. The remaining weeks of the first semester were spent on remodelling dresses, Principles of design and color in dress, art, and textiles were studied.

Girls Taught Home Life.

This semester, three pupils are studying meal planning and serving. Stress is placed on nutrition and selection of food. For practical experience, these girls are serving luncheons and dinners.

The second semester sewing class is studying clothing budgets. Also each girl is making a complete girls' outfit.

This year, the seventh and eighth grade course has been somewhat reorganized, in that, it is not merely a cooking class. The work is all varied the planning of meals is added to the girls as better helpers in the home. Their work is divided into the following unit: housekeeping, child care, general care, girl's problems and health care.

Near the close of the school year, an exhibition of the sewing articles will be given. The work of the sewing classes and the Home Economic's club will be represented.

U. Scholarships To Be Given As Prizes In Chemistry

Themes for the First Prize Essay contest were announced last month by the members of the chemistry classes. In this annual State wide test any student of chemistry in the United States, Philippine Islands, Porto Rico, Hawaii, and Alaska is eligible.

It will be remembered that Ward Mathewson received first prize on his theme, Relation of Chemistry to Health and Disease, two years ago. This was a great achievement for the theme, namely: The Relation of Chemistry to Health and Disease, Home, Industry, Agriculture, Conservation and Enrichment of Life, and Forestry.

The prize consists of a four year University Scholarship, each to provide tuition and $500 annually.

It is expected that several of the students will try and compete with those in the state.

It takes five hundred men five days to coal a liner the size of the Olympic.

PRODUCT OF SOIL PANELS SPEEDING ON TO ENGRAVERS

New Year-Book To Be Larger, More Complete and More Compact

What is a dummy? In the grader it was the unfortunate dumb-bell of the class. In high school parlance, however, it is the 1928 Prowler in its inclement form, before the printer has put on the final touches, making it a beautiful and interesting year-book.

The dummy for the coming annual Product of the Soil, has been assuming dimensions of late. Proofs of the four introductory pages, which are to be embellished by scenes outlined in etchings, have been returned by the Minneapolis engravers. The returns from the Senior photo panels and faculty memberships have received and mounted last week.

In connection with the agricultural theme of the book the head and tail pieces were drawn in representatively a typical modern farm in black and white, and a field plowing scene, both of which are artistically silhouetted and very striking in design.

Some Excellent Photos

Pictures were numerously called upon by the editor and advisor recently, for all extra-curricular afternoon was devoted to panel photos. With few more left, all the organization groups and activities will be completed. The staff, advisor, this department is planning this year than in former years. There remain a dozen pages of faculty memberships. The pleasant weather of recent days has made the work of this department speed up, so that now the material is well assembled for pages of; essays, inseparable students, faculty members, arranged to represent popular books, vacation days, and the additional pages of Thief River Falls society all of which is, of course, original student photography.

As stated previously, one of the chief faults of school annuals is the failure to carry the books through to a finished conclusion. The Product of the Soil has only four months' administration and Faculty; Classes; school life, which includes the athletic records, activities, organizations and social events of Lincoln High; and Hush—wherein will be found all kinds of cartoons, and features—material. Yet these four books embody every phase of school life yet made these pages of Boys' and Girls' interclass basketball, and meet dances, giving mention to the yuletide festivities, commencement, artists, and Josten winners of 1926-27, have been outlined.

No Surplus Copies Ordered

The 1928 Prowler is being given much attention, in the present plan to make it the best of its kind ever produced. By present indications of the hearty interest the staff is exhibiting, it fids fair to reach its mark. And since there can be no surplus manufacturing annuals that will not sell, only the number actually sold will be printed this year. Any and all alumni are therefore urged to signify their intention during the month by simply sending to the Prowler Staff a card with his address on it—the minimum of inconvenience.

Central and Washington At Front in Basketball

By defeating the Northrop team last Friday in a closely contested game, the Central eagers added another victory to their credit and the Washington school was tied with Central for the city championship, with no defeats. This school team, which was idle last week has a percentage of .333 while the Northrop team has a percentage of .250.

The eighth grade team climbed from a .500 per cent record to a percentage of .833 when they defeated the St. Bernard School team by a 12-11 score. The Seventh grade still occupies the upper berth with a 1000 per cent record. So far the St. Bernard team has been getting the short end of the scores of all games played, having lost four games and won none.

FARMERS MAY HUNT WILD ANIMALS, ETC WITHOUT LICENSE

Game Wardens Will Not Make Arrests Where Farmers Are Protecting Livestock

Quite a few persons have misconstrued items in a various newspapers regarding the new regulations as to having a license if one carries a gun. Several farmers have objected to the new regulations, claiming that under the same they cannot even kill hawks that are stealing chickens on their own farms. This matter was brought to the attention of J. F. Gould, state game and fish commissioner, who has issued the following statement:

"Game below a part of Section 1 of Chapter 476, Laws 1927:

"No person shall kill, take or attempt to take by any manner any wild animal, or engage in hunting, pursuing or trapping for the purpose of taking any wild quadruped or bird, or engage in fishing for the purpose of taking any fish, without first obtaining a license from the County Auditor of County Fish or trapper, provided in this act, unless otherwise specifically provided by law."

"Any owner or proprietor of any farm and his bona fide employees on such farm or his tenants may kill, take or attempt to take by any manner any wild animal or bird which destroys or injures his property on his own premises, and certainly this department does not intend that the farmers and other citizens to protect their property at all times against the depredations of either protected or unprotected wild animals."

"Furthermore, any game warden who might arrest a farmer or other citizen while engaged in the protection of his property from the depredations of wild animals would be discharged forthwith, and so far as I know and believe no farmer or other citizen has ever had any just cause for complaint over the treatment accorded him by the field men of this department."

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL OF AGED NEW SOLUM PIONEER

The funeral of Mrs. Karie Ranum who died at the Thief River Falls sanatorium on Tuesday, Feb. 21, took place at the Hindal cemetery Saturday afternoon with Rev. F. E. Tongeth officiating. Short talks were also given by Rev. Aug. Bredson, former pastor at Hindal, and Rev. Mostue. Erickson and Lund of Thief River Falls had charge of the singing. A large gathering were present to pay their last respects to the deceased.

Mrs. Ranum was born in Norway 67 years ago, and was married there to Mr. Gravelly who later died after they had emigrated to America and were making their home in Michigan. In 1905 Mrs. Ranum came to this place and took up a homestead northeast of town and where she later married Knut Ranum, who died about three years ago. To mourn are two daughters, Mrs. Chas. Swarts of Grand Falls, Montana, and Mrs. Carl Dahlin of Euclid, from the first marriage; and Mrs. Geo. Steiner of Grand Forks, Fred Ranum also of Grand Forks, and Otto Ranum of this place. Relatives attending the funeral were Mr and Mrs. S Olson and Arthur Olson, and Mr. Clara Hanson of Viking, Fred Ranum of Grand Forks, Mrs. Geo Steiner of Grand Forks, Mrs. Carl Dahlin of Angus, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ranum of Thief River Falls.

Mrs. Ranum was one of the pioneer women homesteaders of New Solum township and was a strong supporter of the Roalal congregation and was a friend of all. Besides the immediate relatives in the community, she has been confined to the Thief River Falls sanatorium for about two years suffering from a bronchial infection.

A number of logs have been hauled already and sawing may commence early next week or Thursday of this week. As there has been no lumber sawing done here for a few years past several farmers have this winter taken advantage of the low winter and have cut considerable timber for that purpose.

Rev. F. L. Lindholm arrived here on Thursday evening from Warren and will occupy the Swedish Mission church in the evening. He spent Friday and Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bloom, leaving on Friday evening for Thief River Falls where he was further scheduled to speak at several meetings.

Mrs. John Swenson left on Tuesday evening for Thief River Falls for a few days visit at the Helmer Oen home and with other relatives and friends.

P. E. Helgeset left on Tuesday evening for Thief River Falls to have dental work done and to visit at the home of his son, C. E. Helgeset for a few days.

Clara and Alma Thoreson returned home this week from International Falls where they have been employed the last month. Miss Gunda Mattson who has been employed at the Dr. Nesse home at Thief River Falls has also returned here.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Ranum last Thursday. Mrs. Clara Hanson of Viking is staying at the John Ranum home to assist with the housework for some time.

The Woodmen danced at the hall last Saturday evening but not a very large crowd turned out.

Miss Helen Anderson spent the weekend with her home folks at Thief River Falls.

Fred Ranum of Grand Forks spent last week here building with relatives and friends and also attending his mother's funeral on Thursday.

Mrs. Johnnie Nybro spent a few days of last week visiting with Mrs. Ed Nordhagen.

The Swedish Young Peoples society will hold a sale of lunch at the church next Saturday evening, March 3, and services at 10:30 a. m. and at 8 p. m. on Sunday, March 4th. Rev. Werner Dodds will speak. On Friday evening, March 2, Rev. Dr. E. L. Tengwall of Thief River Falls will preach his second Lenten service on Behold the Lamb of God, at the Swedish church. He will that evening also answer a number of questions that have been presented in writing to him by members of the congregation. Everybody is welcome to attend these meetings.

Taking of Muskrats Must Conform to Regulations.

Quite a few people locally are pleased over the announcement of Governor Theodore Christianson of an open season on muskrats from March 20 to April 10, for it will give those inclined to trapping an opportunity to secure some of these pelts, which now bring fairly good prices. Muskrat skins are graded by local buyers at from 50 cents to $3.50, depending on color and quality.

The muskrat season has been closed for the past four years, and it is reported that the animals are now quite plentiful as the result of this protection.

Deputy Game Warden Forster states that there is some confusion regarding the exact salary, permitting the taking of the rats this spring. The following is published for the purpose of further enlightening trappers on the subject.

Trapping in muskrat houses is permitted with certain restrictions. Openings made in muskrat houses for inserting or removing traps must be sealed. Traps must not be placed under the ice nor in the open water or in runways or channels used by muskrats. Trapping is the only method permitted for taking muskrats.

WARREN WINNER OF TOURNAMENT HELD LAST WEEK

Victory Snatched From Local Team in Extra Period During Semi Finals

STEPHEN AND ROSEAU ALSO GOOD CONTENDERS

Attendance at All Games an Indication of Intense Interest in Basketball

The Warren basketball team was awarded the honor of winning the championship of the first district tournament held here last week, March 1 and 2, defeating Middle River Thursday night in the preliminary game and then snatching victory from Thief River Falls in the semi finals Friday forenoon; and finally wresting the final game from Stephen that evening.

The team which had gone thru the entire season without a single defeat at the hands of a district team, easily defeated Argyle in the preliminary events, but failed to score at the critical time in the extra period at the close of the fourth quarter. In consolation play Friday night Thief River's team ran up the highest score of any game during the tournament in defeating Roseau.

East Grand Forks to Play Warren for Second Game at Crookston This Evening

Several Thief River people will accompany the local basketball team to Crookston this afternoon to witness the regional tournament to be staged there this afternoon and Friday night, the team making the trip at the expense of twenty business men of the city who have been championing the cause of the local aggregation.

The games will be played on the floor of the Crookston armory, and some fast basketball playing will be witnessed. The first game, between Moorhead, winners of the third district, and Bemidji, champions of the fourth, is slated to start at 3 o'clock. The second game will follow at nine and Warren, winners in the first district will clash with East Grand Forks, which won first place in the second district.

The finals are arranged for Friday night at nine o'clock, the consolation game between the two losing teams tonight, playing at eight o'clock.

G. Gustafson & Son announce today the annual spring opening and entertainment of their farmer friends and customers for Tuesday, March 20, including a machinery and tractor display. Chevrolet auto showing, motion picture and a free hot lunch at noon.

The warehouse will be heated for the occasion affording a cozy place for those attending the demonstrations therein. The International Harvester company will have its representative present to explain the features of power farming.

The program of events will start promptly at ten o'clock and there will be plenty of busy days Dave Gustafson, the remainder of the day.

Second Dog Race Was Run Down Town Last Saturday

People who hope sel to be down town last Saturday afternoon witnessed a second dog race on Third street from the Soo depot to Main street, the dogs making the initial start, and thrice being declared the winners, sharing alike in the $25 prize money. The boys whose dogs won the race are Jimmie Warner, John Munt, and Elmer Hellquist.

When the two boys and their dogs lined up for the start Jack Bernhardt admonished the boys to give the dogs all possible freedom and not to attempt to lead them. It required four heats to decide the winner; Alvin Holstrom for Ladies' aid; Frank Smith acting as judges.

A race is scheduled for Saturday of this week at Warren and it is quite possible that dogs from here and Middle River will be entered in the race.

STATE HEAD OF W. C. T. U. HERE OVER WEEK END

Mrs. Sizer to Speak Saturday Night and Sunday Afternoon and Evening

Mrs. Josephine E. Sizer, state president of the Minnesota Women's Temperance Union, will arrive here Saturday and Sunday in this city, holding three meetings during the two days. Beginning January and February speaking in the Twin Cities, a district meeting was held at Fergus Falls on Tuesday of this week. An all day institute is being held today, Thursday, in Crookston.

The first of the local meetings will be a banquet this afternoon at three o'clock in the Presbyterian church for women of the W. C. T. U. and children. Mrs. Sizer is hopeful of starting at that time a Loyal Temperance Legion for the children of Thief River Falls.

On Sunday afternoon at three o'clock Mrs. Sizer will speak in the auditorium, which has been secured for the occasion, the public at large is invited to attend and hear the state temperance worker. The purpose of this world wide organization, on Sunday evening Mrs. Sizer will speak at the Methodist Episcopal church and the public is also cordially invited to these services.

While in the city she will be entertained at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. E. Schelberg, 518 Main Avenue North. While here Mrs. Sizer will go to St. Hilaire for a Saturday night meeting and Holt to hold a similar meeting on Monday, thence to Erskine for a meeting on March 16 and in Duluth the three following days.

Farmers' Day Will Be Feature of Rotarian Meeting Next Tuesday

John W. Black will be the speaker of the evening at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club Tuesday night next week, March 13, starting at 6:30 o'clock. The meeting has been designated as "Farmers' Day" and each member of the Rotary club is asked to bring a farmer as his guest for the occasion, an invitation also being extended to Commercial club members to join with the Rotarians and also bring a farmer friend.

County Agent Robert M. Douglas and Vocational Agriculture Director W. W. Cheney, representative of the Bureau federalists, with the aid of a number of reels of motion picture showing will be the latter part of next week, will be present at the weekly thereafter till each community has been the host. The dates and places will be announced in the Times next week.

N. DAK. "E" INSTRUCTOR TO SPEAK AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Miss Anita Landgere, art instructor in the public schools of North Dakota, will speak at the March meeting of the Womans club in the Commercial club rooms Monday evening at eight o'clock, her topic to be "Art in the Home." The Womans club chorus will give two musical selections during the program and two of Mrs. A. Dahlen's pupils, Dorothy Billy and Grace Jahr, will present a violin selection. Lunch will be served by a committee following the program.

Fourteen Different Makes of Cars will be Exhibited at Auto Show

Arrangements are completed for the second annual Thief River Falls Auto Electrical and Style show to be held in the armory the coming week, the various committees handling the details of the event are beginning to take their last minute breathlessness. All of the plans seem to be developing satisfactorily, fourteen different makes of cars are already booked for space on the floor, which assures a motley display of real interest. Arrangements for the showing are progressing as well as can be expected, most of the models having been secured, and the remainder of the exhibit apparently are selecting such numbers as will best suit the requirements of the style tendencies. The electrical show in the basement of the Auditorium promises to be more interesting than many suspects than the main floor attractions, as the display of many of the latest in household nature being displayed and several of the latest devices for the motorist. The problem of the committee on concessions is to find suitable booths on the main floor and in the basement for the many firms who have applied for space.

The different makes of cars which have already been assigned space in the show are, Ford, Chevrolet, Whippet, Chrysler, Pontiac, Oakland, Essex, Hudson, Dodge, Buick, Studebaker, Hupmobile, Packard and Nash. Although the list includes practically all of the popular priced cars sold in this section of the state, several more may be added to the display by the time the doors open.

In the style show which will be presented on Friday evening only, the Ostlund Co., and the J. C. Penney Co. stores will exhibit women's apparel, such store having selected seven models and each model making two appearances. These store, with Charles Haberman and the Style Shop will present three men's clothes models apiece. Several Junior exhibits are also planned. Langseth's Shoe Hospital and Fenstad's shoe store will be represented by displays of footwear. The Penney store has secured the following people to appear as models, Ruth Iceland, Isabel Veness, Mrs. F. E. Hatton, Norbert Gravelle, Mrs. Alvin Holdsworth, Lulu Cook, Martha Boyer, Walter Larson, Clayton Snyder and Donald McFarland.

One of the large exhibits in the electrical show will be that presented by the city itself, and will consist of a display of many of the latest electrical appliances. Several of these will be demonstrated, and special emphasis will be placed upon the desirability of an electrical range for these cars.

A display of the latest in electrical appliances will also have an electric range in its exhibit, which will include washing machines, vacuum cleaners, etc. The Williams Hardware Co. and the Oen Hardware will have also taken space for the display and demonstration of electrical appliances. Several automotive accessories will also be shown by the Hansen & Barnes Milling Co., the Thief River Lumber & Co., the Gamble-Robinson Co., and the Thief River Grocery.

The Auto, Electrical and Style show will be presented at the Auditorium three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 22 to 24. Admission during the morning and afternoon will be free but a moderate charge will be made during the evening when special entertainment features will be presented. Large delegations of visitors from all sections of Northwestern Minnesota are expected to attend and efforts are being made to build a show of real value both as an industrial exposition and as an entertainment event.

Gustafson Recommends Permanent Alfalfa Arch

The erection of a permanent alfalfa arch at some point near the state highway south of the city was recommended by C. B. Gustafson in a talk before the Rotary club Tuesday noon. Mr. Gustafson recently returned from a trip to the Pacific coast states and gave an interesting account of some of the things he had seen and the conditions he had noted in the west.

Alfalfa, he stated, was one of the crops that could be raised here at considerable less expense than in the west and urged continuation of the alfalfa program and that Pennington County should become more prominent in the growing of this crop. The disadvantage of having the alfalfa arch only during the winter season he pointed out was that all pictures he had seen of arches built for all seasons showed a motley display of heavy overcoats, caps and mittens, giving the impression that the climate here was a cold one. Mr. Gustafson also suggested that all markers on the highways in the county and every automobile should bear a sign that Pennington county is the "Home of Alfalfa."

Demonstration of Canned Foods Was Well Attended

The nation-wide six weeks' advertising campaign to buy "Quality Canned Foods" was given a big start in Thief River Falls and vicinity last Saturday when the demonstration put on by the Ladies' aid society of the Nash Wholesale company was attended by hundreds of interested men and women all day long and well into the evening, despite the fact that the weather was fine at the time.

Every grocer in the city has backed up the campaign of the wholesale house and canning concerns of the country, and attractive window displays and interior decorations are to be found on every hand by the housewife when she has occasion to buy many of her table necessities.

Romance of Sheepy Valley Film To Be Shown Several Places by County Agent

Farmers and other folks will be interested in the splendid moving picture romance of the farm entitled, "The Romance of Sheepy Valley", which County Agent Robert M. Douglas has secured for exhibition at several points throughout this vicinity during the next few weeks.

It is a story of the farm, and is an enterprise of the American Farm Bureau federation, with the aid of a number of state bureaus. The first showing will be the latter part of next week, with one or two showings weekly thereafter till each community has been the host. The dates and places will be announced in the Times next week.

LOCAL COMMERCIAL CLUB TO VISIT GOODRIDGE CLUB

Arrangements are rapidly being completed in the preparation of the local club program to be given to and at the monthly meeting of the Goodridge Community club Saturday night of next week, March 17, when several numbers will be furnished by the Goodridge Saturday Night band, which will come in automobiles.

MORE ENTRIES FOR AUTO SHOW QUEEN CONTEST RECEIVED

A Real Race Develops As Competition For Crown Increases

With twelve candidates in the race for Queen of the Auto Show as the contest closed at noon Saturday, several of the candidates are making an active personal campaign in their own behalf and others have the active support of friends which will be rewarded in votes by the end of another week. The candidates who have been nominated since the last announcement are Wildaveene Denhart, of St. Hilaire; Dorothy Fuller of Hill, Lucy Buse of Red Lake Falls and Durah Kelly, Nettie Ouellette, Irene Kirk, Ollie Lonson and Ruby Song of Thief River Falls.

According to the rules of the contest all but the five having the highest number of votes will be eliminated from the race on Wednesday, March 21. Nominations must be in the hands of the committee not later than Saturday evening, March 17. While many tickets have already been sold none of the vote coupons have been returned to the contest manager as yet and so the count is all even, each candidate having only the 1,000 votes given with the nomination. These coupons should be returned in as quickly as the above requirements. Judge N. W. Tarrant and the Legion quint of that city are defeating Legion 25 to 23, the first half ending 10 to 11 in favor of the local team.

In the lineup of the Thief River boys were Powell, Severson Hjelmaas, Orn and Roe, the team work of the players being almost perfect at times as they were accustomed to playing with another.

Manager James Caddis is endeavoring to secure the fast Hibbing team for a game here Wednesday night of next week, but if they cannot come at that time it is quite probable that the Fosston quint will be brought here.

The Legion team has been strengthening its lineup of late and by the conclusion of the high school contests some of the high school basketeers are available in the games.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the school board will be held next Monday evening in the Lincoln school library, are supposed to take.

Farmer-Labor Convention To Be Held Here Monday March 19, Call States

A Farmer-Labor county convention for Pennington county has been called by Chairman Walter H. Quist for Monday, March 19, at one P. M. in the court room at the county court house for the purpose of selecting delegates to the state convention, and for any legislative conference that may be called for the sixty-fifth district, and to formulate plans for the ensuing campaign, and taking such other action as the convention may see fit.

Precinct caucuses are scheduled for next Tuesday, town meeting, to select delegates to the county gathering here. Each precinct is entitled to representation at the convention for each 25 votes cast for the Farmer-Labor governor two years ago.

The state convention has been announced for St. Paul for Monday and Tuesday, March 26 and 27.

QUALITY CANNED FOODS CAMPAIGN WELL UNDER WAY

Advertisements Are Being Run Backed Up by Comprehensive Store Displays

Manufacturers, wholesale distributors, retail grocers and chain stores are co-operating in a big campaign in behalf of "Quality canned foods", which campaign has been given fact that it pays to buy canned foods for quality as well as thrift.

Readers of the ads in The Times and other publications boosting "Quality canned foods" will be able to identify every advertisement by the little letter "Q" which has been selected as the symbol of the campaign. This letter will appear in all the advertisements, in all the grocer's window posters and store display material.

More Tender; Finer Flavor

The greater tenderness and food value, the finer flavor and more delicious taste of the select and fancy packed canned foods will be explained. The campaign will prove to the housewife that it is true economy to buy the fancy grades of foods to add variety to their menus and tempt the family appetite as well that waste of foods is eliminated.

Buyers are asked to watch for the Big "Q" at their grocers, to select their canned foods with care and profit to the fullest extent from the special offerings of "Quality canned foods" during the week-end selling drive which is to continue throughout the months of March and April.

Famous Harold Bell Wright Ozark Drama Showing at Lyceum

One of the screen's most appealing love stories, told with the photoplay's brightest cast, will be offered tonight at the Lyceum theatre. Heavenly, the warmest day in February of this year was 38 above, that being on Feb. 27, while last year the thermometer rose to 42 above on Feb. 21. On Feb. 24 and 25 this year the temperature went down to 19 below, and on Feb. 26 last year it registered 21 below zero.

There was not much snowfall this year during February, according to the official report, only .50 of an inch having been recorded. Last year the total was 4.00 inches, the actual precipitation for the two years being .92 and .87 of an inch respectively.

The warmest day so far this month was March 3, when the maximum reading was 39 and the thermometer went down to 11 below on March 4 and 5.

NO LEAP YEAR BRIDES

ADMIT HAVING PROPOSED

Pennington county failed to produce a young lady who would admit that she had proposed to her gentleman friend and had been accepted—that is in the leap year sense of the word. Adolf Eklund says Qui no one appeared at his office to claim the free wedding license that he offered under the above requirements. Judge N. W. Tarrant and the Legion quint of that city are defeating Legion 25 to 23, the first half ending 10 to 11 in favor of the local team.

In the lineup of the Thief River boys were Powell, Severson Hjelmaas, Orn and Roe, the team work of the players being almost perfect at times as they were accustomed to playing with another.

P-T OFFICERS SECURE SECOND NOTED SPEAKER

Fred G. Bale, Juvenile Court Prosecutor, Will Lecture Here March 16

CITY AUDITORIUM AGAIN SECURED FOR OCCASION

Speaker Presents Interesting Angles of "Bad Kid" Problem

The officers of the Parent Teachers' association have secured Fred G. Bale, prosecutor in the juvenile court at Columbus, Ohio, as the next number on the program for the winter's course. He will speak in the auditorium on Friday evening of next week, March 16, that building having been secured to accommodate the over increasing audience as the programs of the local organization.

Mr. Bale was recommended to Dr. O. F. Melby, president of the Thief River Falls Parent Teachers' association, as one of the most forceful speakers on the platform today, having a big message for the mothers of any American community. He has filled hundreds of engagements for the Redpath Bureau of Chicago, everywhere winning unqualified praise for his most humanistic reports.

Deals With Vital Problems

The speaker is one of the genuinely outstanding figures of the day, his deals with the most vital problems that can be presented to the people of any community, and he has the ability to present these problems, powerfully, constructively and convincingly.

He talks on problems centering about the youth of today—tomorrow's citizens and he speaks authoritatively from first-hand experience. As prosecutor in the juvenile court at Columbus, one of the largest juvenile courts of America, a yearly average of 1,400 children's cases passed under his observation. His opportunity to study the traits of the children known as "bad kids" and the causes of their conditions in society-lying back of such children, has been practically unlimited.

Inspires to Better Things

"But," says the Chautauqua Bureau handling his tours, "his studies are not those of the theoretician only. His message comes from contacts with children of all kinds, and from all conditions of his life. His lectures are not pessimistic or gloomy, but chock full of inspiration to better things that inspires all listeners to better, finer living. The theme is free to any who care to attend, whether or not they be members of the parent-teacher association.

February This Year Was Warmer Than Last Year Official Reports Show

February of this year was a little warmer than that month in 1927, according to Weather Observer, L. M. Verona Urdahl Celebrated Her Third Birthday Last Week Altho 12 Years Old

Feb. 29, the extra day in every four years, familiarly known as leap year, except the century year—passed without any births, deaths, weddings or other outstanding event being recorded in Thief River Falls for the year of 1928.

However, Verona Urdahl, 610 Knight Avenue North, had a birthday that eventful day, her third one, for she was born on Feb. 29, twelve years ago. As far as known she is the only girl in the city with a birthday on February 29.

In celebration of the event she entertained several of her young friends on that occasion, those present being Lois Nelsen, Martha Storheim, Marion Spenhelm, Esther Haynes, Ebba Tveten, Amelia Ostrem, Ruth Wessen, Jean Friesel, Helen Herman-son, Amber Prusch, Violet Prugh, Delores Urdahl and Jennie Urdahl.

Last Wednesday was also the eighteenth birthday of Christine Clausen, of Kisling, Denmark, the father of Christine Clausen of this city. In reality he was 76 years old on Feb. 29, but as there was not Feb. 29 in 1900 he went eight years without a birthday—from 1896 to 1904. In honor of the event a big dinner was served by Christine that afternoon and evening to her friends who called at her Clothes Shop on East Second street.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Reierson Friday

Approximately one hundred people joined in the golden wedding festivities at the Evangelical Free church Friday evening, March 2, when Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Reierson celebrated the fiftieth milestone of their wedded life together. Among those present were the five children of Mr. and Mrs. Reierson and their families. Titford and Deander of this city, Mrs. C. J. Sorenson of Newfolden, Mrs. L. F. Peppenhaus of Goodridge and Mrs. A. E. Lofkin, also of this city.

Before adjourning to the basement where a beautiful dinner was served, a program was enjoyed in the church, Rev. Nels Carlson of Detroit Lakes, Rev. T. Myhrer of Newfolden, and Rev. I. O. Jacobsen giving short talks. Out-of town guests at the affair included Mr. and Mrs. Axel Carlson of Middle River, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Carlson of Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Folden of Newfolden, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Sollom of Grand Forks, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sollom of Hagley, Minn., and Mrs. S. H. Nobre, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Nobre, and Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Nobre of Holt.

Both Born In Norway

Mr. and Mrs. Reierson have been living in this city since last fall, coming here from New Folden township. They were both born in Norway, coming to this country when mere children. Mr. Reierson was born in Hyatal, Norway, Nov. 20, 1846, and in 1854 he emigrated, with his parents, to the land of opportunity. He took overtook then in Chicago, however, for they arrived there when the city was in the throe of disease, fever daily claiming the lives of six members of his family.—Sadly—diminished—in number, the little family of two, himself and his father, proceeded on their way to Minnesota, settling in Fillmore county, not far from Rieeford.

Married In Minnesota

Mrs. Reierson, nee Anna Hellom, was born in Nese, Hallingdal, Norway, December 4, 1855. At the age of seven she left the land of her birth, coming to America with her mother, brothers and sisters, her father having died in Norway. They settled at Spring Grove, where she grew to womanhood, marrying, in 1878, Peter Reierson. For several years the young couple remained on the farm near Rieeford, until they moved, in 1882, to Grand Forks county, N. Dak., where they resided there for two years, leaving to take up a home-stead in Marshall township, township of New Folden.—There they lived, and birth to several children, five of whom are living, Alma, taking an active part in church and public affairs, Mr. Reierson having served faithfully on both town and school boards of the township for years. In 1913 the family moved to Holt, where they remained until last October, when they came to this city, taking up a residence at 505 Lafleur avenue, and enjoying a well-earned rest.

Past Matrons Meet

The Matrons of the local chapter of the Eastern Star are guests of the home of Mrs. Andrew Bettelson last Saturday evening, enjoying a social time. Those present were Mrs. F. F. Haynes, Miss Effie Hamry, Mrs. A. Larson, Mrs. W. W. Fitch, and Jr., Mrs. Wm. Kvistad, Mrs. A. M. Tvedte, Mrs. Jo Batterlem, Mrs. M. Brink and Mrs. Thelma Holm Erickson.

During the national Legion and Auxiliary week, the local unit of the American Legion auxiliary will be host to the various units in the district, at a rally to be held in the Legion club rooms Tuesday night, April 10. Details regarding the event will appear in a later issue of The Times.

Gold To Meet

St. Barnards Guild will be entertained in the church parlors, Monday afternoon, March 19, lunch being served as usual from 3:30 to 6:30. The public is cordially invited.

A Levin's over-stuffed suite in your home simplifies the decorating problem and increases comfort. Come in and try 'em before you buy 'em.

We have some go-getters here in Thief River Falls. And we also might add that we have a get-together two.

Apply Johnson's floor wax to your new linoleum, and your floor covering will last much longer and look better.

Easter is coming and we haven't had a minute to think about our new spring bonnet.

Bells, bells! Lots of 'em. If you're going to need a new bell this season, why couldn't think of a better place to buy one than right here, not if we thought for weeks and weeks. We have a handy line of bells and the prices don't agree, are unusually low.

We've just been reading about a girl named Helen. It seems she married a man named Fall. That made her Helen Fall. But the worst of it is that he never says she is the same in winter, spring and summer.

The only thing which gets stuck on Armstrong's linoleum is the family. That's the reason you don't have to beat it. Just brush it off. We have a selection of beautiful patterns.

The modern business man is used to having everything.

Heard in Benson's Barber Shop. "Do you want a hair cut?" "No, I want them all cut." "Any particular way?" "Yes, off!"

No stooping with a Maytag washer. It can be adjusted to your height.

A bill for divorce has been duly filed. But hasn't granted yet; She wants the custody of the child, And he wants temporary set.

No matter what the weather man does, spring is actually here after the 20th. Our calendar says so.

E. C. MELANSEN AGAIN HEADS LAND O' LAKES IN NO. 14

E. C. Melansen of Erskine was re-elected president of District No. 14 of the Land O' Lakes Dairymen's association at the annual meeting held in Erskine the day following the annual meeting in this city of the seventeenth district. Other officers chosen were H. G. Nygaard of Hallock and J. Larson of Mahnomen, as vice presidents; Oscar Stordahl of Crookston as secretary; and C. M. Berg of McIntosh as treasurer. President Brandt of the state organization was the speaker of the day, and after various reports and other routine business had been disposed of it was decided to hold a summer picnic. A committee from Ada extended an invitation to hold the annual meeting next year in that city, and sentiment appeared to favor the invitation, when the directors later make a decision.

COURT AT MAHNOMEN OPENS BEFORE JUDGE GRINDELAND

Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren was in the city Monday evening on his way to Mahnomen, where the March term of the Mahnomen district court was opened Tuesday morning.

There were no grand jury cases for this term, and out of the 34 civil cases on the calendar nine are personal property cases.

The final case on the docket is that of the Mahnomen Co-operative Creamery association against the Thief River Co-operative Poultry association. Thes. Quale of this city is the attorney for the creamery association, the local organization.

"SOONER" PAYS DOLLAR EACH FOR 62 MUSKRATS

Otto Walters was taken before Judge R. W. Wade at Moorhead last Friday, where he pleaded guilty to trapping muskrats along the Red River before the opening of the season, having been caught by Wardens William Munch of Crookston and O. E. Martin of St. Paul. The 62 muskrat skins found in the possession of Mr. Walters cost him a $50 fine and costs of $15.10—a little over a dollar each.

The final case on the docket is that of the Mahnomen Co-operative Creamery association against the Thief River Co-operative Poultry association. Thes. Quale of this city is the attorney for the creamery association, the local organization.

SURE RELIEF FOR SORE THROAT

Quicker than Gargling

Who suffer pain, soreness or inconvenience while waiting for slower methods to give relief when a persistent, irritating, vexatious throat tickle can be relieved in 15 minutes, it acts on a new theory.

Ordinary remedies taken internally must pass through the stomach before they can reach the throat. Spraying is unpleasant and clumsy. Gargling is awkward and ineffective. Hall's Mentho-Sulphoids are small, tasteless lozenges which dissolve slowly in the mouth. Their vapors are carried to the throat with every breath you take. Soreness and irritation are relieved at once. Coughing spells are checked. Nature's own method of quick relief. Lambert's lung cure.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a business institution—American in its methods, American in its ideals and in its practical way of carrying them out.

It has been said that,

"Our individualism (in America) differs from all others because it embraces these great ideals: that while we build our society upon the attainment of the individual, that individual shall respond to every individual an equality of opportunity to take that position in the community to which his intelligence, character, ability, and ambition entitle him; that we shall stimulate effort of each individual to achievement; that through an enlarging sense of responsibility and understanding we shall assist him in this attainment, while he in turn must stand up to the others' sheet of competition."

All individuals in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) have equal opportunities. Effort is stimulated and, effort, encouraged among all employees of the Company by the knowledge that each individual may achieve the position "to which his intelligence, character, ability and ambition entitle him."

No man is hindered by an insignificant beginning. No man is helped by power or place his father may have won. Positions in this Company are open to the most capable of the land. Initiative is gained in only one way—it must be earned.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has shown an "enlarging sense of responsibility and understanding" in assisting each individual to his highest attainment.

Numerous measures have been instituted for the benefit of employees. Through the Industrial Relations Plan, employes have a voice in regulating their affairs. They are provided for in old age by the Annuity Plan. The Death Benefits give further assistance in time of need.

Employes are aided in achieving financial security by means of a Stock Purchasing Plan which allows them to purchase Company stock on generous terms. 16,267 men and women are now purchasing stock under this Plan.

In providing equality of opportunity for thousands of men and women in maintaining a warm spirit of friendliness and mutual helpfulness throughout its organization the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is expressing American ideals in the large terms of a large business.

THE TOURNAMENT IS PAST

While it was not one of the most serious reverses that Thief River Falls has suffered in recent years, the defeat of the Lincoln High School basketball team in the semi-finals of the district tournament last Friday morning was one of the most heart-breaking events that many local people have experienced for some time. Although it must be admitted that Warren deserved the victory which its excellent team won, it must also be admitted that the Thief River Falls team did not deserve defeat. The team which came through the season undefeated by any team in the district lost the tournament, but retains by general consent, the distinction of being the best team in the district and is by far the best team that has ever represented the local school.

The unexpected turn of affairs in the district tournament demonstrates again the value of school athletics as a course in practical training. While the result was anything but satisfactory from our standpoint, there is no question but that this result will prove a most important lesson to the student bodies of both schools. The game opened with the odds overwhelmingly in favor of Thief River Falls and for three quarters of the game the local team outplayed the visitors. Had the Thief River team won there would have been slight cause for rejoicing here, nor would there have been reason for any great amount of sadness at Warren. The expected would have happened and when the expected happens there is little excitement. But the unexpected happened. In the last quarter of play Warren tied the count and in the extra period sunk the basket that won the game. It was a wonderful victory for Warren. It demonstrated that no matter how unfavorable the odds are there is always a chance to win for the individual or team that doesn't quit. The Warren team didn't quit. They kept right on fighting and when the breaks of the game favored them they were there ready to take advantage of them. For the Warren team we have great admiration. The fighting spirit which won the district championship for them will assert itself again in the regional tournament and the district has a worthy representative.

The game was a heart-breaking defeat for Thief River Falls and in this defeat is a valuable lesson. That defeat was an outstanding illustration of the fact that when our hopes are the brightest we are in the greatest danger of being plunged into despair. Such a defeat reminds us that the race is not always to the swift nor is the rewardhalways to the meritorious. Such a defeat teaches us that, whether it be called fate, fortune, destiny or providence, there is a power which influences our actions, and success and failure are not necessarily the just compensation of the deserving or the undeserving respectively. Such a defeat teaches the value of humility on all occasions, for no basketball games are sometimes won or lost by the senseless caprice of a rubber ball on an iron hoop, so, in the bigger game of life success and failure are often determined by the whims of chance.

Learning how to fight without hatred and to win or lose without bitterness are important lessons to learn, and our system of school athletics as it is now supervised, gives, by experience, mighty valuable training.

FIGURES AND FACTS

Every once in a while we become enthusiastic and figure out in dollars and cents the per capita income of the city or the county. By carefully assembling the facts and arranging them in their proper rotation we can prove beyond a question that every citizen of Pennington County will be dirty rich in just a few years. At other times we are seized with more conservative impulses and proceed to appall ourselves with the terrifying figures on the tremendous sums of money that are shipped out of the country each year, never to return. We think of the money that this community spends needlessly for automobiles, gasoline, radios and the hundred and one other items which all pessimistic cranks point to when they do their official "viewing with alarm."

For instance in this country more money by far goes out for gun cotton in for eggs, and the total joy-riding bill is equal to the total income from all poultry, which is considered one of our big sources of revenue. We "point with pride" one day to the fact that the local creamery distributes a couple of hundred thousand dollars among the farmers of the community each year, and the next day we become weak with the realization that the community's tobacco bill every year totals well up toward the quarter of a million dollar mark. We became thoroughly dismayed yesterday when we discovered that one of the local wholesale houses alone sells $30,000 worth of snuff each year, and they fill only a small fraction of the total order. And then there's lutefisk and candy and cosmetics—good grief, where does all the money come from?

Our research has convinced us of one thing and that if that figures have only a very slight relation to facts. Give us a half an hour and we can supply accurate figures proving either that the world is going to the bow-wows and at what speed, or that the millenium is being approached very rapidly. Anything that needs proving can be proved by figures.

The index of the community's progress is not found in the relation between the income from butterfat and to the out-go for gasoline but rather in the number of people in the community who spend less than they earn and incidentally save a little each year. The only true index to the community's progress is found in the records of individual achievement. Worrying about aggregate figures is as profitable as arguing about the distance to the moon, but a few minutes a day devoted to a practical adjustment of personal expenditures to personal income accomplishes wonders.

TOWNSHIP ELECTIONS MARCH 13

The annual township elections will be held on Tuesday, March 13, and it isn't too early to start doing a little thinking about what will happen at that time. The town clerk will be elected for a two year term commencing with this election.

PublicForum

In an open Letter to Mr. Bowen, Ivan Bowen, Manager, Hoover Campaign Committee,
St. Paul, Minn.

Dear Sir:

I notice in the Twin City papers some correspondence between yourself and Senator McKenzie as to whether Herbert Hoover or Frank O. Lowden should receive the support from Minnesota at the next Republican National Convention.

In your answer to Senator McKenzie's inquiry is to where Mr. Hoover stood on Farm Relief Legislation, and as to whether he would favor the McNary-Haugen Bill, you state in substance that you did not know where Mr. Hoover stood, and dismissed the matter as of very little importance.

In this back of the woods we regard Farm Relief legislation as of the greatest importance and you having been connected with public affairs in Minnesota ought to be aware of that fact, and it would appear as the [illegible] you ought, before assuming to sponsor the candidacy of Mr. Hoover, know where he stood on the outstanding issue before the people of the Middle West.

It appeals to me that you have no business to be out over the country as voters of this state without knowing where he stood upon that issue.

We know where Mr. Lowden stands on farm relief and we also know where Mr. Dawes stands. He was Control during the War and comparing how it serves us he knew full very little chance for Mr. Hoover out here.

You can't fool us farmers by trying to bring Mr. Berkus into this controversy for the purpose of trying to support whomsoever he see fit and that does not effect Mr. Lowden's availability as a Presidential candidate.

Yours truly,
F. H. Wright.

N. P. ISSUES BOOKLET BOOSTING MINNESOTA

Setting forth the agricultural, livestock and industrial conditions, progress, and possibilities in Minnesota, the agricultural development of the Northern Pacific Railway has issued a new 42-page, artistically illustrated booklet intended to call prospective settlers' attention to Minnesota, the Bread and Butter State.

Throughout, the booklet carried illustrations of informative and pictorial value, emphasizing the attractive features of the state with its varied and profitable activities.

Twenty-five thousand of these booklets are being distributed throughout the United States and Canada.

The booklet stresses Minnesota's exceptional school system which is built around a state fund of $53,000,000 which is pointed out as a means of reducing taxes.

LINCOLN WAS GOOD ROADS ADVOCATE

Abraham Lincoln, noncipster and pioneer of the Union, also had an interest in many other matters pertaining to the public welfare. He knew the value of good roads and other avenues of communication in a growing country and his speeches reveal a thorough understanding of the whole subject of internal improvements.

In one of his first public addresses, at the age of 23, when Lincoln was a candidate for the general assembly from Sangamon county, he said: "Time and experience have certified to the demonstration the public utility of internal improvements. That the poorest and most thinly populated countries would be greatly benefited by the opening of good roads and in the slacking of navigable streams within their limits, is what no person will deny."

In an address in Congress in 1848, Mr. Lincoln defended proposed appropriations for internal improvements, and ably answered the arguments of President Polk, who had vetoed an internal improvement bill. The President had said that the benefits would be local. Lincoln answered that improvements, generally benefit all the public but if they were not to be such unless they benefit all alike, it would put an end to improvements altogether. "I hope and believe that if both the nation and the states would, in good faith, in their respective spheres do what they could in the way of improvements, what of inequality might be produced in one point might be compensated in another, and the sum of the whole might not be very unequal," he said.

A powerful searchlight is to mantle the water boundary between Alaska and Canada so that fishermen may know in what territory they are operating.

The Smoothness and Snap That All America is Demanding

There's no longer any doubt about it. America is demanding more and more from its automobiles. More power... more style... more speed. And above all else... more smoothness and snap.

Smoothness that brings to driving new pleasures and new delights. Snap that responds to the traffic signal as a sprinter responds to the gun. Smoothness and snap that you knew are the very essence of motoring satisfaction. Smoothness and snap that you find revealed in the All-American Six.

You find them there because of Oakland's big, impressive brute of an engine which starts so easily "way below zero. Because of its famous GMR cylinder head... force feed fuel pump... 75-lb. crankshaft... precisely rounded connecting rods and other vital parts.

Because of its ruggedly constructed chassis... its bigger clutch and smoothly shifting gears... and the super-precision construction demanded in the All-American principle of design.

Once you've experienced its smoothness... once you've witnessed its snap... you'll know why the All-American Six is winning such tremendous success.

Spring Opening
March 20th

Our annual spring opening and entertainment for our farmer friends and customers is set for March 20th.

Power Farming Entertainment
The International Harvester Company will have their men with us, and they have an interesting program for the day.

Moving Pictures
Several reels of moving pictures, of educational value, showing the new modern power farming equipment. Besides other pictures of interest, that you will enjoy seeing. Men in charge that will lecture on the pictures.

Warm House
Our warehouse will be heated as best possible. The pictures and all will be shown right in our warehouse, and we are going to do our best to make it comfortable as well as interesting.

Free Hot Lunch at Noon
Our day's program will start at ten o'clock in the morning, and at noon we will serve a free hot lunch. The afternoon program will start at one o'clock and last until about four o'clock. This will give you ample time to get in for the morning opening and plenty of time to get home to do the evening chores—so make your plans now, and spent the day with us.

Machinery and Tractor Display
Our new modern McCormick-Deering Machines will be set up, and all lined up for your inspection. The Reliable McCormick-Deering Tractors, will be lined up for demonstrations and your try at the wheel if you like.

Chrysler Automobiles
Last but not least, we shall have a line up of several models of the New 1928 Chrysler automobiles—on which we invite your inspection and comparison—Quality, Roomy, Beauty, and priced right. Some one said "Chrysler—That's all you need to know about a motor car!"

Middle River Man Uses Wind to Generate Juice for Telephone and Light

Emil Petersen, who operates the telephone system at Middle River, has recently erected a windmill on his property for the purpose of generating electricity to be used in connection with the telephone and also with his private electric light plant.

A large airplane propeller has been mounted on the top of a fifty foot tower, to which is connected a 32 volt generator. When the propeller travels at the rate of 300 revolutions per minute electricity is generated.

STATE AUXILIARY HEAD

Mrs. J. M. Bishop of this city, state president of the American Legion Auxiliary, is scheduled to make a series of addresses in Roseau and Lake of the Woods counties the first part of next week, according to advices received here early this week.

Tentative plans call for joint meetings of the legion and the auxiliary in Greenbush, Hieronymus and Baudette on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 20 and 14.

The state president has just concluded a series of meetings of both organizations at Appleton, Madison and Morris, according to the Legionnaire, of last week.

After making the talks north of here Mrs. Bishop expects to stop off here on her return to the Twin Cities.

Less Oats and More Flax Should Be Sown This Year

County Agent Robert H. Douglas is continuing his efforts to secure a sufficient supply of seed oats for Pennington county farmers, but the shortage is quite acute for stated delivery. Efforts will also be made to secure a supply of flax for seed purposes, but this will be an easier task, he stated to a representative of The Times.

Mr. Douglas agrees with A. C. Arny, who is in charge of the field work at the Minnesota Experiment station, and who advises the sowing of more flax and less oats in this state during 1928.

"Flax is the only grain crop which has shown a net profit to the acre each of the last five years," he says.

"It is difficult to predict the price of flax seed in 1928. Price will depend on the demand for the oil. Although apparently a large crop of flax seed is being harvested in the Argentine, the situation is much the same as for the past year. It appears now that the flax acreage in the United States might not be increased by at least one-half million acres. Insects growers may well substitute flax for oats on a number of a million acres suited to the crop."

Manufacturers of linseed oil used in paints and in other ways have been consuming 40 million bushels of flax seed yearly for some time past. Minnesota, Montana, and the Dakotas produce not much more than half of the amount used after what is needed for sowing has been deducted.

TAKE FARM INVENTORIES WHEN FEED IS ABUT GONE

The best time to take inventory on the farm is the date on which, in average years, the last feed and unsold products are on hand. Many farmers find that March 1 or April 1 is a good late, when most of the feeding operations of the preceding year have been completed and most of the crops sold, either directly or after having been fed to animals. Many in the case of tenants the usual time is March 1, when are large a part of the leases and annual agreements expire. Whatever the date the analysis of accounts means more if year after year the inventory is taken on the same date, says a recent bulletin issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

RADIO ENLISTS IN CORN BOREER EDUCATION DRIVE

Radio stations in 15 States will join this spring with other information agencies in putting before farmers the facts about new farm problems growing out of the ravages of the European corn borer.

The programs prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will continue for eight weeks from March 5 to May 1.

The radio talks will emphasize the necessity of adapting farm practices to corn borer conditions. Two series will be supplied one, "Living with the Corn Borer," for broadcast in States invaded by the insect, and a second, "If the Corn Borer Comes," for farm listeners in important corn-growing States that yet reached by the pest.

Like the corn borer press information service, the radio releases for borer areas will deal largely with steps progressive farmers are taking to control the corn borer and practical methods of clean up on the farm.

SUCCUMBS TO DEATH AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Funeral services were held from St. Bernard's Catholic church yesterday morning, Rev. A. I. Stenh officiating, for Mrs. John Cloutier, who died at her home Monday, following a prolonged and severe illness caused by cancer. Interment was made in St. Bernard's cemetery.

Mrs. Clara Cloutier was born Nov. 18, 1860, at Stevens Point, Wis. She was married October 15, 1906, to John Cloutier of this city, the latter of whom is left to mourn her departure as well as a daughter, Laura, two parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Fontaine of this city, three sisters, Mrs. Eugene LaCoe, Mrs. Arsen Cloutier and Mrs. Eugene Durand, and two brothers, Nels and James. All but Mrs. Durand live in this city.

MORE 4-H CLUB MEETINGS BEING HELD THIS WEEK

Arrangements were completed yesterday for a special meeting in the Mizpah school house in district No. 36, taught by Miss Hazel Krause, for the purpose of organizing a boys' and girls' club in that vicinity. County Agent Robert M. Douglas will explain the benefits of 4-H club work there at 8:15 tomorrow, Friday evening, March 9.

H. J. Pflughoft of the Northwest School of agriculture at Crookston, Minnesota, and today in consultation with Mr. Douglas and today they visited the schools at Goodridge and St. Hilaire, explaining the club work to those interested in the schools of those places.

HIGHWAY SURVEYORS LEAVING

The crew of surveyors, under the supervision of Engineer H. W. Perkins, have completed their work here and are busy packing their equipment preparatory to leaving the city on Saturday.

F. M. Thompson, vice president of the First National bank of this city, returned yesterday from a several days stay in the Twin Cities, attending meetings of the state bankers association.

VALLEY GRAIN EXHIBITS "OUTSTANDING SAY JUDGES"

"The 207 grain exhibits by 164 exhibitors at the Red River Valley Winter Shows were exceptional in quality and the number of the exhibits was most satisfying," said professor A. D. Hasdecke of the University farm at the conclusion of the judging work in the field crops show.

"The barley especially showed excellent quality and in view of the lateness of the 1927 season in many parts of the Valley the number of exhibitors in this and other classes was most encouraging."

ST. HILAIRE FARMER DIES LAST WEEK WEDNESDAY

Arthur L. Lindblom, well known farmer residing west of St. Hilaire, died Thursday of last week at a local hospital. According to an item in the St. Hilaire Spectator, he had been ill about two weeks, and was taken to the hospital shortly before he died.

Mr. Lendblom was born January 19, 1882 and was 46 years of age at time of death. He grew to manhood in this community and was highly respected by all who knew him. He was married to Anna Swanson on May 30, 1916 and they have since resided in the community west of here. Deceased is survived by his widow, a son, one daughter, his aged father, one brother and one sister. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Nelson Talsen from the Lomilion home Monday afternoon and interment was made at the Black River cemetery.

More than 1,000,000 carats of diamonds were exported from the Belgian Congo in the last year.

State Makes Great Health Strides During Past Year

Long strides were taken by Minnesota in 1927, with notable decrease in occurrence of smallpox, scarlet fever, typhoid fever, diphtheria, measles, the State Board of Health indicated in its report recently issued.

No deaths during the year from smallpox were reported, diphtheria deaths declined more than 1,000 cases from 1926, while the number of cases of tuberculosis dropped below those reported in either 1925 or 1926 and was below the average for the last five years.

The decline in diphtheria is perhaps the most striking since reports at this time indicate a rather general increase in the United States in both cases and deaths due to diphtheria, the Dr. G. McDaniel, director of the division of preventable diseases, reported Dr. A. J. Chesley, secretary of the State Board of Health.

Dr. McDaniel reported that diphtheria case reports declined from 2,-927 in 1926 to 1,952 in 1927, a drop of 1,005 cases. This figure, he said, is but slightly over one-half of the yearly number of cases, 3,375, reported for each of the preceding five years.

MINNESOTA GAS TAX

LAW THOUGHT VALID

The decision of the Illinois supreme court holding the gasoline tax in that state unconstitutional, will not affect the gasoline tax in Minnesota, it is believed by those who have studied the decision.

Gasoline taxes have been passed in forty six states in the last ten years, and are still in effect in all these states except Illinois. These laws have been attacked in the courts in several states, but Illinois is the first state in which such a law has been held unconstitutional.

In Minnesota the gasoline tax was not adopted until the constitution had been amended, specifically permitting the levy and providing that it should go into the trunk highway fund. There was no specific authorization for the tax in the Illinois constitution.

Chicago motorists fought the gasoline tax first in the legislature and later in the courts. Constituting nearly half the car owners of the state, they held it discriminatory because the act went to highways outside the city. In Minnesota the gas tax, as well as the auto license taxes, go entirely to highways outside the three cities of the first class, but this is specifically authorized by the amendments to the constitution.

An engineer surveying the right-of-way for the proposed railroad was talking to a farmer, when "Yes," he said, "the line will run right through your barnyard."

"Well," answered the farmer, "pick his do it if you want to, but I'll bet a dollar it'll get up in the night just to open the gate every time a train comes through."

Roseau County Settlers Threatened With Floods If Canadians Build Dam

Several hundred cords of rock have been assembled on the Canadian side of the Roseau river, about a mile and a half or two miles from the river banks, and stakes have been placed showing where a proposed dam is to be built to protect Canadian settlers, according to an announcement last week of J. W. T jor, county agent, who is also secretary of the Roseau County Drainage Relief organization.

In his statement he made a personal investigation, interrogating people in the vicinity of the material, and Mr. Taylor says to all intents the Canadians are making plans to construct a dam and ditch which will form a basin about two miles square. It is contended that this will flood much valuable Roseau county land as soon as the work is completed.

Senator Shipstead, Congressman Selvig and Secretary of State Kellogg have again appealed to in efforts to get the International Joint commission to stop further work till an investigation can be made.

Assessors to Use Card Index System This Year

In arriving at a uniform method of assessing real property and also to provide the boards of review with an adequate system upon which to make equalizations, tax assessors this year will use a card index system of valuation, according to an announcement made this week by T. F. Anderson, county auditor.

The card index system is a new rule provided for by the Minnesota State Tax commission and will give the assessors, town boards of review, county boards of review and also the state tax commission a better understanding of valuations in the various localities of the state. In short, where there are 2,500 local assessors, and with each one using different ways of basing their valuations, the tax commission decided to form the index system.

Samples of the cards have been received by County Auditor Anderson and are of two separate forms, one for assessing real property and the other for platted real property. Each card will carry a full and complete description of the property owned by the taxpayer and also the value of the property.

Each assessor will use the cards in his district, but they are to be returned to the auditor's office for permanent filing and reference. That the most important thing in fair and equitable distribution of the tax burden is the equalization of property values is stressed by state experts in commenting on the importance of the assessor's job and that of the board of review.

Operations of State in Handling Red Lake Fish Legal Says High Court

Fishing operations as conducted by the state at Red Lake, Minn., are in accordance with the statutes of 1917, of the supreme court rule Friday. The decision was on the action of M. N. Lipinski of Winona, who charged that the state game and fish commissioner of the state was carrying on the sale of fish from Red Lake illegally and contrary to the statutes of 1917 which created the Minnesota commission of public safety.

The action was brought in the Ramsey county district court in which the specific charge was that the state was buying and selling fish. Judge Richard O'Brien overruled a demurrer of the state on this point and was affirmed by the supreme court.

Next to High Court

However, the opinions point out that the charges of Lipinski were in such a nature that it was necessary for the lower court to overrule the demurrer of the state and certify the case to the higher court.

The high court holds that the law which granted authority to the game and fish commission to act as agent for the Minnesota commission of public safety did not terminate under the abolishment of the commission and hence the game and fish commissioner is within his rights in conducting on the fish operations as described.

It was pointed out that technically the state does not buy and sell fish, but utilizes the fish in Red Lake which is being seined and fished by Indians under the supervision of the state.

The Indians benefit by the sale of these fish to the various distributors throughout the state.

It will be recalled that at the recent meeting of the Minnesota division league that Game Warden William Hans March Hvass was a matter of this fishing in the Red Lakes and that he stated that only one more shipment was to be made, and that had been made for the disposal of the fish taken by the Indians.

GRADE CONTEST NEAR END

The grades between the seventh and eighth grade of the central school are played in the High School Gym Thursday to be a fast, exciting contest. The seventh grade has a percentage of 1000, having won three games and lost none. With five games won and one lost the eighth grade has a record of .833. Their single defeat was suffered at the hands of the seventh grade in a close contest. This is the last tournament game previous to the game to be played between the champions of the grade school tournament and of the junior High tournament. If the eighth grade wins tomorrow, they and the seventh grade will play off, resulting another game to decide the championship. These factors will all contribute toward an exciting game.

On the same afternoon the Washington meets the Knox. The Washington has practically got the championship locked here, having won three games while Knox won only one.

CHAMPION ONE CAR MAN IS DRIVING THIRTEENTH AUTO

Others have owned more automobiles than Mr. Gregor, but available records show none who has owned more automobiles of one make.

Each year, for thirteen consecutive years, Mr. Gregor has purchased an Oakland automobile. He bought his first Oakland in 1915. He bought another in 1916 and again 1917. It became a habit. His current car, an Oakland All American Six two-door sedan, was purchased last year.

POLK COUNTY FARM SOLD TO CANADIAN LIVESTOCK MAN

F. J. Braithwaite of Oghridge, Ontario, a week ago became the owner of the A. E. Palmer farm a short distance north of Crookston, comprising nearly 1,000 acres. The new owner is a breeder and exhibitor of Aberdeen Angus cattle at Oghridge, a Scotch community 50 miles north of Toronto, and has during the past year visited various sections of the United States, investigating conditions in the states, as compared to those in Canada.

After spending two weeks at the recent Winter Shows and in visiting points in the Red River Valley he became impressed with the possibilities of the valley and decided to locate in this section. The Palmer farm, according to Leonard Hoskins, field man for the fourteenth district of Land O' Lakes Inc., and also secretary and director of various other valley organizations, is one of the few remaining bare farms developed to the raising of livestock, and should prove a valuable piece of property for the new owner.

AN IMPORTANT FUNCTION

The funeral director is being more and more generally recognized as an important factor in modern life—a vital cog in the machinery of civilization

Not the least valuable of his services is as a mortician. He cares for the dead and at the same time protects the health and safety of the living. Floods, storms, epidemics and other calamities have demonstrated the necessity of having a body of men trained in this science.

We Are Sorry We Did Not Explain

Living right with our goods, as we do, and knowing as well just how much Quality is stressed in their manufacture, we took it for granted that you understood it, too; that you knew that our low prices were made by skillful buying and not because we bought up "r:ill ends" or "job lots" or "imperfects."

We are sorry we did not explain this before, but we want to make this one point clear right now. Our merchandise is at all times First Quality. Bankrupt stocks, job lots, and such goods are never, under any circumstances, permitted in our stores.

Another point we wish to emphasize is that each Manager personally selects his goods. Thus you are assured of a service suited to your community needs.

We are very glad that a customer asked us about these points; and we welcome the opportunity to explain. What people say and think about us is the most important thing in our business.

AN EXPRESSION OF GRATITUDE

The gratitude of the team is expressed towards the Lincoln high basketball team was expressed in a letter received by coach Ed. Hoe from Harry Prichard, inviting the Whippet squad to be the guests of twenty-six of the local business men at the regional basketball tournament to be held in Crookston, March 8 and 9.

This is one example of the business men's attention reaped for our boys.

STUDENT OPINION

As a senior, who has witnessed the basketball tournaments of the last two years, I wish to make a few note of the Warrenites and their splendid spirit.

Last year, over at Warren, they treated us very royally—allowing us countless privileges as visitors. The teachers did more than tolerate us—they welcomed us and impressed us that they were glad to have the opportunity to entertain Lincolnites. The students couldn't have been more cordial. Several of them showed a genuine interest in us and conducted us to the various classrooms.

As visitors they did not fling the memory of defeat in our faces, nor exult too much—but rather tried to cheer us up at the same time. They went home with a kindly feeling of appreciation.

This year they were the guests and we the hosts. We tried to treat them each similarly—but of course, although we again suffered defeat, possibly one or two showed a somewhat what un-Lincolnite spirit; but it is to be expected that there are a few misrepresentative individuals in every school. Lincoln High School students are good losers, and in no way what-soever are there any ill feelings between Warren and Thief River Falls.

SENIOR GIRLS ARE IN LEAD

With the interclass tournament about half over the Senior girls basketball team from their fellow classmates by a 1000 per cent receipts. In the boys' basketball the Juniors and Sophomores are also neck and neck with a percentage of .666 each, both teams having won two games and lost one. The Senior boys have a percentage of .500, giving them second place, while quarter ended 3 to 0, and the second the Junior girls have second place with a percentage of .666. The Sophomore girls have not been to the game was tied, 6 to 6. When going as good as expected, having the final which the blew the score was won only one of the games they have played. Neither the Freshmen boys' nor girls' team have won as yet.

Tuesday the Seniors played the Freshmen, and today the Sophomores meet the Seniors. The Seniors are expected to beat the Freshmen in both the girls' and boys' games. The Sophomore-Senior contest promises to be a real battle as the Sophomores won the first game between them and the Seniors are out for revenge.

Yes—Tell It

A well known business man who had built up a fortune running well up into the millions, was giving a talk, some of the secrets, the Whippets suffered their second conference defeat before one of the classes in Business Administration at the University.

"The secret of my success, my young friends," he announced, "boiled down into one single word, is HEAT.

"Have I ask a question, sir," asked one of the students.

"Certainly," replied the business man, very graciously.

"Would you mind telling us, just how you know the right men to work?"

Artificial silk can be made from cornstalks.

Whippet Men Tell Why They Like Grand Forks

Students and faculty members missed out on a good time last week when seven several of the basketball squad made the trip to Grand Forks. At accompanied by Coach Hoe, superintendent from some of those that made the trip, a very good time was had by all.

The first member the interviewer approached was Emil Dostal. He seemed to know it was coming for, with a smile that reached from ear to ear, he answered quickly: "Oh, boy! We ate at a frat house and I met a swell bunch. Saw some swell women over there."

Skip, the next one, didn't know whether to put anything in or not, but finally he was heard to say: "Saw some pretty keen looking blimps and had a swell time."

Johnny who was approached next, seemed to be trying to get something back at Emil for some unknown reason for he loudly replied, "I didn't have as much fun as Emil, but I guess I am not fast around women."

Bonner, who was last but by far not the least, answered the interviewer's question, "Well, we ate at a fraternity house. We met a swell bunch of fellows there that made me feel like home."

Lincoln Girls Try For Prizes In Meat Contest

Girls taking home economics at the Lincoln High School are going to test their ability as meat experts, to see accidentally they hope to share in the uniformly liberal prizes and are being offered in the Fifth National Meat Cookery contest in which they have just entered.

Miss Sarah Hunter, instructor in these girls, has sent in a request to the National Live Stock and Meat Board, sponsor of the contests, for four entry blanks and a supply of pamphlets giving the contest rules and regulations. The essays for the contest will be written by the girls during class and forwarded to the Board's headquarters at Chicago, March 15 is the closing date of the contest.

The best game of the girls' interclass tournament was played by the Juniors and Sophomores on Tuesday, February 28. The Sophomores took the lead throughout the game, the score of .666 each, both teams having Ishler, Sophomore forward, lost two games and lost one. The made a basket soon after entry thus Senior boys have a percentage of receiving the Sophs. The first .500, giving them second place, while quarter ended 3 to 0, and the second the Junior girls have second place with quarter ended 3 to 3 in favor of the Sophomores. The Sophomore girls have not been to the game was tied, 6 to 6. When going as good as expected, having the final which the blew the score was won only one of the games they have played. Neither the Freshmen boys' nor girls' team have won as yet.

Tuesday the Seniors played the Freshmen, and today the Sophomores meet the Seniors. The Seniors are favored.

DAYS GONE BY

March 3, 1927—

A horse overall turned out Wednesday, February 23, to see the Whippets play a return game against Argyle, winning by a 32-20 score.

Friday, February 25, in the final game of the season, the Whippets suffered their second conference defeat of the season at the hands of Warren.

March 4, 1926—

The local dealmakers won the jobber-lynch into one single word, is HEAT. dialist contest at Warren last Thursday evening.

The Lincoln High School quint lost to Fosston in a slow, uninteresting game by a score of 16-10 at Fosston last Friday night.

On Friday morning, the first day of the tournament, five games were played, Middle River winning over Warren, Thief River over Stephen, over Hallock, Warren over Middle River, and Thief River over Argyle.

The largest crowd of fans ever gathered in the auditorium to witness the district tournament, crowded the bleachers to overflowing Thursday evening.

Director Tulsen's boy's band furnished the music necessary to make the tournament complete. Accompanied by Chester Myron with his grasp of pretty fair support the fans with peppy tunes, the proceeds of which go into the Prosser fund.

MIDDLE RIVER DEFEATS WARRIOAD IN BYE GAME

Playing in the first quarter started out on even terms with Middle River gaining a slight edge on Warroad when Captain Hansen dropped in two points from midfloor the count 3-1 with Warroad and 4 at the end of the quarter.

Middle River still going strong in the second quarter Stephen quint at 10 to Warroad's 4. Middle River was playing their stuff by this time, due to the large number of fools called on Warroad, but the majority were missed. Middle River couldn't connect. Gen followed up a shot and tapped it in and Boomer Dahlow completed a nice try from the middle of the floor. Captain Hansen of the Argyle five, also made a goal from the middle of the floor and Severson followed suit by dropping in a pretty shot, making the count 8 and 3. Thief River leading at the close of the first quarter.

Second Quarter

The local boys came back in the second quarter, working as smoothly as ever. Their passing was good and they seemed to take turns at ringing up sensational shots. Rnus Severson was playing a star game for the last to score in the second quarter, both shots being received from the black line.

Don tapped in another nice follow-up shot and Boomer Dahlow hooked the ball in for two points. The Whippets were playing fast, but their quint was powerless to score in the ring just the same, missing several shots, all of which missed. The half ended Thief River 18, Argyle 3.

Third Quarter

A free throw by Ericson gave Thief River a 5-4 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Second Quarter

The much heralded Boardson of Warren got into action in the second quarter by scoring one of the prettiest shots of the backboard which appeared to be specially Arendt-ler basket by Boardson after a period of fast playing put the score at 7-3 in favor of Warren at the end of the first half. Each of the teams had scored two field goals each during the second quarter, indicating wonderful equality in defensive work and basket finding ability.

Third Quarter

A short shot by G. Dahlow and a free throw by Oen gave Thief River four more points to add to the score in the third quarter, 12-8. Warren had failed to score.

Fourth Quarter

Peterson scored a free throw for Warren at the beginning of the quarter, after which the Whippets took the lead. Another free throw by Peterson brought the score to 12-10. Olson, Captain of the Warren team, by scoring a long field goal tied the score 12-12 just before the final gun sounded. As things were rather exciting, the fans from both Warren and Thief River, cheered.

Extra Period Required

An extra period was required to break the tie. After about two minutes of play, Thomas and Severson got into action, and Severson Warren's basket. Thomas succeeded in tipping the ball into the basket a minute later the final gun sounded, with Warren two points ahead.

Warren Wins Game

Warren had considerably improved since the Whippets last met them and offered plenty of hot competition. They had changed their style to suit the occasion, instead of holding their positions as formerly, done and wasting valuable time in doing it. Thomas and Boardson advanced and broke up the Whippets' stalling attack. As a result, Warren won, although Thief River had defeated them twice previously in the season. The Whippets should have won but the breaks were against them and Warren therefore remained as the strongest contender for the championship honors.

T. R. F. WINS CONSOLATION GAME OVER ROSEAU TEAM

At 7:30 Friday evening in the consolation game the Thief River quint displayed considerable different form than at the morning game. The Whippets were all over, shooting from all angles, and what is more important, making them. The two Dahlow brothers, Richard and Gordon, were apparently engaged in private contest, putting on a great exhibition of basketball. Several shots from the middle of the floor were made. The two were tied with 6 and Kurt clicked in a nice shot. The Whippets kept up their good passing game and Ericson completed the only goal of the third quarter which ended with the count at 20 and 8, Whippets leading.

Last Quarter

With the locals well in the lead Coach Hoe sent in the substitutes who, hitting their stride, kept chalking up the points in a hurry. Ben Wengrzier made a difficult shot from the side of the basket and dropped in a free throw. Soon after Dostal tapped the ball in and Arendt rang up the final two points with a shot from the foul line.

Wengrzier completed their only field goal of the last quarter when Kvistad dropped in a neat shot from the side of the floor. The final gun sounded, bringing to a close the first day of the tournament with Warren, 33 and 12, Thief River maintaining their 1000 per cent standing.

STEPHEN DOWNS ROSEAU IN FIRST SEMI FINALS

The games played on Friday morning to select the two teams to compete in the championship game in the evening of the same day were exciting enough to satisfy even the most rabid of basketball fans. The games were played, both games were fast, full of fight, and pep, and exciting.

In the first game played at 10:00 o'clock, Stephen defeated Roseau 12-10 in a very evenly fought contest. The Stephen boys hit their stride early in the game, chalking up 7 points to Roseau's 2 before the first quarter was ended. The boys from Roseau warmed up a little more during the second quarter and began to make their shots count. The scores came closer together, until when the half ended, the score read 12-12.

Second Half

The third quarter was a period of fast, slashing basketball with neither team having much of a lead. The Roseaunites chalked up 5 points as a starter but that concluded their scoring for the game. The Stephen aggregation forged ahead near the end of the third period, the score reading at 16-17 for Stephen when the third quarter ended. Only one basket was scored during the fourth quarter, that being by Stephen, giving them the victory 19-16.

IN EXTRA PERIOD WARREN HANDS T. R. FIRST DEFEAT

At 11:00 o'clock occurred the big upset of the tourney, as a result of which the Thief River camps became crestfallen with gloom. In a basketball game which was a credit to the team start to finish Warren tied Thief River 12-12 by the end of the fourth quarter. In the over-time period Warren scored a field goal to give them the victory, eliminating Thief River Falls from championship competition.

Warren scored the first basket of the game after a round of clever passing. Capt. Ericson caged a long field goal to tie the score momentarily. After Stinchfield had scored another for the visitors "Boomer" Dahlow scored a short shot, which after journeying around the rim dropped in to again tie the score, 4-4.

Stephen didn't seem to be playing up to her usual form in the fourth quarter although the half was hard fought on both sides. Judy added two baskets and Hare dribbled in and completed a shot to make the count 18 and 7, Stephen leading at the close of the game.

MIDDLE RIVER NO MATCH FOR TOURNAMENT VICTORS

The first contest of the evening in which Middle River and Warren met, resulted in a 29 and 7 victory for Warren, the first quarter ending at 4 all gave indications of a hard fought game but Warren hit hard stride in the second quarter and walked away with the game.

The lonesome crowd which filled the bleachers to overflowing went wild when Middle River, getting the ball at the tip-off, commenced to feed out the Warren zone defense. Before we get clear for a pass the Middle River quint made long tries at the hoop which failed to score.

Warren was first to score when

ROSEAU WON FIRST TOURNAMENT GAME

Running up a big lead in the first half, the green clad Roseau youngsters easily defeated the Baudette quint by the score of 28 and 11.

Roseau's passing first team ball in its first quarter but Roseau came back in the second quarter to run up a 15 to 4 lead over Baudette. Burns, Roseau's lanky center, scored both their field goals in the first quarter and was high scorer in the second quarter. Baudette made frequent tries from under their basket but failed to connect, making only two goals in the first half.

Second Half

Baudette also added two more points, coming from under the basket. Both teams increased their pace and tightened their defense but Baudette was unable to hold the Roseau five who shifted through and scored from all sides, making the last score 27 and 7 at the close of the third quarter.

Delmore substituting for Burns rang in a nice goal from the foul line and Parr came through with a side shot for Roseau. The Baudette quint in working the ball down the floor usually missed up when they hit the Roseau defense due to poor passing and Roseaus ability to tight the ball. Baudette finally did break loose to score two field goals when Olson hooked the ball in and Hanson followed the four to drop in the last goal of the game making the score Roseau 28, Baudette 11.

HALLOCK EASY PREY FOR STRATTE STEPHEN QUINT

In the third contest of the afternoon Hallock went down in defeat before the strategic Stephen quint at the count of 16 and 9.

Nyland and Hare rang up two points each for Stephen at the opening of the game. The Stephen quint passed entirely, making guarding hard for the Hallock boys. Nelson scored from the side making Hallock's only field goal of the first quarter.

Hallock was unable to score in the second quarter due to poor passing and Stephen's scrappy defense. The half ended Stephen 11, Hallock 3.

Second Half

Stephen was held scoreless during the third quarter although they made frequent tries at the hoop. Murray scored for Hallock from the Middle of the floor and Nelson dropped in from the free throw line.

Interview No. 16

A quiet, philosophistic gentleman was stated at his desk when the 106 looking over a huge stack of papers entitled "Grammar Tests."

Nevertheless, the interview must begin!

What is your full name?

"Aymer Cornelius Matheson."

Why did you go in the "U" of Minnesota Morrison?

"Because I was born there."

In the most matter of fact way came the answer!

"Well, because that was the only higher school of the state to go to."

Then you have no fads what the most wonderful persons that God ever created, is my notion."

Do you believe one is never too old to learn?

"Decidedly, yes. In fact, I think we learn more and more, and easier, the longer we grow older. We learn it to a different way."

Are you a - British sympathizer? You always keep a British flag in the corner of your room?

"Well, I should say 'Mr.' Matheson fairly bubbled over): that's a Norwegian flag for Norwegian glamour, as these Norwegians might not forget that the flag of their fatherland is. Although, we do not try to make them Anglosaxy; far from it."

Whom do you think greater, Cicero or Virgil?

"Virgil, by far! Decidedly." The Latin teacher looked out the window with what kind of mien? Then declared! stated: "A poet is one of the

GRAVEL ROAD COSTS GROW WITH TRAFFIC BABCOCK STATES

Heavy Traffic Pavement Cost Is Less Than Unpaved Light Travel Routes

Gravel and earth roads carrying 250 vehicles per day will cost the same allowance for road maintenance as pavements carrying an average of 2,100 cars per day, in the 1928 budget of the Minnesota Highway department. All unpaved roads carrying more than 150 cars per day will get a larger allotment than the pavements.

For paved roads a uniform allowance of $75 per mile is made for all maintenance. This includes both tarring cracks and replacing any sections damaged by settlement of the subgrade.

Allowances for Maintenance.

On the unpaved roads, the allowance for roadway maintenance is 50 cents per mile per car. A road carrying an average of 150 cars per day will get $75 per mile, but a road carrying 1,000 cars per day will get $500 per mile.

This covers only routine maintenance, blading, smoothing the surface, filling chuck holes, etc. Special allotments are made where regraveling or re-surfacing is necessary. Where the regraveling is done, a "deferred maintenance charge" should be added in figuring the cost of a gravel road, because a gravel surface on a trunk highway soon cuts in from three to seven years.

On oiled earth and sand roads the allowance for roadway maintenance is 40 cents per car, or $125 per mile where traffic averages 1,000 cars per day. This includes only blading and patching and has not ever original treatment or retreatment.

A uniform allowance of $100 per mile is made for roadside maintenance on all types of roads. This covers guard rail and culvert repairs, cleaning drains and ditches, cutting weeds and brush and all other work on the strip between the roadway and the edge of the right-of-way. An additional $100 per mile is allowed for repairing pavement shoulders, due to the damage done by heavy rains in 1927, especially on roads paved the last two years. Other grass taking firm root, shoulder repair is usually a much smaller item.

Basis of Allotment

Allotments are made to the six-teen maintenance districts of the Highway department, based upon the mileage and volume of roads and of the traffic in each district. Special allotments are made for bridge maintenance, repairing creosote, sodium, calcium chloride and bituminous treatments, snow fences, snow removal and similar items which cannot be estimated in advance on a mileage basis.

The total maintenance allotment will be held down to $4,500,000, the same as in 1927. "We could undoubtedly spend a great deal more in trying to keep the unpaved roads smooth, but it would leave that much less for new construction and we would have nothing to show for it at the end of the year," Commissioner C. M. Babcock says. "With the allotment made, gravel roads which carry less than 500 cars per day will be kept in good condition in normal weather. The fourth, fifth and sixth States were Illinois, Missouri and Nebraska with 822, 537, and 466 associations respectively. These six states together have a little more than half of the total number of associations.

Wisconsin leads in the number of cooperatives handling dairy products, Iowa leads in marketing cooperatives, Iowa in livestock and California in fruit and vegetable cooperatives. Minnesota stands first in the general list "because of its ability to rank up both the dairy cooperatives and in those handling livestock.

Largest Graduating Class in History at Crookston Ag School

The Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, will have the largest graduating class in its history when ninety students will receive diplomas on March 22 from the three and four year courses. There will be sixty-one graduates from the three-year course and twenty-nine from the four-year course.

Commencement week will begin March 18 with the baccalaureate sermon. ERIE

The sad news was received from Duluth, by Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Eckwall and family that their daughter and sister, Miss Ida Eckwall, age 24, died Thursday, March 1, following a brief illness. It has not been learned at the time of this writing, what day the funeral is to take place. The message telling of the girl's serious illness was received Thursday night, answering the message right away Mr. Eckwall received a second message stating that the girl had passed away, so no one was left to go and see her before death occurred.

Robert M. Douglas, county agent, and Geo. M. Gunderson, superintendent of schools, met with the executives of boys' and girls' club work at the school house in district No. 59 Friday evening.

Tilley Johnsrud has purchased the Carl Ellefson homestead in the southeastern Star, and is busy making preparations for moving in.

The residence on the Ole Thrasherson farmstead was on the verge of being destroyed by fire Saturday morning. The fire was said to have started from the chimney. The house was saved in the nick of time by neighbors coming to assistance.

The Dorcas Ladies aid met with Mrs. Bertine Howe Wednesday afternoon.

Joseph Hoffman was a business caller at H. A. Dahlen's Saturday.

Laurence Wells and Miss Geneva Overum attended the district No. 59 club meeting Friday.

Carl Iverson moved up a large supply of wood for Tollef Hovet and Mrs. Johnson Saturday and Monday.

H. C. Iverson has launched the "Star Circle Study club" and, judging from the interest it already is being taken in the venture, it promises to grow.

MINNESOTA HAS LARGEST NUMBER OF CO-OPERATIVES

The United States Department of Agriculture has reports of 10,803 agricultural associations operating in the United States in 1925. Of these Minnesota had the largest number 1,-333. Iowa was second with 1,094 and Wisconsin was a close third with 1,-092. Nebraska combined but not practically one-third of all the cooperatives. The fourth, fifth and sixth States were Illinois, Missouri and Nebraska with 822, 537, and 466 associations respectively. These six States together have a little more than half of the total number of associations.

Wisconsin leads in the number of cooperatives handling dairy products, Iowa leads in marketing cooperatives, Iowa in livestock and California in fruit and vegetable cooperatives. BIG MEETING HELD AT ERIE BOOSTING 4-H CLUB PROJECT

County Agent Hopeful of Organizing Dozen Clubs During Present Month

Nearly 100 boys and girls and interested parents in the vicinity of the Erie school house gathered there last Friday night and listened to remarks of County Agent Robert M. Douglas, who explained the benefits that could be derived by the boys and girls from united efforts in the 4-H club projects.

A second meeting will be held there again next week at which time it is expected that still others will be present and that a unit will be formed in that part of the county. Other meetings are being arranged by Mr. Douglas and he expects to have a dozen clubs organized before the close of the month.

Enrollment in 4-H club work in Minnesota in 1927 numbered 26,687 as compared to 26,778 in 1926, a gain of 1,262 or eight percent. In seven counties there was a membership of 600 or more each, the county of St. Louis leading with enrollments of more than 2,000. Ten counties enrolled from 400 to 600 members each, and 43 counties from 200 to 400. Seventy-seven counties had less than 200 members each. The average enrollment per county was 346.

Girls composed 56 per cent of the total membership, or 15,046, and naturally the projects in which they took part made the greatest gains.

T. A. Erickson, the state club leader, says more attention will be given in 1928 to expanding the work with older girls and young men. The adolescent baby beef, sheep and swine production projects will be emphasized.

Business interests of the state, the public schools and county fair organizations gave club work a larger measure of support in 1927 than ever before. More than 100 commercial and business men's service clubs contributed of their time and means in club activities last year.

Boys and Girls From Pennington County To Attend Short Course

Several boys and girls from Pennington county are planning to attend the seventeenth annual Boys' and Girls' short course to be held at the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston March 26-30, according to County Agent Robert M. Douglas.

Nearly 300 boys and girls from the 13 northwest counties of Minnesota are in attendance each year, reports Prof. R. H. Larsen, registrar, which indicate, their sees varying from 12 to 20 inclusive.

There will be classes dealing with the home, the farm, the school and the community. Instructors will be from the Northwest School in addition to boys' and girls' club leaders and county agents. The recreation program includes excursions, games, contests, singing, movies and illustrated lectures. Boys and girls who are planning to attend are asked to write the Northwest School so that final plans may be made for the week.

ASKED POTATO GROUP FORMED IN KITTSON

The Kittson County Seed Potato Growers Association was formed at a meeting in Kennedy to foster the growing and shipping of high standard certified seed potatoes in this section. Highway Department Seeks Bids on 445,000 Barrels Of Cement for This Year

The state of Minnesota is in the market for 445,000 barrels of cement for use in building paved highways during 1928, it was announced. A material will be opened at the offices of C. M. Babcock, commissioner of highways, March 20.

The state this year will continue the practice of furnishing cement on all paving jobs. Paving contractors in all future jobs will be required to make the best type of concrete highway that is necessary, that their properties of cement, neither too much nor too little, will be required in the mix, it was announced by the engineers in charge of highway construction. The state will be careful to keep the cement from getting wet, it was said, and will furnish the contractors with tarpaulins to protect it from the weather.

Bids are to be received on the cement separately from the bids on the paving jobs, it was announced, and the latest specifications for cement will be used. Specifications for cement cover specific gravity, fineness, soundness, time of setting and tensile strength. Tests are taken from each car load and tested in the laboratory maintained by the highway department. At least 28 per cent of each sample must pass through a 200 mesh sieve having 40,000 holes per square inch. Tests are made on one part cement and three parts standard sand must show a tensile of 200 pounds per square inch in one week and 300 pounds in four weeks.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEMBERS TO HEAR MINNESOTA MEN

The Commercial club at its meeting last week accepted the invitation of the Highway club to meet with them next Tuesday night at the Evelyn hotel at 6:30 p. m. Each club's members of both organizations are asked to bring a farmer from the country with them as guests. The club of Minneapolis will be the speaker of the evening.

The regular Commercial club meeting for the first Tuesday night will be postponed till Friday, on which evening Gen. G. Bale, who will then be serving address the Parent Teachers' association, will be present and give a short talk to club members and guests.

Only routine matters are on the program for the weekly meeting that soon, including reports of one or two committees.

LE SUEUR CENTER BOY LEADS CORN GROWERS

Growing 504 bushels of corn on his five-acre field, Edward F. Elsrod of Le Sueur Center, Minnesota 4-H club boy, won the highest honors in the corn club project in 1927 in connection with more than 400 other juniors in corn club work.

Other findings in the office of T. A. Erickson of University Farm, the state leader, gave the next two championships to Samuel Gilligan of Northfield, who produced 84 bushels per acre on a single acre. Charles Grading of Spring Valley ranked third with an acre yield of 82 bushels of dry corn.

Believing that the prevailing drought was a visitation of the Deity offended by the presence of so many criminals, distracted peasants in Italy garia rallied a prison and offered as sacrifice four of the worst offenders.

AUTO, ELECTRICAL AND STYLE SHOW PLANS ARE COMPLETED

Second Annual Exposition Will Be Staged In Auditorium Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday

Fifteen Different Makes of Automobiles Will be Shown—Style Show to be Held Friday Evening Only—Program of Entertainment Three Nights.

Monday of next week will see groups of various exhibitors starting preparations to make their displays at the Second Annual Auto, Electrical and Style Show exposition of that kind, and worthy of the attendance of record breaking crowds keep on learning what is new in the automobile world, the modern electrical household conveniences and the latest in fashion. That is the real purpose of the Show, which is being sponsored by the Elmer Eklund post of the American Legion on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, March 22, 23 and 24, in the city auditorium.

Main avenue these three days may justly be called the Broadway of Thief River Falls, for never before have there been so many different makes of automobiles on display as will be on hand when the doors of the auditorium are opened for the public. Fifteen different makes of passenger cars will be represented and the four blocks of that thoroughfare as this year, and the auditorium, too, is located right in the center of the "town" and thus becomes the center of attraction.

Many New Models at Show

Included in the exhibit of cars this year will be found the latest 1928 models of cars shown by their respective dealers: Buick, Peerless Auto Co., Red Lake Falls; Chevrolet, Reliable Motor Co.; McFarlan, D. Gustafson & Son, Inc.; Dodge Brothers, Farmers Garage; Essex, Nelson Ygyre Motor Co.; Ford, Sinclair Garage; Hudson, Nelson Ygyre Motor Co.; Hupmobile, A. T. Berg; McClintock, Nash, Wheeler & Malm, Grand Forks; Oakland, Overman Motor Sales; Packard, J. D. Hagner, St. Hilaire; Studebaker, Dakota Auto Co., Grand Forks; Whippet, Thief River Motor Co.; and Willys-Knight, Thief River Motor Co.

Electrical Exhibit Interactive

The Electrical Show will be held in the lobby of the auditorium, immediately back of the main floor space where the displays placed along the hallway and in the Commercial club rooms at the end of the hall. Among exhibitors will be the Larson Furniture company, Williams Hardware & Implement Co., the City Water & Light department, the Thief River Falls Telephone company, Ole Ihle, Ole H. Red, Mrs. Ole,

SOCIAL ITEMS

Birthday Party

Mrs. George Howe entertained a group of girls Saturday afternoon in compliment to her daughter, Geraldine, celebrating the latter's twelfth birthday. Games were played after which a two-course luncheon was served, and a theatre party enjoyed in the evening. Guests at the party were Coyla Roseman, Arlene and Phyllis Zellmer, Lorraine Bayerl, Helen Hermanson, Helen Ralston, Lucille Bowers, Lois Nelson, Maxine Dalton, Fern Collins, Bernice McClelland, Harriet Dillon, and Geraldine Howe.

Women's Club Notes

A large crowd gathered in the Commercial club rooms Monday evening for the regular monthly meeting of the Women's club, and enjoyed the privilege of listening to an interesting lecture on "Art in the Home" by Miss Anita Lindberg, instructor of art at the University of North Dakota. The Women's club chorus sang several very pleasing numbers, and two of Mr. Hamberg's pupils, Grace Jahr and Dorothy Nile, played a splendid violin duet. Lunch was served following the program and a pleasant social time was enjoyed.

The Domestic Art group of the Women's club will meet Monday afternoon, March 19, at the home of Mrs. Bella B. Zeh, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. L. Larson will discuss glassware, and Mrs. Alfred Bradeson will discuss china.

The recreation group enjoyed a party in the domestic science room of the high school last Thursday night at the completion of their six weeks' course.

Mrs. Burrell Hostess

Mrs. B. H. Burrell was hostess to a number of people at her home Saturday afternoon, the occasion being the fifth birthday anniversary of her daughter, Ardith Marie. Games were played during the afternoon, after which luncheon was served at 4:30 o'clock, at a table made attractive with St. Patrick's Day decorations. Those present were Ardith Marie Burrell, Ardith and Delores Schultz, Jean and Peggy Gustafson, Alice Severson, Brunell Erickson, Suzanne Brink, Arlene Naplin, Mefford, Harold and Karl Burrell, Walter Kingsbury, Wesley Burrell and Ronald Kingsbury. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. H. W. Kingsbury and Mrs. G. L. Schultz.

Farewell Party

Miss Mildred Tessum and Miss Estella Hanson were joint-hostesses at a party at the Olaf Tessum home Friday night in compliment to Emma, Lawrence and John Letner, prior to their departure for their new home at Mayville, N. Dak. Other guests included Adeline Solmonson, Ray Solmonson, Harry and Agnes Peterson and Edwin Tessum.

Entertains Bridge Club

Mrs. H. O. Melby was hostess to the members of the Bridge club at her home at 701 Lathrop avenue north Tuesday evening.

Stuffelini; delegate to grand lodge convention, A. G. Gabrielson; alternate to grand lodge convention, O. D. Quiley; members of the executive committee, C. G. Hatton, and O. D. Quiley. District deputy A. Anderson installed the officers.

Grand Senior Counselor Jos. J. Daly of Grand Forks was the guest of honor. Crookston and Grand Forks councils had large delegations present.

ELKS WILL INITIATE 150 . . . FRIDAY NIGHT, MCH. 16

There will be initiation of candidates by the Elks lodge, No. 1356 tomorrow, Friday, evening, followed by refreshments. Two big "pep" prizes have been announced for the occasion, Dr. Cohen of Brainerd, district deputy grand exalted ruler, will be present.

St. Patrick Social

A St. Patrick social will be held in the Dalrymple school, Dist. No. 1356 Sunday evening, Mar. 17. Lunches will be sold. Mrs. Douglas the County Agent will speak. Everyone come and have a good time. Mildred Peterson, teacher.

A book on etiquette of the 14th Century contains the passage: "At the beginning of the meal everyone should wash their hands in each other's presence in order that those who are going to put their hands in the same dish together may have no doubt about the cleanliness of each other's hands."

In a contest with telegraphers from 14 countries a Breslau, Germany, girl won the contest when she topped the list with 2,221 words an hour.

State Auxiliary Head Scheduled for Talks in 3 Northern Towns

Mrs. J. M. Bishop, department head for the American Legion Auxiliary for Minnesota, passed thru Thief River Falls Wednesday noon on her way to Greenbush, where last evening she spoke to a joint gathering of legion and auxiliary members.

Today she went on to Warroad by train, from which place she will be taken by auto late this afternoon to Baudette. There this evening a banquet will be tendered to her by the joint organizations, followed by a program and a general "mixer" afterward.

It is also possible that she may stop at Roosevelt on her way home, her present plans being to spend Sunday in this city with Mr. Bishop, securing a much needed rest, as she has been on an almost continuous speaking tour for several weeks past.

MRS. MOGENSEN HOSTESS AT PASADENA LUNCHEON

One of the "first social affairs of the week at Pasadena, Calif., was a bridge luncheon given by Mrs. E. O. Mogensen, formerly of this city, honoring Mrs. Theo. A. Way of Des Moines, Iowa, who has been spending the winter at Pasadena. A huge spray bouquet of early spring flowers in pastel shades made an attractive centre piece for the luncheon table, tall green tapers and daintily cut baskets enhancing its charm. Guests included Thief River friends of Mrs. Mogensen who are now living in California, namely Mrs. Lester Lawrence and her mother, the guest of honor, Mrs. Way, Mrs. Henry Halvorson, Mrs. Harold Miller, Mrs. Ila Reynolds, Mrs. A. I. Andersson, Mrs. Harvey Frederick, and Mrs. P. H. Gamiselle."

LOCAL GIRL MARRIES . . . ST. PAUL MAN SATURDAY

Friends of Miss Vera Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carlson of this city, will be interested to learn of her marriage Saturday, March 10, to Donald E. Drake of Winchester, Indiana. The wedding ceremony was performed under an improvised arch of pink and white at the Swedish church, St. Paul, and the bride, who was charmingly attired in a gown of Grecian rose georgette, was attended by Miss Viola Larson of St. Paul. Joe Hogan of St. Paul attended the groom. The couple will be at home at 656 Lincoln avenue, St. Paul, both being employed in this city.

St. Patrick's Day dinner served from 5 to 7 o'clock in St. Bernard's church basement Saturday, Mar. 17. Public invited.

SPRING BEGINS OFFICIALLY . . . NEXT TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Spring begins next Tuesday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock, according to the almanacs, the sun crossing the equation on its northward journey at that time.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE

Official Paper of the City of Thief River Falls and Pennington County.

The fact that Thief River Falls is able to stage an Automobile Show at which are displayed fifteen different makes of cars indicates that this city is not only the shopping center but also the automobile center of Northwestern Minnesota.

ORGANIZING THE GIVERS

As a class, merchants probably receive more appeals for charity than any other group. This is due partly to the fact that merchants are easy to reach and partly to the fact that most merchants respond quite freely to any and all requests that are made of them. If they give more liberally than other groups it is not because they are more generous than others as a class but rather because it is more difficult for them to keep from giving. The contributions they make are, to a large extent, made unintelligently, and if more than half of what they give ever arrives at the destination for which it was intended the result is due to their good fortune and not their good foresight.

Business men of the larger cities seem to have made some headway toward a sensible solution of the "Charity" problem by pooling their contributions through what are known as community chests. By this method the overhead cost of collecting is reduced to a minimum, which means that a larger portion of the charity dollar reaches the actual scene of need. By this method it is possible, too, to give more intelligent supervision to the expenditures of such money. Such supervision means that unworthy cases will receive less, which means that the worthier organizations will receive more. The community chest idea has much merit. Up to the present time however, this idea has not worked out successfully in the smaller cities and towns. Many small cities have tried such a plan but few have continued it.

It is interesting, therefore, to note that Northfield business men are trying to figure out a plan that will work. The News of that city, which is optimistic of the results, states:

"When various organizations of Northfield meet next Wednesday to consider the feasibility of definitely organizing a Community Chest, there will appear an opportunity for one of the most constructive pieces of community service that has been accomplished in Northfield in years. We feel confident that something effective is going to be accomplished, and that the result will be permanently beneficial.

"The Community Chest is the only businesslike method of handling the funds that are solicited and given for charity, for welfare work and for certain community enterprises. The local details will have to be carefully worked out, of course, and it may be one or two years before the plan will really function. If given an adequate trial, there is no question that the Community Chest will produce results, while at the same time it eliminates duplication and ends the annoyance of frequent solicitation.

"The greatest enemies of any good cause are the extremists who favor it."

"THROUGH THE NIGHT"

Our attention was attracted to an advertisement of the Ford Motor Company in one of the national magazines last week. Headed "Through The Night" and illustrated with a sketch of a mail plane winging its way through silver tipped clouds and a star specked sky, this advertisement was one of a series being run, the purpose of which is to build public confidence in the dependability of transportation by air and, incidentally, create interest in this new product of the Ford Motor Company. The following three paragraphs appealed to us particularly:

A cold night, crystal clear, with skid chains ringing on the frozen highway; the homing wind cutting like a knife through each and her, a silver mist of frost dazzling the moonlight . . . a night to be snugly indoors! Yet the great mail plane drones overhead!

Whether it be a night of cold or a night of heat, thunderous and oppressive, with clouds of dust spiralling upward even in the dry darkness . . . or a night of drizzling rain, with the pat-pat-pat of waves sending fear into the hearts of those who live by the banks of rising rivers . . . those couriers of the sky fly on their appointed courses.

Above the flood or on the edge of the blizzard they are blazing new routes to serve a higher civilization than the world has yet known.

"—blazing new routes to serve a higher civilization than the world has yet known." Who, twenty-five years ago, had the vision to foresee our present civilization. Twenty-eight years ago the world looked back over the century which had just closed and wondered at the progress which had been made during that hundred years. They pointed to the steam engine, the steamboat, the telephone, the telegraph and many other important achievements of science in that period. They boasted that more revolutionary progress had been made in the nineteenth century than in all of the eighteen preceding centuries combined. During that hundred years civilization journeyed from tallow candles to electric lights—a tremendous step forward.

The century ended but progress did not stop. The automobile revolutionized transportation. Wireless revolutionized communication. The gasoline engine and the electric motor revolutionized industry. Transportation, communication and power are still in the process of being revolutionized. Who has the vision to foresee the airplane as it will be twenty-five years from now? Who has the vision to foresee the uses of radio twenty-five years from now. And with experiments now going forward to harness the very forces of gravity which hold the universe together, who has the vision to foresee what our sources of power may be twenty-five years from now. Expensive hydro-electric developments may be abandoned as obsolete. Coal and oil as fuel for power may be looked upon as we look upon a tallow candle for light. Who, in the face of the many incomprehensible things that have been done during the past twenty-five years, would dare set a limit to the progress that will be made during the next twenty-five years.

Through the night, new routes to serve a higher civilization than the world has yet known, are being blazed.

ADJUSTED COMPENSATION ACT AMENDED BY HOUSE

According to County Auditor T. F. Anderson the World War Adjusted Compensation act has been amended by a unanimous vote made of the lower house of congress until July 2, 1930, the time for veterans or their dependents to file for additional compensation.

The new legislation was needed to remove the January 1, 1928 limitation on the time for filing applications, which was said to be blocking action on some 10,000 applications that have been made in the Army and Navy departments as well as making possible hardship on some half million beneficiaries who have not filed applications.

County Auditor Anderson stated today to a representative of The Times that he did not know of a Pennington county case that had not been cared for.

Gardening, Dairying and Poultry Raising Require Easy Access to Markets

The important relation of good roads to diversified farming is emphasized in a bulletin issued by the Minnesota Highway department. Periods of poor roads, it points out, are a greater hardship in the present age of diversification than they were in the pioneer days.

Good roads were not an imperative need for marketing grain and lumber, the two main products in the early days. Timber was cut in winter and hauled by sleigh to the nearest saw mill or river. Most of the grain was also hauled by sleigh. If it had to be hauled by wagon, it could be done when the roads were dry. Milk and cream, butter and eggs, on the other hand, must be marketed at frequent and regular intervals, while poultry, livestock and garden products must be sold when "prime" and when the market is favorable.

Co-operative creameries gave the good roads movement a good start before the automobile came into general use. The growth of the cities also spurred the demand for good roads into the dairy districts. By the last census 825,000 people, more than one third of the state's total, live in cities of 10,000 or over. Milk, cream, eggs and vegetables must be brought from a much larger territory than when cities were small.

Good roads make it possible to bring perishable food stuffs to market in less time, in better condition, and with less waste. As diversified farming has extended the demand for good roads, improved highways in turn have done much to promote diversified farming in Minnesota.

BASKETBALL LEAGUE GAMES AT CROOKSTON THIS WEEK

Announcement was made this week by James C. Kelley of Crookston, "Czar of the Northwestern Minnesota Basketball league, that the tournament would be held in that city on Friday and Saturday, March 16 and 17.

The six teams comprising the league in addition to the American league team of Thief River Falls are Hegler, Bemidji, Crookston, Fertile and Fosston. There is still some talk of inviting the fives from Park River and Stephen to take part in the contest, but Manager James Cobb of the local team has heard nothing definite in the matter.

FARM BUREAU HEAD RECITES AUTO INSURANCE INCREASE

Declaring that there is nothing in present Minnesota conditions to justify a raise in automobile insurance rates, Louis Krieken of St. Paul, director of insurance for the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, this week sent out notification to representatives in every county in the state that there would be no raise during 1928 in the rates to farmers for auto insurance.

As a result, members of the Minnesota Farm Bureau will be enabled to secure their auto risk insurance at a rate less than one-half the customary charge.

When interviewed regarding the above statement local insurance agents stated that the above refers to mutual insurance and not to old line companies. The rates are announced in Tue. Times last week had not been as great as was at first contemplated, there being no raise on property damage rates, but that there was an increase of from 25 to 50 per cent on passenger cars for public liability.

GAS PRICE WAR FIRM TWIN CITY WAR ENDED

Auto owners, who have been patiently waiting for a drop in the price of gasoline here, similar to the decrease at Detroit Lakes, Moorhead, Fergus Falls and other places throughout northern Minnesota, are doomed to disappointment.

The war on gas in the Twin Cities was ended Saturday of last week, when the big companies got together and decided to raise their prices there three cents per gallon, thus insuring for low test up to 20 cents. It is expected that the places where a local war between dealers has been on will be brought to a close also.

At Moorhead the price was down to 19.9 cents per gallon; At Canby it went down to 16.3; at Hawley the charge per gallon was 17 cents; and at Detroit Lakes the rate was announced as 15.17 cents.

DELAY IN SHOWING FILM "ROMANCE OF SLEEPY VALLEY"

Inability to secure certain necessary electrical equipment has delayed temporarily the showing of the Farm Bureau film entitled "The Romance of Sleepy Valley," said County Agent Robert M. Douglas. As soon as received, Manager James Cobb of the local team has heard nothing definite in the matter.

Fertility of Soil, Worn Out by Crops, Restored by Plant Food

"Does Soil Wear Out?" Certainly, because crops are "not made of nothing," declares W. H. Stevenson, director of agriculture at Iowa State college, Ames, in a current issue of the Universal Farmer. The net loss of fertility of farm soils is sufficient cause to demand attention and requires definite application of plant-food, he advises.

Three principal elements removed from farm soil in Iowa by nine different crops in one year were worth $156,000,000, a survey made by the state office shows. Eighty per cent of this subtraction was in the farm nitrogen largely returned by legumes, green manures, Professor Stevenson asserts, but phosphorous and potassium, amounting to ten per cent each, also require the application of commercial materials.

Professor Stevenson advocates the usual crop rotation, adequate return of manures, and effective use of straw and corn-stalks supplimented with commercial fertilizer to provide the vital energies from which soils produce crops. He also warns against the burning of straw and stalks as a serious threat against the fertility of the land.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S RULING NOT APPLICABLE IN T. R. F.

It is not the duty of city clerks to advise prospective precinct pulling places in a city are open during the hours set by the city call, Attorney General G. A. Youngquist said Monday in a letter published April 30 of Austin, Minneapolis city attorney. The attorney general also held that all expenses incurred in the conduct of party primaries are party expenses and are not chargeable by the city clerk to election funds.

City Clerk P. G. Pederson stated today to a representative of The Times that the above ruling was not applicable here for whenever the Republican party has held a caucus, most of last night, the executive committee of that political faith had always paid the regular charge of $15 for such meetings.

TILE DRAINAGE COSTS ANALYZED IN BULLETIN

Much information as to the cost of tile drainage is given in a new bulletin prepared by H. B. Roe of the agricultural engineering division at University Farm and published by the Minnesota Experiment Station. Data, gathered in investigations carried on from 1908 to 1921 at various points in the state have been collected and systematized and can be used with advantage in making preliminary estimates of the cost of farm drainage. The bulletin is of value to engineers who are planning or installing farm tile systems, to managers of large farms, and to technical men. It will be furnished without cost to those making application to the Office of Publication at University Farm, St. Paul.

The efforts of the organized liquor interests to undermine the constitution and to intimidate those who would acknowledge loyalty to it, and appreciation of the blessings accruing from it, were fearlessly shown by the paid high tribute to Mabel Walker Willebrandt, who was called by President Harding to be assistant attorney general of the United States, and her work in connection with the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment.

On Sunday evening, to a packed house in the Methodist-Presbyterian church, Rev. Bixler spoke on "Laying Foundations". For more than an hour he held up a rapid fire of well chosen words, interspersed with ready humor, and whether she talked of the foundation of the prohibition movement, or the havoc a wet president could bring to our nation by his power of appointing set-officers, or the responsibility that rests upon the good people of our country in their right of franchise, she spoke in the same intense and forceful manner, and had her hearers spell bound. No one could say her deductions were illogical or clouded. Her experience covering many years in our state and nation has given her a clear and logical mind.

T. L. Formed Here

On Saturday afternoon she addressed the members of the local Union of which Mrs. Mary Stevens is president, and she organized a junior department, a band of little children and young people present, with three ladies in charge, Mrs. Ray Oliver, Mrs. Ralph Bigelow and Mrs. C. Schoberg. A delicious lunch was served by the committee and a social hour followed when all were privileged to meet in acquaintance with Mrs. Stiver who is an honorary member of the Thief River Falls.

Monday morning the state president spoke to the high school students at the assembly hall, and her remarks were very well received She showed what it has meant to our civilization that some people have put upon themselves" to do things that the Savior commanded us while He was here on earth. Frances Willard who "took it upon herself" to do something great "for God, and home, and every land."

Our Little Corner

No. 12 MARCH 15, 1928 Vol. 2

The old fashioned bed room which wasn't heated didn't get as much use as they do now-a-days. Which may account for the improvements in bedroom furniture. We're especially stuck on these walnut suites of ours. Come in and see them.

A Chicago woman stabbed her husband recently in order to keep him at home. Better hide this item before your wife sees it!

Here's a suggestion for tomorrow afternoon. Call up one of your friends, "may be" suggest that you both come down here to see the Sanitas kitchen cabinets. You'll both be interested in them, and we'll be mighty glad to show them to you.

We extracted a smile from this one yesterday. A soldier boy on a lighted cigarette on the parade grounds and the sergeant hauled him out, as only a sergeant-major can. That evening the soldier was late to mess. "What made you late?" asked the sergeant. "I went down to the store—to—get," replied the soldier."

Summer time is gasoline stove time. Come in and see the advantages of our kitchenkabs before the hot summer months arrive.

"A home," some one has said, "may be judged by the number of comfortable chairs it has." There is something to that. For real comfort, as well as appearance, you can't beat ours. Come in and try them.

Especially when there are children in the home, is the question of floor covering important. Armstrong's linoleum is not only much more sanitary because it's easily cleaned, but it makes a stailless floor. Use it in any room in the house—and get it here.

When the curtains come down during house cleaning, your window shades are shown up in their true light. And some of them look pretty shabby, don't they? We can fit your windows in any size of Western Shade. And Western means quality.

The Victory Six
BY DODGE BROTHERS

5 to 25 Miles Per Hour in 7¼ Seconds!

10 to 45 Miles in 13½ Seconds!

No other car in The Victory price class can approach these astonishing get-away figures! And the statement holds equally true of Victory speed! . . . Watch the car flash thru traffic, lead off at the go signal and hold its lead! Ask Victory owners about its amazing pull on the hills!

There's a simple, logical answer to this spectacular performance—unequalled power per pound of car weight.

In other words, a new and superior kind of engine with a new and superior kind of car.

The problem of weight solved thru simplicity of design. The problem of design solved thru simplicity of parts. (No body sills—only 9 major body pieces)

High power made feasible by rugged Dodge construction and Dodge quality materials . . . High speed made practical by a lower gravity center and no body overhang. (Chassis full width of body)

SNOW INTERFERED WITH ELECTIONS THRUOUT COUNTY

No Contests of Importance in Any of Townships of Pennington County

There was a good vote out at the town elections held Tuesday of this week, according to reports reaching this city today, altho there would have been a much larger vote cast if it had not been for the heavy snow fall on Monday and early Tuesday, many of the country roads being quite badly blocked, it is stated.

There was little of interest in the various elections, many of the officers elected being those who have been in the same positions for the past year.

Election returns as far as received are published herewith:

Town of Mayfield

Supervisors, chairman, J. P. Johnson for three years; Sam Sorby, for one year, and Martin Hoaas for three years; clerk, M. O'Leary, for two years; treasurer, John Solberg for one year; justice of peace, J. P. Aspevaldahl; Wm. Jespersen and Hans H. Thegen. $250 was voted for town revenue and $450 for roads and bridges.

Town of Highlandine

Supervisors, L. Stanley for three years and Christ Hjelle for two years; clerk, Hosmer Sorby, treasurer, August Wold; justice of peace, P. C. Wold and C. Dr. Vail; constables, Henry Hjelle and Eben Davies.

Town of Sarden

Supervisors, Sam Shaarr; town clerk, John Funnesdahl; treasurer, Gunhus M. Olsen; justices of the peace, Emil Bloom for one year and Harry Mc-Kenzie for two years; C. C. Slinger; road overseers, district No. 1, Ben Peterson; No. 2, Harry Mc-Kenzie; No. 3, Martin Johnson and No. 4, Gordon Olsen. Thirty-seven votes were cast.

Town of Black River

Town of Deer Park

Supervisors, Anton Johnson; clerk, O. E. Lunden; treasurer, O. N. Mandt; justices of the peace, Gil Rustan and constables, Gunder Anderson and Ole Nesland. $200 was appropriated for road and bridges and $200 for the revenue fund.

Regional Tournament Was Won by Moorhead Cagers Fourth Successive Year

For the fourth successive year the Moorhead basketball quint captured the tournament championship of region No. 1 when they defeated Warren high school 25 to 15 last Friday in the Crookston armory.

The Warren team, which won the championship of district No. 4, played a wonderful game of ball, pushing up a real fight against the mighty Moorhead team. Warren was ahead during the entire first half of the game, the first quarter ending 6 to 2 in favor of the first district champs, and the second quarter ending when the score of 12 to 8 had been reached. The Moorhead boys came back in the third quarter with renewed fire, holding Warren scoreless, while they chalked up nine points, the quarter ending with a score of 17 to 12 in favor of Moorhead. The final quarter was a continuation of the stellar playing on the part of the Moorhead boys, who left 25 points to their honor with Warren registering 15 at the close of the game.

The consolation game between Grand Forks defeated Bemidji 29 to 19, the teams running very evenly during the first quarters.

In exhibition games between Crookston and Thief River Falls was played after the regular tournament, the local boys being defeated by one point.

HANSEN VISITS CAPITOL

A BETTER TOWN PAIRING

According to the Washington correspondent of the St. Paul Dispatch C. L. Haiser of this city, former member of the State Senate, had been in Washington for several days on his way home from Florida.

He visited the state department in company with Congressman Knutson Selvig of this district on passport matters, and went to the senate where he was greeted by Washington newspapermen, the Dispatch article stated.

JOHN STRAND SUCCEEDS

Conrad J. Opland, local manager of the Red Lake Co. for the past nine years, has resigned his position here and goes to Fargo to enter business, there, having been manager for the company's yards at Moorhead for nine years before coming here, following two years at Fargo.

John Strand, who for several years has been connected with the local company, has been promoted to the position made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Opland. Miss Margaret Brown, who has been stenographer and bookkeeper for the company for several months past, will remain with the company.

SEVERAL CHANGES BY BUSINESS FIRMS ARE MADE PUBLIC

Olson's Beauty Shop, Dress Club, Wangenstein and Flower Shop Moving

The remodeling of the Caldis building is bringing about several changes of business places, the first of which has already been made, the Mari Rose Beauty Shop of Mrs. Ruth Olson having been removed from its former location in the rear of the old Farmers & Merchants bank to the Findwed Millinery Shop on East Third, across the alley from the Minnesota Candy Kitchen. Excellent quarters have been arranged here and customers of Mrs. Olson will find better accommodations than formerly.

Another movement is also made this week of the removal of the Dress Club from the north side of Third street west to the Thief River Cooperative store to the remodeled new store in the Caldis building. The Dress Club having leased the room next to the alley.

Wangenstein & Son have leased the other one of these newly remodeled stores, and will shortly move into the building, following a special sale they are now featuring preparatory to the removal.

The Flower Shop of Martin Bathus has secured the location, being vacated by the Dress Club, and after it has been thoroly renovated the change in location will be made.

Another removal announced this week is that of Mrs. Alice Erickson, who is temporarily located in Langseth' Shoe Store, where she is doing her millinery work.

TOWNSHIPS TO GET COUNTY ROAD AID

A system of county aid which is expected to do for the town roads what the state aid system is doing for county roads, was adopted last week by the Todd county board. Each town board may designate certain of its most traveled roads as county aid roads. The designation is to be approved by the county board for the purpose of securing uniformity, and to the end that the roads from one township may lead into another, thus developing a road system. The county aid roads will be built under the supervision of the county engineer, and the towns will be required to maintain them just as the counties are required to maintain the state aid roads.

This is the system which has given the county such excellent roads the last few years and which, within five or six years, will give us a county road system that will equal in quality and permanency the state roads of the county," says the Long Prairie Leader.

MORRIS BYE IS NAMED EXALTED RULER OF ELKS

The annual election of officers of the local Elks lodge was held last Friday evening at which time the following were named for the ensuing year: exalted ruler, Morris Bye; esteemed leading knight, Kern Olson; esteemed loyal knight, Chas. Fisher; esteemed lecturing knight, Sam Flaught; secretary, Oscar Paulson; treasurer, Verner Nelson; tyler, Vincent B. Berry; trustee for three years, J. O. Vetter; delegate to the grand lodge, Christ Stenholm. W. H. Buntharat and Jos. T. Fluegeiger are the two other trustees whose terms have not expired.

L. B. Johnston was elected to the grand lodge meeting, while Andy Anderson, J. T. Fluegeiger and W. L. Peterson of Lancaster were named delegates to the state convention, with Verner Nelson, Ole Oathy and George Curran as alternates.

At the meeting this week Friday, March 16, Dr. A. S. Cohen of Brainerd, district deputy grand exalted ruler, will visit the lodge. Mr. Cohen was here last summer at the time of the annual state convention of the Elks, and will be remembered by many for his remarks.

ELIMINATE IDLE FARM TO BRING PROSPERITY

was introduced by Toastmaster H. A. Fish, responding with optimistic statements as to purposes of the Farm Bureau movement in Pennington county. In taking up the work here the new county agent feels that he must be careful in choosing the various lines of endeavor that the bureau should put over, and that in taking time, he said.

However, said Mr. Douglas, agricultural co-operation has been the subject of discussion of the matter, by local merchants apparently being favorable.

No decision will be reached in the matter till after the appointment of the new entertainment committee, which will be made April 7.

SPECIAL SERVICE SCHOOL FOR CHEVROLET DEALERS

Of unusual interest to the millions of Chevrolet users in the United States is the announcement by the Chevrolet Motor Company that nearly 4,000 men, heads of dealers' service departments, are being called in to attend specially conducted service schools.

The schools, designed to place the service facilities of the company on a higher plane than ever before, are being held during February and March for the service personnel of the Chevrolet dealer organizations throughout the country.

The service engineers are being summoned to the 45 zone headquarters, located at key centers, where large local dealer groups will attend. Here, under resident instructors, they are given a course in every phase of shop management.

Iron Mountain Basketeers Guided by Lars Thune Are Declared Regional Champs

Lars Thune's Iron Mountain, Mich., fast basketball quint captured the regional championship last week, according to information received by Supt. Morris Bye. The former Thief River coach will thus be permitted to take his champs to the state tournament at Detroit.

Iron Mountain newspapers have spoken very highly of the work done by Coach Thune during his first year in the schools of that city, and the fans there are hopeful now that their team may win the state honors of Michigan.

LAND O' LAKES PLANS TO ADD 60 CONCERNS

Acquisitions Would Increase Business of Organization About $10,000,000

OVER 4,000 ATTEND MINNEAPLOIS MEETING

Officers and Directors Re-elected Include Stuart McLeod—of Goodridge

Plans for adding nearly 60 creameries in North and South Dakota and Wisconsin with the Land O' Lakes Creameries, Inc., during 1928, increasing the organization's gross sales $10,000,000, or more, were announced by A. J. McGuire, general manager, at the annual meeting of the company held Tuesday and Friday, attended also by creamery executives from each of the three states adjoining Minnesota, who are already ready to come into the organization.

Acquisition of the creameries in other states would increase Land O' Lakes membership in the Land O' Lakes organization to nearly 200 creameries in four northwest states, Mr. McGuire said.

The convention brought to Minneapolis over 4,000 creamery operators and farmers. Arrangements have been made to care for a maximum crowd of 5,000 people, but when they had all been fed over 4,200 servings had been accounted for at the Thursday noon dinner, while over 3,000 convention badges had been handed out by the officers. According to Joe Helle of the local creamery, the attendance from this section of the state was exceptionally good, and everyone returned home pleased with the advantages of this great co-operative enterprise, J. M. Thiney, president of Swift & Company, was in attendance at the Minneapolis meeting.

Manager Helle stated today in a representative of The Times that new creameries now in the process of organization and for quality butter being marketed under the Land O' Lakes brand, Tarif Requested

At the final session Friday the resolutions committee effected passage of resolutions asking the national government to protective tariffs on agricultural products, and continuation of the division of co-operative marketing in the national department of agriculture.

John Brandt, Litchfield, was re-elected president of the Land O' Lakes Creameries, Inc., as were the following officers: Henry Ayers, Jordan, first vice-president; E. G. Melsness, Fertile, second vice-president; A. L. Vegel, Mankato, secretary, and Isaac Emerson, Skyberg, treasurer.

1,500 STUDENTS GIVE UP CLASSES AT GOPHER spot

More than 1,500 students have quit or have been dropped from class rolls at the University of Minnesota since the opening of the school year, H. M. Wesh, registrar, announced last week. This leaves a present enrollment of 10,167 students. Low grades, illness and financial difficulties are the chief reasons for the cancellations, Mr. West said.

Men students are in the majority by 761, figures show. Total registrations to date are 12,127.

Another Branch Store Is Opened up by Tessum Co. at McIntosh This Week

Tessum & Co. have leased a building at McIntosh and are opening up a branch there, feed and seed store there this week, the local firm having had a very excellent business in that vicinity for some time past.

Edwin C. Tessum, who has been employed by the firm here for some time, has been sent to McIntosh to manage the store there, the firm believes.

In addition to the store at the corner of Third street Falls and the new one at McIntosh, Tessum & Co. are also operating stores at Goodridge and Holt, and intend to extend their field of operations as rapidly as conditions warrant such a step.

Federal Aid Rosd Fund Favored in Resolution Passed by Local Club

The Commercial club at its meeting last week passed a resolution asking congress to pass what is known as the Smith bill, which would provide for the expenditure of a billion dollars for federal aid roads that the state of Minnesota would probably get to the United States shortly for the post trucks, and similar apparatus for the transportation of mail will also be necessary. It would be well if this matter was looked after by the state highway department, and put into a river and harbor fund, so that the necessary amount of money would be spent in this locality.

The meeting scheduled for today (Friday) was postponed until next Friday, noon at which time Fred G. Hale, Jr., junior civic secretary of Columbus, Ohio, will speak to members of the club and their guests. Mr. Hale will address the Retail Teachers' meeting tomorrow night in addition.

There will be no meeting of the club next week on account of the club rooms being used in connection with the annual American Legion Automobile, Electrical and Style Show.

F. J. Stebbins to take Applications For C. M. Training Camps

F. J. Stebbins of this city is in receipt of a letter from the "Adjutant General of the State of Minnesota, Citizens' Military Training Camps for 1928, and is prepared to take the applications for those who wish to register on that occasion. The plans for this year are to train 5,000 candidates from the states of the seventh corps area, comprising Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas.

Camps are maintained for 30 days, from June 1 to 30, at Fort Snelling, Minnesota; Fort Lincoln, North Dakota; Fort Des Moines, Iowa; Fort Crook, Nebraska; Fort Leavenworth, Kansas; and also from July 9 to Aug. 7, at Jefferson Barracks, Missouri.

All candidates are examined physically and those who meet the requirements will be sent to the training camps on the dates mentioned. Railroad fare to and from the camps will be refunded, and all necessary expenses will be paid by the Government. While at camp food, uniform, military and athletic equipment, and medical and laundry service will be furnished without expense to the candidate.

COACH BOE GETS GLEE FROM ST. LOUIS TEAM

An excellent likeness of Coach Ed Boe of the local school appeared in the Sunday issue of the Grand Forks Herald, which said that the former North Dakota university star athlete has been asked to report to the St. Louis Browns at West Beach, Fla., for a try-out.

Mr. Boe has advised the baseball team that it will be impossible for him to leave till after school closes here this spring. According to The Herald Mr. Boe has several on his records to his credit, he also is credited as being a heavy hitter.

High Value Marks 1928 Motor Cars, Experts Declare

Greater Safety, Economy, Beauty and Power Are Offered at Attractive Prices

Increased safety and economy, greater beauty and more power and speed, at generally lower prices, are the dominant characteristics of the 1928 motor cars of individuality that will be presented to the American public in 1928 one of exceptional value. In fact, most observers are agreed that the outstanding "common commodity" of the Automobile industry this year is greater value. This is due, experts point out, not only to the progressiveness of motor engineers and the ingenuity of motor manufacturers, but also to keener competition that naturally arises when the public mind at this time is "What's new in motordom?" In consequence of this spirit of rivalry it happens that the buyers of passenger cars. For the reader's convenience this review is alphabetically arranged.

BUICK

Major changes in chassis design on the Buick for 1928 include hydraulic shock absorbers on all models, heavier frame construction, a new clutch, improved steering gear, and new wheels in fender wells, centralized chassis lubrication, rubber insulation in the spring and engine supports and semi-elliptical cantilever rear springs of torsional bounciness and four bearings.

The frame has also been redesigned to lower the center of gravity 3 inches, increasing the safety of the car, and to permit the greater roominess and lengthening of the bodies. The use of bullet type headlamps and sweeping crown fenders have added to further improving the appearance of the various body models.

CHEVROLET

Many changes mark the 1928 Chevrolet on display at the Auto Show, the improvements have been increased four inches to 107 inches. Fisher bodies are built longer and roomier while a number of attractive changes and different color designs.

Nonlaminated balloon four-ply tires now standard on all models. The front brakes are internal expanding while the rear are external contracting. New shock absorber settings are standard and the frame has been deepened to 6 and inches.

The Chevrolet is offered in seven bodies, a coach, sedan, sport coach, landau, coupe and open touring and roadster. Bodies have been increased in length from 2¼ to 4 inches and the line improved by raising the radiator and lowering the cowl. All color designs are completely new.

The Reliable Motor company is the local distributor for the Chevrolet, their location being 214-16 E. Main Ave N. Their associate dealer for Pennington county is J. D. Peter of St. Hilaire.

CHRYSLER

Forty body types, including 15 custom built models for its 72 and 80 series, are offered by Chrysler on four different chassis for 1928. The 112 horsepower "Imperial" 80 heads the list of models for the year.

Chrysler is making a special effort this year to present a great variety of color design as to its bodies. Color designs are changed on every 1929 cars and extra effort is made to produce harmonious effects in design.

Practically all chassis models have been re-styled, the wheelbase lengthened and the bodies made lower and longer. Chassis frames have also been strengthened on most of the models. Engine changes include the adoption of the Red Head engine as standard for a number of models and optional on all. Higher horsepower is achieved in the Red Head by making the compression ratio six to one.

C. Gustafson & Son, Inc., are the local distributors for the Chrysler cars, their location being at 324 Main Ave. N.

DODGE

The new Victory Six added to the Dodge line is the first to introduce the sixty-unit frame and body construction. Instead of the body of the car being built as a separate unit, body and chassis are all one unit. The seats are mounted directly on the frame and the body is simply a panel-steel covering over the chassis.

The most noticeable result of the new construction is the low overall height of the car. Building the body and chassis in one unit has lowered the height to the minimum possible with the Dodge type of chassis construction.

The engine in the new six is substantially the same as in the senior six and has a rated horsepower of 27.3.

The new feature of the Dodge line is the Budget Fleetmaster four-wheel brakes, which are now standard on all models, the four as well as the two sizes.

ESSEX

Body changes in the 1928 Essex models are far greater than the few mechanical innovations. The adoption of Bendix four wheel brakes and of the Hudson type of worm and tooth steering gear are practically the only mechanical changes in the new Essex.

Several major changes have been made in the body, however they are larger and roomier, are hung lower, giving an appearance of greater length, the running boards are lower and the bodies are given more sweeping lines.

The new steering wheel consists of a steel frame covered with ebony, black rubber. The light control, handthrottle and horn button are mounted on the new wheel.

The Essex line includes five body models, a coupe, four door sedan, two-door coach, rumble seat roadster and sport roadster.

The Essex is displayed by the Nelson Motor Co., who are located in the old Skating Rink at 106 Main Ave South. H. A. Olson & Son of St. Hilaire are associate dealers.

FORD

The new Ford car is offered in five body models, a sport coupe, roadster, four-door sedan, two-door sedan, phaeton and coupe. It has been given a new Ford model A four cylinder vertical type engine.

The new engine has the bore and stroke increased to 3 1/8 & by 4¼ inches, gallons of horsepower at 40 hp. Other new features of the engine include the use of aluminum pistons, a new stamped steel compression chamber of the Ricardo type and the new Ford Triple Seal Oil Pump Company.

The Ford has a wheelbase of 103½ inches. The body is completely insulated from the chassis by rubber cushions. It is mounted on a four-wheel, internal and expanding brakes developed by Ford and the Bendix clutch is constructed on the multiple dry disc principle with four driving and five driven discs. Other new features include windshields of greater clearness, a starter pedal, crankshaft, a standard four-speed gear shift and a thermostat control over-heat. Bodies are of steel, all except the stripe for attaching interior trim and the roof-ing of the closed cars.

Hedberg's Garage, just in the rear of the auditorium, is the Ford distributor for this territory.

Bronze Medal Watch Fob Presented E. M. Bennes by Lincoln Life Ins. Co.

E. M. Bennes, district agent for the Lincoln National Life Insurance company, is in receipt of a fine bronze medal watch fob in recognition of his accomplishments during the past year in increasing the business of the company. Only 31 of these medals were issued this year by the company.

Mr. Bennes and D. D. Scanlon attended the annual convention of leading representatives of the company held in Minneapolis, to which are invited as guests only those who have won positions in the honor clubs of the company during the past year. The principal emphasis at these meetings is given to education and business building problems.

8 Gentilly Homes Raided by Polk County Sheriff

In one of the largest raids ever made by county officials in northern Minnesota, Sheriff Ira E. Haaven, with a force of 16 deputies, descended down on eight Gentilly farm homes early Tuesday morning and made simultaneous raids confiscated 2,500 gallons of completed mash, 2,000 gallons of mash, six stills having a total capacity of 200 gallons and 160 quarts of liquor.

The officials raided the places when seven of the eight were in operation, seizing another charge and a revolver in each. Nine men were arrested and ordered to appear before U. S. Commissioner William Watts in district court Wednesday afternoon to answer charges of manufacture and illegal possession of liquor.

Stills were found concealed in basements, in barns, chicken coops and in the residences proper, while in one liquor was found in barns, haylofts and

by Congressman Selvig

Washington—The number of cattle in the U. S. has decreased from 67,264,000 in 1922—at the highest point—to 55,284,000 in January of this year. This has brought beef production about two per cent below the demands of the home market and has made the protective tariff effective. The result is that the smaller number for this year is worth some five hundred million dollars more than the larger number in 1922. The latter year was $3.44 and the 1928 January price was $8.22 per hundred pounds.

Dairy cows have increased, during the same period, from 21,560,000 to 21,948,000. But they have decreased some 550,000 since 1925, and there seems to be no danger of overproduction in dairy products for the next few years.

Answering many inquiries from potato growers as to how the Department of Agriculture arrives at the acreage figures in their estimates, will say that in Minnesota—and in most other states—the assessor gets the acreage figures for his estimates. His results in the spring; these figures are forwarded to the Department of Agriculture and are the basis for the "estimates." Potato growers should remember when they give their figures to the assessors, because if the figures are too high they will have been in the past—it is apt to affect the per cent valuation. I do not mean that you should understate the acreage, but you do yourself and other growers definite damage by overstating them.

Grain crops are usually over estimated from three to four per cent, based on figures given by assessors, but the potato acreage is more apt to be over estimated from 15 to 20 per cent. Evidently the potato patch looks bigger in the spring than in the fall.

There was some talk, some time ago, of passing the 5-b without the equalization fee, in order to secure the other relief that it contains. But on behalf of co-operative marketing, but after consulting with the leaders of the farmers' organizations it was decided that this would be a surrender, rather than a compromise, that it would be better to pass the bill as it is and let the President take whatever action he may see fit.

"We as workers are willing to pay a little more on our cost of living if it will help the farmers employ the," said Roger Wallace, representing the American Federation of Labor, testifying before the House Committee on Agriculture. "Farmers are not able to establish an equalization fee thru organization as the great manufacturers have. We feel that the surplus raised by the farmers is our margin of safety, so we are in favor of not permitting that surplus to become a menace to the farmer," continued Mr. Wallace.

This statement is very important in that it marks the alignment of the American Federation of Labor with the farmer organizations of the country. While the interests of the farmer and the factory worker are often in opposition, they run parallel in a general way, in that a serious depression in the earnings of either exerts a powerful influence in less buying capacity which affects the other.

Just at present the farmer is in the dumps, according to Mr. Wallace, and they blame it to the lack of purchasing capacity of about two-thirds of the farmers caused by the depression in the purchasing value of farm products.

Washington, Feb. 8—The American public consumes fifteen per cent less bread per capita now than before the war, but puts more butter and cheese on it. We eat less meat and more fruit, poultry and eggs. This trend in the diet is so marked and so likely to continue, that producers should bear it in mind when planning their future activities.

You must not pay too much attention to the reports coming out of Washington to the effect that there is discord among the members of the Farm Bloc. That is largely propaganda on the part of the opponents of the McNary-Haugen bill. When and if there is something offered that will effectively take the place of the equalization fee we may accept it, but we are not going to trade the vital part of the measure for an empty shell, just to be able to say that we have passed it. We shall have either an effective measure or none.

Acreage of winter wheat seeded in the United States for the season of 1928 is estimated at 10.6 per cent less than the winter seeded acreage in 1927. More acreage of winter wheat has also been planted in other wheat producing countries.

Acting on a complaint by Lewis Weller, of Moorhead, to the effect that potato prices have been unfavorably affected by the publication of crop estimates by the Department of Agriculture that have proven too optimistic, your congressman started an investigation of the subject and found that for the crop year of 1924 there is a difference of 15.6 per cent in the acreage reported by the department and the figures returned by the farmers to the Minnesota census taken early in 1925, the latter showing a smaller acreage. The final estimate for the year is 421,662,000 bushels, while the census returns show 356,742,000 bushels. Oats, wheat, barley, oats, flax and hay the estimates of acreage and census returns differ less than 4 per cent, showing a very fair degree of accuracy. The matter has been presented to Congress, and was the subject of a letter recently to the Secretary of State Daily of Jan. 14. It is believed that action will be entered toward a more careful and accurate handling of the figures for the potato crop in the future.

In the Minnesota Red River Valley there was an increase of 22.2 per cent in the five year period from 1921 to 1925, as shown by assessment figures, higher prices, and the fact that the surplus has more than doubled, in the district, during those years, and is still growing at about the same rate. But in the nation as a whole the dairy industry is not more than keeping up with the increase of population.

Upward revision in the tariff on the farm products of which we do not produce an exportable surplus is asked in a series of bills introduced by members from agricultural districts in different sections of the country. The idea is to foster a larger production in those items within the country, thereby reducing the surplus of export crops, and giving the farmer the benefits of higher prices. My bill provides for raising the tariff on milk, cream, potato starch, butter and cheese, poultry and eggs, grass seeds, flax and sock-heat. The proposed increases asked range from 25 to 100 per cent.

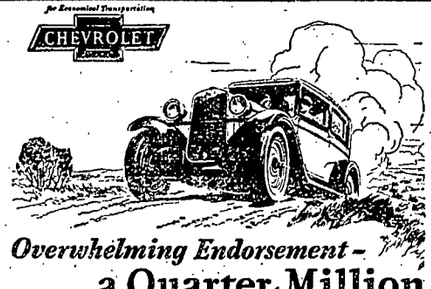
Minnesota Field House One of Country's Finest

One of the largest buildings in the state of Minnesota, the new Field House at the University of Minnesota, has been constructed without a cent of tax money being used for the structure, which cost $650,000. Two hundred thousand dollars of the total came from surplus athletic earnings in recent years, in other words, football. The remainder was raised when the university succeeded in selling $450,000 in certificates of indebtedness, secured only by the athletic earning power of the institution. Neither the state's credit nor the university's property was pledged.

Most remarkable about this financing is the fact that the bonds of record were retired $125,000 of the bond issue before the building was started. This is believed to be a record in the case of the cost of a building.



The Field House includes indoor space larger than a football field and will house all Minnesota baseball, track and football teams may start their summer practice as early as either and weather, further south, are able for basketball as any institution in the United States.

The building is a mammoth one, 446 feet long, 236 feet wide, 52 feet high at the eaves, and 107 feet at the ridgepole. It lies between University Avenue and Fourth street S. E., across the street from the Memorial Stadium. A tunnel connects it with the locker and shower rooms of the Stadium, where the athletes will dress until similar facilities are prepared in the Field House. The basketball floor is surrounded by 5,000 permanent seats, with bleachers to bring the total to 14,000.

SUGAR COMPANY RAISES BEET PRICE TO GROWERS

Announcement was made this week that the American Sugar Beet company has increased the price of beets to northwestern growers to a minimum of $6.50 per ton. The increase, however, is contingent upon capacity production for the factory, and it is said that a total of 10,000 acres of beets will be necessary to assure the higher price. At present 6,500 acres have been signed up.

Mesdames Reinhard Hanson and John Sagmoen visited the Rosebank school on Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Agnes Senenko, who has been employed at Grand Forks, returned home last week.

MOVIE INTERESTS INVADE MINNESOTA'S 10,000 LAKES

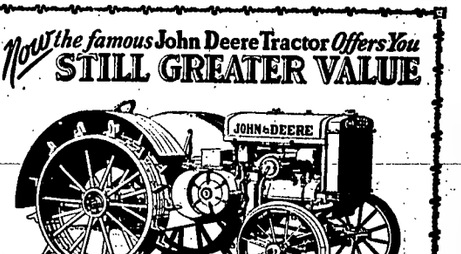
Ninety-seven acres of shore line have been purchased on Stony Lake in northeast of Hackensack by Movie folks, according to the Brainerd Tribune, which states further that over $100,000 will be spent by the movie people in erecting a large pleasure resort where hot lines this coming summer. Presumably the movie interests intend to take advantage of the lure of motor lake advantages of Minnesota's ten thousand lakes.

TAX RETURNS MUST BE IN MAIL BY MIDNIGHT

Today is the last day on which income tax returns may be filed, letters bearing today's date must being accepted without any penalty being added.

STATE OUTDOOR MEETING WILL BE AT HUTCHINSON

The annual summer meeting and campfire of the Gopher Campfire club, one of Minnesota's largest and most influential branches of the State Game Protective league, will be held at Hutchinson, on August 25 and 26, it is announced by President Sam G. Anderson of the state league. It will also be the occasion of the summer meeting of the state league at which time a number of nationally known leaders in the conservation movement will attend, stopping over at Hutchinson while on their way to Seattle to attend a meeting of the International association of game, fish and conservation officials in that city.



The Izaac Walton League will join in this effort by holding its summer meeting at the same time and place, thus favoring the attendance of the State's recognized leaders in the conservation work that are identified in the work of the Izaac Walton League.

GRIMM ALFALFA SEED ORDERED THIS WEEK

An order for Idaho Grimm alfalfa seed was placed this week with Councilman A. J. McCann, by the Norman county amounting to 1,500 pounds, that being all of the seed that Pennington county farmers have members contracted for by making a partial payment. Quite a few local farmers are buying their seed locally, so that fully as much acreage will be planted this year as last, it is believed.

Now the famous John Deere Tractor Offers You
STILL GREATER VALUE

More Power—Longer Life Lower Operating Costs

"When the John Deere Tractor was first put on the market it immediately met with the approval of farmers. Its great power combined with light weight; its extreme simplicity; its ease of handling; its low operating expense; its low maintenance costs—all those advantages made it more than a successful farm tractor—it was a real sensation.

And, now, with additional improvements, the John Deere Tractor offers you still greater value. Improvements that mean greater power without sacrificing its light weight. . . . added savings in its already low fuel costs. . . even fewer points . . . greater strength these make the John Deere the ideal power plant for the farm. It offers you still better service and longer life at low maintenance costs.

Increased Power

The power of the 1928 John Deere has been increased more than 25%. It gives you from 9 to 11 H.P. more than the older model. This improved tractor will pull three 14" stubble bottoms under difficult conditions and four under many conditions. It will handle a 28" separator successfully, and other machinery requiring power in proportion.

Note These Improvements

The John Deere gets its still greater power through a larger bore and a new carburetor which also supplies smoother operation at all speeds and loads and decreases fuel consumption.

Its well known strength and durability have been increased by the use of heat-treated and hardened fiber gears, a heavier crankshaft, heat treated rear axles and strong rear wheels containing 20 instead of 12 spokes.

Water feeders give added protection to the carburetor. Longer lugs built of improved material last longer and give the driver wheels a more powerful grip on the soil.

An auxiliary hydraulic air cleaner has been added which removes all but one per cent of the dust and dirt before the air reaches the oil bath air filter. The air gets a final cleansing before it enters the cylinders.

The John Deere Tractor, already famous for its low upkeep costs and long life, now will give even better and longer service at lower maintenance costs

See This Money-Maker Before You Buy

Come in and see the 1928 John Deere at our store. It is to your advantage to know all about this great ordinary but re-pay buy. Let us prove to you the remarkable performance of this great tractor on your farm by a demonstration.

What SPRING DECREES for the Well Dressed Man

Color continues to be one of the most important style influences in the design and selection of man's clothes—as in everything else.

Even Henry Ford has caught the color infection and is turning out cars decked in hues other than the unlamented, funeral black.

Though the spring fabrics have taken their colors from a pretty lively palette, they're more practical, so to speak, than those of a year ago. This is especially true of young men's clothes.

A year ago, if you recall, some of the grays for instance, ran up the scale very nearly to a light oyster shade. And some of the tones of tan were almost as light.

They looked very smart and cool in the spring sunlight when they were first worn, but they soon lost their immaculancy. And many a young man's sense of style suffered serious inroads, by reason of unduly heavy cleaners' bills.

This spring, while colors continue to sing in lively tones, they're somewhat more subdued. And more attention has been paid to harmonious blending, not only in the ground color, but in the decorative patterns as well.

Light tans, and shades, and new blue gray mixtures seem to have the call, judging by the reports of leading manufacturers. Blues, of course, are always good; and there is still some demand for Oxford gray, though a lighter Cambridge shade is more in evidence.

An entirely new note is green—a light, lichen shade—that is making its appearance also in shirts and other accessories.

Neat Stripes Favored

The stripe motif will be a favorite in patterns, but the stripes will be neater, less bold, and in many cases shot through with decorative threads of lustrous silk. This gives a very pleasing, enlivening effect, particularly in the worsteds now fast regaining some of their eclipsed popularity with the young men.

Herringbones, too, are receiving considerable attention; and in the mixes expensive "customized" flecks, small broken check and all-over Scotch motifs are being shown.

The whole tendency is to neater, smarter effects than formerly and away from blizzard loudness of design.

More Fitted Lines in the Suits

One of the outstanding trends in suit styles is the fitted body lines. As are witty style observer facetiously remarks, "Pat men stand a slim chance in 1928 styles."

In other words, the man of average build is going to have a chance to show his figure, an advantage hitherto almost entirely monopolized in certain respects by the fair sex.

Wide shoulders, closer-fitting body lines, snug hips—these are the details that produce the wedge effect now coming into vogue. Trousers, too, are revealing a narrowing trend—all of which makes for a much smarter appearance.

Among college men, the three-button model continues to be popular, though there is a tendency to get over into the two-button of the three unbuttoned.

However, the two-button suit appears to be steadily gaining in general popularity, especially among the younger element in responsible business circles.

The double-breasted vest with pleated top, straight-hanging trousers and two-button single-breasted coat is a combination increasingly favored by smart dressers. It looks particularly well when topped off with a hombourg hat.

Fancy Vests Coming Back

And speaking of vests, it looks very much as though the old fancy waistcoat of a couple of decades or more ago is going to be given the pulmotor and brought back to life.

One of the leading men's stores of Chicago is now showing a suit with two vests—one plain and a fancy. The plain vest is of the same material as the coat and trousers. The fancy vest has the same ground color as the plain, but there's a neat figured design woven into the fabric which gives it the fancy effect.

Little Change in Topcoat Styles

The reglanlike, straight-lined box model in the button-through style seems destined for the big play again this season. There's a tendency away from the extreme lengths of last spring, with 44 and 46 inches the leading lengths.

Very light colors—tans, gray mixtures, and heather effects—are the predicted favorites, with tweeds leading the procession in fabrics, and homespuns a close second. More attention is being given to camel's hair and alpaca mixtures than heretofore, especially in moderately priced topcoats.

After Winter's Colds

It Is Wise to Check Up on the Kidneys.

WATCH your kidneys after colds and grippe. When the kidneys grow up, impurities remain in the blood, and are apt to make nervous and achy with backache, dizziness and often nagging backache. A cessation warning is nearby or burning sensations.

Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, increases the secretion of the kidneys and aid in the elimination of waste impurities. Are endorsed by users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

Forest Fires in 10 Years Take Toll of $35,000,000 In Timber and 432 Lives

Property loss exceeding $35,000,000 and 432 lives have been the cost of forest fires in Minnesota in the last ten years, according to the recent report of J. A. Mitchell of the Lake States Forest Experiment station transmitted to the legislature's interim committee on reforestation.

The report shows that from 1,000 to 1,300 fires occur yearly in Minnesota forest areas, burning over 400,000 acres of land on the average.

Five records of the state's forests show that 99 per cent of the forest fires in Minnesota are preventable. Most of them are man-caused and "so-called"—offenders are railroads, those engaged in land clearing, campers and smokers.

FIRST ENTRIES IN FOR 1928 TON LITTER RACE

The 1928 ton litter contest, the sixth in the series, is now open for entries, and several have already been received, says Mr. Zavoral. The rules and regulations of 1927 will govern this year. Any farmer, boy or girl in Minnesota can enroll. Prize money, medals, watches, trophies, and free trips will be divided among the winners—those who produce the heaviest litters. The litters raised by club boys and girls may contest for these prizes and also for special prizes put up for club members only.

TRAPPING SEASON WILL NOT BE OPEN UNTIL MARCH 20

An erroneous report published in some of the state papers, stated that the muskrat season would open March 1. Game Warden Milton Peterder is very emphatic in the denial of this report and states that the season will not open till March 20.

"Apparently, there are more muskrats in the state now than at any other time during the past 25 years," says Game and Fish Commissioner P. J. Gould, after receiving reports from wardens throughout the state. The large increase in the number of rats is credited to the fact that taking of muskrats has been prohibited in Minnesota during the past four years.

Shooting or spearing of the animals will be forbidden. Trappers may set their traps inside the muskrat houses provided they seal the houses up again but no traps may be placed in the runways between houses.

"It is likely that muskrat fides will all at from $1.25 to $2.00 each for prime No. 1 pelts. With an abundance of animals, the season is likely to prove a profitable one for trappers," Mr. Gould said.

SILVERTON

Death Calls Christian Hanson

Last Wednesday night at 12 o'clock occurred the death of Christian Hanson of Silverton. The aged man had been suffering for a long time with Cancer of the stomach and had been nearly bedridden since last fall.

Before coming here Mr. and Mrs. Hanson were residents of St. Paul for over 30 years. The last three years were spent on a farm in Silverton. He leaves to mourn his death, his wife and a niece, Mrs. Anderson, who resides in Milnor, N. Dak. Mrs. Anderson arrived Friday evening to be present at the funeral held on Saturday from the Silverton church, and left for her home at Milnor on Wednesday.

Mrs. Hanson is a native of England and will probably return there after disposing of her property here, as all her relatives are living in England.

Rev. Myhrer of Newfolden was a Tuesday afternoon visitor at the J. Turnwall home.

Mrs. Herbert Grinde was a caller at Woolson's on Thursday afternoon.

Jens Letnes was a Thief River Falls visitor on Thursday.

Mrs. Oliver Molstad spent Saturday afternoon visiting at the Lee home.

Mrs. Peter Omundson, Gilmer, Eddie and Francis Reiley were Monday afternoon visitors at the Solomonson home.

Mrs. Judge of St. Paul, a close friend of Mrs. Christian Hanson, is here visiting at the Hanson home. She came to attend the funeral and will spend a week or ten days with Mrs. Hanson.

The Silverton Ladies' aid and Young Peoples' society entertained Sunday afternoon at the church parlors with a Tea and Letter Family. It will leave this week for Maysville, Ft. Thief River Falls, Minnesota

The four models on the 116-inch chassis are a coach, four door sedan, rumble seat coupe and roadster. Body construction is of aluminum panels over a hardwood frame. The light controls, hand throttle and horn button are mounted on the new steering wheel. Four wheel brakes are standard on all models.

The Hudson is distributed by the Nelson Ygren Motor Co., with offices and display rooms at 106 Main Ave. S. with H. A. Olson & Son of St. Hilaire associate dealers.

HUPMOBILE

Two entirely new models, an eight and a six, feature the 1928 Hupmobile. The new eight, on a 120-inch wheelbase, is of much lighter construction than the big eight, on the 125-inch wheelbase. It is a smaller by the new six."

The Distinguished "Hupmobile" Eight which has been a record seller through out the country, is continued with improvements.

New mechanical features include a double intake manifold in connection with a dual type carburetor. Hupmobile-installed steelhraulic four-wheel brakes—complete thermostatic control, an individual crankcase ventilating system, and a new efficient oil cleaner inverted between pump and main bearings. Stromberg shock absorbers are standard equipment on all models.

The main dimensions of the old right are retained but greater power is developed due to the new manifold and carburetor system. The piston pins are also one-eighth inch taller and the pistons one-eighth inch longer.

A. T. Berg of McIntosh is the local distributor for the Hupmobile.

NASH

A total of 25 bodies are offered on the new Nash chassis, the Standard six, the Special six and the Advanced six. Eleven of them are on the Ad-vance 7-passenger, seven bodies being of the closed type and two open. A large number of models, known as the Imperial, of the limousine type, are on the Ambassador, a new five-passenger sedan, head the list of bodies on the Advanced Six chassis.

A new four-door coupe is included in the eight body models offered in the Special Six chassis. Six models including three sedans, a coupe, cabriolet and touring car, are offered on the Standard six chassis. Radiators on all models have been considerably refined, and the Nash "Light Six" lines mounted in smaller wheels are now used. Fully balloon tires, hydraulic and shock absorbers are standard on all models.

T. J. Nash is displayed by Wilcox & Main of Grand Forks.

OAKLAND

Seven body types are offered on the new 1928 Oakland six, a two and four-door sedan, a landau sedan, a coupe, a convertible coupe, a sedan and touring. While retaining the general mechanical features of the 1927 model, the new six is of larger construction throughout.

The new coupe body type, Lebaron type, is larger than the old. Its luggage space has been increased from 45 to 60.

The chassis frame is of much stronger construction than last year and the wheelbase is four inches longer, making it 117 inches. Body lines are consequently longer and more attractive. Harmonic balancers are used on the crankshaft and rubber insulation on the engine and frame is used to make for smoother running.

The Paxerus Motor Sales company has the agency for the Oakland, they now being located across from the library in the former Kohn & Fiterman building.

PACKARD

A representative type of the Packard is being exhibited in the Autocrat Sedan. Packard long ago gave up the pronounced model idea but the car on display shows a variety of improvements.

A new drop frame and an ingenious treatment of window reveals with a more pronounced curve in the back panels make the inclosed models seem even longer than they are. The reduced height makes both the Six and Eight appear considerably longer.

The company offers 21 standard body types, which with a complete selection of custom bodies gives a choice of 42 different cars.

All wheels are carefully balanced. Simon's balancing jogs on the rim. Wire wood artillery wheels are interchangeable on the hubs. Two extra tires and tubes are furnished as standard equipment on the Eight models mounted in wells in the front fenders. The front springs are shackled at their front end, an original idea with Packard some years ago and before bumpers, both front and rear, are built in part of the car.

The Packard line is represented by J. D. Porter of St. Hilaire, who is in charge of the Packard car on display in the auditorium.

PONTIAC

Four-wheel mechanical brakes are the new creation of the engineering and mechanical changes which feature the 1928 Pontiac six. Seven models are offered on a chassis made stronger by the opening of the engine side panels, making the cross struts more rugged and designing the frame with a kick-up in front of the axle in the rear.

The distinguishing feature of the new four-wheel brakes is the use of water instead of flexing from a tank at the top to one at the bottom, passing horizontally from a tank at the left to another at the right of the car. Freezing of water and of the alcohol in winter are "eskewed" and damage by freezing is less in the new method, it is claimed.

The body appearance is improved by lowering the hood and cowl and higher, narrower appearing radiator, full crowned fenders and longer lines.

The Pontiac is handled by the Tax-ince Motor Sales company at 102 Main Ave. S., in the building formerly occupied by Kohn & Fiterman.

STUDEBAKER

Four sedan body models are offered on Studebaker's new straight eight President. The standard five and seven-passenger models are offered, and in addition two de luxe editions of the sedans.

This year's model is a higher powered motor with longer lines, a lower frame and other improvements in the body. Engine brake horsepower has been increased from 100 to 127 at 3,200 r. p. m. and torque from 181 inches, permitting longer body lines.

A new lubrication system has been installed which necessitates changing of the engine oil once at the end of the first 1,000 miles and only every 2,500 miles thereafter.

The new right is equipped with a cushion action four-wheel brakes, multiplying the pedal pressure 3½ times.

WHIPPET

Major changes in construction, together with the introduction of one entirely new model, feature the Whippet line for 1928. The new model is a convertible cabriolet coupe, which can be transformed into a sport roadster by lowering the top. The coupe is equipped with a rumble seat, removable panel to permit conversation between the front and rear seats, leather upholstery and landau irons.

Five other models, the sedan, touring car, coach, coupe and collegiate roadster, are offered on the Whippet chassis. Body lines on all models have been changed to give a longer and lower appearance and substantial reductions in price have been made on the 1928 line.

WILLYS-KNIGHT

Willys-Knight enters the three chassis field in 1928 with a new model called the Standard Six, taking the place of the Whippet six, which has been discontinued. The new six is offered in three body models, a four door coach, four door sedan and a four passenger coupe. The new car is Willys-Knight's first venture into the field of the low priced six.

The two other sixes, known as the Great and Special, are continued in 1928 with only minor changes in color design and body lines. The new Standard six is powered with the Knight sleeve valve engine with a removable type cylinder head. It develops 4 stroke horse power.

The cooling system is thermostatically controlled and the transmission is in a unit with the engine and clutch. Bendix internal expanding four wheel brakes are standard.

The Willys-Knight is distributed in Thief River Falls by the Thief River Motor Co., 201 Horace Ave. N.

AUTO OF A. W. CROWN CATCHES FIRE MONDAY

The auto of Chief of Police A. W. Crown was damaged by fire early Monday morning to the extent of $25 when the top, seat and the windshield were badly burned.

While returning from a trip to the country it became necessary to light a match to find the cap to an auto tube under the seat in changing tires after a puncture. It is thought that possibly the match set fire to a strong breeze blowing down from the radiator, which caught several days later before turning into flames.

The family were awakened by the bright light thru the window from the burning car, but neighbors had sent in the alarm before Mr. Crown reached the phone, the fire-en artment arriving after the fire was quenched with a few pails of water.

Fire gives no warning! Be prepared! Every property owner needs the protection afforded by adequate fire insurance written in a dependable company.

Oil Burners For Heating Farm Homes Recommended

While coal wood is still available in large quantities on nearly every farm in this section, yet the time is not far off when the farmer will have to depend on other means of heating his farm home. The U. S. Department of Agriculture has taken notice of this situation, inasmuch as in many communities wood is no longer available either readily or all must be substituted. In a recent bulletin it says:

Many types of oil burners designed especially for home heating purposes have been placed on the market within the last few years. The new methods of heating appeals to many home owners because of the relief from unsatisfactories of coal supply, from furnace attendance, dirt, etc. Oil burners are being applied to all of the types of heating plants commonly in house heating, with varying degrees of success.

Investigation of different types of oil burners by the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicate that they are suited to the requirements of many home owners on account of their convenience and ease of heat control if; to obtain these advantages, the prospective purchaser is willing to pay the cost of change and possibly an increased operating cost.

Before deciding whether a change to oil burning is desirable there should be a thorough understanding of the operating characteristics re different types of oil burners, and of installation and operation costs. Department Circular 405 tells all about the subject and may be had free upon request.

Indians of Texas, Minnesota, perform their tribal dances in a well-lighted and comfortably seated hall of modern architecture. In addition to obtain these advantages, the prospective purchaser is willing to pay the cost of change and possibly an increased operating cost.

FEWER BOOKS TAKEN OUT BY BORROWERS LIBRARIAN STATES

Steady Gain in Demand of Non-fiction Library Board Is Told at Meeting

February showed a slight decline over January in book borrowings at the Carnegie library, according to the monthly report of Mrs. Ida Bergrim, librarian, submitted to the library board at its monthly meeting last night, but almost up to the showing made a year ago for the same month.

The demand for fiction was again considerably greater than for non-fiction, although the latter books are more and more being called for as the institutions learn of the excellent reading borrowing for February of fiction was provided in this class of books. Adult tallied 1,221, with 715 of non-fiction—a total of 1,936; juvenile fiction, however, let the adult cells, there having been 610 volumes taken out by juveniles borrowers as compared to 558 by adults, the total for being 1,168. Further books increased in demand over January, there being 65 borrowed last month, compared to 50 the previous month.

The estimated reading room attendance for February was placed at 2,206, which is practically 100 a day for the 20 days of the month. This is also a little under the January figures of 106 daily average. The average book borrowings for February for the 25 days borrowings equal to made was 127 per day compared to 140 in January.

Eleven adult new book borrowers were recorded last month with six juvenile ones, a total of 17, compared to 18 the previous month.

Minnesota Creameries May Follow Japanese Methods of Preserving Hen Fruit

The local creamery, in common with other creameries in Minnesota, may within a year or so be drying eggs, similarly to the methods now used in manufacturing dried butter-milk, thereby imitating the efforts of the Japanese, who have for some time past been adopting the method of preserving hen fruit in a more satisfactory manner.

An article along these lines was recently made at Owasco, according to the Journal of Commerce, which while not satisfactory, yet demonstrated that the plan is possible. This article in part says:

Chemists and engineers of Swift & Co., of Chicago, were in Owasco and conducted an experiment at the Wasco Creamery by which they attempted to dry eggs with the buttermilk dryer used by the creamery. While the eggs were not dried properly the experiment was a success to the extent that the engineers found that the sprays worked as satisfactory with the egg white as they do with buttermilk. When the whites of the eggs struck the big rolls they congealed, the heating being too extreme to permit of perfect operation. One hundred and eighty dozen eggs were used in the experiment.

To many people the drying of eggs was unheard of, but the Swift men tell us that Japan ships in dried eggs in great quantities, because of the fact that the yolks are used so freely by the bakers and the mayonnaise dressing manufacturers. There has resulted a surplus of whites which the company is endeavoring to overcome by the drying process. The men also stated that the drying process might be used to take care of the surplus of eggs during certain seasons. Dried eggs prove satisfactory in baking.

IMPROVEMENT IN SERVICE OF TELEPHONES IN COUNTRY

Anyone with a telephone can reach anyone of 18,765,000 other telephones in the United States—some 291,000 more than last year, according to the annual report of the American Telephone and Telegraph company recently issued.

In spite of the lines that are busy and subscribers who for one reason or other do not answer their telephones, the number of calls which failed of completion on the first attempt was reduced five per cent.

"This," the report says, "means a better handling of over 200,000,000 calls a year." Substantial improvement has also been made on the 500,000 calls a day that go to Information and the 1,500,000 calls a day to information operators.

Woman's Club Members Endangered While Hiking by Autoists on Highways

Several members of the Women's club have started taking hikes every morning, walking from three to five miles daily, and greatly enjoying the exhilarating exercise.

Drivers of autos have several times nearly hit some of the women, who are walking on the left hand side of the road in accordance with the regulations adopted all over the country for safety of pedestrians. In several parts of the state large signs have been placed at regular intervals warning autoists and appealing to pedestrians to observe these new rules.

By walking on the left the person walking can see an approaching car in front and step to the edge of the road, while the practice permits a car coming from behind to continue along on the right hand side of the road. There is much less danger by this method, the highway department declares, and the women are hopeful that others of each will soon get accustomed to the change.

FIELD DAY FOR ALL BOY SCOUTS AT GRAND FORKS

One Patrol of Methodist-Presbyterian Troop Plans on Making Trip There

SUMMER CAMP PLANS HAVE BEEN OUTLINED

Troop No. 49 Sponsored by Lutheran Churches Has Nearly Completed Its Roster

Local boy scouts have received with joy the announcement that a general field day for all boys of the Greater Grand Forks area to be held in connection with the annual spring scout jamboree at Riverside park, Grand Forks, April 28. This action was approved by the executive committee at last week, according to the word from Grand Forks, and several of the local scouts are planning on making the trip there. Dr. H. W. Froehlich, scoutmaster of the Methodist-Presbyterian troop today stated to a representative of The Times.

Big Field Day Planned

A program of track and field events for all boys who are members of the scouts would be of great benefit and add much interest to the annual jamboree, J. C. Sheppard of Grand Forks, chairman, said in making the committee's report. While it is not definitely assured, the plan will likely go thru as Fred J. Gragg, scout executive, and A number of representative club members of Grand Forks have expressed themselves in favor of the proposition.

37 Members in New Troop

The boy scout camp at Union Lake for all troops conducted practically the same plan as last, it was decided. The fee of $1.00 for two weeks at the camp will be charged $1 per day. A committee appointed by Regional Executive Reed that the fee raised to $2 per week was decided against by the camping committee, which said this would be likely to keep out some of the boys who could not afford to pay the increased price. The committee also considered the proposition of raising a camp fund for scouts to pay their camp expenses. The secretary expected to be on the lookout and assist the troops to find work whenever possible.

Good progress has been made in enrolling members by Paul Lundgren, scoutmaster for troop No. 49 to be sponsored by the three Scandinavian Lutheran churches, 23 members have already been signed up so far. A meeting of the boys of the Trinity, Zion and Augustana churches was held Monday night in the Trinity church basement, attended by 30 boys, all of whom were quite enthusiastic over the movement.

A scout committee of three, one from each church, has been named, these leaders being Truman Quigley, H. E. Nelson and H. M. Grendahl. A senior patrol leader has also been secured in the person of Harold Tveaum, and it is hoped that within a week a definite signal for meetings can be determined upon as well as the plans for holding the first meeting to perfect these plans will be held Wednesday evening of next week in the basement of the Augustana church. The basement of the old Trinity church has been suggested for the meetings.

Present Roster for No. 49

The roster of the Lutheran church troop is as follows: Clarence Reginald, Stanley Egerness, Henry Egerness, Gilbert Granum, Invahl Hendrickson, Elmer Helgeland, Lloyd Haraldson, Oral Halland, Earl Johnson, Arthur Myron, Richard Nelson, Arvid Peterson, Orval Halland, Laverne Rolland, Raymond Ness, Arthur Sletum, Melford Haugen, Harold Johnson, Millard Nelson, Carl Tasdahl, Clifford Olson.

The troop first test was passed by Patrick of the Methodist-Presbyterian troop at the meeting last Thursday evening, while James Kingstad and Harold Engen passed the first aid and cooking tests to become first class scouts.

"LEAGUE OF MUNICIPALITIES" BRINGS EXTENDED BENEFITS

"The League of Minnesota Municipalities is an organization of officials of the various cities of the state for the purpose of working out practical solutions of the problems that are common to them cities," said Harvey Walker, Minneapolis, executive secretary of the League of Minnesota Municipalities, in speaking at the Northwest School Farmers' Week program at Crookston. "The League," said Mr. Walker, "has grown wide in extent. There are 23 state leagues in the United States and the Minnesota League is one of the most active.

"The chief value of the League is to acquaint officials with the duties that pertain to their offices, to inform officials of the developments in supply lines and in general to provide a clearing house of information on all questions that make for better city administration.

ALDERMEN HOLD SHORT MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

Action on Appointment of Assessor Again Postponed; 4 Applications On File

All members of the city council were present Tuesday night when City Clerk P. G. Peterson called the roll, but there was little important business to come before the aldermen.

Four soft drink licenses were granted, making a total of only 12 granted since Feb. 1, at which time all old licenses expired. It has been felt that those to whom licenses had been granted last year should be sufficiently interested in securing a renewal that they would make application about the time of expiration. The result of the discussion was a reversal to the action taken a month prior to the various dispensers of soft drinks, advising that their old license had expired, with a reminder that they no longer have a right to sell pop, etc., after the new year's license without further delay will result in arrest and prosecution, the authorities say.

Dance and Milk Permits

Dance permits were granted to the Sons of Norway for a series of five dances in their own building on the nights of March 16, 23, 30, April 6 and 13; to the American Legion for three dances in the auditorium on the nights of March 22, 23 and 24, the latter being a vaudeville theatrical and style show; and to the Woodmen of the World for a dance on March 14 in the Sons of Norway hall.

Milk licenses were granted to G. B. LeSage and V. C. Roper, their application having been duly approved by Dairy Inspector, Dr. L. R. Thrun, who submitted his monthly report for February, stating that he had spent 50 hours and covered 45 miles in his work for the past month. Three samples of cream out of 47 tested for butterfat failed to show the required mark, the same being true also of two samples out of 16 tests.

Thirty-five cows were tested for tuberculosis and all found in good condition, as were also 25 cows tested physically in two herds supplying milk patrons of Thief River Falls, according to the report. However, the inspector indicated that two dairymen had been caught buying milk at the local creamery to supply their customers when their own milk was short of milk, the milk from the creamery coming from herds not T. B. tested. The milk dealers were advised that this could not be permitted, and arrangements were made whereby the dealers can secure milk from herds of nearby farmers who have cows free of tuberculosis.

The butterfat percentages of the various dealers was again very satisfactory during February, the lowest mark being 3.87 as compared to 3.70 in January, while the highest was 4.2 as compared to 3.93 the previous month. This again showed that the milkmen on the whole are trying to raise the standard of their supply, following a series of inspections by state board of health men.

Other Monthly Reports

The report of the city clerk showed $6,554.75 on hand Feb. 1, with receipts during the past month of $4,250.53 and disbursements of $2,141.29, leaving $8,044.84 balance March 1. The light department earnings for February, the report indicated, were $6,622.44 as compared to $5,722.21 the previous month. The report of Judge N. W. Tarrant indicated fines and fees collected in February totalling $21.

The acceptance of the resignation of Charles Herron as a member of the fire department and the appointment of Leonard Hesser to succeed him at a recent meeting of the firemen, was duly approved. The bond of The Times was also approved and ordered filed.

Banks Made Depositories

The two local banks were each declared city depositories, following receipt of bids from them, wherein they offered to pay two per cent interest on the average daily balances up to the sum of $10,000.

The matter was up by the consideration of the application of the Taxpayers Motor Sales for the installation of a gasoline pump on First street just off the corner of Main avenue. After some discussion the request was granted, providing the pump is placed 50 feet from the corner of the curbing.

Big Legion Celebration July 4

Fred Lundgren announced that the American Legion would not stage a fourth of July celebration this year in Thief River Falls the three Scandinavian Lutheran churches having announced that they would stage one on the city auditorium on that date in case of rain instead of holding their annual picnic celebrations here; regular rates to be paid therefor.

A fourth application for the position of assessor was received, it being from Martin Lundgren. The discussion of the matter was again laid over to the next meeting, and after hearing the usual list of bills the council adjourned for two weeks.

HEAVY LOADS CAUSE MUCH DAMAGE WHEN ROADS ARE CUT UP

Traffic Flowing Thru Prolonge Period of Impassability Says C. M. Babcock

A plea for the co-operation of all car owners during the spring breakup has been issued by C. M. Babcock, commissioner of highways, who will make as little use of unpaved roads as possible during the period when the frost is going out, it will greatly hasten the time when they can be put in their usual summer condition, he says.

Mr. Babcock has the double job of trying to protect the roads and keep traffic moving. Load restrictions will be posted and enforced when advisable. When the bottom drops out of the roads he will be put up showing it is "impassable".

May Close Some Roads

There will be no laying of cars by the maintenance forces. When a road gets to the impassable stage, Mr. Babcock's idea is serving to keep traffic better to close the road than to keep it moving calling it by the day. The road will get back in good condition much sooner if all traffic is kept off for a few days.

Load restrictions will be used on roads that are in danger of breaking up in places of either party to the plan, and the posting of signs at intervals thru the alleys wherever such plan is feasible. Manager Russell states that a number of improvements of a similar nature are contemplated this summer, but he has no definite knowledge as to the erection of new poles and stringing of new wires in the near future.

TILE DRAINAGE CONTS ANALYZED IN BULLETIN

Much information as to the cost of tile drainage in this county is given in the report by H. R. Rasz of the University Farm department, just issued by the University Farm and published by the Minnesota State Planning Board. Data gathered in investigations carried on in this county in the years from 1926 to 1921 at various points are presented and can be used to advantage in making estimates of drainage of the cost of farm drainage. The bulletin is of value to engineers who are planning or installing farm drainage systems on new farms and to technical men. It will be furnished without cost to those making requests of the Office of Publication at University Farm, St. Paul.

Telephone Crew Leaves After Completing Work Authorized Last Fall

The crew of ten telephone linemen, who have been working in the county this winter, have completed the work outlined at the present time, and have been transferred to Crookston, where they will be located for about ten days.

The joint construction of telephone lines by Pennington county, the Northwestern Telephone Exchange company and the city of Thief River Falls, so far has been satisfactory to both parties, according to Manager Russell and the plan in effect to have the state pay taxes on lands foreclosed by the county and held by Credits, and which now are tax exempt.

Following the allowance of the customary list of bills the county board adjourned.

LET YOUR DOCTOR DECIDE CAMPAIGN ENDORSED HERE

Co-operation of the State Board of Health with the National Tuberculosis association and the Minnesota Public Health association in the early diagnosis campaign in Minnesota has been pledged by Dr. E. Marx White, state health officer of the state board, according to Dr. O. F. Malloy, local member thereof.

While the state has reduced its tuberculosis death rate from 119 per 100,000 population in 1911 to 58.5 per 100,000 population in 1927, Dr. White says in a letter to the national organization that much remains to be done through concerted action of official and voluntary health agencies and with the co-operation of the general public," he said in the press yesterday. 50,000 living cases in the state now.

Dr. Malloy and the other members of the state board urge persons to visit their physicians for examination when the early signs of tuberculosis appear.

COMMISSIONERS TO PUT WOMEN'S NAMES ON NEW JURY LIST

County Board Assists in Effort to Place Untaxed Farm Lands Back on List

The session of the county commissioners last Friday was short, there being little business of importance to come before the attention of the board, all of whom were present.

A resolution was passed relative to the drawing of a new jury list for the next year wherein the names of women must appear in conformance to the statutes, as pointed out by Judge Andrew Grindeland when the panel of jurors called for the February term was challenged due to failure of the commissioners to place the names of any women on the former list.

The commissioners are preparing the new list, which will be ready by the close of this week, at which time it will be turned over to the clerk of court, Adolf Eklund.

The sum of $100 was appropriated for the purpose of securing the assistance of other counties in the part of the county calling it to have the state pay taxes on lands foreclosed by the county and held by Credits, and which now are tax exempt.

Following the allowance of the customary list of bills the county board adjourned.

WE BELIEVE

Do not be laughed into doing that which you know to be wrong.

RIGHT IS IN

Show us the perfect student who can learn, and yet not boast of his knowledge; who can sing, and yet not sing to let the world know of his ability; who can work, and keep his troubles to himself; who can speak, and does so only when he has something of importance to say; who can write, and uses his power to further all human progress; who labors for honest; who can act, but will not do so to boast his superiority; who can play, and does so for the beauty of the music rather than the praise it may gain from it.

In short, show us one man has athletics and yet can mind his own business—and we will call him a perfect student.

WORDS

Every word that man utters, no matter how light or seemingly insignificant the word may be, has an influence upon himself and upon others. Whether the influence be good or bad depends upon the character of the word. Man instinctively knows the kind of effect that words will have upon his affairs. The master of uttering only the right words finds become one of distinction and of watchfulness.

It is easy for the negative words to enter the mind; they come by suggestion from without or as the result of error thought within. High standards of thought and constant vigilance must be called upon to keep out those thoughts that are not conducive to our highest goal.—Christian Business.

SUNSHINE

The fables tell of an old and wise prophet who would stand one hour daily in front of the window of his solitary abode—his chest exposed to the warm rays of the sun that streamed through the window. It was his idea of storing the sunshine under his heart.

It would be a little far-fetched to expect anyone to stand in front of a sunlit window every day for this purpose. The advancement in science has shown us that such a method would not mean a thing if a person be scared and bitter.

Three little words are to be found in the dictionary, all ending in "ness"—happiness, cheerfulness, friendliness—and all expressing much in meaning in many respects, but the combination of the three will work wonders towards housecleaning the heart region of gloom and unhealthy broodings. Sunshine in the heart cannot help but reflect a golden glow of good fellowship that will radiate, making the world just a little better for your presence in it.

A BASKETBALL FABLE

Once upon a time—
(I cannot tell just when)
There lived in a red-brick palace
Nine sons with their father, the king.

Not knights of the table round,
Yet famous for brave deeds right and wrong
They lived a most happy existence
Surrounded by an admiring throng.
Then one day there came to the castle
A lion—most fierce (and not a lamb)
The brave knights, they fought for the emperor
With the King ever pushing them on
The lads and the lion fell together
(12 to 12)
But the lion, being stronger, survived,
Overcoming the knights in red armor
—They back to his den quickly hied.
Fair reader, to denounce this?
Wouldst Carl's chocolit ache?
brave fellows are?
They were like our dear Lincoln High:
Mr. Roe is the honorable sir,
There's Rounds, and Rue, and sour,
And Bonner, and Bostal and Fiedler, (Tis the Knights I am now giving merdom)
Beartracks and Furan and Johnny,
This band has a slightly good record
I'll tell you of just-about-the-end
Although not selected as victors,
We hope that they'll win first next year.

Here's a tribute to each of our players,
A-ol the one who helps conquer the foe.
Who so ably has led his knights on ward,
Their leader—the noble King Roe!

HASH

A young bride asked her husband to copy off a radio recipe that she wanted. He did his best, but got two stations mixed one of which was broadcasting the morning exercises, the other a lecture. This is what she took down:

"Hands on hips, place one cup of clare, flour on the shoulders, raise knees and depress toe. Mix thoroughly in one-half cup of milk. Repeat six times. Inhale quickly one-half teaspoonful of baking powder, lower the eggs and mash two hard boiled eggs in a sieve. Exhale, breathe naturally, and sift in bowl.

"Attention! Lie flat on floor and roll the white of an egg backward and forward until it comes to a boil. In ten minutes remove from fire and rub smartly with a rough towel. Breathe naturally, dress in warm flannels, and serve with fish soup.

Many tavicats, but no horses, were in the funeral procession when Joseph Rogers, said to be London's oldest Newcastle driver, having driven a cab for 60 years, was buried recently.

STATE PRESIDENT W. C. T. U. TALKS TO STUDENTS MONDAY

Mrs. Sizer Proves Prohibition Amendment Was Wise; Her Address Was Spirited

At a special Monday assembly Mrs. Sizer, state president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, addressed the student body.

Mrs. Sizer began by saying "No thing is more discussed than prohibition—it is the greatest topic of the day."

During her discussion, the requisites for character were brought out —namely, whole, resolutes was self-control. "Alcohol retards self-control; it slows down progress; it hinders efficiency; it is a detriment to success" said President Sizer.

That prohibition is not a theory but a fact was clearly proven, in her own words and sentiments: "It is the duty of the people to obey prohibition laws. The entire world is watching its struggle with our great problem. Moderation, license and government control of alcohol have been advocated or tried in the various countries with still more failure! Prohibition is the best method—counting the months of the W. C. T. U." This is gaining control in the enforcement of the law, statistics prove fifty cases, brought before the Supreme Court, were decided with the great prohibition principle.

Mrs. Sizer mentioned several famous people who "took it upon themselves" to advocate and bring about better conditions. Among this group are: Horace Mann, who was responsible for our present school system; Jacob Riis, attainer of playground for small children; Helen Keller, the meaning of affictions overcomed; Dr. Bernadin, associated with child welfare; Abraham Lincoln, emancipator of the slaves; and Frances E. Willard, who took it upon herself to make a better day for boys and girls —Frances Willard, the only woman whose statue is placed in Statuary Hall.

In closing her strong, well-delivered speech President Sizer stated: "This is our opportunity—the opportunity of Prohibition!"

Loud Sock Day Affords Amusement For Seniors

Sophomore: "Look all girls and T. N. T. Id like to take her down a peg."

Sophomore: "Brother, you're ogically right. It's only the gals who make themselves so foolish. You ought to see the senior girls—they take the biggest chances of their years and look like Pitchforks!"

Freshman: "Wrong guesses. Look that yap disgusting as all. I'll go back to the land and give him a piece of my mind. Ill-ill-ill—"

Senior: "What's the excitement, youngster? Did somebody swipe your Adam's apple?"

Senior: "Son, I'll give you to understand that this is last sock and ribbon day. I'll just explain a few things to you. Now that your over there, crying—"

Freshman: "Yah, that's Carl. What is he bawling about?"

Senior: "Miss Johnson took his lollypop away from him, (you see we come only on this seventh-to-the-eighteen-day) and she locked him and all the rest of her class got their lollypops in a nice, clean, white paper and her desk. The kids bit the handles, stuck on bits of paper, and made strips of ribbon—this sash was also to distinguish his lollypop from the rest after they were checked at the desk. I guess in the confusion somebody took Carl's chocolit ache and left him an expiring grape one. I don't blame him for being mad! Ah, I more just gave him a banana orange lollypop that didn't suit my taste."

Freshman: "Is that her gabbing over there, the tall bunch of kreme?"

Freshman: "Who's that blabbering?"

Senior: "Why that thing in her arms."

Freshman: "Sleep! Who's that?"

Senior "Where?"

Freshman: "With that thing in her arms."

Senior: "That's Peggy with her doll. Miss MacMillan almost did a laughable act when Peggy asked if her doll could sleep in history—to put the doll to sleep in history."

"There's Elsie. Please notice that polka-dotted apron. It's a wow. She's busy gathering the three-fourths used suckers for Mr. Tuleen, so he can put them in his spelling bees. Oh—a bell! Let's go in. Come on, seniors. Cliff looks like the main pole character in Romeo and Juliet. That red bow, a foot wide, sets off to perfection.

"Say-ey, Where's my sucker! That little shrimp—I'll massacre him, I will. Gangway!"

DECLAIMERS PLACE THIEF RIVER FALLS IN ERSKINE CONTEST

Weeks, Will Lieberman Win First, Second and Third Places Respectively

Wednesday evening of last week the United Lutheran church of Erskine was filled with listeners to the eighth annual contest by the contestants in the sub-district, declamatory contests. The five schools, Thief River Falls, McIntosh, Mahnomen, Waubun and Erskine, were represented creditably by contestants.

Dramatic Group

In the dramatic group Gladys Weeks of Thief River Falls with "Molly's Boy" as her subject won first place. Gladys is a veteran of declamatory work from last year, having captured first in the humorous division when the contest was held in Thief River last spring. She reading called for impersonations of a young Irish mother and her father, which were well interpreted. Gladys' performance at Mahnomen with "The Heart of Kentucky" and Alpha Sheperd with "The Arena Scene" at Erskine in "The Arena Scene" took third place.

Oratorical Group

In the oratory class Lewis Hodgson of Waubun was awarded first. his subject, "The Great Crucifixion" he delivered with the proper expression and credibility by contestants.

Humorous Group

In the humorous class George Lieberman of Thief River Falls with "The Rivals" as her subject won first place. Gladys is a veteran of declamatory work from last year, having captured first in the humorous division when the contest was held in Thief River last spring. Her

Spring arrives, the stage is set and as last season's models step linger-ingly off the stage of fashion throne of spring, 1928, appear more alluringly gay than ever, more youthful and more chic.

This it not to be wondered at, for the recent Paris showings launched any number of fascinating new styles with the American woman particularly in mind.

For regardless of what anyone has to say in the matter, the women of this country have considerable effect on the trend style and French designers the most conscious of this—hence we find the styles as they are being shown in the shops particularly suited to smart American types of femininity.

Longer Skirts Introduced

It begins to appear that the very definite attempt toward longer skirts by designers, for several seasons, is beginning to have some effect, as the very latest word from Paris indicates that such is the case. This may or may not become a fact for women have grown fond of the freedom of the short skirt and it will be decided entirely by the favor with which it is received.

Other big news in the world of fashion, so far as spring mode is concerned, is the expansion of the silhouette. This is accomplished in a number of ways. Hemlines grow more irregular as the season advances and we see width being introduced in circular cuts, flounces, tiers or gathered fullness.

Hips, however, are fitted snugly and with the fullness extending from the hip line to the skirt hem. Jabots are entered into the lengthening process in many of the models for spring that naturally were conceived in Paris—beginning at the neck line and extending to the hem of the skirt.

The only species of the mode that resists the lengthen-line to a large extent is the sport model although scallops appear in some of the most exclusive models that the shops are showing. There is no added length, the plaited skirt continues to be the favorite for sports wear although the circular cut, being more feminine, is favored by some of the smartest.

Variety in Dresses ...

There is a world of variety in the new dress collections as they are being offered for spring, 1928. Colors run rampant and gay figured materials are in profusion. Intricate cut and manipulation of fabric continues to be the high light, these carrying out the elaborate formal air that has been so important for the last few seasons, perhaps because it gives the tall and slender look so favored by the fashionable women today. We find tunics in extremely good standing—many are swayed lightly around the figure with shirred or plaited or circular fullness appearing at the opposite side.

Perhaps the most important single feature of the spring frocks is the scarf, either attached or separate, and in most cases, it is possible to be draped around the throat as silently wishes it. Oftentimes, the scarf is tied over fashion's new flare of hair on one shoulder. As a rule, these scarfs are in gay, printed squares of lustrous silk and sometimes of double thickness. Border cues are prominent, too, in spring dresses and some of them are quite reminiscent of the frock in the front and the back.

Lace is Important

At all the openings gathered during this spring, lace will be most important. It appears in many new and unusual ways and guises and is always extremely becoming and unquestionably dainty. The more formal afternoon frocks favor entire collars of lace that appear again on the sleeves in deep and narrow cuffs and invariably the lace cuff extends over the hand.

Two-piece frocks appear again in great abundance with lovely monograms, fascinating little pockets and interesting color bands serving as decoration.

Never has there been such a selection in delightful printed silks as are to be found in the shops this season. Sheer and heavy crepes come into their share of popularity with small designs in cluster arrangement favored. Sheer crepes and flat crepes in plain colors are also favorites. Light weight woolens have been developed in all sorts of interesting styles for street wear and sports wear.

Coats Have Capes

Perhaps the two most interesting fashion features of the spring coats are the cape theme and the three-quarter length effects. Capes are cunning little affairs that flare about the shoulders—some reaching to the elbow—others to the wrist, while a few of the most exclusive models have coats that reach almost to the hem of the skirt. There is a decided tendency toward the normal and slightly higher placement of the waistline on the newest coats.

Women will be glad to hear that basque and blouse types—materials so popular for balmy spring days—appears again to be the fabric of success necessary in the cloth coat realm, while silk coats are developed of dull crepe and satin silks. Other materials popular are che-lute, twill, novelty repp, covert cloth, basket and broadcloth.

Fur trimming for new Spring suits is more as a matter of Madame's choice for the reason that both are equally smart but perhaps the very favorite is the fulless coat which strangely enough and smartly too, is entirely collarless, depending, thoroughly upon the smart simplicity for its success. Bleached red fox and beige fox are the most favored furs and appear in some of the most intriguing sport coats as well as coats of the more formal silk type.

One thing to remember when you are selecting your Spring coat is the fact that the fur must be either on the cuffs or on the collar, but it rarely appears on both. Scarfs of the coat fabric flutter from many of the smartest necklines and are drawn through slots of material.

Sport coats have wide tuxedo collars of self material with great pockets, narrow front belts and large fox furs. The smartest coats to be found in the shops appear in pattern tweeds in check and herringbone designs and it appears that soft tans and greens are the most favored.

The Tailleur Prominent

Without a question of a doubt, suits are to be the outstanding feature of the spring mode. For wool woman doesn't reveal in the feeling of smartness that a two piece tailored suit gives her? This year the tailleur is perhaps more interesting than ever and especially are the skirts cunning. Plaits of every type and description are used and add interest to the new little suit skirts. Mannish materials are the most favored in the two-piece tailored suit—covert, repp, oxfords, kashas and tweeds are important. Fur collars, tailleur, satin trimmed or knitted jumpers are favored, while white pique vests are also frequently seen. These coats are strictly tailored after the manner of the suit—with white vests are worn. Navy blue is again the favorite for spring suits while oxfords run a close second.

Fascinating Ensembles

With the passing of the season, the ensemble has been growing in importance and this season finds some very fascinating models for both the sports and dress wear. For sports wear, the shops are featuring the three-piece ensemble.

Blouses of the ensembles have snap tips and collarless neck lines—in fact details that we noticed on our fashion hunt through the shops was a black kasha jacket model with four-inch red black and white skirt, trimmed with vertical panels of the same fabric.

ANNOYING NIGHT COUGHS

Stopped Almost Instantly

Very frequently adults and children, especially children, have spells of night coughing due to bronchial irritations or while suffering from colds. These coughing spells, if not quickly checked, are very injurious to the health.

A famous physician's prescription called Thoxine, much better than patent medicines and cough syrups, acts on a different principle, relieves the irritation and stops the cough within 15 minutes or money back. Contains no chloroform, dope or other harmful drugs. Pleasant tasting and safe. 35c, 60c and $1.00. Ask for Thoxine, a good drug store.

ALL COLLEGES JOIN THE "U"
IN OFFERING SCHOLARSHIPS

Of 50 Minnesota high school graduates admitted to the University of Minnesota on scholarships last fall as the result of the high school graduates in the state, 45 have maintained an average of "B", sixteen an average of "B", eight an average of "B" plus, and five a straight average of "A" in college work so far.

This announcement was made by Dean E. B. Johnston of the College of Science, Literature, and the Arts this week at the same time that he made public the method in which scholarships for the fall of 1928 will be offered.

Rather than going it alone the University has joined with the Association of Minnesota Colleges in offering scholarships for next year. Those entitled to the scholarships will be selected as before on high school records, psychological tests, competitive examination and information obtained from the student and his high school principal. The 50 students awarded scholarships will then be privileged to select any state college or the University of Minnesota, any one of which will provide free tuition during the freshman year.

"T" SIMES HYGIENIST TO ASSIST STUDENTS

Discovery—that six percent of entering freshmen are suffering from emotional disturbances, has caused the University of Minnesota to engage a mental hygienist to study the situation and aid the students in clearing up their troubles.

This latest undertaking, in personnel work is in line with the University of Minnesota's policy of directing more attention to the problems of the individual student. An elaborate system of faculty counsellors established several years ago was a forerunner to the present projects.

SEVEN TROPHIES FOR WORTHY LEGION WORK

The seven department trophies which will be awarded at the Alcatia State convention next August to the Minnesota Legion posts which perform the finest work include the Minneapolis Journal Pioneer, one for rural posts and one for Twin City; Duluth excelling in general Legion Activities. The Lindell Bell will go to the post doing the most outstanding individual deed for its community. The Oliara Cup is offered for best scout work. The Haferman Lamp for finest Americanism effort. The Levi Hall Trophy for safety-first activities. The Stafford-King Trophy for promoting conservation of Minnesota resources. The Phillips Emblem will be competed for by both Legion posts and units and will go to the post and unit excelling in Americanism work particularly among the foreign-born.

Second Annual Auto, Electrical and Style Show Opens Today

BOTH FLOORS OF AUDITORIUM ARE FILLED TO CAPACITY WITH AUTOS AND MANY ELECTRICAL DEVICES

Style Show Will Be Feature of Program Friday Evening—Entertainment and Dancing Each Evening—Fifteen Cars Displayed on Main Floor.

With both floors of the city auditorium crammed to capacity with automobiles, electrical devices and food displays, the second annual Auto, Electrical and Style Show opened in this city this morning. The main floor of the auditorium is devoted to the display of automobiles, fifteen different models being exhibited. Along the long hallway in the basement are booths of various kinds displaying food products manufactured in this city, while the commercial club room at the rear of the basement is being used for the show room for the electrical exhibits. The large building was the scene of feverish activity as the advance guard of visitors appeared and hardy exhibitors put in the finishing touches on their stands. By noon all will be in readiness, however, and the public is invited to attend.

The automobile show, which, of course, is the chief center of attraction, is really a remarkable collection of cars to make so slight a city. Buick, Packard, Ford, Dodge, Nash, Chrysler, Pontiac, Oakland, Hupmobile Six, Hupmobile Eight, Hudson, Essex, Studebaker, Chevrolet, and Willys-Knight. These are practically all of the popular cars sold in this territory and the prospective purchaser is afforded an excellent opportunity to make comparisons among the many models.

Along the basement hallway are exhibits of food products by the Hanson & Barnes Milling Co., Thief River Grocery, Gamble Robinson, Inc., Tessum & Co. The commercial club room includes exhibits by the City of Thief River Falls, Larson Furniture Co., Ole Iverson and the Thief River Music Co. Six different makes of electric washing machines are on display, these by the Peter Dexter, A. B. C. Spinner, Automatic, Meadows and Maytag. A number of other household devices are also on display, including vacuum cleaners, and many miscellaneous appliances.

Atlantic City with its Board Walk will have its counterpart in Thief River Falls with the Style Show walk down the center of the auditorium floor tomorrow, Friday evening, for the models secured by the stores taking part in the Style Show will wear only such things as Jeanne fashion dictates correct for man or woman, boy or girl this coming season.

A special promenade walk will be constructed Friday for the Style Show, permitting the models to leave the stage and walk part of the way down the center aisle permitting spectators to see the styles as they appear in "fashionable."

Those taking part therein include the following:

Fourteen Year Old Daughter of County Treasurer Is Dead

Evelyn Gullingsrud, fourteen-year-old daughter of County Treasurer John Gullingsrud, died early Tuesday morning, following an illness of several months. Evelyn suffered an attack of scarlet fever the first week in November, which developed into Pneumonia fever. She was taken to the Pupalanea hospital where she remained nearly two months when she was removed to the home in this city. Although she put up a valiant fight for her life throughout her illness, the struggle proved too much for her, and the past month she has been gradually failing, realizing several days before her death that the end was near. Had she lived until the twelfth of March, Evelyn would have been fifteen years of age.

Evelyn's death seems especially pathetic coming as it does, so soon after the death, which occurred in December, two years ago, and that of her sister, Bertha, who died two years ago last July. She is survived by her father, two brothers, Victor and Ernest Works, another brother, James, a half brother, step-mother, and an infant sister, Marilyn.

Funeral services will be held from the Trinity Lutheran church Saturday afternoon, Rev. R. L. Tallakson officiating. Interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

FIVE CANDIDATES ENTER FINALS OF QUEEN CONTEST

St. Hilaire Girl Holds Lead By Slight Margin as Votes Pour In

The close of the semi-finals in the Style Show Queen Contest brought with it a last minute shower of ballots which swept and swelled the total of votes a great deal. Wildavene Denhart of St. Hilaire retained the lead which she had maintained throughout the week and went into the finals with 12,000 votes to her credit. The final figures revealed that Peggy Shaw was a close second withan even 10,000 votes, while Louise Veyra ran third with a total of 9,100. Durah Kelly and Lillian Eide ar close behind with 2,400 and 2,300 votes each respectively.

While there is a big spread between the top and the bottom in this list the final outcome of the balloting is by no means certain. The vote so far merely indicates the progress of the voting in the advance ticket sale and as this sale has been conducted by friends of individual candidates the figures really show which groups have been most aggressive so far. This advance sale is only a small portion of the total vote that will be cast and the result of the voting by those who buy tickets at the door will be the determining factor in the race. Tonight's and Friday night's entertainment program includes a vote coupon good for 100 votes, and the progress of the votes will be announced at various times during each evening.

On Saturday evening at ten o'clock the ballot box will be opened and the final count of the votes will be announced. As soon as the figures have been ascertained the result will be announced and the winning candidate will be crowned queen. The prize is a beautiful ring which is now on display in the show window on the Nessel Jewelry store. The five candidates who will go into the finals are the following:

Louise Veyra	9,100
Lillian Eide	2,300
Durah Kelly	2,400
Wildevene Denhart	10,000
Durah Kelly	2,400

Caddis Building Presents Decided Improvement As New Front Is Revealed

The false front erected around the Caddis's building at the Northwest corner of the business district is down Tuesday afternoon and the public is now enjoying the benefit of the improvement in the appearance of the building resulting from changes made by the new little suit skirts. Mannish materials are the most favored in the two-piece tailored suit—coverts, repp, oxfords, kashas and tweeds are important. Fur collars, tailleur, satin trimmed or knitted jumpers are favored, while white pique vests are also frequently seen. These coats are strictly tailored after the manner of the suit—with white vests are worn. Navy blue is again the favorite for spring suits while oxfords run a close second.

The new store quarters in the war end of the building have been occupied and remodeled since last Saturday and the Dress Club is now occupying quarters there, while Wangenstein & Son expect to move into the other half of the rear part of the building about April 1.

TWO CANDIDATES FILE FOR JUDGE OF PROBATE

Ed. M. Rydell, city treasurer of the Thief River Falls for many years, on Monday filed as a candidate for judge of probate for Pennington county, which office has been filed for the past two terms by Lars Lacke, who also filed the same afternoon for re-election.

The only other local man who has filed for office is J. M. Bishop, a candidate for judge of the fourteenth judicial district of Minnesota.

BANKS HERE PAY MORE FOR CITY FUNDS THAN DETROIT

The City of Thief River Falls will receive two per cent interest on daily balances of its funds in the local banks, on deposits up to $10,000 in each bank, in accordance with the bids on the banks at the meeting of the council last evening, it was learned.

At Detroit after some delay the banks there offered only one percent interest and the amount deposited in each limit was set as to maximum amount on which the interest would be paid.

FARMER LABOR DELEGATES TO ST. PAUL NAMED

Large Number of Delegates to County Convention Met in Court House Monday

LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT MEETING WAS PLANNED

Shipstead, Wefald, Naplin, Day and Mellby Commended in Resolutions

W. H. Quist, H. O. Berge, H. M. Johnson, Andrew Rice, were the A. C. ed delegates to the state meeting of the Farmer Labor association at St. Paul next Monday at the Pennington county convention of the organization held in the court house Monday afternoon of this week. As alternates were chosen P. J. Aalfs, E. K. Lockrem, L. Nelson, P. H. Wright and Mrs. O. F. Hanlin.

The meeting was well attended, nearly fifty members of the organization being present at the meeting which was called to order by Chairman Quist, who read the official call for the state headquarters, following which Herman A. Kjos of Highlanding, was made temporary secretary.

The resolutions committee consisting of Fred Tessum of the second ward, Selve Thorlmen of Goodridge and A. E. Lockren of Sanders was then named, while on the credentials committee were Rud Barrie of the first ward, P. A. Halstrand of Highlanding and F. O. Serlson of North.

The matter of holding a legislative district meeting was quite freely discussed and the sentiment favored such a gathering at an early date following the state convention, to which a meeting it was decided that there should be sent delegates from the 102 votes cast for the Farmer Labor candidate for governor two years ago. This would give Pennington county 25 delegates for 1928 votes were cast at the last election. Accordingly each of the precinct chairmen for the past year was selected as a committee to take the place of such meeting and the time and place for the meeting of Pennington, Red Lake and Clearwater Farmer Labor permanent county committees.

Permanent County Committee

A permanent county committee to act for the coming year was named, consisting of Andrew Rice, Selve Quist; vice chairmen, Christ Quirud; secretary, Andrew Rice, and Ole Naplin. These three officers were empowered to name precinct chairmen for the various precincts after which a collection was taken to assist in defraying any expenses that might arise.

Inasmuch as there will be no district convention of the party in the ninth district, the delegates named to the state convention will be the only northwest counties of the state will have the right to vote on such matters as they may find will require state action.

Delegates Named

The list of delegates as reported by the credentials committee and which was elected by the convention follows: Andrew Rice, Mrs. A. E. Lockren and Carl Anderson; Krabbenhoft, Mrs. Selve Quist and O. Hilbrand, H. M. Johnson, Ole Iverson, Peter Hilland and Bert Johnson; Stafford, Ashjornsen and Magnus Olson; Goodridge: Selve Thorlmen, Mrs. Thorlmen, C. Wingen; Highlanding: Mrs. Wyandotte, Anton Peterson, Mrs. Peterson and Mrs. Lowe, Carl E. Pemprenk, Emil Sanders, Mrs. Sanderquard, J. P. Skaar and Anton Kvellestad; North, Mrs. Mary T. J. Berke, Alf. Lindstrom, T. Rambeau, Mrs. Rambeau, Al Lake, M. Hallangrud, Albert Olson and Wm. Quist; Highlanding, O. A. Kolstad, Herman A. Kjos, Elo Sanders, Mrs. Wold, Anton Johnson and J. T. Nelson; Smiley, Mrs. Smiley, Mrs. Nelson, Ole Helgeland and O. Hoffman; first ward, Rud Barrie and Earl Harris and Christ Quirud.

88 YEAR OLD ST. HILAIRE RESIDENT DIES ON MONDAY

Halvor Johnson, one of the oldest residents of St. Hilaire, died Monday afternoon, Rev. S. L. Tallakson of the city officiating. Interment was made at the Letteran cemetery at St. Hilaire, where Mrs. Johnson is buried.

Mr. Johnson was born in Norway where he resided until coming to this country when a young man. He was married there in 1862, moving to Lee county, Iowa, which was 56 family home for ten years. Later they moved from there to Wisconsin, where they resided until coming to St. Hilaire three years ago. Mrs. Johnson died about a year ago.

The deceased is survived by two daughters and two sons, Mrs. Olaf Johnson of Great Falls, Mont., Mrs. Lena Anderson of Kitchen, Sask., Canada, and Bennet of St. Hilaire. Four children have preceded Mr. and Mrs. Johnson in death.

Own Mercantile Co., Will Stage Tractor School and Demonstration Wednesday

The Own Mercantile Co., next Wednesday, March 28, will entertain their patrons and friends at a Tractor School and Demonstration at the old Olson Hardware building on Horace avenue between Third and Fourth streets, under the auspices of the John Deere Co. A free lunch will be served at noon to all farmers and their families.

The company has enjoyed a good increase in farm machinery business the past few years, and this spring has built a special display platform across the alley in the rear of their store where various farm implements are being shown daily.

Inasmuch as there will be no district convention of the party in the ninth district, the delegates named to the state convention will be the only northwest counties of the state will have the right to vote on such matters as they may find will require state action.

GREAT NORTHERN MAY CHANGE ITS TRAIN SERVICE

Will Permit of Shoppers Having About Four Hours Here To Do Shopping

A change in the passenger service on the Great Northern has been tentatively announced for April 8, according to information received by Harry Lee, local agent. The train will leave Warroad at six o'clock in the morning thereafter, reaching Crookston at 11:20 to connect with the coast train to the Twin Cities, leaving Crookston again at 12:05 and arriving at Warroad at 5:25 in the afternoon.

This will be a reversal of the present arrangement and will give people of Thief River Falls and other towns in that section of the state an excellent opportunity to do their shopping, instead of requiring here overnight as has been the custom for several years past. The south bound train will reach this city about nine o'clock each morning, and the north bound train will pass through here about two in the afternoon.

There has been considerable talk about the use of an electric train being substituted for the present steam engine, but it is not probable that such a change will be made for some time, as this is a very expensive proposition.

POULTRY MEET UNANIMOUS FOR REORGANIZATION

Temporary Directors Named to Select Board of Five to Act Till Annual Meeting

FINANCIAL AID PROMISED BY LAND O' LAKES BODY

This City To Be Central Shipping Point to Large Centers in Eastern Market

Nearly one hundred members of the Thief River Falls Cooperative Poultry association and representatives of creameries in the section Wednesday afternoon voted to form a new organization to carry on the business of the above mentioned body, which is now in the hands of a receiver, after electing persons from the various localities represented on a re-organization committee. A similar meeting was held at Erskine last night where two more members of such committee were elected. The members to meet as soon as possible and elect five of their members as a temporary executive committee to function until the new association can be elected at a big meeting in June or July.

Mr. Mitchell of Deerlee, one of the state directors of the Land O' Lakes Creameries, Inc., acted as chairman of the meeting explaining the purpose thereof, and introducing President Brandt of the above organization, who explained that while the Land O' Lakes body was in several instances already buying eggs at regular Land O' Lakes prices in Grimont the state, yet Thief River Falls offered at different solution of the problem, as this is destined to be one of the best centralization points in the state.

Method of Financing

Accordingly the Land O' Lakes will cooperate with a new association of poultry raisers in northwestern Minnesota, this to be financed in the following manner, by advancing sufficient cash funds with which to buy eggs, the money to be loaned to the various creameries, the former will be charged with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, which is less than the general rate, also the farmer will be paid an extra amount on the eggs delivered, which will be up to the members of the new association to be organized. In addition to this, the Land O' Lakes will furnish the new association with all the help possible, and also reinvest to get wholesale buying their supplies to sell thru the association.

Centralized Plant Here

Thief River Falls as the central shipping point, the eggs coming in here to be candled and graded under the supervision of a man from the Minneapolis and Duluth, where the eggs will be distributed to the markets capable men for this purpose. The man here will be sent here by the state organization and will be under its control, altho his expenses will be paid by the local association. This will mean that Thief River Falls will be elevated to the status of one of the centralized points, and that egg shipments will go direct from here to the distributing markets, as soon as the new mill is, [illegible] special school for [illegible] 1928-29 [illegible] $894.67; penalties, interest and costs, $4,676; and interest and principal on state loans, $1,000, the grand total of which is $78,761.92.

Of the $78,761.92 received from the forfeited tax sale last November the state will receive, according to law, $66,366.62 for the state revenue fund; $1,342.58 for the county; $3,496.72 for city and village; $2,826.99 for the Elbow Lake school; $2,826.99 for school taxes; and $2,862.67 for interest and principal on state loans.

NOTICE OF MEET SERVED ON CITY OFFICIALS TUESDAY

City officials on Tuesday were served with notice that hearing in the suit started in federal court at Fergus Falls by the McKenzie-Hodge Lumber company to enjoin the contract for the hydro electric plant here, will be held April 2.

The suit is for $117,542.93 for extra work done by the company has in the construction of the dam. The company alleges that it was awarded the contract for the construction of the dam, and when the work got under way found that there was a bed-rock of the river was of such a nature that considerable additional work was required.

It is claimed that city officials have refused to pay for the extra work and do the additional work, but that the city now refuses to pay, more than the contract price.

The City of Thief River Falls is given 20 days in which to file its answer. The matter will be discussed by the attorney at the April meeting and an answer filed within the time limit. It will be recalled that the bill was presented to the council some time ago and that the payment in full was not satisfied, this action being taken on the advice of City Attorney Ryan.

Classified Ad in Times Sold Ten Acre Tract

The power of Times' classified advertising because so pronounced this week that H. E. Hubbard was induced to repeat his venture of a week ago, at which time he offered ten acres of land for sale on reasonable price.

The ad ran but one time and brought prompt inquiry. The result was that on Tuesday Mr. Hubbard and the city now refuseneds...pay, more than the contract price.

The City of Thief River Falls is given 20 days in which to file its answer. The matter will be discussed by the attorney at the April meeting and an answer filed within the time limit. It will be recalled that the bill was presented to the council some time ago and that the payment in full was not satisfied, this action being taken on the advice of City Attorney Ryan.

State Auxiliary Head Well Received While Visiting Auxiliaries

Mrs. J. M. Bisbey, state president of the American Legion Auxiliary, spent the weekend in this city, following visits to Greenbush and Badger Thursday and Friday. Here at Crookston, where she also gave an address.

The meeting at Greenbush was in the nature of a Mothers' and Daughters' program, attended by 125 mothers and their daughters. Mrs. Bisbey spoke on the spiritual duties of the mother in the home and the care of the daughter. Her remarks elicited the following: in the Greenbush Tribune of last week: "This community can well feel proud of having had an opportunity of hearing Mrs. Bisbey and hope that it will have a chance to hear her again.

"With a sense of ordinary much better than the average man speaker, Mrs. Bisbey of Thief River Falls addressed a public gathering in the school house last night," says the Plaudette Reglon. "Mrs. Bisbey is an orator of exceptional ability," says the paper, "and the audience was impressed so favorably that remarks overred the recent trip to Paris, the speaker being introduced by Mrs. John Gjelbreng, who is quite well known to Thief River people.

The home of Mrs. Wm. Watts at Crookston was thrown open to a reception Monday evening of this week, when Auxiliary members of that city called to greet their state president, who spoke briefly to those present.

The program of the American Legion and the Auxiliary this year," said Mrs. Bisbey, "is peace. Not an unintelligent, unprepared peace, but a peace that will be established and kept over the world because it makes for an economic equilibrium. Friendly, however, the work of the Auxiliary is rehabilitation. Rehabilitation of children because it is the work in the state and the requirements for the care of the 1,500 hospitalized men in Minnesota, including the mentally disabled at St. Cloud.

Increased Enrollment in High and Graded Schools, Rural Schools Decreasing

Enrollment increased in the high and graded schools in Minnesota from 361,559 in 1926 to 362,070 in 1927, while rural schools reported a decrease from 182,202 to 180,260 in 1927. There were five fewer rural schools in 1927 when the total was 7,837 compared with 7,842 in 1926, according to the Minnesota Teachers' Federation made public by James M. McConnell, commissioner of education, revealed. High and graded schools in the centers of population generally increased in numbers, it is added.

The above comparison compares generally with that of Thief River Falls and Pennington county, there having been a slight increase in the public schools of the city and a corresponding decrease in the rural schools in attendance. There was no change in the number of schools conducted here, however.

The report shows that there are 226 four-year high schools in the state, 197 high school departments, 60 junior high schools, and 1,271 graded elementary schools which jointly expended $52,553,778 for their 1927 maintenance. The 1926 cost was $52,126,647. The same three-year high school maintenance dropped slightly, from $10,107,327 to $10,057,773 in 1927.

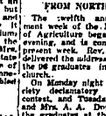
Costs of bonds and new buildings declined by the same three-year period for schools. High and graded schools paid $15,134,294 for purposes in 1926 and $9,231,955 in 1927, while rural schools paid $1,431,172 in 1926 and $1,265,616 in 1927.

LARGE CLASS GRADUATES FROM NORTHWEST SCHOOL

The twelfth annual commencement week of the Northwest School of Agriculture began last Sunday evening, and is continuing thru the present week. Dr. Thos. Shaw delivered the address Sunday night to the 96 graduates in the Methodist church.

On Monday night was the Intersociety declamatory and oratorical contest, and Tuesday evening Supt. and Mrs. Arthur A. Dowell entertained the graduates at their home at the school. Wednesday night found Lansing the musical department presented various groups and students in a recital.

Today the school was in session till noon, commencement exercises for themselves how the school is conducted. Commencement will take place at eight o'clock this evening.



NINE THRTINS OF WHIPPINGS SAID TO BE UNNECESARY

Here is a story which the boys and girls can read out loud to their family gathers around the fire tonight.

Nine-tenths of the whippings which parents give children are unnecessary, and only one-tenth of them cause this is usually the wrong way to deal with the children.

Now, this is not mere guess work. It is the settled opinion of experts in this matter of bringing up children. Authorities in child study who are preparing for the Conference on Home Building and Home Ownership, to be held in Washington, D. C., from November 19 to 22, say that parents continually are making this error.

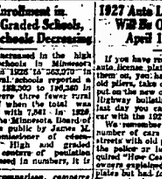
1927 Auto License Tags Will Be Out of Date on April 1, Babcock States

If you have received your new 1928 auto license plates, but have not put them on, you had better get out the old plates and take off the old plates and put on the new ones, augments a State Highway bulletin. March 31 is the last day you can legally drive your car with the 1927 plates.

We remember that last year a number of cars were seen on the streets with old plates in April. When the police department questioned, inquired "How Come?" most of the car owners pleaded that they had their plates but had forgot to put them on. Some who have their new plates in the pantry shelf are just making more work for the law enforcement officers and making it easier for them who are trying to drive without buying new license plates.



The Secretary of State will have the February accumulation of applications cleared up by the middle of March, so that's a machine-with old plates indicates one of two things, you failure to pay for a new license, or failure to attach the new tags. If you have your new plates, it may save you a fine if you put them on before you forget it.

PAYMENTS ON SEED OATS SHOULD BE MADE AT ONCE

The carload of seed oats ordered by the farm bureau has been received and should be here within a few days. All those who left their names with the Farm Bureau will be notified and some of this carload should call at the office and make their initial payment of one fourth of the cost, for there will not be enough of this seed to supply the demand.

The oats will cost 50 cents a bushel on the track here. They will be cleaned and sacked 127 pounds to the bushel. Those who left their names ordered—about 1,500 bushels of Swedish Select and about 500 bushels of Victory.

Can you afford to say—
"Send me a Pound of Coffee"

IT'S easy to say—"Send me a pound of coffee." And; unfortunately, it's just as easy to be disappointed when you get it. For coffee after all is not just coffee. It is either good coffee, bad coffee or indifferent coffee. When you say: "Send me a can of Nash's Delicious Coffee," you are certain of receiving a blend of the world's finest coffees, roasted with that exactness which assures a constantly delicious flavor.

TWO MEN WEEK GIVEN FINES BY JUDGE TARRANT IN COURT

Otis Jordahl was brought into municipal court Tuesday by Sheriff Ole Helle on a charge of driving an automobile after dark without lights, pleading guilty to the charge he was fined $10 and costs.

Ed. Road in Hackberry township on Monday night about ten o'clock. On pleading guilty to the charge he was fined $10 and costs.

John Bauer was also in court the same morning, and was given a $10 fine on his plea of guilty to the charge of driving drunk early that morning, having been arrested by Night Patrolman Wm. Sikorski. Each fine was paid at the conclusion of the court's findings.

NORMAN COUNTY CONSIDERS AREA TEST FOR ITS CATTLE

Pet tions are being circulated in Norman county to be presented to the county commissioners asking for the area test of the cattle in the county, which was one of the first in the state to be on the accredited list as having no cows tuberculin affected.

Polk county a year ago went on record for the area test, and this will be considered there within the next few weeks, the state authorities being that far behind in the work.

Mrs. M. T. Wold Dies Unexpectedly Sunday

Mrs. Martin T. Wold of Minneapolis, for years a resident of this city, and well known in local people, died at her home in Minneapolis Sunday, following an apoplectic stroke six previous, from which she failed to regain consciousness. The remains were brought to this city for burial yesterday, funeral services being held from the Trinity Lutheran church yesterday afternoon, Rev. S. L. Talliakson officiating. Interment was made at Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Wold was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wentzien of Grand Forks, as well as P. J. Lund of this city, sang at the funeral services, and six friends of the family, A. A. Wagenstein, Knute Jorde, Andrew Jorde, Christian Rustad, Albert Olson and Jorgen Elsby, acted as pallbearers.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ulfers Wold was born at Norby, Westin, Jamtland Sweden, March 24, fifty six years ago. She came to this country at the age of 20 years, and settled first in Grand Forks at the latter place of which she was married in 1896 to Martin T. Wold. They remained at Grand Forks until 1904 when they moved to this city where they resided until two years ago, since which time they have lived in Minneapolis. Deceased is survived by three children, one a stenographer at this city, who is stenographer at the Soo Line depot, Lenora, Olive Delia, Joyce, Ivy, Ralph, Dewey, Earl and Walter, all of Minneapolis. The entire family was at the time of the funeral, as well as Mrs. Walter Wentzien and sister, Miss Mildred Ulfers of Grand Forks, Claus Wold, and Mr. and Mrs. Talmer Wold, of Erskine.

IT WITNESSES SUMMONED

THOM W. WINN, TO WINONA

F. F. Haynes of this city, V. M. Higginbothom of Red Lake Falls, and Lloyd Brewster of Bemidji, Polk and Roseau counties were summoned to Winona last week to testify in connection with the case of Caroline A. Hogan and 17 other plaintiffs against the Thom W. Winn Realty & Mortgage Co. of that city. When the case was called a motion for the dismissal was made and granted, and the witnesses from Northern Minnesota then returned home.

The cost of the dismissal probably will be borne by the plaintiff, as the defendants are entitled by statute to the costs of the attendance of the 17 witnesses from this section, which it is estimated will be about $900.

EIGHT BOUND OVER TO POLK DISTRICT COURT

The eight farmers of Gentilly arrested a week ago following raids on their homes by the sheriff and county and charged with violations of the liquor laws, were examined when arraigned in municipal court at Crookston. They were bound over to the June term of the district court, bonds being fixed at $750 in each case.

ARNESON BOOSTS ALFALFA IN LATEST PAPER VENTURE

J. S. Arneson, at one time publisher of the Thief River Falls Times, and also the mayor of this city, is now editor and publisher of the Hillwater Post-Messenger, having recently effected the consolidation of these two publications, thereby giving that community only one weekly.

It was during his regime here that the phrase "Pennington County, the Home of Alfalfa" was coined, and to-day Mr. Arne on it still a booster of alfalfa, for in the last issue of The Post-Messenger is the following:

If The Post-Messenger were to name one thing which would add more to the appearance and wealth of Lien Iron Saturday, purchasing the Lien Iron Saturday, purchasing some Shorthorn calves.

ENROLL FOR CLUB WORK

County Agent Rob Douglas is busy these days forming boys' and girls' clubs of various kinds. This is a piece of work that deserves the co-operation of all of us. Like any other form of education, the value of the training which the boys and girls get out of these clubs depends to a large extent on how much effort and enthusiasm the boy or girl puts into the project. These clubs, like other schools, provide an opportunity for learning. The knowledge and the experience which they acquire through these clubs certainly is practical.

PHYSICAL TRAINING vs. ATHLETICS

Judge Fred G. Hale of Columbus, Ohio, delivered three excellent addresses in this city last Friday, discussing various phases of the "younger generation" problem. The judge has unusual ability as a speaker and his experience as a prosecutor in juvenile court enables him to present views of this subject which ordinary contact with boys and girls does not always develop.

Among other ideas which might be applied to a community of this kind, his opinion of school athletics was interesting. While he agreed that the present system of athletics in high schools and colleges had many good features, he questioned the value of the present system as physical training for the reason that to a large extent only the physically fit can qualify for the competition, while those who really need physical training must take their exercises on the sidelines. It is his opinion that athletics and physical education should be so combined and presented that those who are in need of special physical training will receive the greatest attention.

Along this same line it is interesting to note that General John Pershing has requested his son, who is a student at Yale, to give up rowing, for the reason that his physique is not strong enough to withstand the grind which it would be subjected to in the races. This attitude on the part of such a man as General Pershing brought forth the following editorial comment in the Chicago Journal of Commerce.

"There are boys who can exert themselves to their physical limit without, apparently, any bad results. There are others whose hearts are weakened by it. The excitement and desire to win at any cost have laid scores of fine young athletes low. The training of muscles up and up to the last ounce of power they can produce is a doubtful undertaking. Vigorous exercise in games is a fine thing for youth—provided it does not go too far. But in any contest "going the limit" is not a good thing, even for youth.

"The most enlightened theory of exercise for men of all ages is, we believe, that it should continue only so long as it is pleasurable. The old idea that a man in middle life should build his muscular strength to athletic standing has been abandoned. Just enough exercise to conserve bodily strength to the point where it is sufficient for good digestion and general health, is the wise rule. A man should never strain his physical strength to the utmost except in a vital emergency.

"When a student at any one athletics ceases having regular exercises he must keep them up to the end of his life or consider deterioration sure to set in. Exercise not in moderation is the rule for a long and full life."

BUTTING A PRESIDENT

The problem of electing a president is receiving considerable attention locally, and, while there isn't much difference of opinion as to who ought to be elected, there is a big difference of opinion as to who will be elected. It is safe to say that the majority of the people in this territory look to Frank Lowden of Illinois as the most capable statesman in the agricultural regions of the country. It is also safe to say that few of that majority which favors Lowden feel that he has much of a chance of being elected. Most political observers seem to agree that, according to the present outlook, neither Hoover nor Lowden are the two outstanding candidates, have even fair prospects of securing the Republican nomination. In other words the hope points to a deadlock that will mean a compromise candidate, one who is more favorable to industry than Lowden and more favorable to agriculture than Hoover.

And in looking over these two men might measure up to this description, vice president Charles Dawes stands out prominently in the picture. Dawes, if nominated, should make a strong candidate, and, if elected, should make a good president. From the standpoint of the central west he should be very satisfactory. Like Lowden his home is in Illinois. He has been outspoken in favor of farm relief legislation, disagreeing on this subject with that administration of which he is a part. As an executive he has demonstrated great ability in a number of fields and on several occasions has indicated that he is not averse to doing his own thinking. It is our opinion that if Charles Dawes were elected president he would be president in fact as well as in name and Andy Mellon would only be the secretary of the treasury, and that, after all, is the big issue.

HAPPINESS IS ELUSIVE

(William Feather)

How elusive is happiness!

I have known many who have tried to trap happiness by quitting useful work in order that they might have more leisure to enjoy beauty.

They suspect they have missed the beautiful things of life because they have been busy. Nonsense!

The loftiest thoughts, the sweetest sentiments, the opulent humor flows out of the day's work. European art galleries, literary classics and professional fame must do not afford the spontaneous wit and beauty that are created in workshop, office, and cottage.

The weary, dissatisfied, and restless people are not the workers, but those idle individuals that one meets on ships and in capital cities and in resorts.

They are trying to buy happiness and beauty by the gross, unmindful that laughter, gayety and good fellowship flourish best where men and women are doing good work and are interested in their work.

THE VIEW OF AN ENGINEER

Nearly every issue of any metropolitan newspaper tells a story of death at a railroad crossing. When we read these stories we naturally vision the scene of the accident from the standpoint of the passengers of the automobile who are killed or crippled. We are apt to look upon the train itself as an impersonal thing of steel which is to be feared—a heartless giant—a grim instrument of death which quite merrily grinds out any form of life that disputes its right-of-way. Any narrow escape from this reaper of the rails we are apt to applaud as a victory of virtue.

That we see only a part of the picture was impressed upon us this week by an article published in the February issue of the Locomotive Engineers Journal in which the viewpoint of a locomotive engineer on crossing accidents is very forcibly presented. The fact that in the year 1926 fifty-nine engineers were killed in derailments caused by automobile collisions is sufficient reason in itself for the dread which the author states lurks with every engineer, and causes him to look upon the automobile with much the same apprehension as the motorist looks upon his engine. The dread of injuring others is also a cause of gray hairs on the engineer, often being more of a reason for fear than worry of personal dangers. The carelessness of automobile drivers, says this writer, is fast destroying the nerves of all our engineers, who, in the discharge of their duties are forced to sit in their cabs and helplessly watch the locomotive plow into an automobile loaded with men, women and children. He says further:

"Those of you who have never had the opportunity of riding in a locomotive cab cannot have the slightest conception of the high tension of an engineer's nerves. Nearly every paper you pick up you see where the life of some human being has been crushed out.

"The same or reckless motorist who gets himself killed at a crossing and exposes the train to the hazard of a costly and terrible wreck is murdering the lives and welfare of his crew-mates.

"The man who runs through a crossing gate, ignores warning signals, disregards flagmen and violates all the rules for protecting his own safety, the safety of others and the train itself, is not a good citizen.

"The motorists who race with trains, and try to beat them over crossings, should know that our 31 autos type engines are guaranteed to run 90 miles per hour, if we were allowed to step on them.

"We all get together and respect the train's right-of-way to proceed without hindrance. Let's stop and think about the rights of others and by hearty cooperation make all railway crossings safe for everybody. We do not want to kill people at crossings—it is not a pleasant thought to have with you every minute you are on your run.

In conclusion the article urges several remedies, chief of which is a plea for the enactment of laws prescribing certain qualifications which should be required of all automobile drivers. He urges also that all of us

"—talk safety when we have a chance. Down in our hearts we don't want to see or hear of any human being hurt or killed; if by giving a single word of caution we can be the means of saving human lives and checking this nervous dread that lurks with every engineer—then let us raise our voices in warning. Do some personal work among your friends—be careful, don't rush or race."

NEED TO BE CAUTIOUS

(Bemidji Sentinel)

The Bemidji Sentinel is suggesting the need for careful consideration before complete endorsement is given the proposed twenty million dollar bond issue for road work falls similar to the dark situation in this section by saying:

Some northern Minnesota counties face bankruptcy because they issued millions of dollars worth of bonds some years ago to dig ditches and drain lands. This enormous debt was loaded onto the people of those counties because of the belief that increased benefits would more than pay for increased costs in interest and principle of the bonds.

There was plenty of propaganda some years back to prove that drainage ditches were to be the royal route to prosperity—where the Minnesotan farmer could get to easy and prosperity. Instead it has been a bitter experience. In many an instance, but million dollar debts have become the trenches marking the graves of ex-man's land—made uninhabitable because of high taxes and assessment.

THERE ARE TWO SEAS

(Bruce Barton in McCall's Magazine)

There are two seas in Palestine.

One is fresh and blue and full of fish and birds. Splashes of green where it flashes. Trees spread their branches over it, and stretch out their thirsty roots to sip of its brimming waters.

Along its shores the children play, as children play on any bit of water that's there. He loved it. He could trace its silver surfaces when He spoke His parables. And on a rolling plain not far away He fed five thousand people.

The river Jordan makes this sea with sparkling water from the hills. So it laughs in the sunshine. And men build their houses near to it, and birds their nests, and every kind of life is happy because it is there.

The river Jordan flows on south into another sea.

Here is no splash of fish, no fluttering leaf, no song of birds, no children's laughter. Travellers choose another route, unless on urgent business. The air hangs heavy above its waters, and neither man nor beast nor fowl will drink.

Not the river Jordan. It empties the same good water into both. Not the land in which they lie; not the country round about.

This is the difference. The Sea of Galilee receives but does not keep the Jordan. For every drop that flows into it another drop flows out. The giving and receiving are in equal measure.

The other sea is shrewder, hoarding its income jealously.

It will not be tempted into any generous impulse. Every drop that comes to it stays there.

The Sea of Galilee grows and lives. This other sea rots and stinks. It is named The Dead.

There are two kinds of people in the world. There are two seas in Palestine.

SHALL THE TAIL WAG THE DOG?

(Detroit Record)

There will be a general feeling of satisfaction throughout the state over the announcement that the "Big Three"—the board of administration and Governor—are to accept the decision of Judge Hanft, of the Ramsey district court, in order to determine the status of authority under the re-organization plan. This will perhaps clearly define the status of the state university's board of regents for the first time in the history of the state. There is no desire upon the part of any intelligent citizen to unduly hamper the state's educational institutions, but there is clearly expressed determination not to let those in control of the university run "hog-wild" in the matter of expending funds which come almost wholly from the pockets of the taxpayers. So we shall all feel relieved when the limitations of both the Big Three and the Board of Regents are legally defined and each can proceed to function within their proper sphere. The long haul to this complex situation existed—to be argued and disputed at every session of the legislature. Let's find out whether the dog controls the tail or the tail wags the dog!

All of the people can't be fooled all of the time but most of the people can be fooled enough of the time to make politics a nasty mess. The reverberations of the coming political storm are now reverberating.

FROM THE CELLAR WINDOW

A new-fangled refrigerator, which apparently conveys heat into cold is being exhibited at the Auto Show. Neither ice nor electric current is necessary to make this thing work. All you have to do to freeze squares of ice in the middle of July is heat one end of a metal contraption on the stove and hold the other end in cold water at the same time. Then put the cold end inside the box and the hot end outside the box and presto the temperature inside the box hits the zero mark. We were explaining this thing to John Havel, the cooperator, last night and somehow he didn't get enthused about it. He admitted it would be a handy thing to have next August all right, but he figured a more practical device for this country would be some kind of a maple tube that you could freeze on one end and heat on the other end. He said that if they can feed off the inside by heating the outside they ought to be able to heat up the inside by cooling off the outside, and John figures he'll have no trouble getting the outside cool. He says he'll buy one of the first things if they'll reverse the process.

A year as we can figure out all that's necessary to make three of the passionate marriages successful is to attain only a degree of the passionate children. If temporary marriages remain the means of propagating the world wouldn't have any serious objection to such foolishness.

A friend of ours pointed out to us the other day that practically all highway engineers are in favor of the twenty-million dollar bond issue. He figured that this ought to prove to us beyond question that we are all wet on the subject, cause certainly these highway engineers should know what they're talking about. Maybe he's right. Maybe we are all wet. But somehow or other when anybody tells us that the more we spend the more we'll save we just naturally get suspicious that maybe their personal desire is getting away with their professional good sense. We don't hate ditches. For being in favor of digging ditches and we don't hate highway engineers for being in favor of building highways and we don't hate cement manufacturers for being in favor of concrete. We, as printers, can see much virtue in bigger and better printing jobs. But there are two sides to the question, even on printing, also.

Some of this stuff that is being broadcast in favor of the bond issue is positively nauseating. The last highway department bulletin contained a copy of an editorial credited to the Wabasha Herald in which the bond issue was urged because "a shortage of gasoline is almost inevitable during the next decade" and that we should build better roads in a hurry so that the gasoline supply will last longer. How is that for logic? Build better roads in a hurry so because in a few years we may not need any roads. Woof.

And another thing.

If any more of our political friends come out with statements to the effect that we have got to develop the exploitation of our natural resources we're going to get violent. It's always popular to be opposed to "exploitation" and this rumpus between Backus and the Issue Walter League about water power on the Canadian border has been a signal for all the politicians to cry out to the "dear people" that they are again "exploited."

What Northern Minnesota wants to know is not so much where, as whether or not it is just to exploit the public resources. Northern Minnesota is not to blow whistles at the thing that Backus proposes to do on the north border is "exploitation" or "development." If it is exploitation then we don't want it. If it is development then we do want it.

In all probability it is a little bit of each, but it looks like a considerable of good wrapped up in it and also considerable of evil. The thing to do is to weigh the results carefully. If the good outweighs the bad then we want the project. If the bad outweighs the good then we don't want it. But the thing we need badly right now is more facts and less opinion.

Gustafson's staged a real show last night. The very crowd that came to see it was an indication of its popularity. It is encouraging to know that we are still a few people interested in farm machinery.

ELECTION RETURNS ARE RECEIVED FROM VILLAGES, TOWNS

Former Officials Re-elected in Many Cases; Money Voted for Various Funds

Returns of the town elections have been coming in all week to County Auditor T. P. Anderson, nearly all of them indicating re-election of former town officials and the voting of funds for revenue and road and bridges in amounts practically the same as in past elections. The reports received since last week follow:

St. Hilaire Village

President of council, A. Sattersberg; councilman for three years, P. Simonsen; for one year, A. Odegaard; clerk, M. Fridley; treasurer, F. O. Dudley; assessor, Jas. A. Dahl; justice for two years, Ira Mabie; constable for two years, A. Sattersberg.

Polk County

Supervisor for one year, Henry Hallstrom; for two years, Alex Mohr; clerk, C. E. Napier; treasurer, John Naplin; assessor, Grant Naplin. The sum of $200 was voted for the poor fund, and a similar amount for roads and bridges.

Smiley

Supervisor, H. H. Hammer and J. D. Tumwall; clerk, J. M. Unger; treasurer, L. O. Nesseth; justice, Tobias Olson. The revenue fund was voted $200, while $1,000 will be levied for roads and bridges.

Hickory

Supervisor, Ole J. Odlum; clerk, H. Hammer; treasurer, H. T. Hanson; justice, Thos. Tasa; constables, Jas. A. Dahl and Arthur Arvesen. The revenue fund was given $500, with $1,200 being voted for the road and bridge fund.

Sanders

Supervisor, Alfred Olson; clerk, T. O. Malandi; assessor, Carl H. Anderson; treasurer, K. Swanson; justice, Henry Ilun; constable, Fred E. Rue. Two hundred dollars will be levied for the revenue fund, $1,000 for the road and bridge fund, $400 for the poor funds, and $50 for the fire fund.

River Falls

Supervisor, E. E. Sandberg; clerk, C. A. Swanson; treasurer, Anton T. Anderson; justice, J. W. Denhart; constable, Frank Dahlman. The revenue fund will have $200 this next year and the road and bridge fund $1,000.

Wyandotte

Supervisor, H. L. Bridgeman; clerk; H. I. Flotstad; treasurer, John S. Pelland; justice, I. A. Belstad; constable, Nels Hanson. Levies this coming year include $250 for revenue, $1,800 for roads and bridges, and $50 for the poor.

Incomplete returns last week did not state the levies in the following: Highlandair, $250 for revenue, $500 for road and bridges, and $400 for the poor.

Spring's Arrival Tuesday Emphasized by Flocks of Birds and Warm Weather

Wednesday was the warmest day so far this year, the thermometers registering to 64 above in the shade, emphasizing the fact that spring has arrived. The temperature during Tuesday night was only one degree under freezing point, according to the report of Weather Observer L. M. Hall.

Numerous reports of crows, blackbirds, robins and other spring birds have been received at the office of The Times during the past week, while the snow had let how disappeared very rapidly during the past two days especially, the ground being practically bare in places where the sunshine could reach it.

The rapidity with which the snow melted Tuesday and Wednesday caused much inconvenience to pedestrians, and the street department had several extra men at work clearing the gutters and draining water from low places where the sewer catch basins were frozen up, obstructing the natural flow of surface water. However, the bad places had all been given first aid and the water had received in nearly every section of town.

There was a range of 67 degrees between the lowest reading of the official thermometer last Friday morning, and the highest yesterday, a minimum of nine below having been recorded on March 16, with 58 above on March 21. Thursday and Friday mornings were the only mornings with below zero temperatures, the official readings for the week being:

March 15	28	-9
" 16	32	-9
" 17	30	3
" 18	41	3
" 19	49	22
" 20	49	22

SEVERAL IMMUNE POISONED DURING PAST FEW DAYS

Several instances of dogs being poisoned have been reported to The Times during the past week, especially on the east side, and in nearly every case the owners have felt the loss keenly, some of the canines being valuable animals.

Each year there are similar cases reported, but the authorities have been unable to locate the party or parties placing the poison. The general belief is that the poison is primarily for rats, but unless great care is exercised some dog gets the dow.

LOWDEN GIVEN ENDORSEMENT ON SATURDAY

He affirmed also the program of economy and reduction in tax burdens as advocated and practiced by President Coolidge and Governor Christianson; also the activities of Congressman Selvig in his efforts to secure legislation beneficial to the farmers of the Northwest.

A strict and impartial enforcement of the constitution and laws of the country was recommended, declaring the fact that the executive of some of the states had seen fit to ignore certain provisions of the constitution and laws, refusing to comply with them.

Recognizing that agriculture is one of the basic industries of the country, and that it is essential for the general welfare of all citizens that the agricultural industries be encouraged in every possible way, the convention favored speedy enactment by congress of such legislation as will place the farming industry on an equal basis with other industries, the McNary bill being cited as such legislation. A strict conservation of the natural resources was also recommended.

County Organization

F. F. Haynes was elected as permanent county chairman, Miss Effie Hamry as county chairwoman, C. O. Barker of St. Hilaire as secretary and A. B. Stark of Goodridge as treasurer. These four officers were then appointed to appoint the township chairmen and chairwomen thereby completing the county organization.

Delegates named to the county convention last Saturday include Henry Hallstrom, Black River, H. J. St. Germain, Keerker; Cleveland, Gus Anderson; Goodridge, Anton Johnson; Highland-Deer Park, Ed. Singer; Hickory; Seattke, L. O. Kongelf; Mayfield, Wm. Wilder; North, Jorgen Eide and Victor Stien; Nielsen, Fred Dale; Numedal, George Dale; Rocksbury, Peter Engelstad and O. B. Gender; River Falls, Ole Odegaard; Reiner, Mrs. Frank Reier; Sanders, C. H. Swenson; Smiley, Christ Larson; Silverton, Peter Jerger; Star, C. J. Ekwall; Wyandotte, Anton Peterson; St. Hilaire, Mrs. Knute Odegaard and Peter Berg; Goodridge Village, A. B. Mandt; Thief River Falls, first ward, Bernard Knudsen, Theo. Quale, Dr. H. W. Froehlich, Mrs. Oscar Smith, O. G. Erickson, Mrs. E. J. Richards and Mrs. J. H. Hardisty; second ward, Alfred Brockman, Scott Laird, Chas. Gustafson, F. F. Haynes and Mrs. Gaston Ward; third ward, Mrs. Andrew Bottelson, Miss Effie Hamry, Nat Harris and H. A. Brunsud; fourth ward, Oscar Paulsen, H. S. Dahlen, Mrs. T. P. Anderson, B. O. Norby and E. M. Schutt.

ing them about ten days to join with the ones who have already signed up and who comprise over 90 percent of the farmer members.

Members from as far north as Roseau and Lancaster were present at the meeting, and were greatly encouraged at the prospects of reorganization. Among those present were some of the heaviest losers in the old organization, yet were willing to start all over again; there were also present some who, last year, would not had refused to sign the deferred payment blanks mentioned above, and who signified their willingness now to sign up.

The driven named at the Wednesday meeting in Thief River Falls are Stuart McLeod of Goodridge, A. G. Hertlund of Greenbush, Ellis Strahn of Roseau, E. I. Malberg of Viking, F. R. Swanson of Hillier, Mrs. Harry Woolson of Thief River Falls, Nels Engen of Mist, Otto Thompson of Newfolden, D. Bettie of Lancaster, George Gunn of Middle River and Chas. Herlein of Strathcona.

Inasmuch as the last eggs are those marketed in April and May the President Brandt advised the committee to formulate some definite plan of action without delay so that the Land O' Lakes patent may be assist in the marketing of these eggs. It was stated by the county convention last Saturday that in 1927 over 50,000 dozen eggs were marketed by the association, and stated, and he was in hope that this amount would be exceeded this spring.

Resolutions Adopted

The resolutions adopted by the convention commend the excellent record of Senator Shipstead, Congressman Wefald, State Senator Naplin, Representatives Day and Melby, thanking them for their efforts in behalf of progressive legislation. Voters of the county are also urged to give their active support to Knud Wefald in the coming campaign.

The convention further resolved by pledging themselves in favor of the State of Minnesota paying taxes in common with individual farmers on all farm lands acquired by it under the Rural Credits act. Governor Christianson was renamed for his action in opposing the measure, but he was condemned for his efforts to economize in state government.

Support of the proposed amendment No. 1 was endorsed, while opposition to the proposed bond issue was voiced, the convention going in favor of the "pay as you go" policy. The farmers-in-put campaign was also expressed for a continuance thereof. The efforts of the Republicans in congress to expose graft and corruption and to secure agricultural relief and other legislation for the people was endorsed.

Go to Sleep Three Times And It's Spring
That's what the travel ads promise, provided of course you can afford a ticket to the lands of painted fans and waving palms.
But if home ties can't be untied, and your bank account frowns gloomily on pleasure jaunting, why not take a stroll downtown. No matter how blustery it is out of doors you'll find Springtime in our Store. Jaunty first-of-the-season hats, suits and coats that have stolen a march on the robin in announcing Spring, gay dresses that will freshen up your viewpoint as well as your wardrobe.
Materially speaking new clothes are but cloth and thread, but in reality they are checks on the Bank of Youth. A new dress or hat isn't always an extravagance. Often it's the Spring tonic that we sadly need—a symbol of that joy of living that should be born anew in all of us when the "world's at Spring."

CERTIFIED POTATO SEED NOW SOUGHT FOR SPUD FARMERS

Important Meeting of Potato Growers Called for Next Week in This City

A meeting of the potato growers of Pennington county and vicinity will be held in the Commercial club rooms here on Thursday, March 29, at which time E. C. Rose, specialist with the agricultural extension service of the university, will be present and advise with those in the plan of raising potatoes this coming summer.

Unusual interest has been taken by growers of 12 counties in the potato schools conducted through the winter by Mr. Rose, and county agents, Most of the growers made a fair profit on last years crop, and Mr. Rose, who are planning acreage increases for this coming season. These meetings were held in each of the 12 counties for the discussion of improved cultural methods and means for fighting pests and diseases. Tours for the inspection and study of the growing crop will be conducted in each county by the extension service in the spring or summer.

Big Results

Meeting on a similar basis in Dakota county, farmers of the neighborhood took the first steps for a seed treating center and signed up for the Land O' Lakes patent to treat potatoes, or more than nine carloads, with the most formaldehyde process for the control of scab and blackleg in such cases. Much of the seed will be treated with silver nitrate, it was stated, because it is cheaper and is equally as good.

Mr. Rose predicted that 10,000 bushels of seed will be treated this year in Minnesota, and stated, and he was in hope that this amount would be exceeded this spring.

NEW BRIDGE AT ST. HILAIRE ON TRUNK HIGHWAY NO. 32

In addition to the federal and state aid projects under construction this year, Engineers of the state highway department have been surveying location of the St. Hilaire bridge and the construction of a new bridge over the big county ditch there.

It is proposed to place the new structure some distance east of the present one, making a straight road from the village limits to a point some distance beyond the present double curves. By widening the bridge and straightening the road many of the present dangers will be eliminated.

Several bad accidents have occurred at the bridge and on the turns at the approaches.

Ten Million Additional for Minnesota Roads if Browne Bill is Passed

Minnesota will receive $10,335,000 in addition to the federal aid appropriations made under other appropriation bills, if the Browne bill, endorsed by the Commercial club of this city last week, should become a law and receive the favorable support of Commissioner C. M. Babcock of the state highway department.

Representative Edward T. Browne of Wisconsin, author of the bill, says that the state receive its share of automobiles to date has amounted to $1,000,000 and that the government has as federal aid so far is $962,000,000, leaving a balance in favor of the government of $418,640,553, to the good roads fund. His bill approved by the Commercial club of this city provides that "every railroad system considers it cheaper to haul by road less than 50 miles, and that the highway system comprising the road beds and considers this a very good investment," said the representative in Washington recently. "Why is it not good business for the state to invest 100 per cent perfect, while the roads are more than 25 per cent imperfect. Roads have not kept pace with the rolling stock. The national government should have constructed the scientific road building started under the Roosevelt administration," he said, and the present federal participation in road building is 100 years overdue.

Uniform School Dress in State is Held Legal

Minnesota county boards have authority to prescribe uniform dresses for girls attending high school, it was held in a decision last week by Attorney General Clifford L. Hilton. Phillips, assistant attorney general, rendered the opinion, the state department of education and Albert W. Mueller, president of the New Ulm (Minn.) Normal school, who raised the question after the matter of uniform dress had been brought to the attention of the board of that city.

Mr. Phillips pointed to several precedents established by court in upholding the authority of boards to regulate student dress.

SCHOOL NURSE HERE TO MAKE SURVEY OF DISABLED IN CITY

State Educational Department Desirous of Assisting All Who Need Its Services

The division of rehabilitation of the Minnesota State Department of Education is making a survey of the number of permanently disabled people in the population in some selected cities in the state, of which Thief River Falls is one. Miss Gladys M. Blair, school nurse, has been appointed to take charge of the survey in this city which is to be completed before June 1.

The purpose of the survey is to give the division of rehabilitation an idea of the size of their task and also to furnish them with information concerning people who need their services.

The work of the division consists in giving vocational education to permanently disabled persons above sixteen years of age so that they can be trained into positions in which they can support themselves. People are considered as having permanent disability sufficient to be included in the survey if they come under any of the classifications listed below:

Qualifications of Disability

1. Deformed or amputated leg. Stiff knee.
2. Amputated toes or feet. Club foot.
3. Amputated arm. Stiff elbow.
4. Amputated hand or finger. Stiff wrist. Stiff fingers.
5. Paralysis, any "rachel, general or local condition (tremors).
6. Loss of one eye or more than 50 per cent loss of vision in both eyes.
7. Total loss of hearing or such impairment as the use of any mechanical device.
8. Hunchback, spinal curvature, bed-ridden case or any similar case which requires the use of cane, crutches, jacket or wheelchair.
9. Chronic or acute disease (heart, lungs, etc.) which prevents employment or limits employment.
10. Disfigurement which results in occupational loss.

The cases that will receive the special attention of the division of rehabilitation are those which are not now occupationally independent.

McINTOSH VOTES ONE MILL TAX FOR BAND PURPOSES

The voters of McIntosh at the village election last week by the vote of 319 to 209 decisively voted their approval of a one mill tax for a municipal band, the cost of which heretofore has been met by other ways.

At Ada the voters favoring the proposition numbered about five to one, the opposed thereto, the vote being 276 to 62.

Newspaper reports indicate that nine other places in the state voted on the same matter, the only one defeating the measure being Osakis.

ST. HILAIRE

Eskerville Friends

Mesdames E. Fenzen and T. Skatvold were joint hostesses at a party held at the home of the latter last Saturday evening. Five tables of bridge were played with high honors won by E. Sebergaard. Those who were present were: Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Burfeen, Mr. and Mrs. O. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Myles Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. V. Brink, E. Sebergaard, L. Peterson, Misses Bertha Thompson, Bessie Brandt, Lilly Johnson, Florence Hanson, Dorothy Olson and Alice Erickson.

Mrs. Highland Hostess

Mrs. M. Highland was hostess at a party at her home Thursday afternoon entertaining eight little girls, the occasion being the eighth birthday of her daughter, Carmen. Games and contests were played and luncheon was served at five o'clock. Those present were: Eleanor Johnson, Hazel and Florence Buff, Ethel Carpenter, Doris and Hazel Haugland, Mary Ellen and Lois Carpenter. Miss Alice Fricker was also a guest at the party.

Village Election

The annual village election held Tuesday proved to be rather quiet, only half the usual number of votes cast being polled. Several of the offices were not filled for so a last minute effort was made to get some, which caused a little excitement.

The results of the election will be found elsewhere with other election reports in The Times.

Now the famous John Deere Tractor Offers You
STILL GREATER VALUE

More Power - Longer Life - Lower Operating Costs

When the John Deere Tractor was first put on the market it immediately met with the approval of farmers. Its great power combined with light weight; its extreme simplicity; its ease of handling; its low operating expense; its low maintenance costs—all those advantages made it more than a successful farm tractor—it was a real sensation.

And, now, with additional improvements, the John Deere Tractor offers you still greater value. Improvements that mean greater power without sacrificing its light weight . . . added savings in its already low fuel costs . . . even fewer parts . . . greater strength—these make the John Deere the ideal power plant for the farm. It offers you still better service and longer life at low maintenance costs.

Increased Power

The power of the 1928 John Deere has been increased more than 25%. It gives you from 3 to 6 H. P. more than the older model. This improved tractor will pull three-14" stubble bottoms under difficult conditions and four under many conditions. It will handle a 18" separator successfully, and other machinery requiring power in proportion.

Note These Improvements

The John Deere gets its still greater power through a larger bore and a new carburetor which also supplies smoother operation at all speeds and loads and decreases fuel consumption.

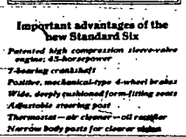
Its well known strength and durability have been increased by the use of heat treated and carbonized forged gears, a heavier crankshaft, heat treated rear axles and other changes, which now contains 20 instead of 13 spokes.

Wider fenders give added protection to the operator. Longer lugs built of improved material last longer and give the drive wheels a more powerful grip on the soil.

An auxiliary inertia air cleaner has been added which removes 60 per cent of the dust and dirt before the air reaches the oil type of air filter, that air gets a double cleaning before it enters the cylinders.

The John Deere Tractor, already famous for its low repair costs and long life, now will give even better and longer service at lower maintenance costs.

See This Money-Maker Before You Buy



Come in to-day and see the 1928 John Deere at our store. It is the great advantage to know all about this new endeavor before you buy. Let us prove to you the remarkable performance of this great tractor on your farm by a demonstration.

WE BELIEVE

That there are two kinds of people in this world—those who are always adding, ready to do nothing, and those who go ahead and do it.

It's doing your job the best you can and being just to your fellow man; it's making money, but holding friends, and staying true to your aims and ends;

It's serving, striving through strain and stress;

It's doing your noblest—that's Success.

People are classed either as successful or unsuccessful. Those doing their work thoroughly and with high aims are among the former, and those who have fallen into destruction through unlawful chances and through inability to raise themselves into a higher plane are among the latter.

We say men and women are successful if they have managed to gather enough sums of money into self-sufficiency or self-earning. But they always play the game square and hold sacred to duty and honor. A defeat with a cheerful grin and struggle on with a will to win. Are they generous, always striving to make this a better world? If these traits are not upheld, even though in the estimation of the world, our judgment is untrue and these people are receiving more than their share of false values.

Real Times Want Ads for Bargains

CONCENTRATION

Why is it, that in speaking of success, the important factor in bringing success about, concentration is so often forgotten or otherwise omitted. Nothing can be done, and done well, unless this mental state is present. One must place together his materials necessary for work, and after assembling them, which spreads the finished product, will be a success.

Macalaster College Field Secretary Visits Lincoln

Professor Robert E. Wallace, field secretary for Macalester college, was a guest of Lincoln High school on Wednesday. Wallace arrived in the morning and spoke to individual Seniors who are planning on further education, concerning them in Macalester.

Professor Wallace graduated from Macalester with his B. A. degree, after working his way through one of the larger colleges to earn his master's degree. After serving for four years as business agent for the college, he has returned as field secretary, an office on with a will to win? Are they free especially to his liking. Meet always striving to make this a better ester boasts a fine new dormitory and year, inclusive of tuition, board and room, and outside aid in athletics and literary work.

Motorists Are Praising Iso-Vis!

Iso-Vis is used and praised everywhere in the ten states of the Middle West.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has received thousands of letters from all parts of its territory—written in enthusiastic appreciation. Voluntarily have taken the trouble to tell of their personal experiences with Iso-Vis. Here are a few quotations selected at random:

I am pleased to tell you of the success I have had with Iso-Vis Heavy in my Oakland Sedan. I am traveling on the road with a Dry Goods Concern out of St. Louis, Mo., and do considerable hard driving. I run my car 2000 miles on one filling of Iso-Vis, adding but three quarts in the time. When the oil was drained it had a wonderful body and color left. —Thos. E. Barry, 310 West Ave., Clayton, Mo.

I wish to express my appreciation of the Standard Oil Company's latest achievement in lubrication—Iso-Vis. I am now able to drive my Ford Coupe around 1500 miles without changing oil. And I am obtaining the most wonderful results of any motor oil I have ever used. —J. S. Bernens, South Bend, Ind.

I purchased a five gallon can of Iso-Vis and have continued to use it ever since. Am more than pleased with the results. It seems to give life to the motor and it also appears to run smoother. I change the oil every 1500 miles and the oil drained seems to have sufficient body for an additional 500 miles. In my judgment Iso-Vis is the best oil on the market. —Leo Deerwister, 918 Cherry St., Mt. Carmel, Ill.

Maybe you've wondered how a new motor oil could become famous so fast. There are plenty of reasons for the popularity of Iso-Vis! Ask any motorist who has used it! It's such a remarkable oil and it gives such remarkable results that people want to talk about it—tell their friends what extraordinary service it has given them.

Iso-Vis has aroused widespread enthusiasm because it is the first motor oil to give constant lubricating efficiency—to keep a uniform and proper body throughout its service.

Iso-Vis is the constant viscosity motor oil—and if you'll try it once you'll learn just how much that means.

JUDGE F. C. BALE BRINGS MESSAGE OF HAVE AN AIM

Famous Lecturer Fashions Student Body With Stirring Words On Life

Judge Bale gave a speech of intrinsic worth to the high school assembly last Friday, March 16.

The main theme running through his talk was "Have an aim in life."

As an introduction to his speech of the so-called "dancing youth" Judge Bale sketched brief descriptive explanations centering around the Juvenile Court, of which he is a Judge. Although interrupted twice by grade students, the Judge's good nature overruled all else and he sincerely told them he was glad to have them, proving that he meant his previous statement: "No boy or girl is bad."

The reason and ways to attain a definite purpose were clearly brought out by the tabulation of the speaker, who maintained that:

1. Young people should have an aim.

2. Young people should concentrate on that aim, "Shoot with the rifle of concentration, not with the shotgun of scatteration," Judge Bale said.

3. Young people, both girls and boys, should know the value of good health in this world of keen competition.

Importance of spending leisure time wisely was next brought out, after which the clause "Have a hero" was enlarged upon by Judge, who pointed out the fact that the greatest heroes stand out as do noble mountains among their fellows, and do everything for humanity. Emerson's famous words, "Dear is a white scar to every soul forgets himself into immortality," were quoted.

In closing, Judge Bale mentioned the possibilities he sees for this attended body ten or fifteen years from now. "I covet, for everyone of you a real masterful life, full of achievement and it is possible to attain it," he said.

Washington Still In Lead; Crookston Eighth Here Fri.

As a result of the game played last Friday between the Washington and Knox teams, the Washington School remains undisputed champion of the grade school league, by scoring its fourth victory with no defeats by the score 8-4. This is the fourth consecutive year that the Washington school has won the championship of the city in the class, evidently indicating that the southern end of Thief River Falls has some pretty good basketball material. As a reward for winning the championship, the Washington team will be awarded a trophy paid for from the receipts at the games. The Knox and Northrup schools are tied with one victory and three defeats each.

The Junior High tournament, which was scheduled to have ended last Friday, will have to be carried on because of a tie between the seventh and eighth grades of the Central for the championship. The seventh grades went into the game with a clean slate having won three games and lost none. The eighth graders made up for their previous defeat by holding the younger boys to the three free throws, while they chalked up eight points to the tanks. Another game will be played to decide the championship and then the winner of this game and the Washington team will play for the city championship.

It is possible that a return game may be played with the Crookston Junior High here Friday in the high school gymnasium. The local eighth grade outplayed them two weeks ago while the seventh was defeated. Both teams are going to do their best to win these games and establish the supremacy of Thief River Falls over Crookston as a result.

TO MISS McMILLAN

We present the second work of our literary artist(?) Improving the popular jazz music to the faculty. This time "Dr" Catherine Homona MacMillan, youthful instructor of, History in the school, whose work is song in the tune of that peppy dance record, "Blue Heaven."

Time is flying,
We are vying
Each little way to know,
Each little date to sow.
Lindbergs are flying,
Scientists prying,
Who teaches us all this?
No one but Miss!

Chorus I
When sitting in class—
Being taught by this lass—
What's brought to our minds by Catherine?
Is it roses in bloom?
The life of a Boone?
There's wisdom in our MacMillan.

We plan a prance,
Or ask for dances,
Our spirit's sore,—
Or, you know,
She quickly shows
The open door.
MacMillan! and We—
And "History" make three,
We learn it from our MacMillan.

Chorus II
You may sometime have read—
What Shakespeare has said
All an early date—of Catherine;
Of a maid who defies,
Yet's a cure for the sighs,
"You're the bonniest Kate," MacMillan.

Who's twelve twenty-one?
Who teaches so young?
It's our Catherine;
A goddess so fair
With wavy brown hair,
That's our Catherine.
Just Catherine and We
And "History" make three.
We're happy with our MacMillan!

Honors Well Divided in Inter-Class Basketball

Leading the Seniors by one point in a 11-10 score, the Sophomore girls triumphed last Tuesday. The game was very fast and exciting throughout. The Sophomores took the lead during the first quarter. The first half, however, ended 8-8 in the Seniors' favor. One basket was made during the third quarter, by the Seniors, in the last quarter the Sophomores showed good play, making two baskets thus leaving the score tied 9-9. Three minutes more were given to play, during which time the Seniors made one free throw and the Sophomores one field throw, ending the game 11 to 10 in the Sophomores' favor.

On Wednesday, March 14, the Senior girls defeated the Juniors 12-5. Three baskets were made by the Seniors during the first quarter, while the Juniors failed to make any. The first half ended 8-3 for the Seniors. The last half was far more exciting than the first both teams playing well. The final score was 12-5.

On Thursday, March 15, the Junior girls defeated the Freshmen by a score of 5-4. Both teams started out well, the first quarter ending 2-0 for the Juniors. The second basket was made during the second quarter. The Juniors made the first basket in the last half and the Freshmen two. Although both sides were given a number of free throws they failed to make them. Thus the game ended 14-8 in the Juniors' favor.

Honesty Placed First in Business Qualifications

The Junior English III classes engaged an address last week by Supt. Morris Iley on the subject, "Looking for a job." Since the pupils have recently been studying application letters, it was a fitting time for Mr. Iley's interesting and instructive talk.

The importance of a good character-record was especially stressed. Few of the pupils had realized just how many questions an employer asks for reference concerning the character of the boy or girl. "Is he honest?" seems to be a far more important question than "What is his scholastic record in school?" Mr. Iley believes it is the duty of the latter to speak to Juniors than to Seniors on this subject for those last mentioned have not yet developed to the fullest extent this trait have still a year in which to do so. After giving an outlined account of the procedure an applicant for a job must go through, in order to procure the position, the questions on top reference-work and bond and used by large business firms, were read.

Competition in the present business world was also touched upon. It was with some surprise that the pupils received the statement that over one thousand letters of application are received yearly at the superintendent's office.

To show their appreciation to Mr. Iley for the time and effort spent in this way, each English III class chose a delegate to represent his class in writing a letter of thanks to him.

Shorthand Over Radio Newest Form of Contests

Something rather unusual of interest to the business world was the Radio Shorthand contest conducted Tuesday by station WRHM, Rosedale Hospital, Minneapolis.

The following three classes were eligible: first, high school commercial graduates; second, high school commercial instructors (women); third, stenographers (female).

High school commercial students—eligible for eighty and one hundred words per minute dictation for three minutes—could transcribe both the letter one, the better, in the contest. The same restrictions applied to high school commercial instructors. Stenographers were eligible for either one hundred or one hundred twenty-word dictation with the usual entrance requirement.

The awards, which as yet have not been announced, are: To winner in first class—with one hundred word transcription—six months scholarship, secretarial course; to winner in second class—with eighty word transcription—three months scholarship, secretarial course; To winner in third class—with one hundred and one hundred twenty word transcription—handsome, useful prizes. Suitable, useful prizes of different kinds are to also be given to all who make a rate of ninety-five per cent or more in the contests. An award is also to be given to the person sending a transcript from a point farthest from the Twin City business University, the authorities of the radio contest.

Several of the local students "tuned in" at the contest, but as yet their papers have not been graded.

KNOX NOTES

The first B pupils have completed the first story in the reader "My Book" and enjoyed it very much.

Edna Crown, formerly a pupil of the Washington has entered the second B.

Mrs. S. Dahlen and Mrs. Mollie Aasen entertained the third A on Wednesday.

Mrs. J. Bowers visited the third A on Tuesday.

Ruth and Anna Lundstrom of the third and sixth grades respectively have been transferred from the Washington.

The fourth, fifth, and sixth graders are writing essays on the effects of alcohol and tobacco.

Elna Crown of the third grade has been transferred to the Knox from the Washington.

The third and fourth B pupils are very proud of the blackboard calendar which Verna and Carl Larson drew.

The fourth B graders who lead in Standardizers are Jesse Duchaine and Carl Iverson, both on test 16.

The third B pupils are making booklets of silent reading construction exercises.

Let's Get Better Acquainted Thru Faculty Questionaire

What is your full name?

"Clarence Weidman Pogo" and "Be sure and get it right," he added.

Why did you come back to Thief River Falls to teach after having graduated from High School here? Weren't you tired of the place?

"No, Thief River has always been my home and I like the people and the community so well that I decided to stay with them." (And Mr. Pogo looked contentedly out the window.)

What do you like best about the U. of Minnesota?

"I would say it's excellent corps of instructors and wide choice of subjects, and thirdly, its largeness. You know largeness anyway has a charm about it." (With that remark flashing in the table, the gentleman replied to this.)

Do you think industrial training should be made a compulsory subject for boys?

"By all means," (Emphatically.) Why?

"Because of its inherent worth in training the future home owner to know and because of its value in teaching the dignity of labor."

Who is your favorite actor?

"Douglas Fairbanks."

Why?

"In the first place because he's a man's man. He stands for everything that's good in athletics and sport and has refused to appear in anything but good moral pictures."

What would you be if you were to start over again?

(Immediately and decisively.) "Interior decorator."

My next question was perhaps not yet developed to the fullest extent this trait have still a year in which to do so. After giving an outlined account of the procedure an applicant for a job must go through, in order to procure the position, the questions on top reference-work and bond and used by large business firms, were read.

What is your hobby?

"Taking automobiles apart to see what makes them tick."

What is the most vivid impression you've seen in the hours you have spent in the ticket office at the auditorium?

(With one hand on the table and the other in his lap, the talented Training Instructor racked his brain in the deep folds of mourning.) "Well, say the look of animation on the faces of youthful ticket buyers and their anxiety to get with the game."

What is your favorite sport?

"Touring."

Who's going to wash the dishes on your honeymoon trip this summer, you or your wife?

"My wife, of course." (Another heh-heh.)

What is your highest ambition?

(Clarence Weidman first folded his hands and then literally stroked his chin) "I guess that is the end was near.) "My highest ambition is to have an M. A. behind my name and else an E. E. (Electrical Engineer.)

"Honor in Honest Toil" Discussed by Rev. Bloom

Monday morning at 11:30 Rev. Agnar Bloom, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran Church, addressed the students of Lincoln on the subject of the Senior motto; "Honor Lies in Honest Toil."

This motto has been carried thru their four years of school by the Seniors. It is a symbolic of the spirit of ready cooperation and willingness to shoulder responsibility that is so noticeable in the present graduating class. In this assembly the Seniors will put on record as approving certain ideals.

Chester Myrom, president of the class, in an introductory speech, dedicated the banner and the Senior Motto to the school as a constant reminder of Senior principles during the remaining months of school. Principal H. C. Bland, advisor, accepted for the high school.

A similar assembly will be held next the close of the term, at which the banner will be presented to the Junior class.

IN DAYS GONE BY.

March 15, 1923—

Roy Orr was elected captain of the 1923-24 basketball squad, succeeding Ralph Bjorkman.

Elsie Vorseth and Gladys Kjos received the honors of valedictorian and salutatorian of 1924.

March 24, 1927—

"Hornsby" Carson was elected captain of the 1927-28 basketball team.

Miss Quamme, secretary of the Minnesota Association for Crippled Children, spoke to the Lincoln Assembly Thursday afternoon on health.

The Juniors captured the boys' interclass basketball championship title.

Somewhat Handicapped

The rich father of an idle son was taking the young man sharply to task because of his general inclinations.

"Why don't you go to work," growled the old man. "When I was your age I had to hustle. No loafing for me. When I first went to work I got only $4.00 a week in a country store. But in five years I owned that store.

"Yes I know, Dad," replied the son, "but you must remember that that was in the days before they had cash registers."

12 OUT OF 14 GAMES IS UNUSUAL RECORD OF BOE'S WHIPPETS

In retrospection the 1928 basketball season has been a successful one, regardless of the fact that the district championship could not come our way. Thief River Falls has established a remarkable record for a school of its size by winning twelve of the fourteen games played prior to the district tournament. This gives the Whippets a seasonal percentage of .843. In the tournament games also included, Thief River won 13 out of 16 starts, which is a percentage of .812.

Besides playing the outstanding teams of the district in regular conference games, the local quint matched wits with stronger teams outside the district. It was easy to see that Thief River was the strongest team in district No. 1, winning all seven of the games played there. To give the boys a chance to really see what they were worth, teams like Moorhead, Bemidji, Grand Forks and Moorhead were booked. These were the teams that failed to make the reputation of the Grand Forks and Moorhead, establishing the reputation of the Whippets as a ball team.

Possibly the greatest achievement of the year was the double victory over the powerful Bemidji quint. After defeating the Bemidjians on their home floor by one point, the lumberjacks came to Thief River to attempt to show that Thief River won by a fluke. The only mistake discovered was that the Whippets could play better, not worse, as the 20-12 score indicated.

The Crookston quint was another among the conquered. Twice did the fleet-footed Polk County district thrill Coach Boe's boys know quite a bit about basketball, as the 24-21 and 23-18 scores indicate.

The two defeats of the season at the hands of Moorhead and Grand Forks are accepted with good grace, for Moorhead came while rated 23-18, was possibly the greatest exhibition of ball playing on the local floor during the whole season.

The Spuds knew an awful lot about basketball, and had their basket eye regularly during the last half of that memorable game which resulted in Thief River's defeat.

The trouncing at Grand Forks, plainly indicated that Thief River was strong compared with teams of the Spud class, but the Northern team was a bit over the locals, as the 33 to 9 score indicated. When considering this game, it must be remembered that Grand Forks captured state championship at North Dakota, and Thief River could afford to lose to a team of that caliber.

In the two games played against Warren before frosted ends, the Whippets got ahead. Over there the score was 16-13, while here the final score was 28-8.

After considering all these points in that true light, it must be admitted that Thief River Falls has had a splendid team and that the 1928 season was highly successful.

Juniors and Sophs Play Clash in Interclass Games

Things were considerably speeded up during the past week in the interclass tournament. Last week the three-upper classes' games were played, the Juniors in the first round, the Sophomores in the second round, and the Seniors in the third round. The Sophomore boys have chalked up another victory over the Freshmen, raising their rank to .750, with three games won and one defeat. The Sophomore girls' team has been able to keep pace with the Sophomore boys' record, having won four games and lost one. The Sophomore aggregation is next to meet the Frosh on Tuesday of this week, which game they should win. This would place them on a par with the Junior team as the only undefeated team. Tuesday, March 27, is the date that is going to be worth seeing. Neither the Freshman boys' or girls' teams have been able to gain a game from the cocksuits to youth and inexperience.

WASHINGTON NOTES

The sixth graders have made rabbits the outstanding symbols of Easter.

Erling Tungseth leads the sixth grade in Studebakers, having very recently acquired a Big Six.

Harry Paul and Gladys Sjolee of the first, third and fourth grades respectively entered on Monday.

Miss Quamme, secretary of the Minnesota Association for Crippled Children, spoke to the Lincoln Assembly Thursday afternoon on health.

The Juniors captured the boys' interclass basketball championship title.

HAZEL

A few young folks were Sunday evening guests at the Fred Dobson home.

August Reese was ill Saturday and Sunday, but is reported improving. Mr. Reese lives with his son, Clarence, as a guest.

Carl Peterson, Henry Sandberg, and Mrs. Clarence Reese motored Saturday to Fort Francis, Ontario, to visit a few days at the Charles Julin home. Returning the latter part of the week they were accompanied by Mrs. Henry Sandberg, who was to spend two weeks with her sister, Mrs. Julin.

Mrs. Wolff, of course." (Another heh-heh.)

Many new lambs can be heard bleating in our vicinity. Carl Albers was fortunate enough to have one ewe bring triplets.

Ruth Dolve spent the week-end at her home.

The Ed. Holters family moved last week from the Ed. Knutson place. Mrs. Holters and children will visit her mother at Gryglo for some time, he is for the first time a few days ago. Mr. Holters will carry on his blacksmith trade.

Ruth Seeland was home Tuesday evening from Dilze for a brief visit, returning Wednesday morning. She was accompanied to Dilze by Mrs. Ingvald Seeland, who visited with Miss Seeland Monday morning.

Reuel B. Peterson was home from Thief River Falls to spend the week-end with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Tvoland and family were soon from the Gust Nakken home last Friday. The Johnson's may decide to locate in a different locality from where they have been farming of late.

The town officers of Rocksbury were returned to office on election day.

A bunch of horses were driven to Thief River Falls Sunday, Sunday-western stuff. Carl Bonson purchased one head. Several other local men also purchased horses.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bruce and Mr. and Mrs. O. Osgaard and G. G. Peterson families at dinner Sunday.

Fern Denhart was last at the Clarence Reese home Monday.

The River Falls team was in Hazel Monday.

Election at Hazel last week Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tobias Stene were visitors at the Ole Odegaard home one day last week.

Marie Olen visited with Mrs. Odegaard Monday and Tuesday, of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Quall were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Ole Odegaard.

The Oscar Seeland family visited at the Theodore Stene home.

Mrs. Martin Lakne entertained a group of Hazel ladies at a coffee party on Saturday afternoon. Those present being Mesdames Odegaard, Seeland, Adrian Anderson, Lily Finstad, Carl Ahlberg, Helga Fredrickson and Miss Ellen Ahlberg.

Mrs. Liv Finstad was a guest at Odegaard's two days last week.

Mesdames Ahlberg, Ole Odegaard and Adrian Anderson spent Friday afternoon with Mrs. Oscar Seeland.

Ole Peterson was in Thief River Falls Tuesday.

Reuben M. Douglas, the county agent, was in Hazel Monday in the interest of boys' and girls' club work.

4-H Club Work Meetings Scheduled for 2 Nights by County Agent Douglas

A meeting will be held in the school house at Silverton on Saturday afternoon of this week for the purpose of interesting the boys and girls of that part of Silverton in club work. O. A. Thompson is the teacher in the school and reports that the county agent, Reuben M. Douglas, the pupils have indicated their desire to join various clubs.

Another similar meeting is scheduled for Friday night of this week, 7:30 in the school house at Goodridge. Arrangements therefor have been completed by Supt. Halvorson of the school, assisted by two of the teachers, Miss Olson and Miss Lundquist. The farm bureau firm, "The Romance of Sleepy Valley" will be shown on this occasion and any others desiring the club work or seeing the film is invited to attend.

Other dates for the showing of this film in the near future are expected soon to inability to secure the proper facilities of showing this movie. It is a special film and a disappointment may be made next week.

A similar meeting was also held last Saturday in the school-house in district No. 184 in Sanders township, attended by several persons from that vicinity. Miss Mildred Peterson, the teacher there, states that undoubtedly several of the pupils will join some age of the various clubs after another conference of parents and children with the teacher and the county agents.

UNIVERSITY CLOSES FOR SPRING RECESS

With the final examination grind at a close, the University of Minnesota educational plant closed down Friday for the spring vacation interim, between the winter and spring quarters.

Students tucked away their books and laboratory equipment and departed for their homes, to forget classroom cares until spring quarter commences March 26.

Miss Gladys Mattson, accompanied by a friend from Thief River Falls, left on Tuesday morning by car for Grand Forks where Gladys will be employed in the future.

ILLEGAL TO PEACE POISON FOR WOLVES STATE WARNS

Deputy Game Warden Milton Forder wishes to call attention to a recent ruling of the State Game and Fish Commissioner, wherein Commissioner J. F. Gould states that illegging of poison for wolves is illegal, and subjects the owner to prosecution unless a permit for bailing has been issued by the state conservation commission. The commission has so far consistently refused all such applications.

Affairs at Washington by Congressman Selvig

Washington, March 19—In December—by correct enumeration—the country, over-all census for each 100 people in the Minnesota Red River Valley there are 81 cows for each 100 people. The figures are based on the 1928 assessment which shows 191,155 cows, and on the 1920 census which shows 235,111 people. There may have been a slight increase in population, but not enough to materially change the ratio.

The figures on the cows, by counties are as follows, the 1921 figures being given for the purpose of showing the increase that has taken place in the last few years:

Becker	17,320	13,762
Clay	13,835	12,261
Clearwater	7,247	6,273
Kittson	8,550	7,121
Mahnomen	4,803	3,578
Marshall	18,062	14,976
Norman	12,831	11,666
Otter Tail	20,750	14,152
Pennington	7,978	7,013
Polk	22,161	17,787
Red Lake	8,789	6,096
Roseau	9,049	8,370
Wilkin	8,049	7,847
Totals	191,155	160,856

From Wheat to Cows

It is perhaps necessary for the average citizen of northwestern Minnesota to study these figures closely to appreciate the surprise and the greatest wheat growing area in the world has changed to the production of butter. The Minnesota Red River Valley is now one of the greatest dairy districts in the United States, and the future possibilities along that line are great.

The rapid increase in acreage of alfalfa and sweet clover, of which there was merely a scattering few acres a few years ago, is shown by the figures from the 1927 report of the State Commissioner of Agriculture, the figures representing:

	Alfalfa	Sweet
Becker	5,777	2,238
Clay	4,424	12,240
Clearwater	4,268	553
Kittson	4,998	14,370
Mahnomen	2,845	2,032
Marshall	8,933	18,848
Norman	6,932	12,450
Otter Tail	20,046	4,819
Pennington	3,240	1,617
Polk	19,871	28,402
Red Lake	3,642	5,930
Roseau	3,281	1,172
Wilkin	5,924	11,098
Totals	104,201	124,815

The greatest feed of the Red River Valley in the future is better cows, rather than more cows, and a more general application of improved feeding methods. At the present time, while beef is high, the unproductive dairy cow can be disposed of to the best advantage.

The state average production of butterfat per cow is now around 160 pounds per year. The Red River Valley district is fully up to the state average, much quarters have been made in herd improvement the last few years.

But there is a vast difference in the income from an average herd, producing 160 pounds per cow per year, and such herds as that of N. H. Iverson in Clearwater County, which under ordinary farm conditions yield well in excess of 400 pounds per cow per year. There is a vast difference between the income from the average cow and herds that produce an excess of 200 pounds per cow per year, and it is safe to say that only a number in every county in the district.

It is almost impossible to buy a high-grade dairy bull, even if you have the money. Experience seems to indicate that careful breeding and selection extending over a period of years is the most practical course. Every outstanding dairyman in the district knows that, but practical help is all but generally not by the producers with experience, and the cases limiting, causing the can to explode.

The flames set fire to his clothing and to the building but were extinguished before any damage from the accident, but not Mr. Schafer had a severe burn on his hand which will require his barber trade, doctors state.

NINTH DISTRICT BANKERS TO MEET AT LITTLE FALLS

Announcement was made last week of the regional meetings of the bankers of Minnesota during May of this year. According to Fred D. Fellows, president of the state organization, ten districts have been formed, and these meet either singly or in groups. Problems which demand only regional attention often come to the front, he states, and for that purpose only district meetings are held. More serious questions that develop from the district meetings will be discussed at the state convention at Lake Minnetonka, Excelsior, June 19-20.

The ninth and ninth districts will meet jointly at Little Falls on May 22 and 23, according to present plans.

MANY INSPECTIONS MADE IN SIX WEEKS BY SCHOOL NURSE

Improvement in Normal Weight of Pupils Quite Marked; 136 Homes Visited

The report of Miss Gladys Blair, school nurse, for the past six weeks' period shows that 143 pupils in the public schools of this city were given physical inspections individually, while 1,310 others received classroom inspections.

Many Gain in Weight

Only sixty-five cases of defects were discovered, 28 of these being for vision and 37 as to teeth; slight defects as to skin and scalp, tonsils and posticulosis. There were 18 cases of correction, shown in the report, quite evenly divided among the following: vision, teeth, nose, throat and skin.

The report shows that out of 905 children weighed under the direction of the school nurse, 589 were of normal weight; seven be nine per cent under weight children installed only one, while nine were found slightly Compared with the last report 59 more children were found to be of normal weight.

During the six weeks' period Miss Blair gave 43 talks in the various grades of the schools, reporting a "enthusiastic" course had been started with meetings held once weekly of all the freshmen and sophomore girls at the noon recreation period.

Seventy-three investigations were made by the nurse regarding cases of illness, while four boys and two girls were put in quarantine at the residents during the six weeks. A total of 136 home visits were made; for various reasons, while it became necessary to call the mothers of 17 others over the phone to ascertain the reasons of the pupils being absent.

Many Worth-While Books on Waiting List Is Big Problem at Local Library

It is regrettable that some of the most worth while books in the Carnegie library have long waiting lists. Although these books are not renewable and are passed along with all possible speed, still many have to wait for many. An effort will be made to secure extra copies of some of these if the budget will permit.

Besides a number of old favorites in new covers, several books of recent publication have been received at the Carnegie library during the past week. The new titles are:

"Roads of Destiny" by Agnes Repplier is a very entertaining account of the musician's life that will appeal to all.

"Grey-Fathers Years" and "Whitechandy Inn," by Irene Swinnerton, stories which are bound to be popular with the men and older boys.

"Wilder-Bridge of San Luis Rey," by Thornton Wilder, and "Dodsworth," by Sinclair Lewis.

"Mother—the best book was translated from the Italian and during the past year received the Nobel prize.

Farm Bureau Survey Shows Labor Supply Quite Large

R. Jesse, Executive Secretary of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, announced at St. Paul this week that reports received from counties covering every section of the state indicate the supply of farm labor available in Minnesota at this time is greater than it has been for several years, at the beginning of the season.

"Every county from which information has been received to date," said Mr. Jesse, "reports a plentiful supply of farm labor. Much of it, however, is not of the kind that makes the most satisfactory farm hands."

The demand for farm labor is shown by the reports in hand to be weaker than in recent years. Many county agricultural agents report that Minnesota farmers are planning the year to attempt to get through the summer without hiring help; if possible. Other reports state that many farmers declare they will get along this year without extra help, regardless of crop conditions."

The results of this annual survey conducted by the Farm Bureau indicate that the average wage of men employed by the day on the farm this year will be $1.94 per day. General farm work on a monthly basis will be $42.29. These figures were assembled in the period between March 1 and March 10 and compose the latest and most accurate data available with the state on the farm labor situation.

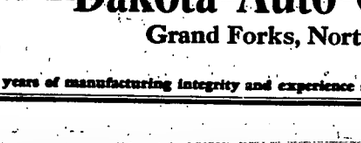
STUDEBAKER



The Great Independent

Engineering Genius in Four Price Fields! $795 to $2450

These 4 lines of Studebaker cars reflect the engineering genius of Studebaker's great staff of automotive technicians—men who have brought to Studebaker every official endurance and speed record for fully equipped stock cars, regardless of power or price.

The Studebaker tradition of quality manufacture—maintained for 76 years—has never before been so strikingly exemplified as in these cars of superior performance and dominant value. We invite you to inspect them at the automobile show—or in our showroom.

The New President Straight Eight—100 horsepower

$1985 f. o. b. factory

STUDEBAKER engineers have built into the great engine of the new President Eight the smoothest performance in speeds up to 80-miles-an-hour that you have ever experienced. Yet this 131-inch wheelbase car with its great power is so docile that a woman may drive it with ease. Though sold on a low, One-Profit price, its concealed cost can be to any car selling up to $4,000. It will lead the fine car field—supremely the "eight" of 1928! A Studebaker super-value at $1985 to $2450, f. o. b. factory.

Mythamelin shock absorbers standard equipment

The Commander—World's Champion Car

$1495 f. o. b. factory

THIS is the car that startled all motordom in October by traveling 25,000 miles in less than 23,000 minutes—nothing on earth or in the sky ever traveled so far so fast. No more conclusive proof could be furnished that The Commander is the greatest achievement of post-war automotive engineering. You will find The Commander a handsome car possessing every attribute you would rightfully expect in a World's Champion Car. A champion value, too, at $1495 to $1745, f. o. b. factory.

The New Dictator—Champion of Its Class

$1195 f. o. b. factory

WHEN a stock model Dictator sedan went 1483 miles at better than a mile-a-minute speed for 24 consecutive hours at the Atlantic City Speedway on October 11th and 12th, it eclipsed every record for speed and endurance for cars under $1400. Because practically every vital part of The Dictator is made by Studebaker, parts makers' profits are reduced to a minimum. Savings are passed on to you in finer materials and precision workmanship. Compare its value at $1195 to $1345, f. o. b. factory.

The New American Edition of the Erskine Six

$795 f. o. b. factory

NOW a roomier, bigger, more powerful Erskine Six, designed expressly for America. A car of brilliant 6-cylinder performance—greater flexibility—quicker-the-trigger acceleration! On October 12-13, a stock Erskine Sedan in 24 hours of continuous running averaged better than 54 miles per hour—establishing a new record for cars under $1000. A beautiful car. Complete in refinements—shock absorbers, arm rests, ash receiver, etc. First in performance, quality and value at its new low prices—$795 to $965, f. o. b. factory.

TEN THOUSAND VIEW EXHIBITS AND ATTEND PROGRAMS AT SHOW HELD LAST WEEK IN AUDITORIUM

Peggy Shaw Crowned Queen Saturday Night, Concluding Second Annual Event Sponsored by Legion. Electrical Exhibits, New This Year, Held Attention of Many, as Did Also Food Demonstrations.

Peggy Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Shaw, was crowned Queen of the Auto, Electrical and Style Show in a fitting climax to the three day exposition, the dance being announced late Saturday night after all of the votes in the contest had been counted. The auditorium was filled to capacity and the announcement was a pleasing one to those present, who cheered the young lady one of the most popular of the young er set in the city.

For three days and nights crowds had flocked to the Show and the fairly estimate of the attendance for the three days was about 10,000 persons, thousand persons, many of whom came to the show from points outside of the city, in some cases as far as Hallock and Warroad. Many came to see the fine showing of motor cars, others to see the styles depicted in the show of the season, and many came to witness the crowning of the Queen while many were drawn by the educational exhibit of modern electrical apparatus. Dancing prevailed—all three nights, and on the closing night the audience was treated to a vaudeville skit by a contingent from Crookston, secured by the Elmer J. Ekiund Post of the American Legion, which sponsored the show this year—the second event of the kind held here.

The Style Revue, staged on Friday night, proved to be the main attraction of the three-day show. The auditorium has perhaps never held a larger gathering, people coming from far and near to glimpse what Dame Fashion has decreed to be the correct apparel for spring and summer wear. With furniture contributed by the Lawson Furniture company, draperies and other accessories from the Gen Mercantile company and The J. C. Penney Co. store, the stage formed a perfect setting for the revue. Music furnished by Effinger's orchestra, and the softly-colored lights, added much to the atmosphere of the occasion.

The Revue opened with a showing by Olaf G. Winger, presenting four models in men's clothing. Donald Angier appeared next, displaying a light tan suit with a mannish tan top coat and cap. He was followed by Melvin Peterson who showed a dark grey suit of herringbone mixture; Lester Rolland, a Tuxedo, of regulation black; and Harry Swanson, who wore a suit of two-tone tan, with a tan top coat of tan cassimere, and tan hat.

J. C. Penney Co. Showing

Next in the Revue came the J. C. Penney company showing with Miss Lulu Case as their model to appear. Miss Case first wore an attractive dress of pale salmon-colored flat crepe, carrying a dainty parasol, later featuring a dress of coral georgette, with a black satin coat. Her hat was of black satin with a shine-piece pin. Closing the group came Mrs. Alvin Holsknecht displaying a street costume of green with a cape coat of natural colored kasha, lined with green satin. Miss Ruth Seeland next appeared, modeling a street suit of navy blue twill with a black tailored hat. Her second appearance was in an ensemble of tweed mixture, with a matching hat. Following Miss Seeland came Mrs. F. S. Tallakson wore a dress of pale grey georgette, and a hat of the same shade. Her coat was black satin with a Manchurian wolf collar. Miss Marian Wilson modeled a frock of pale blue georgette with matching hat and a coat of tan polo cloth with a plaid collar. She was followed by Miss Lucille Larson, displaying a silk sport costume of white and figured print, with a sport hat to match. Miss Case was a popular sport model, with a fox fur collar. She was followed by Miss Wilderene Dewhurst, who appeared in an afternoon frock of tan georgette with a matching hat and coat, the latter featuring an Elizabethan collar of moleskin. Miss Mae Swalach and Cleo May Engelstad appeared in miniature models, the former wearing a party dress of taffeta, later appearing in a coat of tan tweed, wearing a silk sport dress, later wore a dress of rose voile, with a hat and coat to match.

Gentlemen's apparel for the J. C. Penney company was modeled by Clayton Snyder, featuring a three-button collegiate suit of gray twill, a top coat of grey and navy mixture, brim hat. Walter Larson, appearing in a suit of tan cassimere, in regulation model, with matching top coat and hat; and Donald McFarland, junior model, who wore a three button sport suit, with tan top coat and cap. Clifford Barkman, of the J. C. Penney company force, modeled the Pay-Day overall.

Lieberman's Presentations

Following the Penney company showing came that of Chas. Lieberman, four models presenting gentlemen's apparel after the manner featured a business suit of gray and tan mixture with a top coat to match; Charles Kennedy was next dressed in a sport grey, with a top coat of lighter grey and a small white check. Harry Maley wore a suit of striking black and white tweed, with a black and

Escaped State Ward Is Caught by Sheriff and Confesses to Stealing

Orvan Morstad, sentenced in July 1921 on a petty larceny charge and sent from Thief River Falls to Red Wing where he entered the state training school, being transferred in January of the following year to the school for feeble minded at Faribault, from which he escaped on October 17, 1922, is being held in the county jail here awaiting arrival of officers who will take him back to the state institution at Faribault.

The young man, who is nearly 22 years old, was arrested last Monday by Sheriff Ole Dahl on a complaint to County Attorney H. O. Berve by Sandy, a resident of the eastern end of Belden street, and charged with the theft of a watch, only, to find it ransacked. Suspicion pointed to the job having been done by Morstad, who had been under surveillance since last summer, when his presence in the city was discovered, and a search warrant issued by Judge Berve.

The search of the Morstad home on the east side revealed several of the personal belongings of Mr. Sandy, and the lad soon confessed to taking the watch.

PASTOR EXTENDED CALL BY TRINITY HERE 7 DAYS

Rev. Axel Sherstrand of Kenyon spent Tuesday and Wednesday of this week in the city, looking over the situation preparatory to a decision as to the extension of a call extended to him by the Trinity church here.

While here he expressed himself as greatly pleased with the welcome extended him by the Swedish Mission Thief Falls an excellent place in which to live. Mr. and Mrs. Sherstrand have a daughter in Fairview hospital at Minneapolis, where she is taking a course in nursing.

In addition to his charge at Kenyon, Rev. Sherstrand has the congregations of Holden and Dale under his charge, and will not act upon any call about the local call till he consults with his parishioners.

Peter Myhrum, Lost Tuesday South of Mavie, is Recovering After 14 Hours of Exposure

Peter Myhrum, manager of the local office of the Hanson & Barsen Milling Co. at this city, was overcome by illness early Tuesday morning while walking to Mavie from the Henry Runnestrand farm south of that village where he had spent the night, and for at least seven hours lay in some brush near the road evidently in a semi-conscious or delirious condition. About nine o'clock in the evening he recovered sufficiently to start walking again and was picked up an hour later by a searching party between this city and Mavie, on the main road. He was rushed to his home on Stanley Ave. and given the necessary medical attention, and while his condition is quite serious due to his long exposure, no complications have developed as yet and he is said to be resting very satisfactorily toward recovery.

Mr. Myhrum had left for Mavie on the electric line Monday afternoon and was to be met at that station and driven to his farm four miles south. The party he expected to meet was not at the station, however, and he decided to walk to his farm, which he did. After spending the night at the farm he returned to the Runnestrand home, expecting also to spend the night there. His feet were sore from walking and he was sick at that time, going to bed shortly after supper. He arose early, still feeling sick, and left the house, intending to get started walking toward Mavie. He was last seen by Ed Bellingrud, a Lancaster and Mr. Bolstrom of Wiger.

Assisted by Local 57 Lake

The by-laws as prepared by the temporary committee were read and adopted at the special meeting of the board held Tuesday afternoon of this week in the offices of the association on the second floor of the local co-operative creamery. The board also elected the contract entitled by the Land O' Lakes Creameries Inc. to operate the association in connection with the state organization all those selling their products to the new association will be paid cash for their merchandise on delivery to the respective creameries in this part of the state; or when the truck stops at the farm to take on the cream sold the Farmers Co-operative Produce association will be paid the market price and will be subject to a premium for all eggs that are found to be of first quality. Lake eggs, the premium to be paid the first of the following month upon returns as made by the eastern market.

Prospects Are Bright

As outlined by The Times last week Thief River Falls will become a central shipping point for eggs and cream to be collected in this territory, making the Farmers Co-operative Produce association one of the largest of its kind in the state. Plans are also being formulated and all those who sell their products to the new association will benefit therefrom. Mr. Norby and other state men may depend of his produce to the organization, whether he was previously a member of the Land O' Lakes or not, and have contracts for members to sign in the new body.

THIEF RIVER WOMAN NAMED ELECTOR BY STATE REPUBLICANS

Delegates Return from Convention Held at St. Paul Saturday

Mrs. W. H. Hardisty, Mrs. H. W. Fredblad, Mrs. R. Dahlen, Bernard Knudsen and Theo Quale of this city, together with Stephen Segar of Erie have returned from St. Paul, where they were elected delegates from Pennington county to the Republican State convention held there last Saturday. The convention will send 27 delegates to the national convention in June at Kansas City, 21 of them instructed for Lowden and six for Hoover.

This county was allowed five delegates to the state convention, as it became necessary for two women to be elected from each district, the delegates report an exciting time, and feel well satisfied that this county was successful in naming one of the delegates as a personal friend of Mrs. Washington—the first time that Pennington county has been so rewarded since Mrs. Ashley Pierce was named the News-Press 12 years ago, was the report.

The delegates chosen at the ninth district meeting at Fergus Falls to the national convention were Roger Sinclair of Crookston; alternates Mrs. J. Bell of Roseau and Mrs. Cy H. Bennett of Hagley.

"LONDON AFTER MIDNIGHT" at Lyceum for 2 Nights

Exhibit shadows, weird appearances and the presence of ghosts of the great Beyond—these are the background for one of the strangest tales an actor has ever been called upon to play—Lon Chaney's part in "London After Midnight," the new picture playing at the Lyceum Theater, tonight and tomorrow.

Ghosts, and the grim things known as vampires, are said to "scent" out corpses that desert their graves at night to prey upon the living, and other similar beings of the dark, many superstitions come to life and, in a strange, unexplainable manner, horror—creepy, supernatural details—in a way that, in the real sense, sticks to scientific fact. Tod Browning, the author and also the director, has worked the wildly improbable up to latter-day fact so skillfully that one almost believes against his own reason, that such things do exist.

Mrs. A. A. Haugen entertained a number of young people at her home last Thursday evening in celebration of the fifteenth birthday of her son, Melford. Games were played during the evening, after which luncheon was served. Melford was the recipient of several very fine gifts from his friends. Guests present included Vernice Helgeland, Lucille Larson, Bernadette Waldorf, Ruth Cronkhite, Hazel Erickson, Elaine Erickson, May Warner, John Kiewel, George Lambert, Richard Nelson, Joe Beckert, Wesley Mellen, Harold Johnson and Melford Haugen. Mrs. Johnson was assisted in serving by Eloise Cattoni and Esther Ness.

Dan's Showing

The Oen Mercantile company showing came last, opening with the appearance of Mrs. Oscar Swanson in a French tailored street suit of navy blue twill with a tailored hat of tiered crocheted straw. She later appeared in an afternoon frock of black taffeta, pale blue in color, with patchwork embroidery, wearing a black picture hat. She was followed by Miss Mabel Swanson who first modeled an ensemble suit of natural colored Roza crepe, with matching hat, and later a stunning non-colored georgette afternoon frock with hat to match. Peggy Shaw came next, presenting first a street dress of navy blue flat crepe trimmed in red, with a red tailored hat, and later an imported hand-embroidered afternoon frock in rose color, peasant style. Mrs. Clarence Erickson modeled a sport ensemble suit in black and white with a picture hat, as well as a patch-colored taffeta evening gown with chenille trim. The showing was followed by Miss Marion MacMillan, who featured a street afternoon frock beaver style, in tan flat crepe with elaborate embroidery of tiered patchwork, and an ensemble suit in navy blue and white georgette, with a black hat, white ungora trimmed. Miss Pearl Fjelsted featured a coat of black wool broadcloth, with a Johnny style collar of leather mole, wearing a dress afternoon hat of crepe de chenille, later presenting a formal evening gown of black duchess over a tan slip, with appliqued flowers. Miss Ruby Young wore a black silk bengaline dress with an Elizabethan ruffle of black net, with a jacket of natural color straw with black straw trimmings, next appearing in an evening gown of orchid georgette, colonial style, with silver stitched ruffles. Miniature models for the Oen store were Joyce Olson and Donald Erickson, the first presenting a dress of white hand embroidered voile with a smock yoke, and a party dress of ruffled one-piece crepe de chine; and the latter wearing a Johnny-jump-up wash frock, white top with a red and white striped skirt, and later wearing a party dress of ruffled turquoise blue crepe de chine.

The models featured men's clothing for the Mercantile company, including Milliard Myrin, who wore a two-button tan plaid suit with a tan top coat and matching hat; John Mastoe, presenting a three-button gray herringbone twist suit with gray hat to match; William Froehlich, a two-button Beckbyn twist suit of tan mixture with a swagger hat; and John Kiewel, junior model, who wore a two-button suit of light tan.

Display of Style Accessories

Shoes, hosiery and all other accessories were contributed by the stores for whom the models appeared, and every garment featured is a part of the regular merchandise in stock in the local stores.

Shoe Display

Attractive shoe displays were made in the main floor by the Langseth Shoe store and the Fenseth Shoe store. Featured were the latest in spring and summer footwear, in all the popular modes and colors.

The various exhibitors of autos at the show this year are very well pleased with the excellent manner in which the affair was conducted; and all state they believe it was a wonderful advertising stunt not only for themselves, but also for the Legion and the city. If another show is held next year they all expect to take part again, for Thief River Falls is rapidly becoming a recognized distributing point for all makes of automobiles.

The exhibit, of the latest models of cars taxed the floor space available at the auditorium even more this year than last, the following exhibitors taking part: Chatleford Motor Co., Nelson-Tweet Co., Reliable Motor Co., Sanders's Garage, Steenberg's Garage, Testeraas Motor, Selegard Thief River Motor Co., all of this city; H. J. Olson & Son and J. A. Potter of St. Hilaire Peoples Auto Co., of Red Lake Falls; A. T. Berg of Melrose, Dahle Auto Co., and Wilcox & Melin of Grand Forks, an excellent exhibit was also made by the Barry Garage, attracting considerable attention.

The electrical show in the basement together with the food demonstrators, proved wonderful drawing cards, many visiting these without taking in the upstairs displays.

More Children's Books Placed on Shelves of Library This Past Week

Mrs. Hazel Hagrim, librarian, reports that several more books have been received at the Carnegie library this past week, several of them being children's books, nearly all of which are in demand in the libraries in other cities and well recommended to the local library board.

The books which have already been placed on the shelves up to this time include the following: Secret of Spirit Lake, Acres; Driftwood, Sonnari Smoky, James; As the Crow Flies, Bailey; Mary Ann, Bailey; Miles; Hadita, Moon; Popover Family; Phillips; Flash, the Last Pack Mare; Trail of the Iron Hand, McNeil; Silent Scout, Skinner; Tale of Peter Rabbit, Potter; Overall Boy in Switzerland, Gryer; An Old Fashioned Girl, Alcott; Fifty famous people, Baldwin; Fifty famous stories, Baldwin; Dutch Twins, Perkins; Japanese Twins, Perkins; Pioneer Twins, Perkins; Dr. Dolittle's Garden, Lofting; Story of Doctor Dolittle, Lofting; Adventures of Pinocchio, Collodi; The Spy, Cooper; The Pioneers, Cooper.

Those in charge of the library wish to caution the boys and girls who have been in the habit of running over the lawn for the shortest distance, and since the frost is out of the ground, this tendency is still present. Much time, care and expense has been used in getting a nice lawn started, and the walks laid are one of the attractive sights of the city. A little thoughtfulness on the part of each one, the library board states, will help to keep it looking nice.

Four Golf Enthusiasts Visited Links Sunday

The warm weather last week started up the golf links to such an extent that four of the local members made the trip to Grand Forks Sunday for the real playing of the season. President John P. Curtiss, Hans G. Chamberlain, F. Lewis McCullough and W. H. Mann were the players.

Report Shows Nearly All Crops Marketed

Minnesota farmers have marketed practically their entire grain crop according to a report issued by Paul H. Kirk, Minnesota agricultural statistician, showing that stocks of wheat, oats, barley and rye on the farms March 1, 1928, were but 5 per cent less than the same date a year ago.

Stocks of only two of these crops, barley and rye, show greater amount on the farm than a year ago, the report said.

Chemicals Quickly Quench Small Fire Last Sunday

The fire department was summoned Sunday forenoon to a small residence fire in the Soo addition, caused by Martin Bolton where a fire had started in the kitchen, caused by the igniting of the grain rations," says Mark A. McCarty of the animal husbandry division of the University of Minnesota.

"Result of feeding trials at Univerrsity Farms show that full feeding brings about $2.50 more per pig than does limited grain feeding. Full feeding in dry lots is shown to be more profitable than limiting the grain ration.

"Full feeding from birth to market will be found, under average conditions, a charge of having litgner in his possession for sale, taken before Justice Oscar Pearson, and bound over to the district court of Marshall county.

Famous Spaulding Herd at Warren Will Be Sold

Announcement in this week made by Paul Sweet that the famous Spaulding herd at Warren will be shipped to Mr. Paul, where a dispersal sale of the entire herd will be held on April 2. Eighty head of fine cattle will comprise the shipment, and undoubtedly will bring fancy prices at the sale at the state fair grounds.

The Well-Fed Pig Is The Most Profitable

"Pork producers with few exceptions will make more money from their 1928 pig crop by full feeding their pigs from birth to market than by limiting the grain ration," says Mark A. McCarty of the animal husbandry division of the University of Minnesota.

New Weed Circular Attacks Quack Grass

Methods of eradicating quack grass on small acres and on large cultivated fields are given in Circular 23, "Quack Grass Control," by A. C. Arny of the farm management staff of the University of Minnesota. Copies of the circular can be had by writing the Office of Publications or the Extension Division of the University at St. Paul. The circular is the forerunner of others which will be prepared in popular reading form to deal with such weed pests as perennial sow thistle, the mustards, wild oats, leafy spurge, dodder, etc.

GOOD ADVICE BUT A LITTLE LATE

The admonition of the state department of education, that rural communities should consider thoroughly their ability to pay the bill before contracting huge debts for finer school buildings, is wholesome advice, and would be very much appreciated by many rural communities had it been given a few years earlier. Being given at the present time the advice is about as appropriate as the cries of those who stand on the beach and urge a drowning man to come closer to shore. While we are glad to note the state department of education has discovered that too much money can be spent even for education, we would be glad to have the department figure out ways and means for some of the districts to pay for the buildings that were advised by the department only a few year ago.

YOUR DOLLAR'S DUTY

Here's one I have taken from the items in one of the leading cafes in St. George, Mo.: "No room in our kitchen for imitations of any kind, including oleomargarine and rotten stuff." And right up here in God's country where a half a million dollars comes into the little community every year from the product of the raw folks call oleomargarine.

As Tim suggests, the dairy—industry—deserves the whole-hearted support of the entire northwest. The discouraging thing about this picture is not that folks sell oleo up here. You can't hate anybody for selling what people want to buy. The discouraging thing is that there are so many who want to buy butter substitutes. There are dairy farmers who hail butterfat to the creamery and buy oleo for use at home. That's about as brainy a thing to do as a printer sending out of town for his personal stationery. We know that butter is high —about twice as high as the substitutes—but, if it is a question of price why not use just half as much butter. Every dollar spent for butter in this community helps pay the bills of this community, while the dollar spent for a substitute wanders away. Dollars are scarce. Patronizing home industry whenever possible will make them more plentiful

WE ARE IN THE LINE OF FLIGHT

It is probable that regular mail and express air service will be established between the Twin Cities and Winnipeg in the near future. And while it is likely that the route of this service will be through Grand Forks and Fargo, this city is in the line of flight and will be visited occasionally by the flyers. Steps should be taken immediately to mark the city for the convenience of occasional pilots and some planning for future use. Aviation is progressing at a rapid rate and is headed in our direction. Whether it passes us by or pauses here in its flight depends to some extent on the inducements we offer it. The following clipping on town marking is interesting:

> The Department of Commerce has asked small cities and towns to erect aerial guideposts for the benefit of overhead traffic. A big city is usually recognized easily enough by its distinguished buildings or its general location.
> Smaller communities, on the other hand, bear each other strong resemblance from the air. Even small town dwellers who resent the assumption in "Main Street," that all American towns were alike and ugly, would probably here to admit that airplane views of the towns in any section of the same state are very alike. The formula for the small town generally includes a few shaded residences streets, a pleasant park, a town hall, a consolidated school building, a few churches, a one or two-street business district and a railroad station.
> So out with the paint brush and up on the railroad station roof to put the name of the town where those who fly may read! Chrome yellow letters on a dark back-ground are suggested. Possibly radium outlines will be needed for night.

CAN YOU TRUST MEN?

(Pittsburg Press)

You don't know whom you can trust these days, do you? Every fellow out for himself, willing to cut under you for his own personal gain.

Well, let's get out of here. Go somewhere where you can trust your fellow man. But it's a bad night to go out. Dark, stormy and windy.

What's the big line overboard? Oh, merely a high-tension wire has been cast-off reels of electricity in it. But you don't think anything of walking under it. You know the lineman had made it safe.

Now we'll get in a taxi and ride to the station. Get to hurry, if we're to catch the train. This fellow certainly knows how to drive. Takes a steady hand to keep out of a crash, but will not worry about that.

Bump! Into a hole in the street. Traffic strain on the springs and the car. But nothing breaks. Several big men at forge and lathe had done their work well. Those who fastened the nuts and bolts when the car was assembled did their work.

Well, here we are at the station. We crawl into our berths and go gracefully to sleep. The train plows on through the dark and stormy night—men at the throttle holds the well-being of hundreds in his hand. Water storms against the glass through which he peers out at the light of two. The signal is read and construction awaits. Yet some other man, a nonentity in the cosmic scheme, has seen to it that all signal lights are burning.

And other obscure toilers who have repaired the track that day have gauged it and fastened it in its proper place.

And so it go's. Every day we trust our fellow men, men in far-off places, men whom we never see, men who, in the routine of their lives, know, nor care—but, if it is a question of price why not use just half as much butter. Every dollar spent for butter in this community helps pay the bills of this community, while the dollar spent for a substitute wanders away. Dollars are scarce. Patronizing home industry whenever possible will make them more plentiful

THE RIGHT WORD

(Mark Twain)

A powerful agent is the right word; it lights the reader's way and makes it plain; a close approximation to it will answer, and much traveling is done in a well-enough fashion by its help, but we do not welcome it and applaud it and rejoice in it as we do when the right one blazes out on us. Whatever we come upon one of those intensely right words in a book or a newspaper the resulting effect is physical as well as spiritual, and electrically prompt. It shoots exquisitely around through the walls of the mouth and tastes as hot and spicy and delicious as the autumn-butter that creams the sumac-berry. One has no time to examine the word and vote upon its rank and standing by automatic recognition of its supremacy is so immediate. There is a plenty of acceptable literature which deals largely in approximations, but it may be likened to a flat landscape seen through the rain; the right word would dismiss the rain, then you would see it better.

SECRETARY OF STATE MENTIONED IN RHYME

Mrs. Thelma Hoidy Erickson of this city is in receipt of a verse appearing in the personal issue of the Minneapolis Tribune in compliment to her father, Mike Holm, secretary of state, which was written by P. A. Varnah, a signal dispatcher at fire alarm headquarters in Minneapolis. He had been sent a draft for five cents by Mr. Holm as compensation on his auto license.

He became so enthusiastic about the honesty of Minnesota's secretary of state that he sat down and penned an ode to Mr. Holm. It follows.

We think about our state and draft
But we are wrong for here's a draft
A fine example of our 'trust
If otherwise our state would bust
You cannot find a man more fair
Than our own Mike, he's on the square.
The draft I'll keep for many years
And save among my souvenirs.
Mr. Crank says as he is going to have the check framed with a copy of the verse inspired by its arrival.

OLD TAGS APRIL 15 JOKE MAY BE ON YOU

April 1 is a good day to be cautious about picking up pocket books and kicking old derbies off the sidewalk. It is also a good day to put on your 1928 license plates if you haven't got one before, says a State Highway bulletin. The last day for the use of the 1927 plates may be legally used, and if you have leave them on the rear tag on your car April 1, it is no April fool joke.

The Secretary of State has sent new plates to all who made application before March 15, and there were no wrong amounts or other errors made correspondence necessary.

ONE THOUSAND BABY CHICKS DUE MONDAY OF NEXT WEEK

The Thief River Hatchery, located on LaPore avenue between Third and Fourth streets, expects to have the first of its batches of baby chicks ready on Monday or Tuesday of next week, all of them for local delivery except one going by parcel post.

Thereafter every week additional hatches will be made ready, the machines being placed in operation next week as demands are increasing steadily the proprietors stated today. One thousand chicks are scheduled for next week, while the capacity of the two machines is 13,000 eggs.

Chrysler "72" performance makes all other performance in its field seem as out-of-date as last year's license plates. All you have to do is to ride in a "72," and drive it to appreciate the difference.

Only Chrysler's great engineering staff and precision manufacturing organization could have developed 72 smooth horse power from an engine of such moderate size.

You can, at will, do 72 miles an hour and more—velvety, easy miles—due to this unique and vibrationless engine with counterweighted seven-bearing crankshaft.

It takes mountain grades at constant acceleration. In traffic, the "72" flashes to the fore with characteristic Chrysler get-away.

Only a demonstration can prove to you just how much better the "72" performs.

EXERCISE CARE IN ERECTION OF RURAL SCHOOLS

Rural Districts May Find Themselves in Bad Fix With Expensive Buildings

Moderation in the building of consolidated schools in the rural districts of Minnesota was strongly urged by J. M. McConnell, state commissioner of education, in a talk before the members attending the state convention of school board members last week, to which convention P. M. Benson and L. M. Bayson of the local schools had been sent.

"The consolidated school is not a panacea for all ills," said Mr. McConnell. "When too much money is spent in building the school, the board is likely to find itself in the position of the man who has bought an expensive car on the installment plan and has no money left to buy gasoline. The board will have a fine school but no teaching staff or equipment."

Opposition to M. E. A. Meet

Among other important matters discussed at the meeting was that of the annual M. E. A. convention during November, considerable opposition to holding of the meeting during school session having been iterated last fall, many claiming that the meeting should be during some vacation period.

A resolution was adopted providing for the appointment of a committee to meet with the executive committee of the M. E. A. before the annual convention in November, in an attempt to decide on meeting dates that will not take teachers away from school. The rural section of the convention passed resolutions against the teacher tenure law and in favor of increasing the minimum term length from seven to nine months, now appealing before the state legislature. The convention went on record as favoring the present school aid bill. L. H. Colvin of Wadena was unanimously elected president of the association yesterday.

DEPENDENT WINS DIVORCE IN DECREE JUST FILED

Anna Marie Lundberg was granted a divorce from August Lundberg in a decree handed down Tuesday and filed with Clerk of Court Adolf Palmer here on Wednesday of this week.

According to the findings of the court Mr. Lundberg, the plaintiff in the action tried before Judge Andrew Gunderland of Warren district court here on Feb 28, a whole day being occupied in the introduction of the evidence, was denied his motion for divorce, his wife being granted the absolute divorce and permitted to resume her maiden name, Anna Marie Vik.

The defendant is also entitled to $25 per month alimony for one year and $10 per month thereafter; she is also entitled to costs and disbursements incurred by her in the trial.

SEVERAL FROM HERE ATTEND SHORT COURSE

County Agent Robert M. Douglas reports that several boys and girls are in attendance at the short course being conducted this week at the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston. Most of the girls are there learning bread making as demonstrated by representatives from the state university extension department.

RURAL CREDIT LEGISLATION IS AGAIN ENDORSED

State School Board Convention Favors Title Being Put On Forclosed Lands

State-wide recognition of the aims of the recently appointed Commercial club committee to secure remedial legislation regarding taxation of state owned lands under control of the Rural Credits bureau was secured again last week, when a resolution of the state school board convention endorsed such a plan. The matter was presented to the resolutions committee by Dr. E. McDonnell of this city, a member of the local Commercial club committee, who later explained the matter in the convention as a whole, the result of which was the unanimous approval of the request.

Mr. Bennes was in attendance at the state school board meeting, together with I. M. Hayem.

Foreclosed Land Not Taxed Now

The section of the resolutions pertaining to this matter, according to Mr. Bennes, is as follows:

—Inasmuch as the Rural Credit bureau of the State of Minnesota has loaned money on lands in this state, and in some instances foreclosures have been made, and the Rural Credit bureau as authorized by law, is given the owner of these lands, holding it for the State of Minnesota; and

Furthermore, the law provides that such acquired lands are not subject to taxation, except for special taxes; therefore

Be It Resolved, that this association go on record as favoring an amendment to the Rural Credit bureau law in some manner that will enable, and permit the said Rural Credit bureau to pay taxes on such acquired lands out of the Rural Credit bureau general fund; and

Be It Further Resolved, that concerted action be taken by the state at next legislature to recognize the unfairness to the various school districts that are affected.

SUDDEN TEMPERATURE DIP FOLLOWS WARMEST RECORD

The temperature took a sudden drop the first of the week, following a period of warm weather, the official thermometer of Weather Observer L. M. Rayne was reaching a maximum of 86 last Thursday afternoon—the warmest day of the year. The coldest record during the past week was nine above.

SIX STATE LAND SALES HAVE BEEN SCHEDULED

State Auditor Ray P. Chase, has announced six land sales of state owned land to be held during the month of May, all of them in northern Minnesota.

An effort has been made, according to Mr. Chase, to offer only land which will be attractive to the homeseeker. He urged all prospective purchasers to see the land before making a deal.

Improved state land is sold only to actual settlers, who must agree to establish residence on the tract within 12 months and improve it properly. A first payment of 15 per cent is required in the case of improved land, this sum representing part payment on the improvements, sales already arranged will be in the following counties: Beltrami, May 8; Itasca, May 10; Aitkin, May 11; Cass, May 12; Koochiching, May 19; and St. Louis, May 25.

Northwest Agricultural School Makes Statement of Goods to Germany

Pure seed samples of 25 leading varieties of Minnesota field crops have been shipped from the Northwest Experiment station to be used in trials at the South German Agricultural College at Hohenheim, Germany, according to an announcement made by Supt. R. A. Dewell of Crookston.

The request for the Minnesota seed came from Otto Waggershauser of Wuertemberg, who, in company with a party of German students, including Dr. Karl Schuster and Ernest Strom of the Landwirtschaft High School, Bonn, Germany, visited the school last July. "Among the varieties furnished were Minden and Cree wheat, Velvet barley, Gopher and Anthony oats. Mr. Waggershauser plans to try out these varieties on his own farm in South Germany, as well as at the Hohenheim College.

"After visiting your station," writes Mr. Waggershauser, "we traveled thru the Dakotas and also visited many of the state experiment stations, completing our trip in California. I was impressed with the work of the Minnesota schools at Crookston, which we visited at St. Paul, Grand Rapids, and Crookston. While we have a good high school, system in Germany, we have no agricultural college on the island, which communities as is the case in Minnesota, where the schools are brought in direct contact with the farm and the home thru home project and extension work."

First 24 Hours of Life, Baby's Hardest Time

Marie K. Johnson

By MARIE K. JOHNSON

Undoubtedly it is one of the most common of the causes of infant mortality, according to Miss Marie K. Johnson, nurse in charge of Infant Welfare Work in Chicago. Statistics show that of 4,622 babies under one year of age that died in 12 months, 899 died in the first 24 hours.

Eight hundred and seventy-six died in the first six days, exclusive of the first 24 hours, and 1,796 died from the second to the fifth month. Eight hundred and sixty died in the last six months of the year. The survey indicated that a surprisingly large number of infants are artificially fed, which condition, doctors agree, had a marked bearing on their indebtedness to conditions. Naturally, no one food can prove satisfactory in every case, although the survey showed that evaporated milk in many cases had proved an excellent substitute for mother's milk. This may be explained by reason of the fact that evaporated milk is a finely pure, pasteurized cow's milk from which 60 per cent of the water has been removed. It contains practically every element necessary for good health and is consequently an excellent builder of bone and tissue.

Although authorities on health recommend evaporated milk as a baby food, like other substitutes for the natural supply, it should not be considered as a food complete in itself. Addition of orange or tomato juice, barley water, or cereal will be found a most helpful and inexpensive addition to the infant's diet.

Where the milk of dependable purity is essential. Market milk will not keep for any length of time and is very liable to contamination, especially in hot weather, while evaporated milk, hermetically sealed in sterilized containers, remains as fresh and pure as on the day it was canned.

Similarly to evaporated milk, authorities agree, is one of the most important foods for the farm. In powdered form, evaporated milk is subjected to 240 degrees heat for a half hour, thereby removing all possibility of bacterial life being present in the milk. Heat is the only preservative for this type of milk and the heat has the further beneficial effect of making the curds of milk more flocculent and easier to digest.

How Tomahawks Were Made

Although the American Indians originated the tomahawk they later imported them. The tomahawk as originally made by the Indians was made of deer horn or stone attached to a crooked wooden handle with a piece of hide. The horn or stone was chipped out in the shape of a blade and sharpened. They used them to skin their trophies and for scalping human beings in time of war. But when the European came over they found a more ingenious way of making tomahawks, and traded great numbers of them to the Indians. The European tomahawks were combined spear and tomahawk. The handles were hollow and used as stems for the pipe bowls in the knobs opposite the blades.

How Bottles Are Cleaned

When the thermos flask needs cleaning the best way to do it is to put in enough vinegar to cover only the bottom of the flask; then add a small handful of eggshells, well crushed into pieces. Then half fill the flask with cold water, and let it soak for a time—say an hour or two. Shake well to make the eggshell clean off any crust or grease; empty the flask; rinse it well with cold water and turn upside down to drip and dry.

Are we a nation of spenders, or buyers?

THERE are persons, of course, who "throw their money to the winds." There are "free spenders" and those who "don't know the value of a dollar." Every community in America has at least a few wayward sons.

But we cannot properly be called a nation of spenders. We are a nation of industrious, progressive folks, whose buying power is tremendous. And we certainly do exert that power.

In this community, as elsewhere, we keep our money pretty much in circulation. But we are buying, not wastefully spending. We are investing in homes and their equipment, in clothing and food, in health and the comforts of life.

The greatest aid to such wise use of money is the newspaper with its group of display advertisements. Folks who consistently read the ads—and follow their advice—are not inclined to waste their earnings. They readily learn the wisdom of exchanging their funds only for those things that bring them genuine happiness.

Artificial Light May Be Used to Control Certain Species of Fish at Night

The season for spearing fish with artificial lights opened on March 25, and will continue till April 20, according to information received by Deputy Game Warden William Forster, who says however states that this is not applicable here, for it applies to regions between the Red River of the North and Red Lakes and does not open till April 20, and will continue till June 1.

There is also some misunderstanding as to what fish may be so taken, said Mr. Forster. Carp, sucker fish, suckers, red horse and gar are the only species which may be speared during either of the above mentioned seasons. Some fishermen were of the opinion that pickerel were included, but inquiry reveals that they are taboo, and it is a violation of the law to spear them.

PORK PROFITS DEPEND ON GOOD MANAGEMENT

"Prevent losses of new born pigs or greatly reduce them if you desire increase profits on your 1928 hog crop," says Mark A. McCarty of the animal husbandry division at University Farm. "The frequent report that 'sows and litters are doing fine' is misleading. Between 1,000,000 and 1,125,000 pigs, or about 4 for 5 which is a normal allowance, are lost during normal farrowing season. Should the 1928 spring pig crop be reduced 10 per cent, it would mean a difference of over $40,000,000 in the value of the crop. Careful management can prevent this loss. Many helpful suggestions on how to prevent losses in pig crops are given in Extension Bulletin 74, 'Care and Feeding of Swine,' given away 'piecers' of value. Such bulletins may be obtained without cost from the Office of Publications, University Farm, St. Paul.

In powdered form, evaporated milk is subjected to 240 degrees heat for a half hour, thereby removing all possibility of bacterial life being present in the milk. Heat is the only preservative for this type of milk and the heat has the further beneficial effect of making the curds of milk more flocculent and easier to digest.

FOUR SELECTED FOR NATIONAL CLUB CAMP

Representing nearly 25,000 4-H club members in Minnesota, Mildred L. Bennet of Elmdale, Georgia Mae Moses of Winona, William T. Acker of Elbow Lake and Frederick Welch of Minneapolis will be numbers of the second annual National Club Camp at Washington, D. C., June 21 to 26. They were selected for outstanding work in various club projects and for ability displayed as leaders of others in the work. All four have been club members for years or more. Miss Bennet was selected for the Washington trip after Annie Peterson of Roseau county, Sophia Iverbroen of Lyon county, Fremont Peters of Houston county, and Marbert Soren of Dakota county.

BIRD CENSUS TAKERS WANTED BY U. S. BIOLOGICAL SURVEY

Bird students are invited this year as in the past to assist the Biological Survey of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in taking the census of breeding birds on tracts convenient to their homes. Such a census of breeding birds means an important conservation by species, of the birds that actually nest within the bounds of a selected area. It does not include birds that merely visit the area, birds that nest just outside the boundaries, and migrants.

Information regarding the making of a bird census may write to the Biological Survey, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., for directions, census blanks, and a reprint containing the necessary pages for mailing the reports.

ANOTHER BANK CHARTER GRANTED IN ROLETTE BLOCK

ALTO BORDER REGISTRATION NOW NO LONGER NECESSARY

Despatches from Washington last week state that millions of American automobilists will be relieved of the nuisance of federal registration of their machines on crossing the Canadian and Mexican borders this summer. The official announcement was made by Acting Customs Commissioner Frank Dow, effective at once.

Clever Stunt Now Worked by Short Change Artists

Authorities in cities thruout the state are being warned of another flim flam of getting money for nothing. A stranger goes into a store or restaurant and makes a purchase, giving a ten dollar bill and getting his change.

Shortly after another stranger calls and makes a small purchase, tendering a one dollar bill. When he gets his change he states that he thought he gave a ten dollar note in payment—not a dubber bill. To prove it, he tells the clerk that there were certain figures on his ten dollar bill.

They are found, and the second stranger gets the dollars additional and goes his way. The two men have already left town when the loss is discovered. Several merchants in the northwest have been caught in the flim flam, and a general warning is being broadcast.

One out of every 13 people in the United States dies by accident.

JOINT SCHOOL DISTRICT ENTERED FOR STATE AID

At a special meeting of the patrons of school district No. 56, which is a joint district with Red Lake county, lying located a mile and a half south of Ihlen in Deer Park township, held Saturday afternoon, the school was entered on the state aid list of schools by a vote taken.

The additional equipment necessary to classify as a state aided school will be purchased and will be in readiness for next fall. Better equipment will mean better teaching, consequently greater advantages for the pupils in attendance, according to Supt. Gunderson of Thief River Falls. Supt. Pouliot of Red Lake Falls and H. T. McKnight of the Waterman-Waterbury Heating Co., who were present at the meeting. They discussed the items pertaining to state aid.

Supt. Gunderson hopes that the few schools in the county not on the state aided list will follow the example of this district and make plans to become classified as such in the near future.

NEW HIGHWAY PLAN MEANS FEWER JOBS

There will be no great number of jobs for truck drivers as a result of the State Highway commission's decision to motorize its maintenance equipment, in fact it looks as if there will be none at all.

Since announcement was made that the department intended to change from team patrols to truck patrols, Commissioner C. R. Babcock and all the maintenance superintendents have been almost deluged with applications from persons who wanted to drive trucks for the department. But Mr. Babcock says that there are plenty of the former maintenance patrolmen who can handle the new trucks, so that there will be no new jobs.

Each of the new truck units will replace four of the team patrols. Nearly all the present patrolmen own teams and trucks. Besides that they have a knowledge of road conditions and maintenance methods, and they will be given preference in organizing the truck patrols. Those who cannot be employed as heads of truck units will in many cases be given other employment. The total number of men to be added will be slightly less than under the old plan.

GOPHERS WILL WATCH IOWA ROAD BOND BILL

Minnesota good roads advocates will watch with interest the outcome of the $100,000,000 road bond issue which will be voted on by the people of Iowa at the general election next November. The special session of the Legislature, which met March 5 at the call of Governor Hammill, passed the referendum bill and adjourned March 14. The vote on the bill was 32 to 17 in the senate and 64 to 43 in the House.

The proposed plan, if adopted by the voters, will give Iowa 1,973 miles of paved highway and permit grading and graveling the remaining 12,000 miles in the state system. It is expected that this work will be finished within six years.

The bill authorizes a tax levy sufficient to pay the interest and principal of the bonds, but this is done only for the purpose of getting the lowest interest rates which can be obtained only if the state's credit is behind the bonds. License and gas taxes are ample to pay the interest and retire the bonds, and make it certain that no direct tax will be levied.

ALONG LIFE'S TRAIL

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

FREEDOM

"If thou shalt be free, indeed," a wise man said, "not when your days are without a care, nor your nights without a want and a grief; but rather when these things girdle your life and yet you rise above them naked and unbound."

Davis had no freedom during his life, and he died a slave. He had never known poverty. He had married a young woman of some prosperity and he had himself received from his father a fair inheritance which he had managed with care and judgment. Davis was a farmer and he enjoyed to the utmost the farmer's opportunity to worry over the weather and the prices of goods.

He had never had a very severe illness, but he was nearly free from the fear that he would have. He had all of the symptoms of hypochondria when proprietary cures for that interesting malady filled the columns of newspapers. The slightest eruption on any part of his body was over-loved over cancer, and he lived poverty every day of his life in spite of the fact that his income was far in excess of his needful desires. His sisters were striped him, but they were all headed for the poor house," he used to say.

Even the prospect of death offered him no suggestion of freedom, for as old age came on years and more he was supposed with fear as to what the outcome would be. And yet he had been generous and honest and kind, and more considerate of his neighbors than of himself, but he could never rise untrammeled above the fears and the self-imposed cares which oppressed him, and, as I said, with every chance for freedom, he died a slave.

I always suppose, when I knew him in college, that Hanson had not a care in his world. He was always in a good humor, always with a jest on his tongue, other boys complained of their hard luck and of the hard work.

I found later that Hanson was getting no help from home. Worse than that, he was often called on to help out the home folks in addition to looking after himself. His father was a poor dry-goods who had to be looked after and helped as a child might be helped, and Hanson seemed to be the only responsible one in the family.

"I do the best I can," he said, "and then forget about it. It is a weak man who cannot rise above trouble and misfortune."

Hanson knew what freedom is.

PECTIN EXTRACTS IN FRUIT JELLIES

Can Be Made in Winter and Used Later in Spring.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Certain fruit juices make good jellies, while others are not commonly considered suitable for jelly-making. Sugar, acid and pectin must be present in fairly definite proportions for the formation of a jelly. Fruit juices that do not "jell" are usually low in acid or pectin, or both. It is possible to supply acid in the form of lemon juice; and pectin by means of home-made pectin extracts from apples or the white rind of oranges and lemons.

The use of these pectin extracts is small, measured amounts has several advantages. They can be made during the winter and used later in the spring or summer. They enable one to make good jelly from such fruits as raspberries, strawberries, peaches, pears, cherries, rhubarb, and others which are often low in natural pectin. They shorten the cooking time of juices which frequently must be concentrated before they can be used for jelly-making. In making jam from these fruits with the addition of pectin, the cooking time is so shortened that the jam is a favor more nearly like that of the fresh fruit, and the number of glasses obtained is somewhat greater, than when jam must be cooked for a long time.

The home pectin extracts are lacking in pronounced flavor, and do not greatly modify the natural flavor of the fruits which they are added. The choice of apples or citrus fruits for making pectin extracts is largely a matter of local convenience and expense, although it is desired to make these extracts in the winter and store them for use during the later season, apple pectin extracts are preferable. They can be bottled directly after making, whereas the citrus pectin extract, which does not keep so well, must be processed in a hot-water bath if it is to be stored. Glass canning jars are desirable to prevent waste when only a small amount of pectin extract is required at jelly-making time.

Pectin extracts should be used only with ripe, full-flavored fruits which are deficient in natural pectin or which require concentrating before making jelly. They should never be used to conceal the inferiority of watered juices. Detailed directions for making and using pectin extracts may be obtained from the United States Department of Agriculture.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

DISEASE AND RADIUM

IF RADIUM is to be the cure-all of our diseases, our country will shortly be the Mecca of the suffering and the home of the diseased.

There is within the state of New York more of the precious metal than in any other similar area in the world and the great hospitals are racing with the state authorities to get more.

There is in the whole world a few ounces of radium. A hundred thousand dollars' worth of it can be contained in a small lead tube that you could put in your pocket and never know it was there from its bulk.

There is nothing in the world so nearly like radium as the human mind.

No two things that are so continually active.

Did you ever realize how continuously at work your mind is?

Did you ever try to stop thinking and find out how impossible it is?

Did you ever stop to consider that not a single heart beat, not one function of your body, is possible without some kind of mental control? It is not, of course, conscious effort. You do not think, "I will make my heart beat," but ever the connection between your heart and your brain and the beat of the heart exists.

We know little or nothing about radium. Even those physicians who are advising its use and spending thousands of dollars in its acquirement are not at all sure that they have discovered a cure for cancer and other inflammed growths.

They thought once that bleeding would cure a fever, and Washington died more from the loss of blood than from the disease that attacked him.

The gathering of a considerable fraction of the world's supply of radium in the great hospital institutions of New York, where it will be used by the ablest and the world's physicians, means, however, that the next few years are going to teach us more about its medical properties than we have ever known.

We may find that as an all wise Creator combined in a gram of radium enough medical properties to overcome all disease.

The thing that will solve these problems will be the thing which in its characteristics is most like the thing it is investigating—the power of human thought—the activity of the human brain.

It will be supreme self-confidence back of a friendship that is worth while.

One may deny an erroneous report about himself but to complain entirely, but with reluctance.

LARGE MAVIE RESIDENCE MOVED HERE ON ELECTRIC

A large two story residence that was erected a few years ago on the eastern outskirts of Mavie was recently purchased by H. E. Patterson of this city, who early this month loaded it onto a flatcar on the Electric road, and last Sunday moved it to Thief River Falls.

The structure is 32 by 24 feet in size and presented a considerable distance on both sides of the flatcar, but it was securely trussed to the car, and was hauled in the city safely without a mishap of any kind, although the wind was quite strong on the prairie at times.

Mr. Patterson will shortly move the house to Main Ave. onto vacant property between Ninth and Seventh streets. In the meantime it will be unloaded and left along the right of way near Eighth street.

McCORMICK - DEERING
15-30 and 10-20 Tractors

EVIDENCE is seen at every hand that farmers are pulling more profit out of their acres with power and machines that put more accomplishment into every working day, increasing production and reducing costs. Your acres offer equal opportunities for this new-day power farming equipment.

When you turn to power farming, take your tip from the widespread popularity of McCormick-Deering equipment. Your neighbors are making money with McCormick-Deering tractors and machines. Talk to one or more of them about the economy, long life, full-feythier power, and easy operation of their McCormick-Deering tractors. If possible, climb on a McCormick-Deering yourself and pilot it over the soil. Your experience will prove an eye-opener.

McCormick-Deering tractor power, and the big-capacity machines that go with it, will work a magic transformation in all of your important operations.

During the coming weeks think of your crop production in terms of modern power farming. Figure what it will mean to you to save a day here and a week there as the season progresses. Think of the advantages of doing more thorough work while you are doing it in less time than ever before.

Important Announcement to every owner of a Model T Ford

ON MAY 25, 1927, when Henry Ford first announced his plans for making a new car, he announced also that he would continue to make parts for the Model T Ford. He said:

"The Model T Ford car was a pioneer. It blazed the way for the motor industry and started the movement for good roads everywhere. It broke down the barriers of distance in rural sections, brought people in these sections closer together, and placed education within the reach of everyone. We are still proud of the Model T Ford. If we were not, we would not have continued to make it so long."

For twenty years, the Model T Ford led the automobile industry and it still serves more people than any other automobile. Over one-third of all the automobiles in use today are Model T Fords — an indication of the sturdy worth of the car and its value to people in all walks of life the world over.

The Ford Motor Company will continue to make replacement parts for these cars "until the last Model T is off the road." That is a part of Ford service. That is what Henry Ford meant when he said: "We believe that when a man buys one of our cars we should keep it running for him as long as we can and at the lowest up-keep cost."

Because of this policy a considerable part of the Ford manufacturing plants is given over to the making of parts for the Model T Ford. These replacement parts are made of the same material and in the same way as those from which your car was originally assembled.

Make it a point, therefore, to see the nearest Ford dealer and have him look over your Model T Ford. You may find that a very small expenditure will enable you to get thousands of miles of additional service, and at the same time protect the money you have invested in your car.

Peterson-Biddick Open Branch at Twin Valley

The Peterson-Biddick Co. last week opened another one of their branch houses, this time at Twin Valley, giving them six houses at the present time. The business was originally started at Wadena in 1910 and as conditions warranted expansion followed, till now there are also branches at Thief River Falls and Crookston in Minnesota and at Jamestown and Rugby, North Dakota.

The company not only buys poultry, eggs and potatoes, but also deals of both field and garden variety in most of their branches. Last year the company handled close to fifty cars of seed alone, over two million dozen eggs and one and a half million pounds of poultry. The parent house at Wadena has a feeding and dressing capacity of 21,000 birds per week.

Officers of the company are president, J. F. Peterson of Wadena; vice president, George L. Biddick of Thief River Falls; secretary, Elisabeth M. Hoef Wadena; and treasurer, H. A. Beach of Jamestown.

DOGS RANGING ON REFUGES MAY BE SHOT, SAYS LAW

It is unlawful for hunters to run their dogs in any game refuge of the state. Dogs found running in the reserves can and will be shot, as they are a menace to wild life which the state seeks to propogate in these refuge areas, says J. V. Gould of the state game and fish commission.

AUGUSTANA LUTHERANS TO IMPROVE CHURCH KITCHEN

Among building improvements planned for the coming year will be that of remodelling the kitchen of the Augustana Lutheran church. The contract for which was this week awarded to K. A. Sundahl. The walls and ceiling of the kitchen will be rolled up, while several cupboards are to be installed at the same time, contributing to the convenience and attractiveness of that portion of the church.

Another improvement to be effected on Horace avenue between Third and Fourth streets will be the installation possibly this summer of stained glass windows.

Wind Breaks Valuable on Farms, Declaration of Forestry Man Here

Parker Anderson, formerly at Goodridge, and now connected with the Forestry extension department of the state university, was in the city this week conferring with County Agent Robert M. Douglas regarding the planting of wind breaks in the county. Mr. Anderson is trying to get half a dozen or more this spring to make a start with the breaks, using trees generally found in this section, that they are well acclimated and well suited for the purpose.

Not only is a windbreak useful in protecting fruit especially, but also it protects the home and farm buildings as well, furnishing shelter when the storms rage again, said Mr. Anderson, the fuel for the home may be secured by thinning purposes and the surplus may be sold. There are also available frequently when thinning the wind breaks.

A survey of the wind breaks put in this spring will be made by Mr. Anderson this fall, and a talk will be given to interested farmers at that time.

MAINTAINED HIGHWAYS GOOD - HIGHWAY ENGINEER REPORTS

Trunk highways and state aid roads in Pennington county are in better condition at this time following the annual spring break-up than they have been for years, according to E. F. Umland, highway engineer, who interrogated in the matter by a reporter for The Times. However, many of the township roads where there is no gravel covering are in quite bad condition, reports Indicate.

Frisky Horse Breaks Capt. Hovland's Nose on Sunday Afternoon

Capt. A. Hovland, living southeast of the Joe Josephson, met with a severe accident Sunday afternoon, being kicked on the face by one of his new team of horses while being taken to water, his nose being broken and requiring his being taken to the Physicians hospital for treatment.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Hovland had decided to abandon their home in the city and try farming on their land east of the city this spring. A team of horses, recommended as being quite gentle, was purchased and on Sunday afternoon as customary Mr. and Mrs. Hovland took a team down to water. The one being led by the captain became frisky and, without warning wheeled around and kicked him in the face.

The nose was somewhat lacerated in addition to the nasal bone being broken, but attending physicians state that they have set the bone in such a manner as to not greatly disfigure the injured man. Intense pain was suffered Monday, after which the patient has been gradually improving.

LOCAL POTATO GROWERS TO HEAR SPECIALIST

Immediately following the meeting of the Commercial club this noon the potato growers and business men and ty and adjacent territory will hold a potato meeting in the club rooms, which is to be addressed by R. C. Sherwood, potato specialist with the state agricultural extension department. Special invitations were sent to all members of the Pennington county Potato Growers, but also available frequently when thinning the wind breaks.

The speaker will talk up the treating of seed potatoes, certification, production of tuberboblins, fertilizing and all other phases in connection with the growing of potatoes.

The New Easter Bonnet and the "Never-at-Home"

A style revolution has taken place right under our noses, the revolt of the Porch-and-Parlor ladies against the clothes rule of the Never-at-Homes.

For a long time now fashions have been created for women who had privileges rather than duties, and who spent most of their time romping around beaches where the sun goes at his work in an intense sort of way. Hats were shapeless felts, clothes were limp and easy and utterly devoid of feminine fur-below or charm. The woman who possessed a front and back porch and liked staying on them, seemed to have been utterly forgotten in the fashion scheme of things.

But if you will wander through the Millinery and Ready-to-wear departments of our store, you will see a new note of daintiness and allure in the models displayed. Dresses and hats for Easter are feminine even to fluffiness. There are ruffles and bows and softly fluttering laces. The Porch-and-Parlor ladies have once more come into their own.

INVESTIGATION OF FIRE HAZARDS HERE IS NOW UNDER WAY

Fire Chief Paul Middaugh Is Making Inspection Rounds of Business Section

Fire Chief Paul Middaugh has started his annual fire inspection of property in Thief River Falls, beginning with the railroad right of ways, and then the business section, finding several violations of city and state fire prevention regulations. The annual state inspection was also started this week and will cover 800 cities, villages and towns, under supervision of Geo. W. Wells, Jr., state insurance commissioner and fire marshall.

The larger cities of the state will be visited first and will occupy the time of the inspectors till April 20 when a start will be made in the smaller places. Chief Middaugh hopes that residents and businessmen of Thief River Falls will not delay their clean-up of premises any longer, now that the snow and ice have disappeared, permitting the removal of the winter accumulation of ashes, paper, etc.

Cauliflower Here Generally O. K.

State inspectors have found little here to complain of in the past, said Mr. Middaugh, but there are still several unsightly piles of inflammable refuse that will be required to be put by the business establishments that might result in a disastrous fire if the weather were to become dry.

Another phase that is receiving close attention at present is the cleaning of residences and stores. Insurance companies are calling the attention of the public generally this spring to the fact that they are beginning to realize that many fires originate in the basement. Rubbish and waste is allowed to accumulate and then a fire starts from a defective chimney, and that the insurance companies do not insure defective chimneys, and that the owner carries that risk and loss himself.

Clean Chimneys Regularly

This means that property owners should check up their chimneys and see that the chimneys are in good condition, and are regularly cleaned.

Members of the local fire department also expressed themselves as being more or less tired of being called out to the scene of chimney fires. If chimneys are regularly cleaned there will be no chimney fires.

161 Trapping Licenses Issued to Date County Auditor Anderson Says

County Auditor T. P. Anderson has issued 161 trappers' licenses so far this spring, many of those applying being attracted by the fancy prices for muskrat skins, which this year will command prices all the way from 80 cents each up to possibly $2.50, where in former years they only were worth up to a dollar, according to Chas. Fiterman, who is a large buyer of skins at various points in this vicinity.

The closed season on muskrats for the past four years has permitted the rats to increase rapidly and an excellent crop is expected by the trappers. In some communities the trappers have been over-zealous in the work with from 40 to 50 hides, but others have had only a few, while this vicinity no large catches have been reported, many of the rats freezing in their holes when the cold set their houses after the water receded.

The season opened March 20 and will continue to April 20, according to Mr. Anderson, who stated that a Times' reporter that there are no non-resident trappers' licenses. The law prohibits the use of a dog in the taking of muskrats. It is also unlawful to destroy muskrat houses or muskrat houses, burrows or abiding places of muskrats, except as may be trapped in their houses in such a manner as not to injure them, and the operation of the law be not affected, have been inserted or removed. Traps may not be placed under the ice in muskrat houses or in runways of muskrats or muskrat houses.

When the season was closed four years ago rats had been greatly reduced in number, and it is expected it would take years to restore them, but they have multiplied much more rapidly than expected.

STREET DEPARTMENT ACTIVE PLACING STREETS IN SHAPE

Before the snow and ice had completely disappeared last week after the several days of warm weather, the street department under the supervision of Street Commissioner Jay Hoff started putting the city's roads in shape for the summer's condition. A disc went over the streets as fast as they became a little softened, thereby permitting the sun and wind to dry up the ground. Since then efforts of the department have been devoted to some extent to opening up the crossed culverts, so that the gutters would drain better in case of rain.

Grindeland's Act Here Is Copied by Judge Haycraft When Jury Was Challenged

The recent action of Judge Andrew Grindeland of dismissing the petit jurors at the close of district court here and the entire list of jurors was challenged by Attorney J. M. Hibbon on the grounds of not having been properly drawn, in that no person had been placed thereon contrary to Minnesota statutes, was used as grounds by Judge Haycraft in the Martin county district court last week, when his attention was called to a similar situation there, and both the grand and petit juries dismissed.

Attorney Leo Seifert of Fairmont was employed by Attorney J. M. Hibbon in the present case, before the grand jury was even informed of what they had been called, and started that four of the five county commissioners had flatly refused for some time past to place the names of women on the jury lists, while the fifth commissioner had listed them on the petit jury but left them off the grand jury.

However, the judge issued orders for the drawing of a new list of jurors, and the commissioners were instructed to prepare the same within a week so that court would not be delayed too long.

SILVERTON

A number of young folks on misthief host assembled at the Fostelid home last Friday evening and with the piano, pails, saws, curbelle and all manner of more or less (mostly less) musical instruments proceeded to the Clarence Peterson home where they made more noise than Silverton ever heard before. Needless to say they were soon invited in and treats provided and an enjoyable evening was spent by the young folks, who are in good practice now for next time.

Frank Svobodny was busy hauling out potatoes last Tuesday, for which he received a dollar per bushel.

4-H Club Meeting Held

A small but interested number of persons attended the club meeting held at the Banner school last Saturday evening, County Agent Robert M. Douglas of Thief River Falls gave a talk on club work for the boys and girls. Nicant Ryland of Goodridge gave a short talk. A reading, given by the teacher, Gladys Thompson, was much enjoyed by all; and Mrs. Stanberry of Goodridge sang two old favorite songs in a very pleasing manner. Natalie Woolcom gave a short talk on her 4-H club experience. The meeting was good and the attendance should have been larger.

Our new mail man, Carl Hazvi, on the new mail route No. 4, is making the rounds in record time and we hope he will be as pleased with his patrons as they are with him so far, hence highly recommended by the patrons of his old route, No. 3, on the south side of the river.

Miss Neva Bartness and brother, John, visited Saturday evening at the Fostelid home.

Harold Matzky, who is employed at Fostelid's, spent Sunday at the Hartness home in Smiley.

Joseph Hegreness returned to his home in Silverton on Friday, where he will remain indefinitely.

LOCAL GOLF PLAYERS MAY ATTEND TWO JULY MEETINGS

Members of the local golf club are already talking of attending the 1928 tournament of the Central Minnesota Golf association, to which body the city will play Rush this year on July 9 and 10. Three dates will bring the tournament a week before the state meet at Brainerd and will permit setters an opportunity to brush up on their game for the state event, which will also draw some of the Thief River members.

Last year was the first time that the local club has had a membership in the state organization, and some of the members believe that Thief River should continue the practice.

MODELS

The annual Auto show, which Thief River has been sponsoring, is a step forward to metropolitan life. Many things are stored up by it, the most enjoyable being the fashion parade.

Models. They can be well built, attractive men and women, wearing the latest of seasonal fashion offerings. They parade the full length of the floor for the purpose of displaying and showing to the fullest advantage the clothes they wear. Their carriage, the affected walk, everything indicates their self-conscious pride in being well-dressed.

Then come in that colorless model which the scientist seeks and strives by invention but which springs from a draft little stifling of the worker's deductions.

But the largest meaning, the most beautiful interpretation this word can have—is—ability in man or woman. Faultless, yet fallible, as all human beings are, supreme in his accomplishments and honors, glorious even in his fault, over which will-power and determination work to their best. The model is not the studious, nor the highly athletic; you and I, with our ideals always ahead of us as we go through daily battles, advancing ever to the right, with talents of persistent entrance, the arc we must follow think we are, and true is no perfect but what a fellow-man can excel-lent.

ROSES ON WHITE IS GRADUATION DRESS OF SENIOR GIRLS

Trophy Cup To Be Class Of '28 Memorial Decided at Meeting

After much deliberation at a recent meeting the graduation costumes were decided upon.

The girls of the senior class will march down the aisle this spring, clothed in dainty gowns of white net which will glow American beauty roses.

At these commencement exercises the gentlemen will wear several kinds of suits, as they usually do.

This conclusion was reached following much discussion and argument at two successive class meetings. At the first of these, at which were both girls and boys, caps and gowns were advocated, and boys' garb were decidedly against.

It remained for the girls to hash out their views and ideas at a second meeting after school, following which the committee to select the material and uniform styles for the dresses was elected by the girls. This committee is composed of Margaret Hjelm, Ruby Ihle and Esther Nee.

This plan of having a uniform scheme was selected from several "good" suggestions made by the senior girls of the class. It is certain that the class of '28 will make a pleasing appearance in their final act this spring.

The present senior class has other vital matters at issue concerning their graduation, however. All graduation announcements must be ordered for the graduates and Elaine Konrad, Dorothy Sullivan, Chester Myrmo and Leslie Sundahl form a capable committee for this work.

It has been a custom for each graduating class to leave a memorial to the school, the last three classes having raised funds for the present electric clock and bell system. The Senior Class contemplate on presenting to the school a trophy cup, which will set off to advantage the many trophies in Lincoln High this year. A business trip will be made next Thursday by the committee in the official memorial committee, consisting of Chester Myrmo, Marguerite Johnson, Roy Hjerman, Marguerite Johnson, Roy Nelson and Esther Nee, who will note details of the trophy case in the Crookston High school.

SOPHOMORE BOYS ARE CHAMPIONS IN BOYS' TOURNAMENT

Deadlocked With Juniors Up To Fast Game Held Friday of Last Week

After an exceptionally evenly-fought basketball tournament which started on Tuesday, March 27, the Sophomore boys romped off with the championship of the school. The final championship game of the season took place on Thursday, March 29, however, when the Sophomores defeated the Juniors 25-20. These two teams were deadlocked for second rank at that time, both teams having won four games and lost one. The Juniors had once defeated the Sophomores in a previous game so the cage battle was clearly favored the older boys. The second year men went into the game with the school their laurels at the peppiest class in high school—and they proved it most interesting game of the interclass tourney.

The Sophomores started the scoring right off the tip-off with a basket by Hustad after some mighty fast play. Another basket by Hustad and another, followed by a free throw by Hines, 5-0.

Sande then gave the Juniors a point by getting two free throws. Another free throw for the Sophs by Lanson made the tally 7-2. Aanstad then got into action and scored two points for the Juniors, 6-4. Mickelson prevented any hopes of a tie by scoring a pretty field goal, duplicated by Aanstad for the Juniors, 8-6. Lindberg got into the scoring group with a free throw just before the quarter ended the sophomores in the lead 9-6.

Second Quarter

The second quarter went to the Sophomores by about a count. Their lead by far exceeded that of the first quarter and as a result they gave the Juniors the shock. The Sophomores chalked up seven points to the Juniors seven, giving them a 9 point lead at the end of the first half, 16-7.

Third Period

The playing was more equal in the third quarter after the rest period which appeared to have helped both teams considerably. Hustad again started the scoring for the Sophomores with a field goal 18-7. Stenholm, former dead shot man for the Juniors, was out to usual form during the game, not scoring until the middle of the third quarter. Aanstad gave the score another boost immediately following, making it 18-12. Lonnet and Mickelson each added a basket for the Sophomores while Stenholm concluded the quarter with a free throw for the Juniors. The Sophs had served the six points while the Juniors netted five, leaving the score at 23-17 for the Sophomores at the end of the period.

Last Quarter

The Juniors staged a wonderful last quarter attempt to win by peppering the back board from all angles. Sande, Stenholm, and Hoover enlivened Junior hopes by scoring a field goal each before the Sophomores got into action. Score 22-18. Hustad contributed another field goal for the Sophs followed by a free throw by Mickelson. Aanstad scored another basket for the Juniors shortly before the final whistle when the final score stood 25-20, giving the Sophomores victory, and with it, the championship.

On Tuesday, the final day of the tournament, the Senior boys defeated the Frosh, giving the Frosh their sixth defeat.

The rankings of all the teams at the conclusion of the tournament were as follows:

	Won	Lost	Percentage
Sophomores	5	1	.833
Juniors	4	2	.667
Seniors	3	3	.500
Frosh	0	6	.000

District, State Contests In Typewriting Are Next

The annual district commercial contest will be held this year in the high school at Crookston on Saturday, April 14.

There are three events, namely; beginning typewriting, advanced typewriting, and advanced shorthand. Five contestants will be represented in each event. Names of those representing Lincoln High have not appear in next week's issue, as they have not yet been decided upon.

The contestants must abide by set rules of the contest. The length of the typing contests shall be fifteen minutes. Each contestant brings his own machine, as the use of a strange machine may seriously affect his work. In shorthand, material shall be dictated for five minutes at eighty words per minute, and shall consist of new business matter. Forty minutes will be allowed for completing the transcript.

Winners in the district contest are eligible for the state contest to be held at St. Paul, Saturday, April 28.

Last year's district contest was held at Crookston May 8, 1927. Louise Veren, in advanced shorthand, received first place with an average of 99+; Marion Reynolds, in advanced typing, received first place with an average of sixty-five words per minute; Louise Veren won second in advanced typing.

Book III Is Considered Backbone Of Annual, Reviewing Many Activities of Year

Saturday evening ended all picture work for the 1928 Prowler. During this time more than a dozen panels of snap-shot work for the last book of the annual were trimmed and mounted in attractive arrangement.

With the shipment made last week, Mr. or Mack, which is another name for the assembling of student photographs, features, and Senior Class History, beauty twenty pages of live, interesting school records. Interesting girls and boys are shown in their attachments. Cases, the inimitable pages of the passing crushes, Sports and Non-Sports, and Calendars show athletic inclinations other than football and basketball, individual snaps of the girl-stars in outfit, and most interesting of all—The Prowler Kitty. The new year-book has them all.

Two more pages of them, one for the Senior Class and one for Juniors, separable girls and boys are shown in their attachments. Cases, the inimitable pages of the passing crushes, Sports and Non-Sports, and Calendars show athletic inclinations other than football and basketball, individual snaps of the girl-stars in outfit, and most interesting of all—The Prowler Kitty. The new year-book has them all.

Book III is really the backbone of the annual, for it is here that we find the activities, Organizations, and Social Events of Lincoln High, especially by Athletics. This section is as complete and concise as staffs could make it, including, as it does, duplicated full-page pictures of the girls' and boys' basketball squads, individual pictures of the girls' and boys' basketball squads, individual pictures of the girls' and boys' basketball squads, individual

BIRTHS OUTNUMBER DEATHS TWO TO ONE IN COUNTY IN 1927

Only One Township Without a Birth While Five Had No Deaths, Records Show

There were twice as many births in Pennington county last year as deaths, according to Clerk of Court Adolf Ekland, who has just received the official state returns issued by the state Board of Health. 225 babies, having been born, with 124 deaths, a fact which the latter number ten were due to tuberculosis and occurred at the sanitarium.

A little more than half of the births and deaths of the county were in Thief River Falls, the tabulated report indicates, with the towns of North, Highlanding and Deer Park being credited with over ten births each, while Hickory and Numedal were the only ones with more than ten deaths each.

Cleveleaf is the only township not accredited with a birth during 1927, while Black River, Bray, Numedal, Silverton and the Village of Goodridge reported no deaths during the year. The report in full follows:

Northwest Agricultural School Makes Shipment of Seeds to Germany

Pure seed samples of 28 leading varieties of Minnesota field crops have been shipped from the Northwest Experiment Station to be used in trials by the South German Agricultural College at Hohenheim, Germany, according to an announcement made by Supt. A. A. Dowell at Crookston.

The request for the Minnesota seed came thru Otto Waggershauser of Westermann who, in company with the party of German students, including Dr. Kurt Schalkowsky and Miss Helen Schaede, spent a few days at the Northwest school last July. Among the varieties furnished were the following: Cerro wheat, Velvet barley, Gopher and Anthony oats, Mr. Waggershauser plans to try out these varieties on his own farm in South Germany, as well as at the Hohenheim College.

"After visiting your station," writes Mr. Waggershauser, "we traveled thru the western states and visited many of the state experiment stations, completing our trip in California; I was impressed with the work of the Minnesota schools of agriculture, which we visited at St. Paul, Grand Rapids, and Crookston. While we have splendid schools everywhere in Germany, we have no agricultural schools linked up with rural communities as is the case in Minnesota, where the schools are brought in direct contact with the farm and the home thru home project and extension work."

700 ACRES OF BEETS SIGNED UP BY FARMER

The largest individual sugar beet contract written by officials of the East Grand Forks beet sugar plant this year was made Monday with Oscar Redsing of Emerado, who signed up to grow 700 acres of beets on his farm.

Redsing is to be largest sugar beet grower on the North Dakota side of the valley, was in Grand Forks this morning with officials of the plant for seed and labor.

Affairs at Washington by Congressman Selvig

Washington, March 17—Congress isn't likely to pass any tax law this session. The east wants the reductions that are possible made on the corporation income taxes. The west and south want the reductions on automobile sales taxes and other items that affect them. Also there is a growing sentiment, especially among the members from agricultural districts, for letting the present program of reducing the national debt by a billion dollars a year go on.

Reports are that much corn acreage in Ohio, Michigan and Indiana will go into sugar beets this year, on account of the corn borer. This pest can be restrained, it is claimed, but the process is expensive and many farmers are going to abandon corn production for a time.

Unsatisfied Labor

The Box bill, aimed at putting the laborers on a quota basis, is not likely to get out of the committee, and there is little probability of any further legislation restricting immigration. There is a feeling that we have further than we ought to be in that direction.

The United States does not produce much unskilled labor among its native population. We are a nation of specialists, with the best and most numerous skilled labor in the world, but for unskilled labor we are largely dependent on the negroes and Americans of the second generation from Europe, shut off by the 1924 immigration law.

Those negroes and Mexicans are not poor substitutes for the unskilled labor that used to come to us from Germany, Sweden and Ireland. They are unlepeasible and ineffi cient, and create a race problem in all our industrial cities. They are poor customers for farm products as compared with the workmen we used to get from Europe.

Farmer Labor Delegates to District Conference Are Named by Chairman

County Chairman Walter H. Quist has announced the personnel of the Pennington county delegation to the legislative conference of the Farmer-Labor party to be held in the near future at some place convenient for delegates from all three counties comprising the sixty-fifth district, which are Pennington, Red Lake and Polk.

Those who have been named by Mr. Quist are Alfred Hillstrom of Black River, J. C. Swanson of Bray, T. J. Skaar of Cleveleaf, Frank Sanders of Deer Park, Christ Urdahl of Goodridge, Herman Kaas of Highlanding, H. Fevrbank of Hickory, Joe Klein of Krabbenhoft, Mike Gilman of Maplelawn, Kaushagen of North, Harry Hymon of Numedal, J. J. Burns of Numedal, Gust Naplin of Polk Centre, F. T. Bates of Rocksbury, Carl Nelsen of River Falls, Gilbert Vraa of Reiner, H. M. Thorpe of Smiley, Carl Anderson of Steenerson, John Hegrenes of Silverton, Lilling Ramsey of Star, Jim Everson of Wyandotte, J. A. Dahl of St. Hilaire, M. J. Stephenson of Goodridge, Sandvick of Goodridge, Edward O. F. Hadin of second ward, Carlton Thompson of third ward, and Sam Brandvold of fourth ward.

SCHUMANN-HEINK RECITAL AT GRAND FORKS APRIL 13

MANITOBA DENIES ROSEAU DAM WILL FLOOD MINNESOTA

Official at Winnipeg States Series of Dikes Near the Boundary Not a Menace

A hearing was conducted yesterday at Washington relative to the proposed construction of a dam on the Roseau river on the Canadian side, according to press dispatches from the capitol, attended not only by Senator Halsteadd Sage Congressman Selvig, but also by E. V. Willard, state drainage commissioner of Minnesota.

Roseau county residents have become greatly alarmed over the matter, but a statement this week by D. L. McLean, deputy minister of public works at Winnipeg, says that there is little occasion for fear on the part of Minnesota people.

The Dominion government undertook to construct the dam in cooperation with the provincial government, in order to prevent flooding that has repeatedly occurred on the Manitoba side of the river.

Work will be started this spring, the dominion contributing $100,000 toward the cost, and the Manitoba government $50,000.

Plans call for a dike "will be built" and because of the method of construction to be adopted, there will be no flood menace on the Minnesota side, Mr. McLean said.

LEGION PROTECTS HOME OF CHARLES A. LINDBERG

Pending the time when Colonel Lindberg secures possession of his home at Little Falls rather than by direct purchase or by sale of metals as proposed by converse), Legion-naires up there will keep the grounds cleaned up and see that the old place is not removed bit by bit as souvenirs. They have been doing this since his overseas flight brought fame to Lucky Lindy.

STATE FARM BUREAU MEMBERSHIP GROWING

At a meeting of the executive board of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation held at the Old Capitol, St. Paul, March 27, reports were submitted by executive officers showing that the state Farm Bureau has taken a considerable spurt in membership during the last thing months.

Feeling that times were propitious for largely increasing membership during the coming summer and fall, the directors voted to engage the services of a full-time organization director to take charge of field work.

None of my opponents back home are making merry over the turnip item in my bill. It really isn't the most important item in the bill, but at that it may interest you to know that last year we imported 96,534,000 pounds of turnips which could just as well have been produced in this country. If you will figure the acreage that this would occupy you will soon notice that it isn't an item to be sneered at.

MOTOR PATROL WILL BE TRIED ON ELWELL ROAD

County Commissioners Adopt Methods Used by State Highway Department

ADDITIONAL EQUIPMENT MAY BE ADDED LATER G. H.

Savings Effected Should Pay for Cost of Apparatus Within Two Years' Time

Pennington county, in common with other counties of Minnesota and the state Highway department, will motorize its road patrol system this season being determined upon at the special meeting of the county commissioners held last Friday. For the present only one of the four proposed divisions into which the county's state aid roads will be classed will have its roads taken care of in this latest method of maintenance.

The commissioners listened to estimates submitted by County Highway Engineer Bert F. Umland and representatives of several dealers, and grader manufacturers, all of whom had asked Pennington county could show as economical maintenance as is being accomplished elsewhere. The state is changing its entire trunk maintenance to this new method this year, following one out of every four, noted men.

First District

The Elwell road leading east from Thief River Falls, together with the road thru Maple Lawn to the new Goodridge, running northerly from the Elwell road to the Agassiz-Red county line will be the first district to have such motor patrol. The east and west road from the city limits to the eastern boundary of the county is a 27 mile stretch, while there are three and a half miles in each of the other two short pieces of road, making a grand total of 34 miles in this one patrol system. As laid out by Mr. Umland the route would run north from the Elwell road between the towns of Goodridge and Maple Lawn, thence to the Agassiz-Red county line, a distance of 7 miles, thence east 14 miles, and thence south 13 miles to the Elwell road junction—a distance of 13 miles, making a total of 27 miles for the patrol.

District No. 4

The remaining motor patrol, thereby taking in all the remaining state aid roads in the county, includes a three mile stretch west from where the state highway turns south on the Pembina trail, and then south along the Pembina trail a distance of 12 miles, and the western eight miles of the east half of St. Hilaire from the west end of the portion completed in patrol No. 3, together with the same miles over the town that road between Black River and Polk Centre town, making a total of 27 miles.

Estimated Savings

A saving in operation costs on these four routes as estimated by the county highway engineer of $5,206.56 is possible during 1928 over the actual cost of $12,475.28 incurred during the past year. The estimate submitted to the county board Friday by Mr. Umland shows a cost for gas per patrol of 8 gallons per day for 26 days amounting to $624.00. Oil

Minneapolis Bridge Co. Gets Big Contract, Says Isak Helseth, in City

Isak Helseth, formerly local manager of the Minneapolis Bridge company's branch in the city, spent Tuesday in the city on business matters, looking after the disposal of some of the material and property left here when the company decided to abandon its branch office in Thief River Falls.

In conversation with a representative of The Times he stated that the city board of trade had been of great aid and he still believed that it has a good future, but that the present plant is so asset that the city may well be proud of, he said, and some day will earn handsome dividends for the taxpayers, he believes.

The Minneapolis Bridge Co., has just been awarded the contract for the construction of a $262,000 bridge over the Mississippi river at Anoka, and will start work at an early date.

Nine Year Old Rosewood Youth Meets Accidental Death in Fall from Wagon

Lloyd Ranum, nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ranum, living near Rosewood, died almost instantly following a fall from the wagon of which he and his father were driving. His head was badly cut by contact with the wagon in the fall, causing a rapid loss of blood, the accident happening about five o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

The boy was riding with his father on the load of hay, and in some manner fell from the wagon, striking his head on the wagon box as he fell to the ground. The father, who was driving the team, did not realize that the boy had fallen off until he looked around and saw the boy lying on the ground. He immediately stopped the team and picked the boy up, but he was dead when he reached him.

Lloyd was born in Thief River Falls on January 29, 1919, and is survived by his parents, two brothers and one sister. Funeral services will be held at the Rosewood church at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. Mr. Sorenson officiating. Interment will be in the Rosewood cemetery.

Officers and Directors of Rotary Club Elected at Meeting on Tuesday

All officers and directors of the Rotary club of Thief River Falls were re-elected at the weekly meeting Tuesday noon in the Evelyn hotel, but Dart Wanderscheid declined to serve again as secretary. The officers as named are: president, H. A. Pratt; vice president, Thos. Quale, secretary, Lewis McCullough; treasurer, Ray Parker; directors, F. E. Haynes and A. W. Swedenborg.

A world-wide message of peace, union and friendship from the Rio de Janeiro conference was read by the secretary, following which scene of the local members offered to give vocational talks before the high school students in the assembly during the spring, as suggested the week previous in the talk of H. C. Hand, who spoke on Vocational Guidance.

At the meeting next week Ray Hope will give a talk on Classification.

COUNTY ASSESSORS WILL MEET HERE ON THURSDAY, APR. 12

Rules and Regulations Adopted at Last Session of Legislature Will Be Explained

Thursday of next week, April 12, has been set as the date for a county school day for assessors of Pennington county by the State Tax commissioner, according to advices received today by County Auditor T. F. Anderson, who stated that the sessions will be held in the court rooms at the court house, and that a public dinner and banquet for assessors are welcome to attend the gathering if they wish, says Mr. Anderson.

This is only one of similar meetings being held throughout the state, two weeks, and which will be largely attended by close to 2,700 assessors, according to the tax commission.

Assessing of property in the state for 1928, which taxes will be paid in 1929 will start in May, continuing for four months. This year not only personal property but real estate will be assessed only in even-numbered years.

Will Explain Regulations

The purpose of the conference for assessors is to explain rules and regulations which have followed the legislature and have been passed by the 1927 Legislature also to be explained.

Plans for the schools will be G. H. Bjornson, chairman; J. H. McElven and Ole Anderson, members of the commission; N. A. Nelson, secretary; and H. L. Bacon, chief clerk. No word has been received from Auditor Anderson as to who will be the guest speaker at Thief River Falls.

THREE MEETINGS HELD IN COUNTY THIS PAST WEEK

H. R. Searles, Dairy Expert With State University, Assists County Agent

Ears successful meeting being held Thursday in Pennington county by County Agent Robert H. Douglas' indicated increased interest in club work, as well as in dairying. The meetings if any criterion, according to farm bureau directors, are held each week, and in some cases three of them are scheduled.

Over 70 persons were in attendance Friday evening at Valhal hall, at which session Miss Bertha Hastad, teacher of the Lake Pleasant boys' and girls' club work was discussed, and several others signed up, altho no organization was effected at that time.

Nearly 100 were present at the meeting held Tuesday night at the home of Hazel meeting, and only about 60 at the meeting held last night in the Ingvald Nelson school house in district No. 92, five miles west of Thief River Falls, the cold weather, however, it is said, tomorrow night in Erie township at the school house where Mr. Hammie Berry Expert Here

H. R. Searles, dairy expert of the state extension department of the university of Minnesota, is conducting the meetings with Douglas Tuesday and Wednesday nights at Hazel, talking to the people along general dairy lines, explaining the value of pure bred cattle, how to raise and how to feed them, and pointing out how they cows are a real detriment to the owner. His talks were illustrated to very attractively, and quite a few questions were asked by those present.

Mr. Searles has been in Thief River Falls on numerous occasions in the past few years and knows the district well, and has given a very appreciable improvement in the quality of herds to be found in Pennington county, according to Douglas.

TURKEY EXHIBIT AT STATE FAIR ALONG NEW LINES

Poultry Association Accepts Suggestion of Dr. W. A. Billings About Display

SEMI-CONFINEMENT PLAN WILL BE DEMONSTRATED

Harry Woolson Elevated to Presidency at Annual Meeting of Poultry Association

The Pennington County Poultry association at its annual meeting Saturday in the Commercial club rooms decided that it would adopt the suggestion of W. A. Billings of the University of Minnesota Extension service to enter an exhibit at the state fair next fall, depicting the success of semi confinement plan of poultry raising, which was tried out and again being tried this spring by many poultry raisers.

The matter was outlined to the meeting by County Agent Robert H. Douglas, who stated that Mr. Billings would be here early in May and there give the local information as to what he believes would be the best plan to follow in making this educational exhibit.

Poultry Demonstration Plan

On the same day that the Thief River Falls in May Dr. Billings will also outline a Pennington county poultry demonstration farm plan whereby he believes that this county can be placed on the top of poultry raising communities in Minnesota. These plans discussed by the annual meeting were quite to the liking of the members of the association and other poultry raisers also in the county generally as a whole, and especially the project. Dave Gustafson was named as a committee of a special committee to have the matter in charge and carry it into execution at an early date.

Big Turkey Display Sought

The matter of enlarging the turkey display at the annual poultry show next winter was discussed for some time, all were in favor of the idea believing that not less than 300 birds should be entered at the show, which discussion of the methods of judging and the best plan of showing, also in selecting by comparison, while others favored the plan of having a score card. No definite decision was reached in this matter, but it was left in the hands of the chairman of the committee having in charge the turkey exhibit, while the other committees appointed to have charge of the other exhibits.

Harry Woolson of this city was elected president to succeed Dave Gustafson, who accepted the position of vice president, asking to be relieved from the office of president at this time, altho offering to assist in carrying on the work of the association as occasion demanded. Mr. Woolson has served as president one year. Milton Gilbertson and Chester Dale were re-elected secretary and treasurer respectively. The election of the association are appointed by the president.

Secretary's Annual Report

The annual report of the secretary for the past year was submitted and duly accepted, a copy of which will be published further in this week, it showing that there were 40 members last year, with an estimated attendance at the last winter of about 2,000 persons. There were 408 entries and the sum of $151 was paid in premiums to exhibitors, the report showed. Receipts for the year totaled $1,747.28 leaving a balance on hand of $49.40 at the present time.

The resources in addition to the $49.40 cash balance are given as $600, the amount representing the sum invested in coops. Liabilities in addition to unpaid accounts are given as $200, leaving net assets payable. The report also showed that the Dale poultry exhibits drew down the largest sum in premiums, having received a total of $52.25 for turkeys, chickens, and eggs shown.

Traffic Violators Given Warning by Officers Laws Will Be Rigidly Enforced

Chief of Police A. W. Crown and Sheriff Ole Thle today stated to a representative of The Times that speeding must be stopped, and also issued a general warning that every of cars with only one headlight and without a tail light are going to be notified only once to correct the trouble after which arrests will follow, which will result in the violator being brought into court.

They also caution all auto owners to put on their new license plates as required by law, as Minneapolis last Sunday over 1,000 drivers were stopped by the police and given a first warning during driving without a 1928 license tag.

PASTEURIZING OF MILK HERE TO START SOON

Group of Business Men Lease Downtown Site Where Modern Plant Will Be Put In

MAKE UNSAFE MILK SAFE, TO BE MOTTO OF COMPANY

Early Morning Delivery Planned of Milk, Cream and Cottage Cheese After April 15

A modern, sanitary pasteurizing plant will soon be open for business in Thief River Falls, giving employment to probably half a dozen people at the start, a group of business men of the city, headed by Julien Pruneau of the Elvsea Hotel, operating the new business, which will be located in the office formerly occupied by Daniel Shaw and the Electric Line Co., for years, at the corner of Second and Lafave.

For some time past various zones connected with the new concern have been making careful investigation of the numerous pasteurizing plants not only in Minnesota, but also at Fargo, Grand Forks and Winnipeg, securing firsthand information as to the operating popularity of these institutions, being convinced that there is room for an opening here for a plant of this nature. Close to 40 cities and towns in Minnesota now have pasteurizing plants, some of them two, and all reporting a good demand for their products.

Orders have been placed for the latest labor saving machinery required in pasteurizing milk, whereby not a hand or finger will touch a bottle or the can until the milk has been sealed in a sanitary manner.

It is expected that the equipment will be received within the next week or ten days and that the formal opening of the plant will be held about April 15 to 20, at which time report cards will be left at Daily & Food department will be present to inspect the same and see that every requirement of the state laws have been complied with.

No expense will be spared to install the best plant of its kind in this part of the state, the plant to have a daily capacity of 2,500 pounds of milk per day, and will be equipped with the latest up-to-date cap bottling, butter and cheese machinery. Pasteurizing will be done at 145 degrees Fahrenheit, and thereafter, the charts of which will be checked daily by the state board of Health.

Leon Herbert, for the past four years connected with a similar concern at Fargo, has been secured as manager of the local plant, going to Fargo, together with his wife and three children, this week to remain to take charge of the installation of the machinery, and will leave this week for Thief River Falls to assist in the operation. In addition four or five local employees will be used at the start.

Two delivery wagons will be used in making the early morning delivery of milk, cream and cottage cheese to the homes of customers, needs for the day, not only as to milk, cream and cottage cheese will also be manufactured and delivered daily.

The group of men backing this new enterprise have already made an investigation as to the quantity of milk the community some of whom are already producing more than they can sell, others who are just now entering the dairy business, and sufficient volume is already in sight to insure a steady supply within a short time. Manager Herbert will also make a survey of the city, stating that instead of inducing the present milk producers to change from their present delivery, he will endeavor to secure new business, which will not only be a benefit to the plant, but also to the consumers.

Not only will the milk be pasteurized, but it will also be filtered, thereby insuring a supply of clean, safe milk for citizens of Thief River Falls, the Pruneau slogan. The motto of the plant will be "Make unsafe milk safe."

Sandeen's Big Auction at Oklee Next Monday Extensively Advertised

One of the biggest auction sales in this section of the state has been announced for Monday, Apr. 9, at Oklee when Sandeen's Garage of Oklee, which is putting on in connection an extensive programme and a big dance as well.

Floyd O. Olson, county attorney for Hennepin county, and who was featured for governor at the recent meeting in St. Paul, has been secured as speaker of the day.

GOOD FRIDAY OBSERVANCE PLANNED BY PUBLIC PLACES

City and county offices, the public library, banks and public and parochial schools of this city will be closed tomorrow, Good Friday, and the various mercantile establishments, with the exception of confectionaries, are to remain open. The post office will be open all day, the postal department will be in charge of Miss Ingeborg Larger quarters later set.

City Ordinance Forbids Bonfires; Property Is Endangered Says Chief

Perhaps one of the surest signs that spring has arrived is the bonfire, and from the many of them this past week, one of them of such proportions that it became dangerous and Fire Chief Paul Hamblett was summoned to the scene. It had been built by several boys, who had gathered together all the rubbish they could from the neighborhood making a large pile before setting it afire.

There is a city ordinance forbidding bonfires, and the fire chief wishes to caution persons against the violation of the ordinance. Until the snow is entirely out of the ground the health department will order the customary clean-up notice, but in the meantime property owners can do the small job of cleaning up their premises, and have everything in readiness for the big removal at publish, etc. states Dr. H. W. Froehlich, health officer.

OFFICIAL CHANGE IN G. N. TRAIN SERVICE IS EXPECTED SOON

Winnipeg Flyer Will Go Thru Fargo Instead of by Way of Ada and Glyndon

The first official announcement regarding change in train service over the Great Northern railway in northwestern Minnesota came today when this being in regard to the fast trains between the Twin Cities and Winnipeg, the change of routes from Hillsboro via Fargo instead of via Ada, Glyndon and Crookston. The change is expected to be made the first part of May, the change of routes from Hillsboro to Fargo instead of via Ada and Glyndon.

Fargo reports the change as the most important for years in that city and vicinity, the Winnipeg flyer will give Fargo a new fast train, the Northern train both ways daily to the city of the Red River Valley, the history of railroading in the northwest will show that Fargo has always been a fast train to and from Winnipeg.

Measure of Change Here

As yet there has been no official announcement regarding the much talked of change in train service here, but it is understood that the latest unofficial report has it that the first part of May the change will be made, and that the Winnipeg flyer will leave Warroad at 6 A. M. beginning May 6, due Bemidji at 8:30 A. M. and Thief River Falls at 9:30 A. M., arriving at Fargo at 1:30 P. M. Train No. 7 will leave Fargo at 4:15 P. M. and arrive at Thief River Falls at 5:15 P. M., making connections with the Winnipeg flyer reaching St. Paul the same evening at 10:30.

There is much speculation as to the time the returning train will leave Winnipeg. The report now is that it would leave at noon, but later advices have it that it will leave at 11:30 o'clock in the afternoon, passing Thief River Falls about five, reaching Warroad about 8 P. M. The official announcement as to the service between the two cities will probably be made within the next few days.

May Work Possible Hardship

If the train does not arrive till about five o'clock in the afternoon on account of the change it will mean the Twin City mail, the heaviest mail arriving at the local post office would not be delivered to the patrons of Thief River Falls until the following morning. There is some talk of securing busses of the Red Lake Falls-Thief River Falls line and Thief River mail by bus to the Northern.

REPAIRS TO MESHAN BLOCK BEING MADE THIS SPRING

Carpenters have been busy this week tearing out the front installed for the City Bakery seven years ago when it leased quarters in the Meshan block on Second street. Mike Barna, who has charge of the building, is placing the building in first class shape in preparation of possible tenants this coming summer. Plate glass windows are being put in where the old ones had been broken out or bashed up, giving the block a much improved appearance.

THE FARMER VS. AGRICULTURE

Once in a while a farmer tells us that he doesn't care to go into dairying or poultry raising or some other special department of farming because he feels that particular department will not be attractive at the present time, will soon be overdone and therefore will become unprofitable... And it is undoubtedly true that if all farmers should concentrate on milking cows it would not be long before butterfat would hardly be worth hauling to town, so perhaps it is well that there are many skeptics in the world.

This question of production is an interesting problem. For agriculture as a whole the thing to do is to get rich is to reduce production. For the individual farmer, however, the thing to do to get rich is to increase his individual production. The individual farmer who can produce five thousand dollars worth of food products on a quarter section of land a year probably does agriculture as a whole more injury than the farmer who produces only two thousand dollars worth of food products, but the five thousand dollar producer is certainly a greater asset, other things being equal, to both himself and his community.

Under the circumstances it would seem that the one big thing for each individual farmer to decide would be whether he is going to work for the best interests of agriculture as a whole or the best interests of himself personally. If he wishes to favor agriculture as a whole the thing to do is to quit farming altogether. If he wishes to favor himself the thing to do is to produce as much as possible of those things the public is willing to pay the most for.

THE ELEVEN MILES AGAIN

The action of the county board, calling for bids on eleven miles of new road construction, raises the question again as to how much money this county can afford to spend for roads. These eleven miles of new construction are the three pieces on which bids were received last year, all of the bids being rejected and the work postponed at that time because of the lack of cash in the road and bridge fund. There was an overdraft in this fund at that time of approximately one hundred thousand dollars, the indebtedness being in the form of warrants drawing six per cent interest, and funding bonds to that amount were issued at a lower rate of interest, effecting a material saving in this item to the county. It was hoped at that time that by this adjustment of the finances and letting no new contracts during the year, that all old contracts could be completed by fall and a regular program of construction started again this spring on a cash basis. It was the laudable determination of the board at that time to confine the building program to the county's ability to pay cash and reduce its indebtedness.

The logic was reasonable but the arithmetic, alas, was faulty. By fall it was discovered that there was more unfinished work to be paid for than had been anticipated, and by the first of the year the road and bridge fund was again overdrawn to the extent of more than twenty thousand dollars. And that is the condition of the fund at the present time. The question now is whether new construction should be postponed until the county is able to pay cash for it, or necessary work should be done at once irrespective of the cash balance.

Our answer to this question would be that only so much money be spent on roads as is necessary to qualify for our full share of the state aid. We cannot afford to pass up the state aid, which means that the state will contribute on a 70-30 basis toward new construction within the county to the extent of $10,570. In other words the state will pay $10,570 if the county will pay $3,387, and of this total of $27,957 approximately nine thousand dollars may be spent for maintenance, leaving approximately seventeen thousand dollars which must be spent for new construction. It would seem that this is the amount to which the board should limit itself this year.

Judging from the bids received last year the pieces included in the eleven miles now being considered will cost in the neighborhood of twenty-five thousand dollars. This means that it is not likely that all three pieces can be built this year and the expenditures kept within the bare requirements of the state aid. Therefore all three pieces should not be attempted this year. To postpone the work on one of these pieces would perhaps cause an uproar among a handful of people effected by the delay but it is better that a few be inconvenienced a few months longer and the affairs of the county be administered with common sense than that the wishes of every group be gratified and the overdraft increased.

Compared with other counties in this section of the state, Pennington is in excellent condition financially. Our indebtedness is not excessive. The immediate danger is not that a few more thousand dollars in outstanding warrants will bankrupt the county. The real danger is that unless there is established a definite policy of retrenchment in expenditures many taxpayers will become discouraged and more pieces of property go from the tax paying list to the tax delinquent list. What we need right now more than roads or anything else is a little encouragement to the taxpayers. It is long time since promises were popular. The only proper way to express the sentiment now is to say it with dollars.

UNEMPLOYMENT AND LAND VALUES

During the past year unemployment has steadily increased in the industrial centers of the country and today it is receiving serious consideration as a national problem of the first magnitude. The situation seems to be unique in the history of industry in that the unemployment has increased last year in spite of increased production in most factories during this same period. It is the opinion of many students of economics that this condition is the result of machine production; that machines have replaced men in our factories faster than other branches of industry could absorb them.

While it is reasonable to believe that this condition is caused in part by machinery taking the place of men, it is also reasonable to assume that it is due partly to the unusually heavy movement of men in search of work from the farms to the cities. This being true it is likely that one of the results of unemployment in the cities will be a movement back to the farm. Those who have been attracted to the cities by the comparatively high wages offered in many industries, will return to the small towns and farms as soon as those high wages cease. Providing other factors continue to grow more favorable such a movement away from the cities will stimulate interest in farm lands again and will tend to bring land values back to the pre-war normal.

Easter Season Enshrines Names of Pagan Deities

Easter day this year falls earlier, though not on the earliest possible date, which is March 22. The latest date possible is April 25. That the date of Easter should so vary is due to an act of the British parliament passed in the reign of George II., which decrees that Easter day shall be the first Sunday after the full moon which happens upon or next after the twenty-first day of March."

It is somewhat curious that the most sacred anniversary of the Christian church should enshrine the names of two pagan deities. Few people, probably, realize that the names of Easter commemorate Eastre the Anglo-Saxon goddess of spring. The name of Good Friday similarly commemorates Frera, the Scandinavian Venus.

How Good Friday got its name is not known for certain, though the most generally accepted view is that it is by derivation "God's Friday." This however, can only apply to the English-speaking people, for the anniversary has a variety of names.

Thus in France it is known as Holy Friday, or Great Friday. In Germany it is "Still Freitag," that is, "Quiet Friday." Because it was then a day of rigid fasting and lengthy prayer, the Anglo-Saxons called it Long Friday, by which name it is still known in Denmark and Norway. The Greek church says "Passion" and it is "Paschal Friday." The Portuguese, "Friday of Redemption," and "The Day of the Cross."

MOTOR PATROL WILL BE TRIED ON ELWELL ROAD

gallons of oil and 2-3c per gallon per day or $8.33 per month; and the cost of one man per day at $4 would cost $104. This brings the monthly cost to $173.67 or a total for the eight months of $1,450.36, to which is added $10 for grease and $204 for spring and washing, making a grand total of $1,819.36 for one patrol or $5,457.46 for the three patrols. The mileage of state aid road in the four patrols.

Last year the actual cost of patrol No. 1 was $2,921.49 according to the records on file at the court house. The estimated cost as shown above for the coming year is $1,819.36, or a saving of $1,102.13 It was shown by the highway engineer, in deducting the $5,457.46 estimated cost for the four patrols for this year from the total actual cost last year of $12,473.00 there will be available for other work $5,265.00, which will be supplied on the cost of the motor patrol equipment.

New Equipment Purchased

The board Friday authorized the purchase of one equipment, including a McCormick Deering tractor costing $1,500 and a 12-foot heavy grader with scarifier costing $900—a total of $2,500. In two years the total cost of equipment will be paid. It is believed by the highway engineer and the county commissioners, The tractor and grader are said to the county on that arrangement, that is, that the same be paid for out of savings, so that in reality the county will not have to spend a cent for new equipment.

The numerous graders that the county now has on hand can readily be disposed of to townships, it was represented to the commissioners, several of which are at this time in the market for graders for town roadwork. The proceeds from these second hand graders will assist in the more rapid settlement for new motor patrol equipment.

On the arrival within the next few days the first patrol arrangement will be put into effect, and if at the end of a month or two the estimated saving above mentioned is found to be a reality then a second outfit will be ordered, others being secured later as additional warrant.

JUDGE WATTS FILES FOR RE-ELECTION IN 14TH DISTRICT

J. M. Bishop of This City Is Only Opponent Crookston Jurist Has To Date

The second filing in the judicial race for the fourteenth district was made Tuesday with Secretary of State Mike Holm by Judge William Watts of Crookston, as a candidate to succeed himself, the first filing having been made on Jan. 10 last by J. M. Bishop, local attorney.

Judge Watts will complete his sixth term as district judge by the time of the next election. He was first elected to the office in 1920. Before becoming judge, he was county attorney of Polk county, city attorney of Crookston, 12 years a member of the city council of Crookston, a referee in bankruptcy and also a member of the school board of Crookston.

Born in Ontario in 1850, the candidate came to this country at an early age, and always took an active part in all civic affairs when a young man.

As yet Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren has not filed for re-election, he being the other judge in this district. There will be no primary contest in June unless there are more than four filings.

THREE MEETINGS HELD IN COUNTY THIS PAST WEEK

ty adjacent thereto. Plans are underway to secure another visit to this section in the near future, when work will complete his circuit of the county.

The speakers have touched upon the advantages of 4-H club work and urged the young boys and girls to join as soon as possible, securing all the benefits to be derived from receiving instruction in an organized way which now has over 29,000 members in Minnesota alone, according to the latest available statistics. However, only about one out of every 25 boys and girls are enjoying the benefits of such an organization.

County Agent Douglas this afternoon is addressing boys and girls at the St Hilaire high school, outlining a meeting to be held in the school at eight o'clock Thursday night, April 12, at which a full account of 4-H club work will be explained by Mr. Douglas and Supt. E. Bredvold.

WILLYS-KNIGHT SIX CUT TO LOWEST PRICE IN HISTORY

Hambeck Bros., local agents of the Willys-Knight and Whippet cars, state that the manufacturers announce that their business during the first quarter of 1928 was the greatest three months in the company's history. John N. Willys, president, has announced this week a drastic reduction in the prices of the Willys-Knight six standard six models. The new prices are listed at these cars $150 lower than any previous Willys-Knight six.

At the low prices the 5-passenger coach will sell at $995, a reduction of $150; the 5-passenger sedan, reduced $150; new sells at $1,095; the coupe, formerly selling at $1,195 is now listed at $1,045. The touring and roadster models have been reduced to $995. All these new prices are effective immediately, Mr. Willys said.

According to Mr. Willys these new low prices are made possible through various manufacturing economies which have been effected through the record breaking business done by the company in all its models during the first three months of the year.

CERTIFICATION OF POTATOES IS ALL IMPORTANT

not up to standard, not only while the plants are growing, but also after the spuds are dug in the fall. The general method in tuber unit raising is to take a six ounce potato and cut it into four quarters, then carefully planting each of these four pieces in four hills along a row; then ship a four hills each to more hilly and so on. Thus one can see just what each seed potato is doing. The poor ones are weeded out early in the season if the plants indicate they are below standard; then after digging, the poor ones can be detected quickly and removed before the good ones are gathered and stored. It means more work, but the yield will increase 100 per cent per year, said Mr. Rose, justify ing the care put onto the field.

Christian H. Gran, Father Of Local People, Dies at Erskine, Buried Here

Christian H. Gran, a former resident of this city, died at his home in Erskine Monday, April 2, following an illness of two weeks, caused from pneumonia and heart trouble. Funeral services were held from the United Lutheran church at Erskine Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock, Rev. Skogerleur, formerly of this city, officiating. The remains were brought to this city for burial, and the body laid to rest in the Greenwood cemetery beside that of his wife, who died in this city in 1921.

Mr. Gran was born in Hadland, Norway, 83 years ago. He came to America at the age of 20, and located in Illinois. His marriage to Miss Ella Loftus took place at Grand Forks in 1881, after which he moved with his wife to Oslo, where he operated a farm. Living for some time at Oaklis, and later at Sandiva, he later acquired a large farm at Erskine and made his home there for about seven years, when he sold out and moved to Thief River Falls in 1920, purchasing a home on the East side. Following the death of his wife a year later, he remained here a few years, and then returned to Erskine to make his home with his somewhat, and daughter, Mrs. Mrs. G. Olson, who have been operating his farm. His children were raised in his locality two weeks ago, and have been with him constantly until his death.

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Chas. Langer and Mrs. Herbert M. Hansen of this city, Miss Lily, who is employed at Fargo, and Mrs. Glen of Erskine; four sons, Harry of Kennedy, Louis of Erskine, Albert, of San Pedro, Calif., Emil of Williston, and William of Monmouth, New Jersey.

ERRATIC WEATHER TWICE THIS WEEK REPORTS INDICATE

Maximum ...for Year Reached Monday Noon, When Mercury Rose to 68 Above Zero

Twice this week the weather became quite erratic, a high northwest wind late Monday afternoon and early Tuesday sending the thermometers on a downward course, the maximum temperature of the year having been reached about noon that day when 68 above zero was recorded. Late that night the thermometers registered only 28 above—four degrees below freezing, or a drop of 40 degrees. The storm's unexpected coming came yesterday, Wednesday, when another northwest wind caused a drop from 52 above at noon to 24 last night, the reading this morning being 22 above zero, the coldest since last week, Thursday and Friday when the lowest official reading was nine above.

Colder This Year in March

The month of March this year was slightly colder than the same month a year ago, according to the official weather reports of L. M. Hayes, observer, who reports an average maximum this year and last year of 39.3, the minimum average this year 19.06 above, while last year it was 19.26 above—really ten degrees warmer than this year. The warmest day in March was 65 above on the twentieth, while last year the thermometer was in reading of 82 above on March 15. The lowest temperature reading this year was 12 below on March 4 and 5; last year it was one below, namely, 12 W., on March 2, according to Mr. Hayes.

More Snow Than Last Year

A total of 10.6 inches of snow fell this year during March compared to 3.3 last year, these when reduced to actual precipitation showing one and one half inches this year in March, with only six tenths of an inch a year ago.

TULSA DEFEATS MOOSEHEAD IN NATIONAL BASKETBALL

Tulsa, Okla., eliminated Moorhead, the Minnesota state champions, in one of the Tuesday forenoon basketball games at the national basketball tournaments held at Chicago this week, an excellent brand of playing being offered by both teams, according to press reports.

The tall boys from the frontier state swept through the highly touted Minnesota defense almost at will in the first half, slowed up in the third period and then broke loose again the closing quarter. The score at the half was 14 to 6, and 18 to 8 at the third quarter.

Hatman, an elongated center was efficient at overhead one handed shots and counted 18 of Tulsa's points, Captain Hallmrast and R. Freeman divided the Moorhead scoring honors.

One Additional Town Files Election Report, Only One Now Missing

Only one additional township report of the recent election was received during the past week by County Auditor T. F. Anderson, this being Numedal, leaving Hickebury the only one not making any report.

The election in Numedal resulted in the following being named to their respective offices: Chairman, Jens Jorgendild; clerk, J. O. Ronding; treasurer, Soren Knutson and T. J. Wasley. The road fund was voted for general revenue and $250 for roads and bridges.

LARGE MAVIE RESIDENCE REACHES MAIN AVE. SITE

The large two story residence brought to this city from Mavie by Hatman & Son recently, has been moved to its permanent location on Main avenue between Ninth and Seventh streets, where it awaits the necessary excavation before being placed on the foundation. The house will face to the south, permitting of the placing of sun porches on the south side of the structure, with a new entrance on the west side.

NEW GRAND STAND AT FAIR GROUNDS DEPENDS ON FUNDS

Special Committee Endeavoring to Sell Additional Stock to Residents

Bids on a sixty foot section of new grand stand at the fair grounds may be called for, following a meeting of the directors of the Pennington County Agricultural society in the office of Secretary Robert J. Lund Tuesday afternoon.

The proposed section would be placed at the west end of the present grand stand, sufficient space being left for passage between the two stands, entrance to either one being from that point. At present the entrance in the old stand is at the east end, and this will be discontinued if the new section is erected this summer. "When another section of similar construction, is erected it will probably be just east of the exit that may be put in this year, the present stand being one end farther east.

Fair Self Supporting

The rest of the new section may run close to 40,000 and with only about $2,000 of funds available for construction purposes at the time, a special committee, composed of Math Bjerke of the industrial committee of the Commercial club, Hans Anton and Ben Langseth, will canvass business and professional men of the city who are not now owners of stock in the fair association, in an endeavor to raise an additional $1,000 for the construction. Shares of stock in the fair association are $25 each and persons may who are not stockholders, and who have never been solicited, having moved here from elsewhere. In this manner the directors of the fair organization believe that the body can be continued on a self supporting basis. Every cent so raised will be used in permanent improvements, directors state.

Local Fair Ranks High

The action came up for discussion at the meeting of the Commercial club last Thursday and the project was endorsed. Mr. Lund announced that the latest reports regarding the business conditions and the attendance records of the 92 fairs held in the state by the various counties, indicate that the Pennington county fair ranks thirteenth, which vindicates the claim of the local association that it is the leading fair in the northwest. However, if sufficient funds are not secured, there will probably be no grand stand built now.

The directors also decided to make the appearance of the caretaker's house, placed at the entrance last fall, a little more attractive, the same to be painted during the spring. The caretaker has been living there all winter and has been able to maintain a better order within the grounds, less damage to the buildings having been done than formerly. To give him additional authority he will soon be given police powers.

LARSEN FURNITURE CO. BUYS CARLOAD WASHERS

A month ago the Larsen Furniture company received 25 Maytag washing machines out of a carload shipped to Argyle for this part of the state, trucking them to this city.

The demand for this popular machine, according to Carl Larsen, is steadily increasing and it became necessary last Saturday to place an order for an entire carload of 75 for customers in Thief River Falls and Pennington county.

ICE IN RIVER BREAKING UP

The ice in the Red Lake river above the dam yesterday began breaking up and considerable of it moved out, the heavy wind assisting in the annual spring breakup. The ice in the Bassau river at Roseau shot out about ten days ago, and the ice in the Snake river at Warren following suit a week ago.

Caldis' Block Improved By Changes Made in All Stores on Ground Floor

Alterations to the various store rooms on the ground floor of the Caldis' building have about been completed, a material improvement being noted, foremost of which is the remodeling of the front, or corner, portion of the structure. James Caldis, proprietor of the Soda Grill, when interviewed today, stated that he expects to begin removing a portion of his fixtures to the new location the latter part of the week and is hopes to have a formal opening the last week or just after April 15.

The small room to the rear of the former Farmers & Merchants bank, recently occupied by the Mart Produce shop, will be used by the Soda Grill, giving it a rear entrance for taking in of supplies, and use by employees of the establishment. Mr. Caldis has also redecorated the Caldis & Jorfgrud barber shop next west in the building, the proprietors also making several forth while improvements, installing additional mirrors, and also installing a better lighting system.

Next west is the jewelry store of A. A. Wangerin & Son, who moved in the latter part of March, and who expect to have a formal opening in about two weeks, possibly about April 15. The extreme west end of the building is occupied by the Thief River Dress Club, a part interest therein having been purchased by Mrs. A. R. Auringer. Mrs. Lund has also been retained as manager. Both of these last named stores have been remodelled into shops of the most specialty style, one of the larger cities, and add greatly to the appearance of Third street.

First Carload of Fords Reaches City Saturday

The first carload of Fords of the new style was received in Thief River Falls last Saturday, and various models are being used by Sanders' Garage as demonstrators, a record carload being expected shortly, when deliveries will be made to those who have been waiting.

Many have called at the garage the past few days to see the various models, as only one was on exhibition for one day in December, although a different model was later received for demonstration purposes.

ELKS MEETING POSTPONED

The regular meeting of B. P. O. E. lodge No. 1000, scheduled for Friday evening of this week has been postponed to Friday night next week, April 13, due to this week's falling on Good Friday.

Famous Spaulding Herd Was Auctioned Monday, Herd Netting $26,424

The famous Spaulding herd of purebred Holsteins from Warren, was auctioned Monday at the sale grounds at St. Paul, 60 choice cows bringing an average price of $385.60, netting a total of $26,424.80 from more than 300 farmers and cattle breeders who attended the sale. The herd was owned by the P. Frost Farms company of Warren.

The highest that brought the highest price was Golden Lo Kal Ormsby, a 6-year-old cow, which was bought for $2,625, by Shaun Kelly of Richmond, Minn.

The Fernes Farms of Breckenridge, Minn., secured three of the best purebreds, at an average price of $2,600. One of these was the record-breaking cow Mamwell Johanna, which holds the world's championship record for four year olds of 1,517 pounds of butter from 31,210 pounds of milk. She sold for $1,500.

1928 NICHOLS & SHEPARD COMPANY'S 86th ANNIVERSARY

The year 1927 was the largest year in history with Nichols & Shepard Company, dealers of the famous "Red River Special" line threshing machinery. The fact that this company has been in continuous existence for 86 years; that these years must have been years of progress; Nichols & Shepard Company has been constantly striving to improve the quality of their machine so that they could make them the Finest, Fastest, Cleanest Threshers built. And so for 1928 the "Red River Special" machine will have many new special features added to make it the "pride of 86 years." Thief River Motor Co., local dealers.

Jury Out All Night Awards $9,500 to Estate of Two Boys Killed
After being out all Tuesday (March 27, 1928) night a jury in Polk county district court at Long Prairie brought in a verdict of $9,500 for the estate of Edwin and Lloyd Swedin, boys who were killed in an automobile accident that occurred last fall near Melrose. The judge granted a stay of 60 days to the defendant, Geo. Rehman, retail meat dealer of Hestha.
The case involved two suits and the jury made an award of $5,000 in the case of the oldest boy and $1,500 for the other.
Another case resulting from this same automobile accident will go on trial today with Albert Schosser, who lost a leg in the accident, as plaintiff against Mr. Rehman, defendant.

We Believe in A Woman's Right To Be Beautiful

Long ago Puritan America decreed that beauty must be largely a cultivation of the inner virtues. Feminine faces, except for a dab of talcum powder, were as Nature made them. If Nature had been unkind—or forgetful — one's only hope lay in "good works" and an early demise.

Today all is changed. Lipsticks and the rouge pots are part of the modern women's rebellion against household drudgery. Once she had to bend over a hot cookstove, or a steaming wash tub six days a week. Today she presses a button and has plenty of time left over to make herself attractive.

We always smile rather happily when we pass our Cosmetic Department. It is more than just a counter where one may buy excellent toilet preparations for a modest sum. It is a visible symbol that Beauty once more has resumed her rightful place—that feminine charm and allurement are not to be banished utterly from the face of the earth.

SCHOOL FUNDS APPORTIONMENT FOR PENNINGTON

With 2,768 Pupils at $3.20 Each County Receives a Total Of $8,857.60

County Treasurer John Gullingsrud last week received the state's apportionment for the March 1928 school fund, the remittance a year ago at this time amounting to $8,684, based on 2,828 pupils at $3 each.

Thief River Falls, district No. 19, receives the largest portion of the funds, its allotment being $4,166.80, while Goodridge, district No. 102, comes next with $556.80, St. Hilaire, district No. 8, being third and getting $527.20, according to County Auditor T. F. Anderson. The allotments to Highlite Grove, Huntsville and their number of pupils are as follows:

WE BELIEVE

The great thing in the world is not so much where we stand as in what direction we are moving.

CHARACTER

What outspoken, candid, frank, real he-man does not draw the admiration of womankind? There is not such a human, but that he does not deservedly receive credit. Most care for the "dark", the false, yet one who is afraid to speak what he thinks; for then he must be ashamed of his thoughts, and as for women, he seems likewise repugnant who is deliberately and continuously false. Women may be inclined to be catty if it may be in their nature to sneer behind the backs of other women to whom they do not take a liking, but need a person, simply because she is of the fair sex, be deceitful? Should not she, who is sweet to one's face and says the fabled words, be disdained of herself, and marked out by others as as insincere, fickle type of womankind?

High school is the place in which we should install the habit of being outspoken—the habit of frankness, so that when we become mature men and women, voting citizens of the United States, we shall be candid characters of which our country might well be proud.

NORTHROP NOTES

The eighth graders have made various paintings, treating of spring subjects. Poems have also been written by them as follows:

"Spring Time" by Cerian Dahlen.
Pussy willows peeping out,
Waiting nervously all about,
Don't they make a pretty sight,
In the broad daylight?

Little birds so gay,
Singing songs all the day,
Making people glad to stay,
Please don't sing your songs away.

Spring time's everything, too,
Tiny leaves shedding may,
While we learning nice and long,
Little love links to do.

"March Signs", by Lois Nelson
'Tis a bright, bright day
Red Letter Day, July, 4th day,
But in early, early Spring,
Robins and bluebirds have come to sing.

Children are begging their fathers' for tasks,
While mothers are scolding because they won't suits.

In school they have "Spring Fever" and teachers do say,
Well, we wouldn't you such a bright March Day?

Every fifth grade pupil has composed an original poem dealing with some phase of spring, and the two given here are representative of the ideas of others, nearly or equally as good.

The third graders made Dutch Booklets in connection with their study of Holland.

Pupils of the third grade who received 100 in their usual Friday spelling test were: Helen Anderson, Richard Dahlquist, Verna Pfefferle, Rinaldo Kitsom, Delbert Erickson, Gwendoth Evenson, Ruth Hansen, Delmer Hedales, Allie Ann Severson, Laurena Ericson, and Vivian Brown.

Marjory Lane of the third grade has returned after a three weeks's illness.

The third graders have finished the multiplication tables.

The number of students who are very interested in reading their Arbor Leaf notebooks in assembly is astonishing until you discover that each holds a ragged copy of "True Confessions" or "Western Stories."

ROCKWELL SPEAKS TO LETTERMEN AT ANNUAL BANQUET

Former "U" Coach Addresses Gold Boys; Eleven Graduate Tonight

Continuing the custom established last year, the lettermen of the school, nineteen in number, were entertained at a banquet supper given last Wednesday, March 28, in the Domestic Science room by the Cooking Class of Eleven, under the direction of Miss Gerber and Miss Stenson. Supt. Morris Rockwell, who acted as presiding officer for the evening, and who had made the arrangements for the banquet, received his reward in watching the food disappear before nineteen big, straggling, healthy athletes.

Besides Ted Rockwell, resigned football mentor of the U. of N. Dak., who was the principal speaker of the evening, H. E. Hand, Coach Doc, and all the Senior Lettermen were called upon for brief speeches.

Talks By Basketeers

Roy Orr, center on the basketball team, was the fabled speaker at the banquet, speaking of the "rip off" and its importance to basketball and to the game of life. Robert Erickson, forward, and captain of the 1928 team, followed Roy with a brief "offense." Belmer Severson as a finale to the basketball quint took care of the "defense."

The remaining talks by the team members were given by Clifford Spetz taken from football, Willard Foran, fullback, talked about "Breaking the Line;" Glendon Larsen, "Laughing at Injuries;" Clifford "Blocking;" "Tackling" was Carl Hewlett's subject; "Sprinting," Clayton Snyder's; and Jerome Williams took up "Interference." Fred Wenger, yell instructed the "Aerial Game" while Howard Olson handled the topic of "Visiting Your Man."

"Boomer" Dahlen Named Captain

One of the features of the banquet was the announcing of next year's Basketball captain. The lettermen had voted sometime before, but the result had been held over until the banquet. The result of the election was that Gerhard "Boomer" Dahlen was chosen as captain of next year's basketball quint. This was exactly as it should have been, for "Boomer" is the only man for the job. But in addition to that we wish you to recall that last fall at the football banquet given at the home of Roy Orr, Gordon Dahlen was chosen captain of the 1928 football team. This is a very unusual record for any person to attain and it speaks well for Boomer's ability and for the trust which his teammates have in him. He is now a Junior and has made two letters in each of the major sports, football and basketball, receiving the customary applause and cheering which greeted the walking of his name. He spoke briefly of the 1928-29 prospects for football and basketball. Under Dahlen's leadership there is no reason why the 1928-29 athletic season should not be equal to or more successful than the season just finished.

Coach Doc as the next person to be called upon, speaking upon the subject of teamwork.

Eligible Lettermen Named

Drains was the subject talked upon by Principal H. C. Hand, in connection with his talk he read off the names of the lettermen eligible for the National Honorary society, a society organized to honor athletes, who, besides making their letter in one of the major sports of the school to which they belong, have a average grade in their studies for their consecutive semesters that is equal to or better than the average of the school, which in this school is 84. The members are given a gold key for which they are required to pay. This key is worn with the organization to which they belong for life. Seven boys were announced as eligible for membership, their grades varying from 84 to 97.

CLEVER PROGRAM STAGED BY GIRLS' ATHLETIC CLASSES

Miss Norma Gerber, Training Coach, Instructs Girls in Old-Time Dance Drills

The girls' physical training classes gave a physical education demonstration Friday evening at the City Auditorium. The purpose of the demonstration was to raise money for the girls' athletic fund, which in high school might have a locker of her own. A Rockwell brought home to the girls were directed under an able instructorship of Miss Norma Gerber, physical training instructor, who has given much time to training the girls in exercises and dances.

The program opened with an overture by the high school orchestra, directed by Miss Maude L. Johnson. This was followed by the grand march in which all the girls took part, marching in the order of their classes. Classes were designated by the colored band on each girl's forehead, Red bands: seniors, Red bands: juniors, purple; sophomores, pink; and freshmen, green. The girls, not to speak of costume, were dressed in regular gym outfits.

Drills, Dances, Exercises

"The Wooden Soldier Drill" was given by one of the classes. Each little soldier was dressed in a bright red uniform, and carried a gun. Lorraine Zellmer, as general, was beautifully shot down by her whole army. Lucille Lieberman, in Scotch Highland costume, dressed as a Dutch Couple in white and light blue, took the lead in the Dutch Folk Dance.

Comics, furnishing a great deal of laughter, were added to the entertainment by the "Prisoners' Exercise." In marched the poor prisoners to the tune of "Hail, Hail, the Gang's all here!" On their heads were stuffed pillows to make a "bump" on each head. Then they were put through their exercises for choice, The "rouge-grow" would warble in mellowy voice:

"In the Spring!"

Spring is the season that dwells in each mind;
It's the happiest time of the year,
So we start to get back our winter-lean pep
With winter gone—summer so near;
First the rain goes pitter-patter lightly;
Then the sun once more is shining brightly
—In the Spring!

What The Progress Tells!

O what is the work of the Progress staff?
And what does our Progress tell?
When it comes to read of our jolly life,
About Jack, and Johnny, and Nell?

As grandmother knits by the cozy fire,
She puts her' old spectacles on
To read of the party her grandson went to
—To read of their games and their fun.

"O where is the paper?", father ___ cries,
"I'm hungry, but just the same
I've got to look in the Progress to see
Who won in that football game."

The Junior daughter must make her friend wait
While she reads of the Junior play,
And of the assembly she missed that day.

And what the man had to say.

The brothers quarrel who'll read it first;
They both went to see the jokes,
Big brother the teachers' questionaire
Little brother, 'bout the Freshman folks.

And mother, what is she seeking for?
Why, news of her pets to be sure,
Mary's on the honor roll, Jack leads in class;
Can any sane mother want more?

Even baby tries her best to say
In her own little, baby way,
She wants to help, prepare to play with;
—She'll read it herself some day.

Now Progress staff, is your work worth while?
When assignments are long and hard
Just remember the hands that are brightened up
—THAT is your rightful reward!

Plenty of Recruits Replace Eleven Lost to Gridiron

With the much longed for arrival of spring at hand, Coach Doc plans to hold the annual spring session of football practice soon after the week of Easter vacation.

Coach Doc's purpose in holding this period of practice is to determine the positions the gridders are best able to fill and teach the new candidates the fundamentals of football, namely blocking and tackling. He states that one of the largest squads in the history of the school will soon be out tearing up the turf and pounding on the old pigskin.

A loss of eleven lettermen, seven of whom have starting berths on the team, will make a big gap in the line-up, especially the backfield. But with the strong reserve force of last fall and the new material reporting this spring a strong, fast team is looked forward to.

The loss in the backfield of the veteran C. Snyder, Oen, and Severson will make the development of some skirting, passing, spinning, and blocking men necessary. Severson and Friesen; the two boosters and passers of last year being lost will make all new talent along the line valuable.

The line will suffer the loss of the regulars Ericson, Wengzler, Hessler, and Larson, but there is plenty of capable material to work into their positions. "Boomer" Dahlen, captain-elect, who plays a wonderful game at guard will be a tower of strength in the line.

AND THAT'S THAT

Another basketball season in the High School Progress, reminds us of a time we once heard "The Song is ended, but the Melody lingers on." That Thief River Falls has a good team this year, no doubt. But now that the world knows it, why not drop it? The district tournament showed that there were other good teams in the Region. (Station W. H. C.—Warren Sheaf.)

SPRING

When, in the run of each wonderful year
Does a man feel most happy and gay?
When does the air with a crocus beard
Seem the best with its sun-shiny ray?

Guess at the answer, you've four choices for choice,
The "rouge-grow" would warble in mellowy voice:
"In the Spring!"

Spring is the season that dwells in each mind;
It's the happiest time of the year,
So we start to get back our winter-lean pep
With winter gone—summer so near;

Tryouts and Selections for Senior Class Play

By the time the paper is published, both the play, and cast will have been selected for the 1928 Senior class dramatic production to be presented at the auditorium on May 11.

Coach J. W. Ogheim, Mr. H. C. Hand, and Supt. Morris Rockwell have been looking over possible plays during the week, having singled the probables down to two: "What Happened to Jones" or "Only 38". The Jones play is a clever farce, reading eleven or twelve roles to be filled by Seniors. "Only 38" is also a play of great possibilities, the central figure being a mother of 38, the trouble will be encountered in finding the characters of this story except, perhaps, in that of the mother.

Tryouts and selections will be made under Mr. Ogheim's direction the latter part of the week, when a complete account will be forthcoming in "The Times."

SPRING

Dame nature is busy
Her work she is doing
Her paint brush is out
And the grass she is painting
The trees she is trimming
The flowers she is growing
The birds she is singing
The sun she is shining
The rain she is pouring
The wind she is blowing
The clouds she is driving
The fruit she is ripening
The grain she is growing
The people she is watching
The world she is running
But I wish she would stop
And let me rest.

JOKES

A party was proposed for all the girls who didn't chew gum in school, but it was postponed as one girl was sick and the other didn't want to attend alone.

$500 In Prizes To Be Given Pupils In Safety Contest

Offering $6,500 in prizes for the best essays and lessons given on highway safety, the Highway Education board is encouraging to the schools the annual safety contest. Pupils of the fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth grades are eligible participants.

This year, according to the rules, pupils are to write essays of 500 words in length on the subject, "Why We Have Practice Traffic Rules," and teachers are given the subject, "Objectives and Methods of Education in Street and Highway Safety."

The number of prizes offered in each state is based upon the interest shown in previous contests. The Highway Education board is offering a gold medal and a $15 cash prize for the best essay, a silver medal and a $10 cash prize for the second best essay, and ten $5 prizes and bronze medals to the winning pupils of Minnesota. The top prize of $15 will be the last essay in the United States to receive a gold watch and a trip to Washington.

Junior Class Play

A large number of persons attended the play given by the Junior class at the Legion Hall on Friday evening, March 30, quite a few also attending the matinee performance given in the afternoon.

The play, "The Road to the City," is a comedy in four acts. The characters were so wisely chosen and acted their parts so well that the audience was kept intensely interested throughout every scene in the play, which was coached by Miss Florence Hansen and Lilly Johnson of the high faculty. Much credit is due to their skillful direction.

The cast of characters was as follows: Jet Sanderson, Alice Gjestad; Mrs. Sanderson, Agnes Anderson; Mr. James, Tule Norman; Richard James, Ernest Jones; Lilly by Marsten, Loretta Krusz; Tots Lee, Stella Bergstrom; Judge Judkins, Myles Olsen; Reuben Darnell, Clifford Halstreen.

Entertains at Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Halstrom entertained a number of friends from this village at a dinner party Wednesday, at their farm home west of town. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mark, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Jacobson, Mr. and Mrs. R. Larson, and Miss Selma Halstrom.

LADIES IMPROVE CHURCH KITCHEN AND PARLORS

A large number of persons attended the Ladies' Aid held at the church parlors Saturday evening in spite of the disagreeable weather. The ladies are very well pleased with the improvements they have made in the church parlor and kitchen and the members is now a pleasure. The entire basement has been refinished up and repainted, and built-in cupboards have been added. Friday's receipts were a little more than $70 in addition.

George Gunderson, county superintendent, was a visitor at Elwell the past week, district No. 78, last Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Odin Hanson have moved to their farm in Silverton from Karlka.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Berggren visited at the O. E. Grinde home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bil Reller returned from St. Paul and have been visiting for the past few days with their folks. They left this week for the Barnes dairy farm at Thief River Falls.

PLAN BIRD HOUSE SCOUT CONTEST FOR SPRING VACATION

Executive Scout Leader Will Visit City—Joint Outing Soon for All Scouts

A Bird House contest will be staged by the three troops of boy scouts of Thief River Falls during spring vacation, it was announced today by Executive Scout Leader Ole Hallaas. The contest will start tomorrow and be being closed for the first business received on the last day of the vacation period, it was announced by Scoutmaster Ole Hallaas. Prizes will be awarded to the boys making the best bird houses, and the contest was made at the meetings of the Methodist-Presbyterian troop.

The scouts are left to their own initiation to secure suggestions as to the plans and designs of the houses, but many of them stated today that they were going to the public library this afternoon and evening to see the books and pamphlets there on bird houses; others are willing to publishers of magazines and books to get some different plan if possible than any that one of their fellow scouts might find here. The boys at the meeting last night are apparently greatly enthused over the plan and the trees about town will have quite a few new houses for the birds when they arrive this spring.

After the houses have been judged and the winners picked the houses will be placed on exhibition in the window of one of the down town stores where the public may see the ability displayed by the scouts in this line of endeavor.

Scouts Executive Leaving

E. J. Grady, scout executive of the Greater Grand Forks area, will be in Thief River Falls some time next week to give the local scouts a talk on scouting, possibly under Wednesday or Thursday night, and members of the three troops, together with their fathers, mothers and the fathers of the boys, are expected to attend the meeting, which will be held either in the American Legion Reading Room or the council club room, the scouts being alerted definitely when the exact date of Mr. Grady's visit is learned.

Big Outing Is Planned

Plans have also been discussed for a joint outing of the three troops of this city in the near future, Scoutmasters Dr. H. W. Franklin, Ole Hallaas and Paul Lundgren having had a few conferences regarding this matter. Tentative plans call for a hike into the country where a big dinner will be cooked and served by the boys on their arrival, followed by scout stunts, and the return hike.

New York state has an auto for every two families in the state.

8,000 EXPECTED AT "U" DURING COMING SUMMER

Anticipating a banner enrollment because of the National Education Association convention in Minneapolis, July 1 to 6, the University of Minnesota is mapping out a varied and elaborate program for its summer session, calling for practically complete curricula in all colleges and special features for teachers and vocational administrators.

The 1928 summer session will be the last under direction of Dean E. J. Kelly, director, and L. D. Coffman, associate director, who will go to the University of Idaho next year as president and assistant president, respectively.

Under their supervision, the University of Minnesota summer session has grown to be the largest in the country in enrollment.

Last year's enrollment for the ten-term summer session was 5,410 and the 8,000 mark is expected to be passed this summer. The first term will run from June 25 to July 28 and the second from July 28 to September first.

Four hundred instructors, most of them regular faculty members will be maintained and extensive courses will be offered in every college.

Mud Lake Relief Bill Passed by House Friday

The bill introduced by Representative C. G. Selvig, republican, 32nd district, Minnesota, for the relief of settlers in the Mud Lake area, east of Holt, in Marshall county, Minnesota, was passed by the house last Friday.

The bill would appropriate a total of $14,850.58 to 59 persons to compensate them for improvements made on their homestead entries made in 1916 This area was later, by a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, removed from entry but only after it had been settled by a large number of farmers.

The passage by the house to which it was referred by the committee on claims, marks a long step for consideration, Congressman Selvig said following the passage.

ELEVATOR MEN WILL WANT THIS CIRCULAR

Circular No. 27, "Grain Mixtures for Stock Feeding," was prepared by Dr. C. H. Eckles and C. G. Schaefer of the division of dairy husbandry of the University of Minnesota, especially for the use of elevator managers, millmen, feed dealers, and others who mix feeds for the use of dairy farmers. It will also be useful to those dairymen who are in position to buy their own complicated rations. After discussing the desirable characteristics of a feed mixture, and the principles underlying them, the circular suggests formulas for mixtures for dairy cows, with home grown feeds, with mixed hay, and with timothy or prairie hay. It can be obtained by dropping a postcard request to the Office of Publications, University Farm, St. Paul.

GLADYS WEEKS PRESENTED IN SPLENDID PIANO RECITAL

Miss Gladys Weeks, pupil of Mrs. Dora Halvorson Pope, was presented in piano recital Tuesday evening, April 3, at the Lincoln high school. This is the second recital Miss Weeks has given under Mrs. Pope's direction, the first one being a joint recital with Miss Lenore Lieberman a num ber of years ago. She started as a beginner under Mrs. Pope's direction, and has shown remarkable progress in her work. Every number on her program was splendidly played, and the audience, generous in applause, expressed appreciation and enjoyment of the program.

The Beethoven Sonata op. 31 No. 2, with its three movements, opened the program, followed by a charming group of three numbers by Kreisler, Schubert and Nevin, each done with a precisoness and finish characteristic of this young pianist's work. Next came a difficult group of three Chopin numbers, followed by the closing two-piano number, first movement of the Mendelssohn concerto in G minor, brilliantly played. She was assisted by Mrs. Pope at the second piano.

Mrs. Kirsten Hermanson returned Monday from a visit at Fargo at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Hermanson. Ringneck Pheasant Eggs for Hatching Have Been Ordered by Walton Body

The local chapter of the Izaak Walton league has sent in an order to the Commissioner of game and fish at St. Paul, for 100 Ringneck pheasant eggs, and a second order for 200 more will probably be sent within the next few days. Sufficient interest in stocking these game birds in Pennington county has been aroused among sportsmen to the extent that a fund has been established with which to purchase eggs, the cost of which is $.25 per hundred.

On arrival the eggs will be placed with persons who have been carefully selected to give every care necessary to the hatching of the eggs, the requirements of the state commission being quite explicit. Setting hens are necessary to hatch Ringneck Pheasant eggs, an incubator not accomplishing the results old "biddie" hens, it is claimed. Certain methods for the prevention of lice and mites must be complied with, all of which the local Walton league is endeavoring.

Large numbers of these highly prized birds have been imported from China and these Slavakia, but not until about a year ago was there any successful effort to hatch eggs from these imported birds. Now the demand for eggs is greater than the supply, the state commission finding more orders than they can fill at present.

FIVE THOUSAND ATTEND SANDEEN'S BIG AUCTION

It was estimated by several from here who went to the big Sandeen auction at Oklee last Monday that fully 5,000 persons were in attendance. Although the day was a terrible county attorney, did not appear, the crowd enjoyed the auction, the movies and the dance, most of them waiting for the dissolution of the Ford car, which went to Gust Tverdahl of McIntosh. Instead of the car the young man, his wife and son and supporting Mr. Mother, chose the $25 as an alternative.

IMMIGRATION OFFICERS TAKE MAN TO CROOKSTON

FIRST COUSINS OF HALLOCK ARE WEDDED IN WINNIPEG

Because they were first cousins, and Minnesota state laws prevented their marriage, George and Agnes Norum went all the way to Winnipeg from their home in Hallock to be wedded.

They were married there after certain facilities necessary under the marriage act, had been complied with.

The ceremony took place in the Lutheran church and they returned to their home at Hallock.

Chauffeur's License Is Now Required If Owner of Auto Hires a Driver

Chief of Police A. W. Crown this week has been furnishing automobile owners, who have chauffeurs in their employ, grimy driving cars or trucks, application blanks as required under the state laws as passed at the last session of the state legislature, whose to thirty chauffeurs are employed in Thief River Falls, according to Mr. Crown, the Standard Oil company having the largest number of them in their employ.

Applicants successfully passing the required examinations will be furnished a badge by the state, which all are required to wear at all times, according to the Minnesota Traffic law. These badges are strictly non-transferrable, the blanks clearly indicate that each applicant must have the recommendation of two automobile owners and one dealer.

A fee of $1.50 must accompany all applications to the secretary of state, and each applicant must appear himself at the designated place for the holding of the examinations, which are to be written and in the English language. Regular examinations are held each Monday in the state capitol, but the department is making arrangements now to hold other examinations thruout the state. No date for such examinations in Thief River Falls has as yet been announced, according to Chief Crown.

H. P. LUND & SONS FAIL TO LAND BIG ROAD JOB

H. P. Lund & Sons of this city failed to land a $45,000 road contract on the Minn.-N. Dak. state line, according to this week, their bid being only $1,000 less than the lowest one submitted, this being made by H. H. Knowles of Jamestown, N. Dak. There were eight contractors bidding on the work, the contract for which was let at Bismarck by the Highway department.

However, this is a closed season on suckers and so the fish continue to sport in the water without any fear, it seems

Official Paper of the City of Thief River Falls and Pennington County.

"Faith in the ability of the people collectively to make sane, orderly plans for the future, is the very essence of continued national existence. We must stop lurching back and forth from one desired expenditure of money to another, and, like grown men and women, learn to stick to proportion and to plan."—Atwood.

Chicago has had another election, and we wonder once again why Uncle Sam makes such a fuss about the lack of law and order in China and Nicaragua. It is hard to realize that the people of Chicago will submit year in and year out to conditions as they are there. Gang rule and violence could not thrive there if their city politics were not rotten.

A Cincinatti bootlegger king who recently committed a cold blooded murder, saved himself from the gallows by proving to a jury that he was insane and later secured his freedom from the insane asylum where he was being confined by proving that he was sane. And yet a person can be punished for contempt of court.

There has been some talk of a "clean up" campaign again this spring. The idea is all right too, but nothing definite has been done about it as yet so if you feel the urge to get busy get things ship-shape around the lot go right ahead while the hunch is hot. Don't wait for the Mayor's proclamation 'cause there might not be one.

In discussing why so many men from "the country" wind up in the chief executive positions in industry and in public offices, one writer feels that this is probably because men from the country develop stronger physical constitutions and broader educations on many and varied lines of human endeavor and activity. The average man raised in the city does not have the same opportunity for mental and physical growth, he maintains, claiming that the man who gains his early training away from the great centers of population generally has a broader vision of human affairs and a better mental "grasp-hold" with which to see and measure the possibilities of the future.

TIME TO START SAVING

In view of the fact that Pennington County will some day be confronted with the necessity of building a court house the method of one South Dakota county of securing a $125,000 building painlessly, is worthy of consideration. The method is explained in the following editorial comment of the Minneapolis Journal:

"It was away back in 1912, before the Great War, that Douglas County, in South Dakota, saw that a new court house was needed. Instead of selling bonds and putting up the building, the county officers began to lay up money. It has taken some time, but the fund accumulating has been attracting interest to itself, and the county has accomplished, instead of paying out interest to others, on a bond issue and so long.

Not long after enough money, a meth enough, was in the fund, and so the courthouse was built on Washington's Birthday last month. The new $125,000 structure was declared it and is now in use and young generations in Douglas County will not be called on for enough interest money out of the taxation to build the structure all over again.

From 1912 to 1928 is sixteen years. If we started now and laid aside a little each year for the next sixteen years we might be able to dedicate the new building in 1944. It's a little early yet to start looking around for a good location, but it isn't too early to start saving a little money each year for this purpose.

INDOCTRINATING THE YOUTH

Arguing that it pays to spend a lot of time and money to indoctrinate the youth of Russia with Communism and the youth of Italy with Fascism, the Montevideo News thinks that it might not be out of order to spend a little time with the youth of America teaching them the good principals and proper practices of Democracy. The News states:

A year ago from Rome 750,000 young Italian youths of eighteen were mobilized into the Fascist army battalions, the militia and reserves of its organization. A big parade viewed by Mussolini was led by "Black shirted mothers of six to twelve years" and was by night up in the rear by "Fascist girl militants into the parade." The story of the "boy-militia" and recently Mussolini does his work.

Russia takes young lads and makes Communists out of them.

A half hearted attempt is made in American schools to make "good citizens" but capital D's out of young Americans, but the habit has been abandoned—maybe it can't be. A democratic government makes peculiar demands of individual responsibility and its citizens have to be prepared (the schools are probably the best agency) to meet those demands. Most "civics" classes have a habit of being dull, and they therefore don't install a lively interest in government. It might help to let the class wear black shirts.

POLITE AUTOMOBILE HORNS

According to the Christian Science Monitor, Paris wants polite automobile horns and has set about getting them. In commenting on the idea the Monitor states:

Any and every effort to control and subdue a contraption that emits harrowing blasts, generally meant to make an otherwise dignified, respectable and orderly pedestrian scuttle an Australian kangaroo, deserves gratitude.

As the Japanese say, an automobile horn should "speak." If it cannot speak, at least music it should at least shuffle "please" instead of shrieking "look out!" even if it be a matter of wisdom to follow the advice contained in the latter admonition when crossing the boulevard. Anyone can toot a horn but to toot one is an art, an artistic act. Such an accomplishment requires the deft touch of a violin virtuoso. Never should it be sounded after the fashion of the Anvil Chorus but rather the sweet strains of an aria from "Aida" should be emulated. An automobile horn should be tickled into tuneableness.

Really, though, it should not be necessary officially and publicly to admonish a horn, and, it would not be so if the latter had been properly and carefully brought up and instructed in etiquette. Since large cars are now such harmonies of color and graceful line, they need but a symphonee note to complete the ensemble. Smaller cars should remember that, like small children, there is merit in being seen but not heard.

While boisterous horns should be "soft-pedaled" with "mufflers" and "mutes" with "check absorbers," yet there is a limit of restraint, for pedestrians in traffic would prefer to be asked even peremptorily, rather than not at all, to get out of the way.

A few years ago, when this automobile signal was a mere wind instrument, blowing its own horn is noisy excuse might have been excused on the ground that it was the exuberance of childhood. But today the automobile horn should realize that it has reached the high-pedestal estate of an electrically driven mechanical device, and reasonable decorum is to be expected.

BLESSED IS HE

Blessed is he who finds pleasure in his work, for his is the kingdom of happiness. He who is dissatisfied with his task, whether that task be commonplace or spectacular, is a drudge. It is the opinion of William Feather, however, that:

"Most of us are getting more fun out of our work than we realize. Looking back, how amusing were those early years, between twenty and twenty-five, or between twenty-five and thirty. What jokes we played, what parties we had. The days which seemed hard now enrich our memories.

This year's, this decade's struggle will seem equally sweet and eventful when time has healed a few scars.

What I hope to suggest is that without effort to overcome obstacles, without a fight to master our circumstances, we are scarcely living at all. The harder and more vividly we live the more happiness we get out of life. The best hours are those that involve making a living."

THE NATION'S SCANDALS

National politics have had a particularly unwholesome smell in recent years. There was the veterans' graft, Veteran's Bureau graft, tax dodging graft, Teapot Dome graft, and several other varieties all equally nauseating. The amount of money stolen from the government by the two-legged rats who have bored their way into national confidence is not particularly serious, but millions of dollars more or less in the national treasury make very little difference to the welfare of this community. The discouraging thing about this picture is the knowledge that public officials have betrayed their trusts and the thought that what has been done will probably be done again.

Much of this graft has been uncovered, which is encouraging. Fortes and several others went to jail. A few have paid dearly for their corruption by being discredited in the eyes of the public, and are now facing trial. While probably only a few of the more flagrant violations of the law have been uncovered and many will never be known, yet there have been sufficient convictions to serve as a warning to others that wealth and influence are but always a sufficient shield for wrong-doing.

It is no use, in fact it is not right, to attempt to cover up some of the bad political deals that have been made at Washington.

The relationships between the oil millionaires and the party leaders have been disgraceful, if not worse.

The fact that those concerned may be republicans, or might be democrats, neither enlarges nor minimizes the offense.

Human nature is the same the nation over. It is not in the sense. As in small affairs there are individuals who cannot resist temptation, so there are men in larger affairs who succumb to the allurements of easily earned money.

The only difference is that in one case the requirement is hundreds or thousands of dollars and in the other ten and hundreds of thousands.

But the government of the United States still carries on.

SOME GOOD AND SOME BAD

Tragiceous Tim, a farmer of the Northfield community, has contributes to the News-Journal of that city, makes the following observations on county agents as a whole:

"I used to enjoy going to the Lent meet that an agricultural representative can have and a poor one can't wreck the pender to bloo him up. I have been at the county for a long time and have burned into county agents in the various states and I can honest a lot about them. There are some that spend a stance what is to be done to better the economics of their county and then there others that spend all their time talking and writing what ought to be done and never do it. Wants Agents are not like other kinds of hired men—are good, some poor—the former cannot be paid too much and the latter are dear at any price. But just there is another side to this county agent business and that is farmers must learn to work with them.

The Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture regards the bounty system as of past question as both expensive and ineffective, citing as an example that while the amount paid for wolf bounties steadily increases the number of wolves does not diminish. The Government Bureau expresses the belief that "under this system hunters resort to all sorts of schemes to maintain their income."

While State of Minnesota has defaulted in its payment of the mothers' pensions the checks for bounties are still going out regularly.

THE DEATH OF A DOG
(Chapel's Weekly)

I'm feeling blue today all right. Not 'cause I'm deep in debt, but 'cause a chunk of poison bait has finished poor old Shep. No more he'll lick my hand in love, no more we'll bark with glee, no more he'll watch my every move, old Shep has gone from me. I've lost a splendid, true, old dog; I've lost a faithful friend. I've placed him underneath the sod, but what a cruel end. He never had a sporting chance to fight a worthy foe, but gulped the bait beside a fence, then stiffened out, and so, I see his aimless, pleading look, his agonized goodbye for a few more jerky breaths he took, poor Shep, he had to die. Whoever laid that poison bait can be no friend of mine. My dog deserved a better fate; no wonder I repine. I'll miss his company by day, I'll miss his guard at night, my kids will miss him in their play, such treatment was not right. If he had met a worthy foe, or lost an honest fight—but no, he never had a chance, and I am sad tonight.

WHEN THE EARTH MISBEHAVES
(Duluth Herald)

It is small wonder that the people of Smyrna fell shivering in their knees in prayer Saturday.

There was, first, an appalling play of lightning. Then the waters of the sea rose like steam and whirled and receded as if boiling over a hot fire in an open kettle. Next the earth was shaken by a mighty earthquake that killed many people.

To most people nearly all of the time, the earth is a symbol of solidity and permanence. It is the solid foundation under them, unmoving and, apparently, unchanging.

To have that solid earth behave like a stormy sea under a cyclone it is to daunt the hardiest soul. To have that disturbance of the earth accompanied by terrific electric explosions in the air while the waters of the nearby sea suddenly upheave like the contents of a boiling pot is to shake the foundations of popular confidence in the stability of anything.

"The attitude of some men toward progress is that they simply won't stand for it."

FROM THE CELLAR WINDOW

The latch on the bathroom door at our house went haywire a few weeks ago and now it seems that everybody either whistles or sings while taking a bath.

If our telephone operators keep getting more polite it may not be long before each telephone call will be preceded with something like the following dialogue reproduced a couple of weeks ago by O. O. McIntyre:

Number, please?
No. 42144 Aquarium, if I'm agreeable.
Thank you, you are so kind.
I'm so glad you liked my number.
I adored it. It was lovely of you to think of me.
It was so sweet of you to say that you liked it. How wonderful you are, anyway!
You thrill me when you say that. Excuse me, please, but what number did you call?

Bill Patterson accomplished quite an astounding feat when he moved his house in from Maple by railroad. We didn't know Bill very well, but we have a hunch that the house could have been bought pretty reasonable about this time it was on the center of the bridge over the river.

A friend of mine lost a fine police dog the other day and when he told me about it I tried to sympathize with him, but I just couldn't make the grade. I don't like police dogs and if they all die I will not be able to shed a tear. I like dogs, but many dogs aren't dogs—they are wolves. They may be intelligent and when properly trained they may perform some remarkable feats, but the place for them is the great open spaces. They shouldn't be allowed in the city.

I can now understand how a person can become a killer. It has never been easy for me to kill anything. Take for instance in hunting. I've always enjoyed shooting down a thieving coyote as much as anyone, but somehow, when the chase is all over and the fight of hope gradually passes out of the eyes of the victim and he gives me that look of hatred as he makes the last struggle with death, my joy in the scene has always taken the joy out of hunting for me and sent me home wondering if it wouldn't be better all around if all fights could end in a draw. I couldn't figure out where anybody could get a thrill out of killing. It's different now, however, I can now appreciate the joy of being bloodthirsty. And the thing that completed my education in this respect was a cockroach.

This cockroach came to our house and decided to settle down to light housekeeping. He took up quarters somewhere near the sink and proceeded to raise a family and from then on there was war in the kitchen. When it comes to raising reproduction the cockroach don't have to take a back seat for anybody and from what I looked as though he had us whipped. A cockroach may be just a baby cockroach in the morning but by nightfall he's a great, grand, daddy cockroach, and might after nightfall all the other cockroaches in the neighborhood get together and decide whether we just scared them out, but at any rate none have been seen for several weeks. It was a great education. I can now understand how a man can develop an efficient hate to take a joy in killing. I hate cockroaches and enjoy killing them.

Felix Anderson, who farms in Black River Township, was served with a bad attack of California fever a few years ago and decided to "see west young man." So he sold off the farm, bought a new Chevrolet coach and woolen underwear and motored into the land of sunshine. He left here in the fall of the year, according to what he told the folks the other day when we visited at his place. He was back again in time to put in a crop. He didn't like California and if he ever does he'll probably be done again.

Much of this graft has been uncovered, which is encouraging. Fortes and several others went to jail. A few have paid dearly for their corruption by being discredited in the eyes of the public, and are now facing trial. While probably only a few of the more flagrant violations of the law have been uncovered and many will never be known, yet there have been sufficient convictions to serve as a warning to others that wealth and influence are but always a sufficient shield for wrong-doing.

It is no use, in fact it is not right, to attempt to cover up some of the bad political deals that have been made at Washington.

The relationships between the oil millionaires and the party leaders have been disgraceful, if not worse.

The fact that those concerned may be republicans, or might be democrats, neither enlarges nor minimizes the offense.

Human nature is the same the nation over. It is not in the sense. As in small affairs there are individuals who cannot resist temptation, so there are men in larger affairs who succumb to the allurements of easily earned money.

The only difference is that in one case the requirement is hundreds or thousands of dollars and in the other ten and hundreds of thousands.

But the government of the United States still carries on.

SOME GOOD AND SOME BAD

Tragiceous Tim, a farmer of the Northfield community, has contributes to the News-Journal of that city, makes the following observations on county agents as a whole:

"I used to enjoy going to the Lent meet that an agricultural representative can have and a poor one can't wreck the pender to bloo him up. I have been at the county for a long time and have burned into county agents in the various states and I can honest a lot about them. There are some that spend a stance what is to be done to better the economics of their county and then there others that spend all their time talking and writing what ought to be done and never do it. Wants Agents are not like other kinds of hired men—are good, some poor—the former cannot be paid too much and the latter are dear at any price. But just there is another side to this county agent business and that is farmers must learn to work with them.

The Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture regards the bounty system as of past question as both expensive and ineffective, citing as an example that while the amount paid for wolf bounties steadily increases the number of wolves does not diminish. The Government Bureau expresses the belief that "under this system hunters resort to all sorts of schemes to maintain their income."

While State of Minnesota has defaulted in its payment of the mothers' pensions the checks for bounties are still going out regularly.

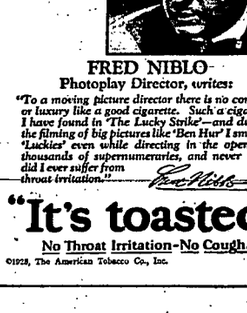
THE DEATH OF A DOG
(Chapel's Weekly)

I'm feeling blue today all right. Not 'cause I'm deep in debt, but 'cause a chunk of poison bait has finished poor old Shep. No more he'll lick my hand in love, no more we'll bark with glee, no more he'll watch my every move, old Shep has gone from me. I've lost a splendid, true, old dog; I've lost a faithful friend. I've placed him underneath the sod, but what a cruel end. He never had a sporting chance to fight a worthy foe, but gulped the bait beside a fence, then stiffened out, and so, I see his aimless, pleading look, his agonized goodbye for a few more jerky breaths he took, poor Shep, he had to die. Whoever laid that poison bait can be no friend of mine. My dog deserved a better fate; no wonder I repine. I'll miss his company by day, I'll miss his guard at night, my kids will miss him in their play, such treatment was not right. If he had met a worthy foe, or lost an honest fight—but no, he never had a chance, and I am sad tonight.

WHEN THE EARTH MISBEHAVES
(Duluth Herald)

It is small wonder that the people of Smyrna fell shivering in their knees in prayer Saturday.

There was, first, an appalling play of lightning. Then the waters of the sea rose like steam and whirled and receded as if boiling over a hot fire in an open kettle. Next the earth was shaken by a mighty earthquake that killed many people.



To most people nearly all of the time, the earth is a symbol of solidity and permanence. It is the solid foundation under them, unmoving and, apparently, unchanging.

To have that solid earth behave like a stormy sea under a cyclone it is to daunt the hardiest soul. To have that disturbance of the earth accompanied by terrific electric explosions in the air while the waters of the nearby sea suddenly upheave like the contents of a boiling pot is to shake the foundations of popular confidence in the stability of anything.

"The attitude of some men toward progress is that they simply won't stand for it."

"To a moving picture director there is no comfort or luxury like a good cigarette. Such a cigarette I have found in 'The Lucky Strike'—and during the filming of big pictures like 'Ben Hur' I smoked 'Luckies' even while directing in the open air thousands of supernumeraries, and never once did I ever suffer from throat irritation."

CHEVROLET

USED CARS
"with an OK that counts"

Because we are delivering more new Chevrolets than at any other time in our history, we are offering a number of exceptional values in reconditioned used cars.

Our used cars carry an official O. K. tag which is reproduced on this page. Attached to a used car by a Chevrolet dealer it signifies that every vital part of the car has been inspected, properly reconditioned and where worn, replaced by a new part. The outstanding feature of this plan lies in the fact that it enables anyone to select a used car with absolute confidence as to its sound factory operation, and the price is absolutely fair and right.

Reasons why you should buy your used car from a Chevrolet dealer

1 —Chevrolet dealers have been selected by the Chevrolet Motor Company on the basis of their financial responsibility and dependability.

2 —Chevrolet dealers offer used cars on a plan certificated and endorsed by the Chevrolet Motor Company.

3 —Chevrolet dealers have the necessary modern tools and equipment to properly recondition used cars.

4 —Chevrolet dealers desire the goodwill of used car buyers the same as they enjoy from new car buyers.

DINING OUT

It is a great treat to dine out occasionally. Aside from that it gives Mother a change to rest up a mud and that is more of a relief than the rest of the family appreciate.

Of course the food couldn't be as good as Mother's, but it will make Dad and the children appreciate Mother's good cooking in the future.

First River Accident Is Reported at Dam Monday When Boy Falls in Flume

A lad about fifteen years old was pulled out of the new flume at the hydro electric plant Monday having taken a tumble into the icy waters. This is the first accident of this nature since the new power house and improvements on the dam were completed last fall. Parents are advised to warn their children not to play on the concrete walls.

The company has ordered the iron gate at the corner of the power house, to be padlocked from now on to prevent people from walking along the narrow ledge above the flume.

visit the battlefields about Verdun, Chateau Thierry, the Argonne and the Marne where were staged some of the final bloody chapters of the World War, has missed an opportunity of realizing just how great and decisive a part our boys played in winning the war. We visited the "Trench of Bayonets' where an entire company was buried in action with bayonets sticking up, by a shell explosion. An American man built a concrete protection over the spot, under which bayonets are seen, and the bodies remain interred as they met death. Over the battlefields poppies bravely bloom among the helmets, shells, pieces of machine guns, swords, forks, and other relics not yet picked up.

"At the national convention in Philadelphia I heard a man say to another, 'Why all this record low?' The other man replied 'Oh, don't you know we had a war once?' I wish he had traveled the road as I did the battlefields with us. Yes, we did have a war, and now there are rebuilded homes and cities destroyed, billions of dollars spent, and 124,416 of our boys gave their lives, the hospitals in the United States have 27,000 now in, the first one as a result of the war. It is pathetic to think a great deal of the loss of our beloved boys could have been prevented when we were attacked by a militaristic nation. I believe it is the duty of every American citizen to get solidly back of the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary, in their program for peace, adequate defense, and care for the disabled man and his family."

Four Local Rail Clerks on Great Northern Road Will Get Pay Increase

Four employees at the Great Northern station here come under provisions of the awards of the board of arbitration, awarding an increase in pay of four cents per hour to 4,000 employees of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks employed by that road, according to W. E. Bixler, local agent of the Great Northern.

The award is said to be retroactive to last August, and will thus give over $25,000 back pay to the clerks of the system, and will increase the payroll almost half a million dollars per annum. The clerks had asked for an increase of ten cents per hour.

Those affected here are Esther Gjertsen, Archie Laflin, Gladys Barker and Gilman Woodridge.

Judge Andrew Grindeland Third Candidate to Enter Fourteenth Judicial Race

Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren last Thursday filed for the nomination for reelection as judge of the Fourteenth judicial district of Minnesota, including Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Polk, Norman and Mahnomen counties.

Judge Grindeland was the third to enter the race for the district, J. M. Bishop of this city being the first to enter the race, filing on Jan. 10, with Judge William Hunt of Crookston filing on April 4; he also seeking reelection.

Judge Grindeland was appointed to the bench by Governor Jacob A. O. Preus in the early part of 1927, to succeed Judge Albert Stokes, who resigned to enter private practice of law.

Health, and engages in the use of chlorinated lime preparation for an antiseptic solution.

Inspection of the general condition of the milk supply in Thief River Falls and the results of the butterfat tests of the milk of the ten leading dealers in the city have been carried on during the past year, it was announced. The average butterfat content of any sample was 3.70 percent; February it was 3.65 percent; March it was a little more than 3.63 percent. The requirements of the State Board of Health and of the city ordinance here is a percentage of not less than 3.25. However, the highest percentage for the three months of any of the dealers was an even four percent last month by one of the dairymen, with another showing 3.98 per cent. In January the highest was 4.02 per cent and in February it was 3.90 percent.

Livestock Specialist From State "U" Coming to Talk Sheep Raising

W. E. Morris, livestock specialist with the extension department of the University of Minnesota, will be in Thief River Falls for two days this week, meeting County Agent Robertson, Mr. Morris will be in town the week beginning April 16, and will spend both Tuesday and Friday nights, Mr. Morris is leading on the raising of sheep, that being his specialty. The speaker is expected to arrive Tuesday afternoon over the Great Northern railroad, where he will be met by the county agent of Lake of the Woods county, leaving early Saturday for a day at Crookston.

The meeting this evening will be at Maple Grove, a community club was recently organized by the county agent, and preparations are being made for one of the largest community meetings in the county for some time past. The meeting is scheduled for Friday evening will be in the school in district No. 59 at Erie, where efforts will be directed along boys' and girls' club work.

Plans are progressing for the big get-together meeting in the St. Hilaire school building next week Thursday evening, April 19, at which Supt. E. Helgeson of this city will assist in conducting the meeting, at which time it is hoped to perfect another boys' and girls' club.

County Agent Douglas has two or three other meetings in view within the next ten days, but the exact dates thereof have not been furnished to him by the teachers of the schools where the meetings will be held.

Golf Directors Name Standing Committees for Ensuing Season

Each day for a week or more several golf enthusiasts have been making use of the golf course north of the city, limbering up for the coming season. On Sunday G. P. Hinton and J. P. Curtis played a fie game, while on Tuesday Mr. Hinton played a par on No. 2 and a Birdie on No. 7.

On Monday evening a meeting of the directors was held at the Curtis Drug store, at which time the standing committees for the year were announced as follows:

BASEBALL SEASON IS NEAR

There has been some talk of baseball here this coming season, but as yet nothing has been done looking toward the organization of a local team. At Goodridge the fans have erected a fine new wire fence backstop and will soon place the grounds in condition for use this coming season. McIntosh, Fertile and other towns in the Cretson are expecting to have teams within the next few weeks.

BUS FORCED INTO DITCH BY TRUCK FROM WARROAD

The Triangle Transportation company's bus plying between Thief River Falls and Crookston, by way of Red Lake Falls, was forced off the trunk highway No. 32 a short distance south of Lake county line, the bus becoming mired in the hub-deep mud.

The driver sent word to Red Lake Falls where the truck was stopped pending definite word as to whether any damage had resulted from the carelessness of the truck driver. The only trouble reported was delay to the passengers and the cost of having to be pulled out of the deep mud.

$102.50 FINE AND COSTS METED OUT IN CITY COURT HERE

Adolph Gjermo of Okloe, for whom a warrant was issued last summer, was arrested by Sheriff Ole Jhle, Monday night at Okloe, and brought to Thief River Falls to answer to the charge of drinking intoxicating liquor at a public dance in Mayfield township on July 30, 1927.

The accused pleaded guilty Tuesday morning when brought before Judge N. M. Tarrant in municipal court, receiving a fine of $75 and costs, amounting to $27.50, making a total of $102.50, in city days in the county jail. The fine and costs were promptly paid and the defendant left at once for his home at Okloe.

The arrest was the outgrowth of the continued complaints of drinking and public dances in the rural districts, the accused having been charged with dances previous to the issuance of the warrant for his arrest.

DISTRICT COURT OPENED AT RED LAKE ON MONDAY

The spring term of district court for Red Lake county convened Monday morning of this week at Red Lake Falls, Judge William Watts of Crookston presiding. With only nine civil cases on the docket the session was a short session as was anticipated.

Thief River Commercial Students Enter District Contests Next Saturday

High school students of 16 districts in the state will compete next Saturday for the right to enter finals for state typing and short-hand championships at University Farm two weeks later.

Winners in district competition, which will be sponsored by Minnesota State High School Commercial Contest committee, will compete at University Farm in advanced and beginning typewriting, shorthand, and a one minute accuracy test for typists.

Nineteen contests are scheduled to take place Saturday, the size of three of the districts necessitating two contests instead of one. Thief River Falls contestants will go to Crookston, as will also Ada, Bagley, Barnesville, Crookston, East Grand Forks, Fosston, Hallock, Mahnomen, Red Lake Falls, Roseau, Stephen and Warren.

PROVISION MADE FOR WOMEN

Alterations are being made on the second floor of the Pennington county court house to provide convenience for women jurors at the term following out the action recently taken by the county commissioners, who ordered the alterations.

EXCAVATION FOR BASEMENT EASY WITH FROST ALL GONE

Rapid work in the excavation for the basement of the house on Main avenue north, moved in from Nebish by W. A. Patterson, was rushed on Monday of this week, the first time any disappeared to such an extent this late in the year, the accomplishment being three teams in two days' time.

We Are 26 Years Old and Proud of It

April is a month of memorable events. It was then that Ponce de Leon landed in Florida, the Battle of Lexington was fought and Washington became the first president of our Republic.

Perhaps when Our Founder opened a small general store twenty-six years ago on April 14th, there were few who guessed that it would be more than "just another store." Not even he himself could vision the hundreds of stores which would dot a continent and the millions of customers they would serve.

If our progress, however, meant nothing more than that, it would be unimportant—even to us. We measure our success in terms of human service. We count not the number of stores but the communities we serve and a business of over $150,000,000 means only one thing—the opportunity to give you more comforts for your dollar and to bring within the reach of your pay envelope beauty and convenience that was once thought possible only for a privileged few.

HANS ANTON TELLS HOW TO ERADICATE SOW THISTLE PEST

Great Northern Road Sends Him Down to Wadena County to Talk to Farmers

Hans Anton last week spent several days in Wadena county making several talks to farmers at special meetings held at Aldrich, Sebeka and North Germany under the auspices of the agricultural extension department of the Great Northern road sending Mr. Anton down there at its expense on the latter's request to speak on methods of controlling the sow thistle pest.

The Wadena Pioneer-Journal contains an interesting account of the several meetings, in part saying:

Methods Advocated in Talks

Mr. Anton is a dairy farmer and keeps quite a large number of livestock on his farms. If he notices any of his fields getting infested with sow thistle, he will sow such fields into sweet clover for some other grass seed for pasture or hay. In keeping this for a few years in hay meadow or pasture he weakens the roots of the sow thistle having found that they will not interfere with the grain crop after it has gone into cultivation again. Mr. Anton is a strong believer in sweet clover for all kinds of livestock and for building up the fertility of the soil. In using those methods he has cleared all but the last six or seven years he has been engaged in farming of any trouble with the sow thistle pest which has been doing considerable damage in the Red River Valley.

Mr. Anton states as follows: "I believe in the farmers cooperating with their town boards and county commissioners in fighting this weed pest. Law enforcement has been ineffective to a certain extent in the past but if the farmers will see the danger and financial difficulty, that is befall them if they do not find this weed pest, they will be very willing themselves to do their very best to put this pest under control."

Every Farmer Must Help

Sow thistle cannot be entirely exterminated in this country until every farmer and land owner takes steps to eradicate it. As long as there is one or more fields left in any section to produce seed, total eradication cannot be accomplished. We hope that each of these parties mentioned, with the assistance of the county agent, will work out some plan so they will not have the heavy losses that has been sustained by other counties in the northwest.

STATE WIDE DECLAMATORY CONTEST IS CONCLUDED

In the declamatory finals last Friday night at the University of Minnesota high school students from Fish City, Virginia and Stillwater were the winners in three divisions, Curtis Griffin of Fish City won first place in the oratorical division; Bernina Canossa of Virginia, the first in the dramatic section and Robert Passley of Stillwater, first in the humorous division. H. C. Bell of Waverly, president of the declamatory association, presided at the declamatory finals.

Police Tag Autoists in Campaign to Rid Streets of Dangerous Practices

Fifteen autoists' driving without tail lights during the past few days have been slips by police to have the error corrected and to report within 24 hours to Judge N. W. Tarrant that the lights were in working order. Slips were also handed to two others who were driving their autos with only one headlight, while two were tagged for not having 1928 license tags on their cars.

Mayor W. W. Prichard last week issued orders to the police department to start a campaign to rid the city of these practices, furnishing the police with specially printed notices. It is given to those who were violating the state traffic laws, as well as city ordinances.

Friday night was the first time the slips were issued and each night since then has been one or two served with the yellow notices.

Golden Eye Ducks on Red Lake River Near Dam, Says M. Forder

Golden Eye Ducks, the earliest of migratory fowl to return from their winter habitats in the south to summer in the northern lake and marsh resorts lakes and streams, were reported seen in the vicinity of the dam above and below the power dam in the past week by Deputy Game Warden Hilton Forder.

They are supposedly the advance guard of the flocking migrants that will live in the sheltered spots for which the Red Lakes and Ontario are noted. As early as they arrive in the spring, they leave in the fall too early to be caught napping until the hunting season opens. Few are ever found in the hunting bags of sportsmen.

The birds do not follow the regular flight of migratory fowl, although they follow the Mississippi flyway both in the spring and fall, but in the spring, they change their late summer migratory path by detouring northeast through Canada to the Atlantic coast, according to state game authorities here last autumn, to escape the depredations of their enemies.

On the Atlantic coast, the birds follow the course of gulf streams, there to arrive at a leisurely pace until they arrive at the southernmost point of their migration when Minnesota is plunged in heavy snow and ice.

FIRST WINNIPEG TOURISTS VISITED CITY LAST WEEK

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. McCabe of Winnipeg were probably the first tourists from the Canadian metropolis to visit this city this season, they having spent two days here last week on a drive thru resort places in the northern part of the state.

Presaging the thousands that will arrive here later on their summer vacations, Mr. and Mrs. McCabe are taking an auto trip through the lake country while ice still covers the water surfaces and remnants of the last snow remain in sheltered nooks along the highways. They report that the roads were in good condition and that they were highly enthusiastic over pre-season travel among the lakes and in the pine country.

Uniform Headlight Testing Plan Makes Enforcement of Law Easier, More Certain

With the coming of spring and more general use of the highways at night, police in many sections of the state have begun a close check of automobile headlights. Under the law passed by the last legislature, standards for testing automobile lights have been established by the State Highway department, and the uniform tests being made at the official lamp adjusting stations make enforcement of the law against glaring lights easier than formerly.

More than thirty garages in various parts of the state have been designated official testing stations by Commissioner C. M. Babcock. The only garages in the part of the state so far licensed are at Roseau and Baudette, while local garages have written to the department seeking a license.

A number of applications from other stations are pending and these will be added to the list when the premises and equipment have been inspected by the Highway department. The department requires these stations to have a room with a level floor large enough so that cars can be stopped 25 feet from the testing screen, and to have a level test floor for the car to stand at any time. A licensed adjustment is required. To date 221 men have taken the two day course conducted by the division of motor vehicle Institute and passed the required examinations.

How to Test Lights

The Minnesota traffic law requires that all motor vehicles on the highways at night have lights which will illuminate the roadway 200 feet ahead, but they must not be glaring or dazzling. A person arrested on a charge of having improperly adjusted lights shall have forty-eight hours in which to produce a certificate that his lights have been properly adjusted.

Where no testing station is close at hand, car owners may test their lights by stopping on a level road on a foggy night and turning on the lights. If no part of the room been floor shows a horizontal plane passing through the lamp centers parallel with the road, the lights are probably O. K. but if the main beam points upward, the lamps should be adjusted as quickly as possible. Nearly all garagemen can make tests and adjustments, but only officially appointed adjusters can issue certificates which have any standing with the police or the courts.

Properly adjusted lights not only promote safety but they make night driving much more pleasant, it is claimed.

Missionary Society of Adams Presbytery Meets at Crookston Two Days

The twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Adams Presbytery will be held in the Presbyterian church at Crookston today and tomorrow. The meetings opened this noon with an executive luncheon at the Hotel Crookston, followed by a session in the church at two o'clock.

The meeting tonight, Thursday, will be open to the public and is said to be of exceptional interest. There will be a morning and afternoon session tomorrow, Friday, the meeting closing to a close with the meeting in the evening.

Mrs. Howard Campbell of Chisholm, Minn; Mrs. B. F. Colville, synodical president, of St. Paul; and Miss Marie Preston of Chicago will be among the prominent guests at the meetings.

Coming after the spring quarterly meeting of the Adams Presbytery at Red Lake Falls held Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, it will permit several members of the local church to attend the Crookston meeting. It is about five years since the last session of the Missionary society was held in Thief River Falls.

Commercial Club Asks Shipstead's Support of Solvig's Mud Lake Bill

The Commercial club of this city last week went on record as favoring pending legislation in congress looking to re-imbursement of settlers in the Mud Lake basin, Secretary George Wilson being instructed to notify Senator Henrik Shipstead of this action.

In conformance with the wish of the club the following message was sent: "The Commercial club of Thief River Falls today voted unanimously to ask you to support the Solvig bill appropriating funds for paying settlers on the Mud Lake lands for improvements."

The bill has already passed the House, as noted in The Times of last week, and is now before the Senate.

Plans Being Considered to Boost Entire Valley of Red River of North

The tentative plans outlined at the meeting of the publicity committee of the Red River Development association at a meeting to be held in Crookston, April 20, are being considered by the news items from the various papers in the entire valley that may be of interest not only to people residing in the valley proper, but also to residents in other parts of the state and country.

It is planned to have these items gathered from the Valley newspapers which are sent to the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston. Many of the items have been clipped by the librarian by the students of the school of agriculture, W. H. Lowe is in charge of the work. Following the discussion of the newspaper publicity items, the summer experience in the association's work will be taken up and it was the opinion of those present that the association should have a tour to either the north or south part of the district at some time during the early part of the summer. This tour would undoubtedly be a two day affair.

The stamps used in the United States in a year if placed end to end would reach around the earth 10 times.

GOPHER CLUB JUNIORS BEST ESSAY WRITERS

For the third successive year a Minnesota 4-H dairy calf club member has won first prize in the essay contest entitled, "What I Learned in 1927," a project sponsored by the extension service of the Holstein-Friesian Association America. First prize, says the official club paper of the association, has been awarded Miss Mary Hergott of Saratoga, Waseca county. Gladys Lange of Litchfield captured first honors in 1925, and Theodora Hall of Rochester stepped Minnesota to the front in the 1926 awards. A testimonial to the industry had signed up for another year.

BOOK BORROWINGS AT LIBRARY SHOW DROP LAST MONTH

Fiction in Strong Demand as Non-Fiction Continues to Slump Each Month

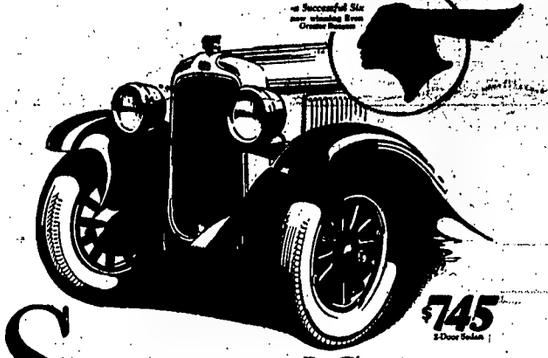
March showed a loss over February in the number of books borrowed at the Carnegie library, according to the monthly report of Mrs. Hazel Ingram, librarian, who also stated today that the reading room attendance, also has fallen off slightly, possibly due to the nice spring weather, which tends to keep people outside at this time of the year, and to several entertainment features going on.

Borrowings for January were 3,508, with 3,182 for February and 3,137 for March, a total of 9,827. There is a slight gain, however, over the withdrawals a year ago, and the library board is very hopeful that this year will see all previous yearly totals broken, indications pointing to a total for the year, as compared to total for the year, 20,000 as compared to 26,000 the previous high record.

The daily average withdrawals in January were 140, in February they were 127 and last month 116, while the average for the year may be carried out as 126 for January and March, with 120 for February. There is an increasing demand for books of foreign, there having been 46 called for and 43 in February and 69 in March.

Fiction in Big Demand

The demand for fiction this past month took a decided spurt a total of 1,042 books being borrowed of that type, compared to 2,001 in January and 1,962 in February. Non-fiction books slumped very perceptibly the past three months, January having been 1,291 volumes called for, with February having a record of 1,148, while in March only 961 volumes of that class went out.



The number of juvenile books has shown a steady decline each of the past three months, the January record having been 1,216, in February it was 1,253, while in March only 1,209 volumes were loaned. The demand for adult literature dropped in February, but came up again this past month, the January figure having been 1,986, while in February it was 1,762, and last month, 1,820.

Sensational Success —based on sensational value

You need to know only a few of the exclusive superiorities offered by today's Pontiac Six to understand that its sensational success is based on sensational value. It is the lowest priced six in the world with body by Fisher. It is the lowest priced six offering the G-M-R cylinder head, the cross-flow radiator and the AC fuel pump. It is the only low-priced six combining 185 cubic inches piston displacement, a full-pressure oiling system, interchangeable main bearings and instant action four-wheel brakes.

Add to these evident advantages in design the fact that it is the lowest priced six built by General Motors—that in the hands of 200,000 owners it has won a worldwide reputation for endurance, long life and high resale value—and then you will know why Pontiac Six sales are continually reaching new record-breaking heights!

Coupe, $745; Sport Roadster, $745; Cabriolet, $795; 4-Door Sedan, $825; Sport Landau Sedan, $875. Oakland All-American Six, $1045 to $1265. All prices at factory. Delivered prices include minimum handling charges. Easy to pay on the liberal General Motors Time Payment Plan.

CERTIFIED SEED IS SOUGHT BY FARMERS SAYS COUNTY AGENT

State College of Agriculture Warns Against Increase in Spud Acreage in 1928

County Agent Robert M. Douglas continues to receive many inquiries for certified seed potatoes, the latest of which direction having been increased by the recent meetings of potato growers here and in other parts of this immediate section. He states that several farmers who have been raising spuds each year are now planning some on cutting down their acreage and increasing the quality of their yield instead.

Farm management specialists of the Minnesota college of agriculture recently warned state farmers not to increase their potato acreage this year. George A. Pelton, one of the college experts said potato growers in 35 late crop states ought to increase their potato acreage by ten percent, and that growers in the early potato states expect to increase their acreage by five percent.

If these intentions are carried out and yields are only average, said Mr. Pelton, the production will be increased since 1922, and this probably would mean a lower average price for the United States, a large production usually has been accompanied by lower prices.

In view of these facts, Mr. Nelsen, the county agent, would advise all to reconsider any plan for an increased acreage in potatoes in 1928.

"For the next few years," Mr. Nelsen pointed out, "Minnesota has grown more acres of potatoes than any other state in the nation. In three of the past five years the state has produced more bushels of potatoes than any other state."

Production of certified seed potatoes in 1927 for the United States was about 40 per cent greater than in 1926, and 60 per cent greater than in 1925, but even so per cent below the record in 1924, according to a report of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics, which gives the 1927 production as 4,250,000 bushels, as 1926, as 1,272,248, which did not include the production in Maryland, Virginia, North and South Dakota, Washington and Wyoming, where figures were not available.

The demand from growers' hands is called slightly lower than last year with prices about 75c a bushel below the last year prices.

Cobbler and Green Mountain are the leading varieties certified in 1927 the last two years. Other varieties listed in the order of their amounts are Netted Gem, Triumph, Early Ohio, Rose and Russet Rural. Certified seed potatoes that have passed government field inspection among women factory workers in New York state are sold by Mrs. Gertrude D. Disette, of Niagara Falls, who has just completed 83 years of work.

Local Men to Attend Penney Organization Meeting in St. Paul

H. B. Nelson, manager for the local J. C. Penney company store, and Geo. Hovey, left Wednesday night to attend the convention of the organization to be held in St. Paul on April 12 at the Hotel St. Paul. Archie Dahl of Roseau, and O. F. Ellsworth of Crookston will accompany the local men, the party being gone about two weeks.

Some one hundred store managers of the company from Montana, Wyoming, North and South Dakota, Wisconsin and Minnesota will come into direct contact at the convention with the buyers and executives of the company from the home office in New York.

The convention program will include five days of general sessions and discussion, followed by a banquet. At the buying session, which follows and lasting several days, Mr. Nelsen will have the assistance of the expert buyers of the company from New York in selecting from his purchases his merchandise requirements for his customers here.

Four of the managers are scheduled to deliver addresses. The principal speaker will be Glen C. Mills, director of the company in charge of real estate; F. W. Dinsen, assistant organization manager; H. M. Bullock in charge of employment; L. L. Coleman, advertising manager; and A. W. Hughes, who will preside as chairman of the gathering.

O'Neil Urged Repeal or Amendment of U. S. Grain Grading Laws

D. P. O'Neil, a member of the State Board of Grain Appeals, and formerly a resident of this city, acted as chairman of the state delegation in Washington last week where hearings were being conducted on the Shipstead bill to repeal the United States grain grading act.

C. M. Bendixen, a farmer and a member of the Minnesota board above mentioned, told a senate agricultural sub-committee that state inspectors could tell more about wheat grading than did federal inspectors. Mr. O'Neil urged that if the act were not repealed it be entirely amended. It is modified so that "the ordinary farmer can understand what it means."

"There are so many grades and the system so technical that we farmers who know wheat—find that we don't know what it is all the time when the federal men start grading," he said.

What is believed to be a record for continuous service with one concern among women factory workers in New York state is held by Mrs. Gertrude D. Disette, of Niagara Falls, who has just completed 83 years of work.

GRADE CROSSINGS ARE LESS NUMEROUS THAN 7 YEARS AGO

Many Eliminated on State Trunk Highways—Others Made Less Hazardous

The number of railroad grade crossings in the Minnesota trunk highway system has been reduced from 1014 to 823 in the seven years since the system was put into effect, according to figures given out by Commissioner C. M. Babcock, of which four were in Pennington count. But this does not tell the whole story. The crossings which have been eliminated were among the more hazardous ones, where traffic was heavy or where it was impossible to see approaching trains.

Of those remaining, 153 are slated for elimination by future road relocations. This leaves 410 grade crossings for which no elimination plans have been made so far, but many of these are on spurs or branch lines where traffic is light. Where grade crossings cannot be avoided, an effort is made to locate the road and clear adjoining land so that approaching trains will be visible.

All crossings where trains are not really visible are designated "stop" crossings by the state Railroad commission. Where traffic is heavy, the railroads have in many cases installed automatic warning signals, in spite of the increase in automobiles, deaths in grade crossing accidents in Minnesota have been reduced from 34 in 1919 to 29 in 1926 and 27 in 1927. These figures include accidents on the state and local roads and city streets.

Of the grade crossings removed, 102 have been eliminated by relocation of the road and some by building subways or bridges over underpasses. There were 31 overheads and 47 underpasses in the original trunk highway system. Some of these have been eliminated by relocation of the road, and some moved or rebuilt to eliminate hazardous approaches, but 78 have been built there are now 80 overheads and 70 underpasses on the trunk system. The figures include projects under construction.

Home Lovers Series To Be Broadcast in April and May by Hamline "U"

Presenting a second group of prominent authorities in the field, Hamline University will begin Thursday evening, April 12, its Home Lovers' series of radio programs to be broadcast during the regular Hamline Hall Hour from eight to eight-thirty o'clock each Thursday evening over station WCCO, St. Paul-Minneapolis.

More than two hundred high school students will participate in the programs, when Hamline University presents seven high school bands and orchestras in seventeen-minute concerts. Each Thursday evening, an outstanding high school musical organization will broadcast during the Home Lovers series of Hamline Hall Hour programs.

Edward F. Waite, for many years Judge of the Juvenile Court in Minneapolis, and now United States District Judge, will open the Home Lovers program Thursday, April 12, with a discussion of "The Home as an Institution." He will discuss the effects of modern trends in home life, centering his talk around the Companionate Marriage. Judge Waite, through his many years of official and unofficial contact with the institution of the home, is well equipped to discuss this important subject.

GONVICK LEGION WILL SOON ERECT CLUBHOUSE

American Legion members of the Gonvick community, who on Washington's birthday staged a logging bee and cut down sufficient trees to build a rustic clubhouse, will themselves construct the clubhouse as soon as a foundation can be erected on a site donated by the post opposite the high school building.

When the legionaires staged their logging bee, aided by the auxiliary members, who served dinner, they cut and hauled to the building site a total of eight loads between the hours of 10 a. m. and 6 p. m. The trees, good sized poplars, were cut in a farm on the north of Gonvick, the gift of Thomas Hestberg, owner of the farm.

Paint will go a long way in making buildings last longer and give better appearance. Well painted buildings also add to the attractiveness of the farm as a home.

THREE COUNTIES APPROVE PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE PLAN

At the meeting of the Pennington county board a week ago Commissioner J. R. Hoy, also a member of the Oakland Park Sanitorium commission, informed the county board that the commission was considering the advisability of putting on a public health nurse, and said that the State of Minnesota would contribute $1,000 toward the support thereof.

A tentative estimate of the cost of such a plan for Roseau, Marshall, Pennington and Red Lake counties would be about $250 for each of the counties for the cost of the salary of the nurse, and an expense account extra. Roseau and Red Lake counties having previously served in the plan, the Pennington commissioners felt in line, leaving Marshall county the only one not having taken any action as yet.

Exploration Soon of Headwaters of Mississippi River

Clearwater county will shortly be visited by an exploring party from Minneapolis to again endeavor to locate the source of the Mississippi, the start of a proposed canoe trip from the source to Minneapolis to be from the north. Those making the race to be staged in connection with the Aquatic Exposition in the Ann City diner in the matter.

Most of the country without question the traditional conception of the Mississippi's headwaters county, as the source of the "Father of Waters," a few brief remarks by Scout Executive F. J. Grady of the Minneapolis Grand Forks area. The territory under the supervision of Mr. Grady embraces headwaters from North Dakota from Minot on the west, to Bemidji on the east in Minnesota. The duties of Mr. Nagel take him all of the Dakotas, North and South Dakota, Minnesota and the northern half of Wisconsin.

Scouting Principles Not New

In ancient days, when Jesus was at his height in power, he said to his pupil, the youth of that country were taught three prime objects, namely, to about a bow, to ride a horse, and to tell the truth. Later, in the Athens, the boys' city of Athens were schooled in being loyal to their own city, country and citizenship. Later still, in the days of chivalry became the Knight's Code of chivalry became the objective of the boys of that time.

And so on down thru the ages till the present time, Mr. Nagel said, the youth of the world have been learning to do the work of men. The past two years have seen many more boys in crafts as apprentices, and learning them.

Ordinarily, said the speaker, every boy has about three thousand hours each year that are his own, to do with as he sees fit, and it becomes the mission for these hours to be properly guided in the right way, and there is no better way than under the leadership of scout masters. The building of boys' characters is one of the first principles of the scout movement, said Mr. Nagel, (and a wonderful one, said Mr. Nagel, during the 18 years it has been in existence.)

Origin in America Told Of

The boy scout movement in this country was started by W. D. Boyce, of Chicago, following a trip he made to England, where on the streets of London he was aroused by the helplessness of a scout he came in contact with there. Returning to America he interested other men in the aims of scouting and today there are over 4,000,000 boys have been members of scout troops, receiving inspirations of worth while citizenship. At the present time there are about 900,000 members enrolled, and the figures point to a total of 1,200,000 by the end of this year.

Same as Camp Urged

There has not been a single fatal accident to a scout while on one of the summer hikes or camps during the past three years, according to the speaker, but many of the lads may not be scouts objectionable Camp Ripley during summer time.

The Scout handbook, which has just been released, has had a total distribution of 1,500,000 copies—the largest circulation of any book except the Bible. The book is full of useful information, and is filled with many suggestions of value to the scout but to older persons as well, according to the remarks of Mr. Nagel.

Friday, The Thirteenth, Occurs for Second Time This Year; Who's Afraid?

For the second time this year "Friday, the thirteenth" has arrived, tomorrow being Friday, April 13. There was one in January, and another is scheduled for July, making a total of three this year.

On Friday, the thirteenth of January, there were no accidents, fires, deaths or births recorded in Thief River Falls, altho on that day a baby daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fuller of Maple. Nor were there any marriage licenses or weddings performed on Jan. 13, according to records at the court house.

There is some conjecture as to possible developments tomorrow by those inclined to be superstitious, but others say the day will be full of good luck.

3 Mankato Girls Win State Debate Honors in Minneapolis Friday

Southern Minnesota high school debaters won this year over those from the northern part of the state, three girls from the Mankato high pulling down the championship honors Friday night from their host Central high of Rapids, the final contest of schools from Minnesota being held at the University of Minnesota.

The three girls from Mankato debated the negative side of the question: Resolved, That the United States should construct an all-American Great Lakes-Atlantic waterway rather than cooperate with Canada in the Great Lakes-Atlantic project."

Millions of Model T Fords are still in active service

FOR nearly twenty years, the Model T Ford led the motor industry and it still is used by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service today—an indication of their sturdy worth, reliability and economy.

Because of the tremendous investment which people have in these cars and because so many of them will be driven for two, three, and even five more years, the Ford Motor Company will continue to make replacement parts until, as, Henry Ford himself says, "the last Model T is off the road."

For the Ford Motor Company has always believed that its full duty consists not only in making a good automobile at a low price, but also in keeping it running efficiently for you as long as possible at a minimum of expense.

No matter where you live, therefore, you can still buy Model T Ford parts with the same assurance as formerly, knowing that they will give you the kind of service you have a right to expect, and at the same time protect the money you have invested in your car.

All Ford replacement parts, as you may know, are made of the same materials and in the same way as those from which your car was originally assembled, and are low in price because of the established Ford policy.

So that you may get the greatest use from your Model T, Ford over the longest period of time, we suggest that you take the car to the nearest Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of any replacement parts which may be necessary. You may find that a very small expenditure will maintain the value of your car and will be the means of giving you thousands of miles of additional service.

Increase Your Potato Yield 15 to 25 Bushels per Acre with This Instantaneous Dip

Treat your seed potatoes as fast as you can scoop them up. Just dip them in DIPDUST solution and out again—all ready to plant.

DIPDUST protects the seed and insures a heavy, profitable yield. It is made of pure chemicals, established by thousands of tests as the safest treatment—besides there is not the slightest danger of injuring the sprouts or even cut seed.

After one test of DIPDUST you will never again waste two hours treating seed potatoes or spend two years worrying about your stand. Compare this New Treatment with the older ones:

THE NEW WAY	THE OLD WAY
Dipdust Organic Mercury Disinfectant	Formaldehyde or Corrosive Sublimate
1. Requires less than 1 minute. One pound is sufficient to treat 10 to 400 bushels of potatoes per day.	1. Require from 1½ to 2 hours. Not more than can treat only from 50 to 75 bushels per day.
2. Can be used on cut or sprouted seed without injury.	2. Can not be used on cut or sprouted seed without injury.
3. After cutting, protects the cut surfaces from seed-rotting organisms in the soil. This insures a better stand of stronger plants.	3. Before cutting, give no protection to the cut surfaces. The seed frequently rots. This must be done before the young plants get started.
4. Controls rose-bug diseases, such as Rhizoctonia, scab, dry rot and black-leg.	4. Although effective against Rhizoctonia, scab, dry rot and black-leg.
5. Increases the stand and growth of the plants, and thus increases the yield 10 to 20%.	5. Frequently decrease the stand, and therefore the yield, to a serious extent.

One pound treats 15 to 20 bushels of seed potatoes.

GUARANTEE

Plant a few treated and a few untreated seed in the same row, under the same conditions, and observe the results. If you are not satisfied, return the unused portion to us and we will refund the purchase price.

Treat your Corn and Vegetable Seeds too

You can now also disinfect your seed corn and vegetable seeds with DIPDUST and increase your yield by preventing many of the diseases which cause poor stands, weak, spindly plants, and poor quality crops. Simply use as a dust when planting. It is easily and quickly applied and costs but a few cents per acre. A pound of DIPDUST will treat six bushels of seed corn, or from six to eight bushels of vegetable seed.

SEVERAL ALARMS ARE ANSWERED BY FIRE DEPARTMENT

Kleinnall Heaviest Loser When Cleaning Plant Was Total-ly Destroyed Monday

Fire of unknown origin about ten thirty Monday morning completely destroyed the small building and cleaning plant used by the Kleinnall Co., in the cleaning of wearing apparel and other articles, causing the financial loss of $2,500, well as greatly inconveniencing the establishment in the operation of its work, according to Oscar Hoguslet, proprietor. The building was located about in the center of the block between Third and Fourth streets, being just across the alley from the rear of the Reliable Motor Co.

A large number of suits, dresses and other wearing apparel had been left in the building over night, and Monday, and the machinery started. Mr. Hoguslet said that everything was all right when he left, and that the fire must have started from the electric motor. The building was a total loss, altho the machinery was saved.

Mr. Hoguslet said that everything was covered by insurance, and that he would rebuild. Mr. Hoguslet rushed to the scene with a chemical fire extinguisher, and nearly subdued the flames, but did not have sufficient water in the same to completely put out the fire.

Barrel of Naptha Explodes

Before the arrival of the firemen the place was again a mass of flames, the heat of which had a tendency to set fire to the just outside of the building, to become ignited to the point where it exploded. The flames were shortly afterward put out, but the contents and the frame of the building were so badly burned that there will be no use for it.

Either defective wiring or overheating of the electric motor caused the fire, according to Mr. Hoguslet, who stated that there is no danger for static electricity, the vat within which the clothes were being cleaned being submerged in two feet of water, according to requirements of the state laws.

No decision as to rebuilding has as yet been reached, the strictness of the statutes being such that only a fire proof building must be erected, and it must not be located in the block of another structure.

Another direction. However, the business of the concern will be con-

District Conference of Farmer Labor Delegates at Red Lake Falls May 1

The Farmer Labor association for the sixty-fifth legislative district, including Pennington county, will hold a district conference in the court house at Red Lake Falls on Tuesday, May 1, at one o'clock P. M. The meeting has been called for the purpose of selecting legislative candidates and devising ways and means for carrying on the forthcoming campaign, according to a letter sent out this week to the various delegates by the county chairman Walter H. Quist.

Invitations have been sent to the various candidates endorsed for public office by the county convention, and a very interesting and instructive program is expected, according to the letter sent out.

Alternates and other visitors in addition to the one regular delegate from each precinct are welcome to the conference, and it is expected that there will be a large attendance on that occasion.

TRACTOR AND GRADER HERE FOR FIRST PATROL DISTRICT

The tractor and grader recently ordered by the Pennington county commissioners for use in district No. 1 of the Thief River Falls is the establishment of a motor patrol arrived Monday and they will be placed in use immediately, according to Bert F. Umlaud, highway engineer.

ONE HUNDRED GUERNSEYS TO BE SOLD HERE

Soliciting Committee of Red River Valley Guernsey Breeders' Association Busy

SECURE FINE GRADE AND PURE BRED ANIMALS

North Dakota Breeders Will Join With Minnesota Men in Sale Here June 7

Over one hundred head of pure bred and grade Guernsey cattle will be sold at the ninth annual Red River Valley Guernsey sale to be held in this city Thursday, June 7, according to Paul Engelstad, chairman of the soliciting committee, who has been out for several days soliciting the fine stock from Guernsey breeders of the valley, not only in Minnesota but also in North Dakota, the latter state having been included in the Red River Valley Guernsey Breeders' association.

Prospects now point to a larger number of cattle being offered this year than in the past, and the animals shown the committee by the various breeders indicate a higher type of animal for sale. Every where there is apparent, the committee states, a desire to surpass anything previously held. The other members of the committee in addition to Mr. Engelstad are Harry Woolson, also of this city and Chas. Horlen of Strathcona, the latter secretary of the association as president, Ernest of Crookston, vice president, Paul Engelstad, Thief River Falls, secretary-treasurer, and Leonard Housley, Halstad.

At the annual meeting held at Crookston the recent Winter Show at Crookston the association went on record as favoring the enlargement of the organization to include several North Dakota counties in order to make the body a truly Red River Valley society. Originally included in the association were Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Polk, Norman, Becker, Mahnomen, Clay, Mahnomen, Becker, Norman and Clearwater counties, but now practically as many counties across the line in North Dakota are to be considered as belonging. At many of the past annual sales of the society, buyers from North Dakota have been present in considerable numbers, and the enlargement of the organization will only serve to increase the interest in the sales.

The committee sent out this week to solicit animals for the sale reports that the interest shown in the sale is unusually keen, and that the animals offered for sale are of a very high grade. Quite a few bred heifers have already been entered and the judging will take some time, it is predicted. When the results are announced the bred heifers will be placed on exhibition in the windows of the Lambert Drug store, and if there any too many for that place the J. C. Penney windows will also be used.

The list of prizes offered is as follows: first, $5 cash from the American Guernsey club; second, gift cash from H. K. Nelson, manager of the J. C. Penney Co.; third, a bottle donated by Lambert's drug store; fourth, a wool hatchet, donated by the Williams Hardware Co.; fifth, a wool jacket from the Geo Mere. Co.; and sixth, a fine razor offered by Olaf Nasri, jeweler.

There will be a joint meeting of the directors of the seven counties in the American Legion rooms in this city Thursday afternoon, at which time the boys will view the skill of the various counties in the building of the bird houses.

CROW HUNT PLANS WILL BE DECIDED NEXT WEDNESDAY

Interesting Program Announced for Spring Meeting of Izaak Walton League

The committee in charge of the big spring meeting, April 25, of the Izaak Walton league chapter announced the completion of plans for an evening of entertainment in the Commercial club rooms that will include a banquet to start the evening's program.

The program of the children's entertainment has been built up entirely from local talent, the object of giving the people of the city two hours of solid enjoyment. A humorous reading, some girls, instrumental music, an operatic number and a dialect reading.

Two songs are on the program by the junior Izaak Walton boys, a selection entitled "Holland Sister" by the primary girls, "Tiller Flies" by the intermediate girls, and a number by the two-act play make up the bulk of the entertainment. Practice on this program has been going on for two months and the children will be ready after a few performances by the day of next week. The entire program is under the direction of the Sister teachers. The entertainment committee extends to all a cordial invitation and promise an entire evening of real entertainment.

TALK AND DISCUSSION AT COMMERCIAL CLUB

Commercial club members today listened to a short talk on India by Rev. H. C. Schoberg and to a discussion of the proposed new state highway in Pennington, Hide for which will be received by the county commissioners tomorrow, Friday.

Building Being Remodeled for Pasteurization Plant

Active work on the remodeling of the proposed home of the pasteurizing plant to be established in this city in the building formerly occupied by the Shaw Insurance agency at the southeast corner of Second and Main was started this week, a concrete floor being laid over the former floor.

On the completion of this the machinery will be installed and in the front room, which will be visible from the street, will be the pasteurizing machinery, and the special equipment for filling and capping the bottles of milk. Twenty-by-six is also to watch the process of pasteurization and secure first-hand information about this so-called health-preservation industry. In the rear room, where for some time past has been located the LaLonde grain factory, will be the bottle washing machinery.

Leon Herbert, who is to manage the plant, has returned from Crookston and will superintend the placing of the machinery and other equipment, which will not only be used for pasteurization but also for the making of silage cheese.

Chief of Police Tagged Bank Dividend Declared, All on Friday, April 13

"Friday, the thirteenth," failed to bring any evil disaster to the city of Thief River Falls, or the immediate community, as far as the only matter of interest that might be attributed to the supposedly ill-omened day was the tagging of Chief of Police Chief of Police A. W. Crowe for driving his car with the lights out, contrary to state laws. He was detained in the city by night patrolman Wm. Sheedy.

Those who believe that Friday, the thirteenth, is an unlucky day point to the fact that last Friday, April 13, an order was filed with the Clerk of Court Arnold Eklund for a 30 percent dividend to be paid to the stockholders of the Farmers State bank of St. Hilaire.

There are no records of marriage licenses being issued on that day (last year, now of weddings performed; no births or deaths have been recorded, and no accidents or fires—in fact the day was a quiet one.

However the people generally throughout Minnesota last Friday felt the effects of one of the worst snow storms of the winter, especially in the central and southern parts, but here the snow melted.

It was also last Friday that the firemen was forced down on the ice in the Gulf of the Lawrence on its trip from Ireland to America—the first successful attempt to fly across the Atlantic from the old country. Fortunately for the lives of the men and they are today safe in Canada, the airship being left behind on the flight continued in another plane.

$5 Is Being Offered for Best Explanation of Term "Seventh Heaven"

Five dollars in gold awaits the person who writes the most comprehensive explanation of the term "Seventh Heaven", according to H. J. Brunnell, manager of the Lyceum theatre.

The rules did the expression originate and what does it mean, are two things that the management would like to learn. Anyone may send in their solution of the question, the contest closing on the last performance April 21. All answers to the operations should be left at box office.

Competent judges have been named and will announce the result of their deliberations on Thursday of next week, April 26, according to Manager Brunnell. Ward, W. L., Dahlquist and Clarence Pope.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR J. A. WASSGREN HELD WEDNESDAY

Several Immediate Relatives and Friends From Out of City Here for Obsequies

The Methodist-Presbyterian church was well filled Wednesday afternoon at the public funeral held for the late John A. Wassgren, who died suddenly Monday morning, April 16, at the Federal Dem. Many of the friends and relatives from out of the city were present, accompanied the cortege to Greenwood cemetery, where the remains were laid to rest.

Brief services were first held at the home, where Rev. H. C. Schoberg officiated, reading the twenty-third psalm and offering prayer. Rev. G. V. E. Engstrom, pastor of the Swedish Mission church at Warren, also of the Wassgren family was present here, offered the opening prayer at the church service, which were in charge of Rev. Schoberg, who read the scripture lesson, and after which the Wassgren family were received by the pastor, after which the church services, which were in charge of Rev. Engstrom, were concluded the sermon, taking as his text the fourth verse of the eighth chapter of Romans, and the 139th hymn of the Swedish service, the local Masonic order, of which Mr. Wassgren having been a member of that order.

Deceased, August 1, 1878, at the age of five years came with his parents to the United States, and settled in Warren, where they lived for a period and youth were spent. He passed thru the public schools of Warren, and was later graduated from the North Star college of that city.

He served the early part of the Soo Railway company on August 7, 1909, he was united in wedlock to Miss Abbie Miller, who with four children, Helen and Ruth, survives him. During the twenty-two years of married life they made their home in Thief River Falls.

Mr. Wassgren was a member of the Swedish Mission church, the Modern Brotherhood of America, of which he was a member of the Masonic order in this city.

Besides his wife and two daughters he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erick Wassgren; one sister, Mrs. George A. Wyman of Wausau; and two brothers, Alfred Wassgren of Portland, Ore., in the employ of the Great Northern railway, and a large number of other relatives and friends.

Out of Town Mourners

Among those from out of the city present at the funeral services were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wassgren, Mr. and Mrs. G. Lindstrand, Mr. Lennart Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Ovesk, Mrs. Axel Skoog, Mrs. Jonn Wassgren, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. E. Engstrom, all of Warren; Mrs. Carl Clark, a sister of Mrs. Wassgren, of Spokane, Wash.; Mrs. Alfred Skoog, Rose City, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Brown and son, Robert, of Rose City, Ia.; Axel R. Wassgren, of Grand Forks; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wyman of Wausau; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans of Middle River; and Mrs. Harry Schaefer also of Middle River.

Additional information regarding the fatal accident to John A. Wassgren last Tuesday, indicates that death possibly occured before the unfortunate man was crushed by the oil tank car under which his body was found by the train crew, when they discovered he did not emerge from between the two sections of the train after the train had come to a standing of additional cars near the middle of the train.

The crew had the train all made up and ready for the departure of a few cars of coal, and had backed down the track to where the rear section of the train was to be left while waiting for the extra cars. This was at 8:45, according to the statement of the crew, and after giving the signal for cutting off the engine and for the engine to step, Mr. Wassgren passed between the two cars at the point of cutting the train.

When Mr. Wassgren did not appear after the train was cut, the crew suspected something might have happened, and the discovery was made of his body confirmed their fears.

ALL ASSESSORS OF COUNTY GET INSTRUCTIONS

New System of Appraisal Cards to be Used in Determining Taxable Values

TAX COMMISSION SENDS ABLE INSTRUCTOR HERE

Real Estate and Personal Property Will Both Be Assessed This Year

H. B. Bacon, a representative of the Minnesota Tax commission, spent Thursday of last week with the assessors of Pennington county, conferring them in their duties regarding the new methods of taxation as called for in the making of assessments of both real estate and personal property, both of which are made this year.

Assessors in all counties this year are required to use a card system for valuing real property. Two forms of appraisal cards are being used, one platted and one for unplatted lands. On these cards specific information is to be filled as to the case of dwelling houses, the material of which it is built and the class in which it is placed with the valuation of so much per cubic foot of space.

In class "A" will be placed the houses with full basements, cement floors, laundry tubs, hot water heat, modern plumbing, electricity or gas, built-in fire places, and hardwood finish. In class "B" would be the houses with no fire places and the old style plumbing. In Class "C" would be the houses with part basement, soft wood finish.

New Card System

The unit measure of value is to be applied to farm buildings is also the structures are rated at so much per foot according to the material of which it is built, whether stone, brick, and their general condition and finish.

The appraisal card system has been adopted by the State Tax commission and it will be a permanent record which will be available not only to the assessors in counties across the Red River in North Dakota are also considered as belonging. At many of the past annual sales of the society buyers from North Dakota have been present in considerable numbers, and the enlargement of the organization will only serve to increase the interest in the sales.

The committee on this hunt have had several meetings but have not as yet completed the plans for the hunt, but are progressing and will soon be ready to announce the plans in detail.

Many Bird Houses Already Entered By Scout Members

Interest today has been running high as to the outcome of the Boy scout bird house contest, which will come to a close this evening at eight o'clock when all bird houses made by the members of the three troops must be in the hands of the judges, Mrs. Della Zeh, H. C. Hand and Clarence Dyke. Quite a few bird houses have already been entered and the judging will take some time, it is predicted. When the results are announced the bird house will be placed on exhibition in the windows of the Lambert Drug store, and if there any too many for that place the J. C. Penney windows will also be used.

The list of prizes offered is as follows: first, $5 cash from the American Guernsey club; second, gift cash from H. K. Nelson, manager of the J. C. Penney Co.; third, a bottle donated by Lambert's drug store; fourth, a wool hatchet, donated by the Williams Hardware Co.; fifth, a wool jacket from the Geo Mere. Co.; and sixth, a fine razor offered by Olaf Nasri, jeweler.

There will be a joint meeting of the directors of the seven counties in the American Legion rooms in this city Thursday afternoon, at which time the boys will view the skill of the various counties in the building of the bird houses.

Pupils of St. Bernard's Will Give Entertainment at Auditorium Apr. 27

On Friday of next week, April 27, the pupils of St. Bernard's school will give their annual school entertainment in the auditorium, beginning at eight o'clock.

The program of the children's entertainment has been built up entirely from local talent, the object of giving the people of the city two hours of solid enjoyment. A humorous reading, some girls, instrumental music, an operatic number and a dialect reading.

Two songs are on the program by the junior Izaak Walton boys, a selection entitled "Holland Sister" by the primary girls, "Tiller Flies" by the intermediate girls, and a number by the two-act play make up the bulk of the entertainment. ENTERS GOVERNORSHIP RACE

George T. Simpson of Minneapolis, former attorney general of Minnesota, last Saturday filed his application for the nomination of the Republican party for governor. He is the only candidate so far to oppose Gov. Theodore Christianson. Mr. Simpson is a cousin of Scott Latta of this city.

P. T. A. Votes Against Department of Education and Secretary in Cabinet

By a vote of 52 to 39 the members present at the April meeting of the local Parent Teachers' association Monday night decided against the establishment of a department of education with a secretary in the president's cabinet, following a discussion of the advisability of such a step on the part of the federal government.

The matter was ably presented to those present at the meeting in the public school assembly room by Julius W. Osheim, Paul A. Lundgren advocating the proposed change, while W. E. Dahlquist opposed the step.

Miss Ruth Schelberg gave a piano solo and Chester Myrin a vocal solo, accompanied by Mrs. Thelma Holm Erickson. Mrs. P. W. Mabry, secretary, read the minutes of the last three meetings, and the members voted to send delegates to the next meeting by secret ballot.

First Exaulted Ruler of Local Elks Lodge Sees 16th Ruler Installed

It so happened last Friday that Merry E. Iver, the first clerk of court for Pennington county, happened to be in the city, and that evening visited the local Elks lodge, on which occasion Merrie Eye was installed as exalted ruler. Mr. Ivve was the first to hold that position, which Mr. Ilye is the sixteenth, the lodge having been organized here in the fall of 1911.

The exalted rulers intervening in the years of holding office and who are still members of the lodge are P. H. Herrick, Andy Anderson, L. H. Johnson, H. W. Prestsley, L. Larson, G. W. Connell, W. W. Pickard, C. A. Paulson, L. M. Rayson and C. Sterholm

Officers were installed Friday night, and the lodge voted to change the regular meetings from the first Friday in each month to the second and fourth Thursdays, following the opinion that there would be less conflict with other events scheduled for those nights.

The lodge has been very active the past year in its welfare work, over $600 having been distributed among the poor of the community, much of this being done at Christmas time.

LOCAL U. C. T. TO PUT ON INITIATION AT HEMIDJI

All of the officers of the local U. C. T. council will go to Hemidji Saturday morning to take charge of the initiation work for the Hemidji council, to be held Saturday evening. The local officers include Clare Swenson, H. W. Hemisch, A. G. Gabrielson, Andy Anderson, Christ Sterholm, H. A. Carpers, I. D. Scanlon, G. Hark Jung, Action Hall and A. A. Bergen. Julien Provencher and several other members are also planning on the trip.

Wednesday's Storm Tied Up Few Country Roads in This Vicinity Is Report

This community was threatened with a bad blizzard a high northeast wind piling the five inch snowfall into deep drifts in places. However, by late evening the wind had gone down and the temperature only dropped to six above zero during the night, and this morning the bright sun and clear sky gave promise of a rapid disappearance of the snow.

The truck highways did not become blocked, nor the main travelled country roads, altho most of the side roads were badly blocked by drifts, the brush and trees catching the snow.

Each day for the past week has seen a maximum temperature above the freezing point a few degrees the latest being 52 on Tuesday, with the minimum down as low as 11 above Saturday morning.

Minnesota-North Dakota Librarians Will Gather at Fargo and Moorhead

Mrs. Hazel Halgrim, librarian here, and secretary of the state library board, attended the spring executive meeting of the Minnesota and North Dakota Librarians' association, held at Fargo Monday of this week. Oct. 9, 10 and 11 were named by those in attendance as the dates for the annual conventions of the two organizations, the affair being a joint conference, permitting of noted speakers appearing at the one date in a case less than would otherwise be the case.

The Moorhead convention will be held in Moorhead and the North Dakota group will meet in Fargo. By holding the two meetings at the same time, it is expected that a number of teachers in the two states will be attended jointly by members of the Minnesota and North Dakota organizations.

The board members were guests at a luncheon.

MAYOR OF DETROIT LAKES HERE BOOSTING NELSON

Mayor A. C. Erickson of Detroit Lakes was in the city last Thursday in the interest of the candidacy of former Mayor Arthur Nelson of St. Paul, who is a candidate for the republican nomination in June for the United States Senate. Mayor Erickson called on several of the leading citizens of the city, and left Thursday for other points in northwestern Minnesota.

Don't dose a Child's Cold

CONTINUAL dosing upsets children's delicate stomachs.

Vicks is applied externally and therefore cannot disturb the digestion. It acts in two ways: (1) The body heat releases the ingredients in the form of vapors which are inhaled.

(2) At the same time Vicks "draws out" the soreness like a poultice.

Output of 50,000,000 Acres of Farm Land in Leading 1927 Exports

The output of approximately 50,000,000 acres of American farm land was represented in last year's exports of cotton, wheat, wheat flour, barley and rye, according to an estimate by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Commerce department, announced by Dr. Julius Klein, Director. Official figures give the combined value of these exports during 1927 as $1,023,366,000. It is estimated that from 112,000,000 to 120,000,000 acres were required to produce the entire domestic crop of these commodities.

In announcing the estimate, prepared on request, Dr. Klein pointed out that the export acreage would be increased materially if consideration was given to other leading commodities, such as tobacco, corn, corn fed pork, and cotton textiles.

Nearly 9,500,000 bales of cotton, valued at $826,000,000, found their way into foreign markets during 1927. It is estimated that it required about 30,000,000 acres of land to produce just the raw cotton exports.

During the calendar year 1927 export trade in wheat, wheat flour, barley and rye amounted to 8,537,000 short tons, representing the production of about 50,000,000 acres.

Flour exports during 1927 represented 12,826,000 barrels. In addition to the acreage and farm labor figures given, the figure covering shipments of flour also involve the grain handling facilities, and storage in over 450 average sized mills every working day of the year. The part trade in flour represents over ten per cent of the country's entire milling.

It is interesting to note, according to Dr. Klein, that from 250,000 to 300,000 freight cars were necessary to haul the flour and grain products aboard for shipment to foreign markets.

"Life has had for me immeasurable charms. I recognize at all times there has been granted to me the loving care and guidance of God. My sorrows have been alleviated and lost their acuteness from a firm belief in closer union in eternity. My misfortunes, disappointments and losses have been met and overcome by abundant proof of my mother's faith and teaching that they were the discipline of Providence for my own good, and if met in that spirit and with redoubled effort to redeem the apparent tragedy, they would prove blessings. Such has been the case."—Chauncey Depew.

ONE MAN AND A SHOVEL

Much has been written during the past few months on the present unemployment problem in the United States, the situation being somewhat unique in that there seems to have been an increase in unemployment at the same time that there has been an increase in production. Many observers have attributed this condition to the increased use of machinery and the development of more efficient machinery in our factories. There seems to be considerable difference of opinion as to whether or not the tendency toward more efficient machinery is a good thing for humanity as a whole.

Along this line we read an interesting article on the general effect of machinery in a trade journal that came to our desk this week. The writer cited as an example the good to humanity of so simple a machine as the ordinary steel shovel, and urged us to consider how great the loss to the nation would be if men had to do the work without shovels that is now done with shovels. One man, with a shovel, could undoubtedly do as much work as five men without shovels. Five men working without shovels would produce so little that even if they were paid starvation wages their labor would still be high-priced. By giving one of these men a shovel he could earn good wages and the cost of labor would be lowered.

What this writer said is very true. He neglected, however, to tell of what became of the other four men who were thrown out of employment. And this seems to be the present problem of industry. How can those be employed who are forced out of work by the use of more efficient machinery, whether that machinery be a better spade or a better locomotive?

In the past this condition seems to have adjusted itself to a large extent. Production has increased fast enough to absorb most of those who have been replaced by machinery. For the past hundred years there has been a steady increase in the usefulness and efficiency of machinery without, until recently, any ill effects. There has been some suggestion now that the proper remedy is a further reduction in the working hours. Others feel that the condition is a result of a general movement of labor from the country to the large industrial centers and that the proper remedy will be a movement back to the farm.

WHAT THE TARIFF ON FLAX MEANS

Senator Shipstead and Congressman Selvig have made efforts to secure more favorable tariff protection for farm products in the present session of Congress, but it seems that there is little likelihood of action along this line. There is a wide variety of opinion among people in this country as to whether or not agriculture is benefitted by the tariff. There might be cause for some difference of opinion as to just what the net result of all tariffs is, but there is no question but that the prices of certain farm products is stimulated a great deal by this protection. The Morris Tribune calls attention to the effect of the tariff on the price of flax in the following editorial:

> From week to week The Tribune publishes the weekly market letter of the United States Department of Agriculture. Attention is called this week to the price of flax at Duluth of 32.21 on March 31, and at Buenos Aires of $1.07 on April 5. This is the difference in favor of the American farmer of 37.79 cents. Approximately this same difference prevails from week to week and month to month, and has prevailed ever since the tariff of 40 cents per bushel was placed on flax. Multiply the yield per acre by 40 cents, and the result is anywhere from $5.00 to $10.00 per acre increased return due to the tariff. Yet we are importing $40,000,000 worth of flax, which might just as well be produced here if increased protection were given. There is a good sample of what the tariff is doing for the farmers, and of how much more it might do if it were boosted sufficiently to further encourage flax growing. Flax acreage could be practically doubled without danger of the price being adversely affected.

A news dispatch from Pembina, North Dakota, states that two oil wells are being drilled in that community and that geologists are quite confident sufficient quantities of the liquid gold will be found to make pumping profitable. Every year these reports get closer and closer to us, and some day all of us may be on the selling end of stock promotion schemes. The best stock, as far as this country is concerned, however, is still live stock. The cows produce the kind of gold bricks that are marketable twelve months a year.

"No more transcontinental canals until the Great Lakes are connected with the sea," is the slogan of the central west, says the Willmar Tribune in commenting on recent requests in Congress for appropriations for surveys of plans for enlarging the Panama or building a Nicaraguan waterway. It is reported that the present canal has just about reached its capacity as far as handling traffic is concerned and that in another ten years it will be entirely inadequate.

The central west certainly will be justified in opposing any efforts to improve the shipping facilities from coast to coast until the shipping facilities from the interior to the coast have been given the proper support at Washington.

This would be a good world if it were half as easy to do what is right as it is to tell somebody else what they ought to have done.

THE MELTING POT

America is indeed a melting pot. Our population is a composite of all the races that rounded originally over Africa, Asia and Europe. All that is bad and all that is good of the old world is represented here in the new, and is part of the present America. The tendency under this condition toward nationalistic groups is decreased by Collier's Weekly, in a plea for a more tolerant spirit among these groups toward each other. During the past ten years, according to this article, we have been seething with nationalistic ferment. Each, according to his own vision and his own prejudices, has been trying to make over America in his own image. The article continues:

> Almost every nationality which has found a refuge on these shores is endeavoring to have American history rewritten to enhance its own reputation. The melting pot for the time being seems not to be fusing the various elements but rather to be emphasizing our differences in a multitude of white hues.
> The entire subject of nationalistic exuberance is destructive and dangerous to everything essentially American.
> English is our language and out of British laws and British customs is woven the pattern of our life as a nation, but it is absurdly superficial to attribute to any single racial stock responsibility for what has already been achieved or to fear for the future.
>
> America is not Britain transplanted, nor Germany, nor Ireland, nor Scandinavia, nor Italy, nor Russia but only the shortsighted are insensitive to the advantages conferred upon us by each of these lands and by emigrants from many others.
> The most unfitted of any race is to believe that they are the people nor wisdom shall die with them. Every strain which calls itself American appreciates its own merits and regards less favorably the characteristics of its neighbors.
> Let's not deceive ourselves. All are needed if America is to realize her inherent possibilities.

Approximately this same difference prevails from week to week and month to month, and has prevailed ever since the tariff of 40 cents per bushel was placed on flax. Multiply the yield per acre by 40 cents, and the result is anywhere from $3.00 to $6.00 per acre increased returns due to the tariff. Almost every nationality which has found a refuge on these shores is endeavoring to have American history rewritten to enhance its own reputation. The melting pot for the time being does not so fuse the various elements but rather is the emphasizing our differences in a crucible of white heat.

The entire subtrest of nationalistic exuberance is destructive and dangerous to everything essentially American.

English is our language and sort of British laws and British customs is woven the pattern of our life as a nation, but it is absurdly superficial to attribute to any single racial stock responsibility for what has already been achieved or to fear for the future.

America is not Britain transplanted, nor Germany, nor Ireland, nor Scandinavia, nor Italy, nor Russia but only the shortsighted are insensitive to the advantages conferred upon us by each of these lands and by emigrants from many others.

The oldest instinct of any race is to believe that the life pattern best wisdom shall die with them. Every strain which calls itself American appreciates its own merits and regards less favorably the characteristics of its neighbors:

Let's not deceive ourselves. All are needed if America is to realize its present possibilities.

Nobody can say that one race has created a better civilization than another. Only a stupid person would say that Germany or France or Britain or Ireland or Sweden produced better men and women than any other country.

The British are good at government and the Irish are deft in politics and the Italians sing well and have a talent for painting and sculpture. The Slavs have a peculiar reputation for tolerating differences of political opinion but they write great books and compose marvelous music. Even a peasant from Central Europe may have artistic aspirations and capacities far beyond the imagination of the most substantial American of older stock.

We can't benefit our country by despising or hating our fellow countrymen, however they may differ from us.

"How broad minded some of us are when we are dealing with problems that don't effect. How unsympathetic; how narrow minded we become when we face our own troubles."—William Feather.

THE MAJORITY ARE SWINDLES

(Lake Park Journal)

Two weeks ago we published the obituary of Rasmund K. Koefoed who died at the home of Stephen Haugen, near Cormorant. Mr. Koefoed died a pauper and was buried at county expense. Now comes a pitiful aftermath to his death. In his effects was discovered a large quantity of various oil and mining stocks, all worthless, with no face value, the sum of over $30,000.00. All of this stock is presumably worthless since none of it is listed in current stock price lists. The lists of stock totals 56 in number, totally worthless concerns, most of them probably crooked, who mulcted from Koefoed his entire life's savings. Here are just a few of the many: Excelsior Process Gold Mining Co., $12000; Nevada Commercial Mining & Milling Co., $1000; Paymaster Gold Mining Co., $4000; Colorado Fairfax Oil Co., $2500; Cripple Creek Hubbell Mining Co., $1000; Gold Dream Con Mining & Milling, $4000; and so on through the list.

It is hardly necessary to point out the moral in a story such as this. The point is this: There is still a tremendous amount of this type of stock being sold today, through mail order investment concerns, and many people are still buying the pretty, but worthless bits of paper. It is a broad statement to say that all mining stocks sold by mail are swindles, but it is safe to classify the vast majority as such.

A NEW BOY SCOUT

(Cornelia St. Miller)

Probably there is nothing in the world more appealing than a small boy just turned Boy Scout.

He awakes to the realization of his own importance in the world. Consciously he throws out his chest and straightens his shoulders. His eyes shine with an inward knowledge that he has now become a man. His very gait betrays a swagger with a certain alertness.

With deep earnestness he repeats the oath and the law and thrills at the words. The full meaning of which he does not entirely grasp just at first.

His face, his ears, his hands and his finger nails shine with a bright new cleanliness. His hair presents a beautiful water-soaked appearance at least three times a day, without a word of parental suggestion. His teeth shine with encouraging regularity. His manners need less prodding than ever before.

Each morning finds his Boy Scout handbook under his pillow. His bed sprouts with sundry lengths of string tied into intricate knots, according to the illustrations in the book.

There is much talk of hikes, of rumslops, of camps, of money to be earned for a uniform. The nickle-plated sayings tank up never to flow forth again.

For the full personification of breathless interest in life's every day happenings see a new Boy Scout of your acquaintance. It is contagious.

SMALL GAME HUNTERS

(By Roy L. Smith in Farmstead, Stock and Home)

Theodore Roosevelt is credited with having made big game hunting a popular sport, but no one is needed to popularize a certain sort of small game hunting that is carrying a hundred thousand American communities.

You can find some people in every neighborhood who seem to get more satisfaction out of finding fault, in a saint, than in finding some good in a reputable. Such folks are always on the lookout for small game—for the mean, contemptible, selfish and disgusting things in life. Their motto is, "If something ain't wrong, it ain't right."

This habit of small game hunting is one of the worst ones which one can fall. It ruins happiness, blasts us to all good, wrecks hopes, breaks hearts and spoils whole communities.

A famous soprano came to our city last winter and gave a concert that was a joy and inspiration to every music lover who heard her. Only one false note was struck during the entire evening—a flatted high note that came at the end of a particularly difficult passage. Thousands of perfect tones were sung that night, but one of the local critics, the next day, gave almost one-third of his space to the discussion of that one flatted high note.

A critical gentleman went to listen to one of our greatest American preachers of a generation ago and came away saying, "That man is a fraud. He can't preach. I heard him make three mistakes of grammar in one sentence." All the lofty thinking and noble idealism of the great sermon was lost in three little mistakes.

He is a good preacher all right, but I don't like the way he combs his hair," was the verdict of one small game hunter, concerning a famous pulpiteer.

"I have never been able to forgive my husband for the time he lost at our wedding rehearsal," said another small game hunter, with a sigh, as she sat in the midst of a beautiful home that her hard-working spouse had provided for her.

One swallow does not make a summer, one hypocrite does not make an entire church, one crook does not represent the rank and file of an entire party, and one spelling in the bread cannot make death of all the chicks.

Blessed is the man who can forget the little things that are wrong, in his enjoyment of the big things that are right.

Beware of the small game hunter!

EXAMINATIONS IN 55 RURAL SCHOOLS NOW ANNOUNCED

County Supt. Gunderson Issues Instructions Received From Department of Education

State high school board examinations will be held in the rural schools of Pennington county on April 24, 25 and 26, under the program to be arranged by the state department of education, Superintendent of the county, sent this week to all rural school teachers by County Supt. George M. Gunderson. The following program was sent this week to each county superintendent by the state department:

Tuesday, April 24: spelling at 9 A. M.; grammar and composition at 10 A. M.; elementary American history at 2 P. M.

Wednesday, April 25: arithmetic at 9 A. M.; and elementary citizenship at 2 P. M.

Thursday, April 26: geography at 9 A. M.; and hygiene and sanitation at 2 P. M.

The examinations will be given at those schools where the teacher indicated on the requisition card, mailed out recently, that they are wanted, that the school did not close before the examinations, that the pupils could be cared for at an adjoining school, and where the pupils were willing to come back to the school and hold examinations during the the school closes before examinations.

Pupils living in districts where the examinations are not held may do so if they may wish to write, may go to the point to which the schedule shows they are attached.

Any districts not listed in the schedule indicates that the teacher did not want the examinations or that he or she had no pupils expecting to write the examinations.

In case of illness of the examiner or for any other cause that pupils of a district cannot be accommodated, those pupils cannot be accommodated at the county examination in the court house in Thief River Falls, where the Normal Training department also takes the examination.

Funeral Services Are Held Today for Mrs. Carl Crown

Funeral services are being held this afternoon at two o'clock from the Augustana Lutheran church, for Aser O. Bloem officiating, for Mrs. Carl Crown, who died Sunday at Fergus Falls. Following the services the services will be held from the Black River church at 3:30. Rev. Nelson officiating and interment will be made in the Black River cemetery.

Born in Sweden 64 years ago, Mrs. Carl Crown came to America in 1885, settling in Polk Centre township, her marriage to Mr. Crown taking place three years later. For the past eight years she has made her home in Thief River Falls. Surviving her are her husband, five sons, Lloyd, William, and Gust, of Thief River Falls, Albert and Knut of Mandan, N. Dak., and a daughter, Esther, of Minneapolis. One son, Casper, was killed in action in France during the World War.

MRS. KAREN LUND DIES AT HER HOME HERE TUESDAY

Funeral services will be held from the Trinity Lutheran church Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, for Mrs. Karen Lund, who died at her home north of the city, in Rustad's addition Tuesday, April 17.

Mrs. Lund was born in Norway in 1860, and when a young woman became the wife of Ole O. Lund. She then came to this country making their first home in Minnesota, later living later at Goodridge, and the last eight years in Thief River Falls. Nine children are left to mourn their mother's departure, Casper, Engval, Alfred, Iaals, Laura and Olga. Another two brothers in Norway also survive.

NORDEN TOWNSHIP RESIDENT TAKES LIFE EARLY TUESDAY

Edward Trosum, a cousin of Olaf Trosum of this city, and a resident of Norden township for the past 17 years, took his life early Tuesday morning, using a shot gun, according to Coroner Dr. H. W. Fredrichs, who ascribed despondency as the probable cause of the act.

Mr. Trosum was born Feb. 14, 1871, in the southern part of the state, coming to this section many years ago, and living with his brother, Albert on a farm about seven miles west of this city.

The remains were shipped yesterday to Fairdale, N. D., where funeral services were held this afternoon.

BOUNTY IN MARSHALL COUNTY ON GOPHERS, CROWS, CHUCKS

ANNUAL J-H MEETING AT ST. PAUL ON APRIL 20

The annual meeting of the Jefferson Highway association will be held in St. Paul on April 20, according to word received today from Carl E. Mahlstedt, president, of St. Joseph, Mo., who is generally known to members of the association as "Mahl," having visited the city on several occasions in the past.

Among matters of importance to be considered at the meeting is that of centering the organization, and if so, the location of headquarters. There are changes in the executive of the J-H, Centering of the association for another year, and election of officers and directors.

L. C. Hodgson of St. Paul is vice-president of the association and also one of the advisory board.

DRAMATIC PAGEANT GIVES HIGHWAY SAFETY LESSON

A dramatic pageant on highway safety, for presentation before school assemblies, has been prepared by the Minnesota safety council, and will be offered to schools and churches by the council, it was announced this week. The pageant was written by F. A. Bright, high school principal of Belgrade, Cobb, and the first prize in a national competition on highway safety plays for safety educational young people.

The pageant, together with complete instructions for production, will be furnished gratis to all schools and churches interested in safety education. It may be obtained by writing to the office of the Minnesota Road Builders association, Earle Sullivan, Washington, D. C.

C. M. Babcock, commissioner of highways of Minnesota, has been president of the Jefferson Highway Builders association the past year, promoting and assisting in many of the major activities of the association.

6,000 WELL DITCH IN FIRES

IN 1927, IS ESTIMATE

Based on the average of 618 fires a day, or about one every three minutes, that have been recorded by insurance companies for years, H. S. Hamline, member of the National Fire Protection association, says it is safe estimate that 6,000 fires will be lost in more than 225,000 fires that will occur in 1928 in city dwellings throughout the United States.

The loss of $446,000 in residential property is burned up annually which means that every five years such fires run a sum that would assemble into "provide" dwellings for the entire population of the Hamline, Ala., Omaha, Neb., and San Antonio, Texas.

10,000 LAKES WERE 10 DECEARED BY GOVERNOR

Hearty indorsement of the work of the 10,000 Lakes of Minnesota association in advertising the state to tourist and recreation seeker was given today in a proclamation by governor Christianson.

In it he set aside the week beginning April 15 as Ten Thousand Lakes week, during which he asks that citizens lend moral and financial support to the association's annual campaign for funds.

TRANSIENT FINED $10

MARSHALL COUNTY BOARD VOTES $1,000 FOR FAIR

The county commissioners of Marshall county this month appropriated the sum of $1,000 to the Marshall county fair for this summer, with the provision that $400 thereof be used for boys' and girls' club work, and the remaining $600 for premiums and permanent improvements.

FLAX ISN'T HARD ON THE LAND, SAYS BOSS

Contrary to a popular impression that has held sway for a long time, flax isn't "hard on the land." Andrew Boss of the Minnesota Experiment station says that repeated tests made at college stations show that flax takes no more of the essential elements out of the soil than do many of the other crops.

KEEP CATTLE FEEDING STUDY AT "U" OR MAY 3

Nine months feeding of cattle will open at University Farm of "U" at St. Paul, May 3, with a visit by W. H. Peters, chief of the division of animal husbandry, of the secret of feeding 60 Hereford yearling steers for 275 days to answer the question "Can ground barley and timothy hay be fed to fattening cattle profitably and—profitably and how does it compare with corn?" What advantages are gained by grinding grains for fattening cattle and does it pay to go to the labor expense of grinding it?"

L. B. Bennett of the University Farm staff will explain the problems involved in grinding roughage and the costs per ton. W. E. Morris, livestock specialist of Swift & Co., Chicago, will discuss the results gained in the Minnesota carload baby beef contest.

MARSHALL FARMERS TO CIRCULATE T. B. TEST PETITIONS

County Board Will Order Test if Sixty Percent Are Secured—Need Not Be Favoring It

An active canvass of the cattle owners of Marshall county is under way in an effort to secure the signatures of 60 percent of them, in the hope that they will favor the T. B. area test, the Marshall county board having gone on record as willing to adopt this safety measure, when already in effect in Red Lake county in this part of the state, and which is about to begin in Polk county. There are 50,000 head of cattle, it is estimated, in Marshall county at the present time. The first test, and the advisement is said, may be started would cost the county about $9,000.

The names of the township committeemen assisted in circulating the petitions in the community adjacent to Pennington county are as follows:

Soplie, Paul F. Hoel; Moylan, Fred Kelley and Otto Hein; Eastwood, Hans Nystul and E. S. Hill; Valley, Sam Anderson and Palmer Lee; Vilden, Gayle Gryglo; Grygla township, Mad Lake, Clarence Larsen and Hilmer Moberg; Grand Plain, Jens Hansen, A. R. Hegay and John Phillips; Kertsz, Albert Kling and Ingeval Vell; Excel, J. P. Augustine, R. A. Werner, H. H. Halvorson and F. O. Mathre; New Solum, Edward Olsen, Emil Anderson, John Halvorson and John Peterson.

Viking, C. A. Johnson; Leonie Hanson, C. L. has sent many men out of Viking, Henry Anderseon; East Valley, John Hansen; John Sorum and Carl Hormel; Holt, C. A. Berg; Lincoln Wesen; Christ Engen and Carsten Fredrickson; Village of Newfolden, O. N. Hoegvarp; Newfolden, C. A. Olson, Arnold Fjelsted, S. T. Sundal and Ingeval Roseland; Village of Newfolden, O. N. Hoegvarp.

The above named solicitors will be divided into three groups, the eastern one meeting at 1:30 Thursday afternoon, May 10 in Gatzke; the central group the same evening at the city hall in Holland; the western group at eight o'clock Friday evening, May 11, in Argyle.

Muskrat Pelts Must Be Tagged Within 5 Days, Trapping to Stop Now

Today is the last in which trappers may legally take muskrats, as open season on which was recently declared by Gov. Theodore Christianson, this being from March 20 to April 18, inclusive.

Muskrat trappers or dealers who wish to hold their pelts for a higher price than prevails at present must secure retaining tags if they plan on keeping the pelts after the close of the season. The statute in the matter says: "Any person dealing in or having possession during the closed season the skins of protected fur-bearing animals shall apply to the commissioner within five days after the close of the season for a permit to do so, and the commissioner or a game warden shall issue to the licensee a distinctive tag for each pelt to be retained in possession; and upon receipt thereof, the licensee shall affix one such tag to each pelt retained in possession. Such pelts lawfully tagged may be bought and sold at any time. This shall also apply to furs taken from animals trapped or killed on land owned or occupied by the trapper."

PROLONGED ILLNESS FATAL TO MRS. SOPHIA WENANDER

Mrs. Sophia Wenander, aged 78, died at her home, 921 Pinehigh avenue south, Sunday, April 15, following a prolonged illness. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10:00 A. M. from the home, Rev. O. J. Lundeen officiating.

Mrs. Wenander was born in Sweden, coming to this country with her husband, John Wenander, and family in 1882, locating in Daniel, Minnesota in 1883. In 1903 she came to Thief River Falls, staying until 1910 when she went to Medicine Hat, Canada, to make her home with a son. Coming back to Thief River Falls in 1924, she has since made her home here with a son, John, who has cared for her throughout her illness.

Surviving her are four sons, August, of Minto, Axel and Albert, of Medicine Hat, and John, of this city.

BOES FOOTBALL TEAM WILL PLAY AT HEMIDJI NOV. 3

Although Saturday, Nov. 3, is more than six months distant, yet arrangements have been made by Coach Ki Boe for a football game at Hemidji on that date, the Hemidji schedule having been announced last week. As no return game has been arranged, Coach Boe is hopeful of having plenty of other teams here to play on the Lincoln field this fall.

SECOND CAR WITHIN WEEK WAS CONSUMED BY FLAMES

A large automobile belonging to Olaf Berglund was totally destroyed Sunday forenoon, on trunk highway No. 32, near the Soo line crossing north of the city.

Mr. Berglund stated that he believed the fire resulted from backfire following his attempt to start the engine after the car had stopped. The flames spread so rapidly that only two tires were salvaged from the car which, was the second car to be destroyed by fire on the road north of the fair grounds within a week.

CLUB WORK DISCUSSED BY MISS EDNA BROWN

County Agent Robert M. Crudden and Miss Edna Brown of the university extension service yesterday visited the school at Goodridge and the boys' and girls' club work was further explained to the pupils of the school, several of whom have already joined the club recently from there, while others indicated they would join at a short time. On account of the inclement weather the evening meeting planned for Goodridge had to be called off.

This afternoon Miss Brown will talk to the girls at the Lincoln high interested in 4-H club work, especially bread-making, and this evening she will talk to the students and parents at the St. Hilaire school, and following County Agent Douglas and Supt. E. Estergaard of the school there.

Former Resident Married

According to the Roseau Times Region of last week, Geo. H. Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Olson of Wannaska, was married on April 1 at Klamath Falls, Oregon, to Miss May Frances Barrett of that place. Groom is well known here and at Thief River Falls, but has been in the Pacific coast for several years. He is related to Mrs. Axelson at this place and to Mrs. Oscar Baker and Mrs. O. Christensen at Thief River Falls.

Now the Instantaneous Potato Dip

Disinfect your seed this new way

Treat your seed potatoes as fast as you can scoop them up. Just dip them in DIPDUST solution and set again—all ready to plant.

This new seed potato disinfectant is much more effective than the old-fashioned "two-hour soak" treatment—besides there is not the slightest danger of injuring the sprouts or even cut seed. This means a big saving in many seed producing areas makes treatment with DIPDUST necessary to prevent seed rot.

After one trial of DIPDUST, you will never again waste two hours treating seed potatoes or spend two weeks worrying about your stand. DIPDUST PROTECTS THE SEED AND INSURES STURDY, PROFITABLE PLANTS.

Compare this New Treatment point by point with the older ones?

THE NEW WAY Dipdust Organic Mercury Disinfectant	THE OLD WAY Formaldehyde or Corrosive Sublimate
1. Requires less than 1 minute. One pound can easily treat from 200 to 400 bushels of potatoes per day.	1. Require from 1½ to 2 hours. One man can treat only from 30 to 75 bushels per day.
2. Can be used on cut or sprouted seed without danger of injury.	2. Can not be used on cut or sprouted seed without injury.
3. After cutting, protects the cut surfaces from seed-rotting organisms in the soil. This insures a better stand of stronger plants.	3. Before cutting, gives no protection to the cut surfaces. The seed frequently decays in the ground before the young plants get started.
4. Controls surface-borne diseases such as Rhizoctonia, scab and blackleg.	4. Although effective against Rhizoctonia and scab, do not control black-leg.
5. Improves the stand and growth of the plants, and then increases the yield 10 to 20%.	5. Frequently decrease the stand, and therefore the yield, to a serious extent.

GUARANTEE If you are not entirely satisfied with DIPDUST return unused portion to us at shipping point, and we will refund purchase price. DIPDUST is sent to us and sold on this unconditional guarantee.

One pound treats 15 to 20 bushels of seed potatoes.

Treat your Corn and Vegetable Seeds too

You can now also disinfect your seed corn and vegetable seeds with DIPDUST and increase your yield by preventing many of the diseases which cause poor germination, weak, spindly plants, and poor quality crop. Simply use as a dust treatment. It is easily and quickly applied and costs but a few cents per acre. One pound of DIPDUST will treat six bushels of seed corn, or from six to eight bushels of vegetable seed.

Several Alarms Are Answered by Fire Department

Fire at Hazel Home

The firemen were called out Saturday afternoon by the residence of John Hazel, No. 501 Duluth avenue, where a grass fire had set the home and barn in danger. Mrs. John Hazel, who was standing close by, turned in the alarm and succeeded in keeping the flames under control until the firemen arrived. The fire department responded promptly, the flames were smothered and quickly put out the fire, which resulted from $150 to $200 had been done by fire, smoke and water.

Other Fire Calls

The department was called out Wednesday noon by an alarm from the residence of S. A. Hansen, 504 Horace avenue North, where a chimney fire was present, but the firemen were unable to discover any fire, although chimney had been smoking badly.

The alarm Saturday noon was also for a chimney fire but before the department left the fire quarters the fire was reported out.

Co. Warrant No. 40,000 Issued Saturday
District Court Docket 2,000 Also Filed

Pennington County Records Dating Back to County's Organization Searched, Revealing First Warrant and First Court Case, Were Both Issued Dec. 28, 1910—Roster of First County Officials Also Unearthed.

Deputy County Auditor Axel Ilsberg last Saturday issued Pennington county warrant No. 40,000 to Torfor Magnuestvedt in the sum of $116.14, the same being for school district No. 68, according to its register.

This record was in book No. 6, and a search of the vault of County Auditor T. F. Anderson revealed that warrant No. 1, in book No. 1, was issued Dec. 28, 1910, payable to Tobias Stens in the sum of $7.50 for a wolf bounty.

Few Early Officials Still Here

Of the county officials who took charge when Pennington county was set off from Red Lake county that year, and who are still living in the city, include E. A. Mostue, who then was county superintendent of schools, and is the new city assessor; Daniel Shaw, then one of the commissioners, and now court master; W. J. Lahey, sheriff, but now head of the Northern Adjustment Co., of this city.

Ilsberg arrived shortly afterward and became deputy auditor, coming here from Kittson county, where he had been in the employ of that county.

The county officials at that time were: county auditor, H. B. Wells; treasurer, Andrew Stenseteng; clerk of court, Harry R. Dye; register of deeds, Ernest L. Quiett; judge of probate, Wilhelm Hirbelink; sheriff, W. J. Lahey; superintendent of schools, E. A. Mostue; attorney, E. M. Stanford; commissioners—district No. 1, Peter C. Weiti; No. 2, Daniel Shaw; No. 3, Oliver Lee; No. 4, Ed. Anderl; and no. 5, Peter Holsen.

First Court Case Unearthed

Coincident with the issuance of the above county warrant, Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund recorded docket file No. 2,000, this being a case for the real town of court, namely, Lucille Johnson vs. John and Myrtle Brainrud.

Investigation of the records in the vault of the clerk of court revealed that the first docket file was recorded Dec. 26, 1910, namely, J. H. Jacobson, vs. Ole J. Herlein, Jr., the case being transferred by change of venue to Hoseau county.

Northern Minny Baseball League Organized With 6 Teams Comprising Circuit

Mention was made in The Times last week of considerable baseball activity in towns in this section of the state, and since then it has been announced that the Northern Minnesota Amateur Baseball league, a membership of six Red River Valley towns, was organized at a meeting of baseball fans at Mentor last week.

Towns entering the loop are Gonvick, Steinbeck, Hagley, Erskine, Climax and Winger. Sunday and holiday ball will be played in the new circuit with a fifteen game schedule starting May 13, already having been mapped out.

Harold C. Jordahl of McIntosh, formerly connected with baseball at Luther college was elected as head. Judge Landis of the league and representatives of each team will constitute the board of directors.

According to the members of the board of directors the league will be a strictly amateur loop with a view to develop players and put the game on a self sustaining basis.

RED LAKE MAN BURNED TO DEATH IN HIS HOME

Wm. M. Boyce, aged 87, a resident of Red Lake Falls for the past 26 years, met a horrible death early Wednesday morning of last week by fire of unknown origin which completely destroyed his home. Just a few hours previous to the discovery of the fire the deceased had said goodbye to his son, who was being taken to the state prison to serve a term for stealing chickens. Dependency may have caused the elderly man to take his life, it is said.

Ericson's Rifle Team Defeated by Salveson's Altho Erickson Was High

The Thief River Rifle club shot its semi-monthly shoot last Sunday afternoon. The club was divided into teams of five men to the team Salveson's team winning easily with a score of 1,463 against Roy Ericson's team with 1,350. Roy Ericson shooting high score with 491 out of a possible 500.

The matter of joining the State Rifle association was laid over until the next meeting of the executive board.

Some time was spent in examining the new Springfield model 30-06 high power rifles, and the Winchester markets. These rifles have been sent to the club by the director of civilian marksmanship, along with many other government supplies, which will be used by the club until recalled by the government or until the club disbands.

No word has been received from the regional officers in regard to the "Great Lakes Shoot" which was shot here on April 1. The report showing the standing of the local team in this match should arrive soon.

Eggs Being Received at 4 Additional Creameries for Poultry Association

During the past week four additional creameries in this section of northwestern Minnesota have signified their intentions of joining the Thief River Cooperative Poultry association, according to R. G. Notzig, manager of the organization. These four are Rosendale, Mainstem, Greenbush and Kratzke. They will act as receiving stations for the new association.

Mahnomen will ship by freight the eggs received there, while the others will hold them for the trucks to be sent up two or three times a week as conditions warrant.

Emil Johnson, assistant treasurer of the Land O' Lakes Creameries, Inc., was in the city Monday consulting with officers of the Poultry association regarding the routine handling for the products of the organization, and was favorably surprised at the volume of eggs being received daily at the plant here. The territory serving Thief River is furnishing eggs in sufficient quantities now to keep ten candlers at work all the time, while two carloads of eggs leave here weekly for eastern markets.

Sheep Breeders and Farm Bureau Directors Are to Meet Saturday, April 28

A meeting of the directors of the recently organized Pennington County Sheep Breeders' association will be held in the office of County Agent Robert M. Douglas next week Saturday, April 28, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Harold J. Beatty of Crookston, the district representative of the Minnesota Wool Growers' association, will be present and talk with the directors regarding the pooling of this year's wool crop.

At ten o'clock in the forenoon of the same date, April 28, there will be a meeting in the office of the county agent of the directors of the Pennington County Farm Bureau.

TREATING SEED CORN MAY OR MAY NOT HELP

To the question, Is it worth while to treat seed corn with the new organic mercury disinfectants, Dr. E. C. Stakman of the University Farm staff replies:

"Sometimes it is and sometimes it is not. It may pay one year and not the next. It may pay in one section of the state and not in another. It is a reasonable and regional problem. Tests have been made by the Minnesota Experiment Station for several years and the results have been somewhat conflicting. Much depends on the variety of corn, the condition of the seed, the time of planting, the soil conditions at planting time, and the weather conditions in the spring."
